Winner of the Talent Contest was Donald Martin, who with his "Elvis Pressley" routine, had the audience in the aisles.

Second prize went to the Bama Boys Quartet for their pantomine bit and the Chilton County Dance Band copped third prize with their instrumental.

There was quite a bit of comment on the Dance Band, an up and coming group with definite ideas and obviously some good talent. With proper management, they might go places.

The Civitans of Clanton would like to express their appreciation to the following merchants for the items they offered as door prizes for the Show:

Chiffon — For "The Soft Look" In This Year's Fashions

Light, gossamer chiffon started sneaking into the fashion picture last year, and is gaining momentum in fashion circles for '57 and '58. Soft chiffon panels give relief to the severe straight line sheath silhouette. Of particular interest are the Ombre chiffons in high style fashions for evening wear.

"Ombre" is a French word that means shade, a type of coloring that shades from a very deep tone of one color at one selvage of the fabric, to a light tone at the other. Or one color may "lead" into another color or several colors. This type of dyeing was last popular in 1943, but the fabric itself is considered an old-line staple.

The National Institute of Drycleaning, Silver Spring, Maryland, says that consumer satisfaction and performance of chiffon garments to wear and drycleaning depends on several factors: Silk chiffon, for example, may be made of raw silk single yarns in both warp and filling. Twist in the yarns may vary from 40 to 50 turns per inch to 70 to 80 turns per inch. The finish of the fabric may vary from a very soft to a very stiff finish. The sizing used to produce the stiff fabrics has a tendency to become less stiff with drycleaning. These finishes may also be applied to nylon, rayon, and acetate chiffon, or combinations of these fibers in a chiffon type fabric. Chiffon garments cut on the straight of the goods (warp yarns perpendicular to the filling yarns) gives better performance than chiffon garments cut on the bias. (Warp yarns at an angle to filling yarns). The crepe yarn has a tendency to stretch, causing a bias cut garment to lose its shape.

Increasing the size of the laying flocks, adding machinery and equipment, and r arranging poultry buildings and equipment can cut annual labor per 100 laying hens from 250 hours to 30 or 40 hours, according to studies conducted at the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station.

Two Local Men Participate In Maneuvers in Phillipines

LUZON, P. I.—Toy W. Caton, dental technician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Caton of Rt. 5, Clanton and Marine Pvt. Durwood C. Headley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Headley of Rt. 2, Clanton landed on the Phillipine Island of Luzon Mar. 25 with the 3rd Marine Division in the largest ship-to-shore operation held in the Far East since World War II

The weeklong exercise started when the assault landing forces hit the beach in small landing craft. Other units hopped over simulated beach defenses in helicopters to capture key inland positions.

This vertical envelopment concept, developed first by the Marine Corps, provides a landing force with a powerful one-two punch for securing a beachhead.

The exercise includes more than 40 miles of hiking, practical application of tactics and techniques perfected during the 3rd Division's year-long training program, and living in the field under simulated battle conditions.

Select Land, Test Soil—

START PLANNING NOW FOR GOOD ALFALFA CROP

The foundation for a good stand of alfalfa—the old reliable crop in a livestock feeding program — [illegible] This preliminary work consists of selecting land and testing soil.

According to reports, it's none too early to start preparations for seeding alfalfa in late summer. Most Alabama fields will require an application of lime for a good stand.

This lime should be spread and plowed under before June. Soil test recommendations will also give an accurate guide on the kind and amount of fertilizer needed.

Some Chilton County farmers are considering seeding alfalfa on cotton land which they placed in the Soil Bank acreage reserve and thus keep the land utilized. Of course, they will not be able to touch this land for grazing or harvesting until after the first of the year.

It is recommended that every dairyman and hog grower have a place for alfalfa on his farm. This crop calls for well-drained, productive soil but it can be used three ways—hay, silage or grazing.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

EPILEPTIC MOTHER FINDS GOD'S WAY OUT

In almost every denomination there are devout ministers who pray for the sick and see them healed.

The Rev. Roland Brown, former pastor of Parkside Baptist Church in Chicago, enjoys such a ministry. His work was so effective and fruitful that he resigned his pastorate in order to give full time to this phase of his ministry.

The following account is about a victim of that most embarrassing disease, epilepsy. I said victim—I mean victor over epilepsy, and this came in answer to prayer and faith.

For 20 years Mrs. M. G. had suffered from epileptic seizures; sometimes several a day. Her husband said that in 10 years of married life, his wife had an average of at least eight epileptic seizures a week.

In church, on the sidewalk, at home, in stores, wherever she was, the attacks took her. She and her husband had resigned themselves to a hopeless situation. No matter where they went, there was always the fear and dread knowledge that a seizure was liable at any moment. How tragic! How sad!

But healing services were carried on at the Baptist Church where Mr. Brown was pastor. People gave in reports and testimonies of being healed.

One day Mrs. M. G. came and asked for prayer and timidly asserted that she believed God could set her free. An hour of prayer was held at her home. This Baptist preacher declares in the book Recovery, by Starr Daily:

"I prayed without hesitancy, asking for her complete recovery; that God would eliminate her attacks; that Jesus would command them even as he had commanded the unclean spirits.

"Then I left a few suggestions with her. When she felt an attack coming on she was to take a firm grip on Jesus and to lay hold on his promises. She was to allow herself to become invaded and filled with his presence so that he could protect her from the invasion of the oncoming attack.

"The woman, being in great need, took hold of the process and put it into practice. At the end of two months there had been no further attacks. That had been the longest free period in twenty years. Whenever she felt the attack coming she immediately called upon Jesus to invade her life instead, and in each case the onslaught had been repulsed. Never before had she known this experience of witnessing the arrest of a spell once it had begun. . . .

"Shortly after this, the family moved and I lost contact with them. That was in 1935. In 1940 contact was again resumed and I learned that the woman had been completely healed."

Neighbor, there are NO HOPELESS CASES WITH GOD. I believe in medical science. We should use it. But God does the impossible.

Six In State—

No Polio Cases Reported In Chilton As Yet This Year

As of March 16, six cases of polio had been reported in Alabama during 1957, the State Health Department announced this week.

Only one case had occurred during the same period last year.

Chilton County has a clean slate, thus far in 1957. No cases have been reported to the State.

The Department said four of the 1957 cases occurred in Calhoun County, one in Elmore and one in Montgomery.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

Adequate Diet--

A calorie is a measure of food energy. Carbohydrates are sugars, starches, celluloses and gums. They provide energy. Proteins are made up of simpler nitrogen containing substances called amino acids. They provide energy and the material for growth and repair of tissues. One authority said if there were any one "secret of life," protein might be considered to be at the heart of it, since protein is the essential stuff of which all living tissue is made. About eighteen per cent of the human body consists of protein. Hair, nails, skin and muscle tissue consist almost entirely of protein and water. Fats, made up of simpler material called fatty acids, provide energy and are more slowly utilized.

While proteins can be a source of fuel for maintaining body temperature and for muscular work, fats and carbohydrates are the natural fuel foodstuffs.

To maintain an even balance, the body requires carbohydrates, fats and proteins, plus certain minerals, vitamins and water. The intake of food can vary depending on occupation. For example, a worker in an office who does not have a great deal of exercise requires fewer calories than does the laborer or farmer whose daily activities demand more energy.

Nutrition experts agree that from 2,000 to 3,500 calories should be taken into the body each day to maintain a normal body balance as shown by a constant weight.

There are certain foods which have been designated "must" foods and which, if taken daily in adequate amounts, give the recommended number of calories, minerals and vitamins to the human system. These "must" foods are milk, eggs, meat, fruit, potatoes, vegetables, whole grain cereals and bread, and butter or reinforced margerine.

It is wise to remember too that the end-result of the balanced diet is the ability and strength to perform well one's daily work. Let your physician give you a physical examination each year. He is the one to decide whether your body properly assimilates the food in your program of eating for health.

BULK MILK TANKS TAKE ALABAMA DAIRIES BY STORM

AND AMONG LOCAL DAIRYMEN, THE TREND IS 'TO KEEP UP'

Bulk milk tanks, seldom seen in this locale a few short months ago, are rapidly becoming commonplace dairy equipment.

It was reported this week that at least 250 milk producers in the State, now use bulk milk tanks. It is predicted that by the end of the year, more than 700 of these tanks will be in use throughout Alabama

Bulk tanks now in use vary in size from the 150-gallon capacity tank up to the 1500-gallon capacity.

Of course, the widespread change to more modern methods, such as bulk cooling tanks, is creating problems for the small, grade A dairyman. Most of his problems are financial ones, since, as a rule, this modern equipment has a high initial cost.

In the long run, however, the tank will pay for itself, providing the dairyman installs the tank which best suits his needs.

To meet what seems like ever-mounting costs, each dairyman finds it necessary to do the best possible job in producing and handling all milk. Accurate records kept on each cow, plus good quality roughage and grazing, help the dairyman do the best possible pob in production.

Bulk tanks help improve the quality of milk handled.

Another trend in Alabama and Chilton County as well as the whole nation, is a growing demand for grade A milk. People are simply drinking more milk today than ever before. And then too, more markets want to use grade A milk in dairy products

CHILTON HAS GOOD PERCENTAGE—

TWO THOUSAND MILES OF ROADS IN PAST 24 MONTHS

Gov. James E. Folsom noted this week that some 2,000 miles of roads have been built in Alabama during the past 24 months.

The Governor called this "an important investment for the future economic welfare of our State."

After studying a special State Highway Department report prepared by Director Herman Nelson, the Governor further noted that $165 million had been spent on these new and modernized highways and roads of the State which is a record unequalled for any comparable period in Alabama's history.

Governor Folsom also estimated that anticipated State Highway Department revenues, plus available Federal funds for road building, would give Alabama an easy all-time four-year record of $312 million worth of roads and bridges by the end of 1959.

The Governor pointed out that good modern highways play a leading role when industrialists are considering an area in which to locate a new plant. The chief Executive also pointed out that today America's travel counsellors and tourist agencies are routing many more of their hundreds of thousands of clients over Alabama roads becaues of their modernization and extra safety they represent to the traveler.

Latest figures from ASC offices throughout the nation show that by Feb. 15 a total of 15,351,968 acres had been placed in the 1957 acreage reserve part of the Soil Bank. This acreage includes 1,707,321 acres of corn; 1,798,614 acres of cotton, 95,135 acres of rice; 40,502 acres of tobacco; and 11,610,396 acres of wheat.

HOW TO GET BEST PRICES FOR YOUR CULLED HENS

Egg prices are dropping and there is no immediate rise in sight. . . Hens that do not lay must be culled. . . And there's only a poor market for hens. . . So what's the poultryman to do?

This question is puzzling most Alabama poultrymen, and the situation calls for initiative and cooperative effort on the part of Chilton County poultrymen as well as their agents and processors

To show just how cooperative effort and initiative can help, we refer you to Lee County where something new is happening, and quite successfully too.

Lee County Agent, Jack Taylor organized a "hen market". It is designed to help poultrymen get the best prices possible for their culled hens.

The market has no expense and only a little time is involved. It operates on a vacant lot for one hour, each morning, each week.

Taylor has a processor on hand to buy culled hens the poultrymen bring. The price is paid at the current market rate for light weight hens.

It is pointed out here, that one reason the idea is successful is that the processor buys hens in large lots. Processors cannot afford to break into their usual processing procedure for less than a few hundred birds, under present conditions.

According to estimates about 20 percent of the hens in many Chilton and Alabama egg flocks need to be culled before they destroy all chance of profits

Immediate action is recommended by the experts. They remind farmers that the warmer the weather grows, the lower he price of stewing hens go. Remember, initiative. . . . and cooperation.

In the Elementary honor roll

The editor and staff of the school paper "Panthergram" would like to pay tribute to its founder and first editor, John Hayman. In September of 1947 the Panthergram went to press for the first time with John Hayman editing. His experience has broadened since leaving Jemison High. When he entered the University of Alabama, he was soon on the staff of The Crimson White. When he was in service, he became editor of "Recon Beacon", an air force publication at McClellan AFB Sacramento, California.

Our first editor is now a senior in the School of Journalism at Syracuse, N. Y. University. He was one of only two with all A's this semester, in the graduating class. He will receive his M A Degree.

"May the Panthergram of Jemison High be a living memorial in honor of our first editor and founder John Hayman"—Geraldine Ellison, editor.

John Scott has won a $100 scholarship to Alabama College.

STATEWIDE, JOB PLACEMENTS TAKE DIP DURING FEBRUARY

MONTGOMERY — Alabama State Employment Service offices reported 6,493 nonagricultural job placements for the month of February, a decrease of 1,163 placements from January and 365 less than the comparable month in 1956. A short work month and a general lull in hiring activities were the contributing factors to the decline, according to reports.

More than half of the losses during February occurred in the manufacturing division, with the textile, apparel, and transportation equipment groups registering heavy decreases.

Alabama State Employment Service offices reporting gains, in contrast to the over-the-State reductions were: Bessemer, Calera, Cullman, Demopolis, Ensley, Enterprise, Jackson, Jasper, Russellville and Montgomery, the report noted.

Facts Are Better Than Fears In Fight Against Cancer

Impressive gains in the long and difficult war against Cancer are being made.

In addition to greatly improved methods in diagnosis and treatment, the American Cancer Society has just announced an encouraging set of statistics.

The new figures show that instead of only one-fourth of Cancer's victims being saved, as in the past years, now one-third are being saved.

The additional patients who are saved might include a member of your own family, your next door neighbor, a friend or even yourself. So there is cause for rejoicing.

But this did not come about by itself. The public education program of the AMC for years has stressed a Cancer consciousness which is taking more and more Americans to their doctors for annual checkups.

Cancer is a disease that, perhaps more than any other, depends on early diagnosis and prompt, effective treatment for cure. It is, therefore, up to the individual to keep alert. See your doctor for a thorough health checkup.

Also, in Chilton County today the ACS is again ready to give life-saving information and advice.

Facts are better than fears. This community can keep Cancer down by availing itself of trustworthy information which, with service to patients and all-out research in more than 100 laboratories to find a universal cure, is the unique contribution of the American Cancer Society.

Enough milk is produced in America to fill a river 3,021 miles long, 40 feet wide, and three feet deep.

Active Duty Training In National Guard Being Raised From Eleven Weeks To Six Months

Until January 1, 1958, persons between the ages of 17 and 18½ may enlist in the National Guard for 11 weeks of active duty training and the remainder of the unexpended portion of the obligation is to be spent in the National Guard (Ready Reserve) where active participation will be required, provided, persons entering the eleven weeks training program must have enlisted in such program on a date sufficiently prior to January 1, 1958, to insure completion of 11 weeks of training by January 1, 1958.

Persons within the age group 17 to 18½ who voluntarily perform 6 consecutive months active duty training will only be required to serve 3 years in addition to the 6 months active duty for training in the National Guard (Ready Reserve) where active participation will be required.

At the end of that period they may be transferred to the Standby Reserve for the remaining 4½ years of their total 8-year obligation. It is understood, however, that these young men may remain in the National Guard, if acceptable, and if they volunteer to do so.

Beginning January 1, 1958, all persons enlisting in the National Guard between the ages of 17 and 18½ will be required to perform 6 months of active duty for training, and the 11 weeks active training course will be discontinued.

The ready and standby reserve obligations will be the same as set forth in the foregoing paragraph: 6 months active duty for training, 3 years Ready Reserve and 4½ years Standby Reserve.

Persons between the ages of 18½ through 25 enlisting in the National Guard will be required to perform 6 months of active duty training to be followed by 5½ years service in the National Guard (Ready Reserve) where active participation will be required.

Persons in a deferred status, age 26 and over, who possess qualifications in a technical or scarce MOS, under regualtions prescribed by the Secretary of the Army, and members of the Alaska Scouts will not be required to undergo active duty for training upon enlistment in the National Guard but may volunteer to do so.

It is agreed that the size of the Army National Guard shall be maintained at an authorized strength of approximately 400,000 for the remainder of 1957 and 1958, and thereafter at such greater or lesser strength as may be determined in annual appropriations of the Congress, and it is agreed to use every means to maintain the Guard at approximately the determined figure. The Army agrees to provide sufficient spaces in the 6 months training program to allow the National Guard to reach this figure, taking into consideration the input into the Guard from other programs.

Persons enlisting while satisfactorily pursuing full-time course of high school instruction may have their active duty for training deferred for a period of not more than one year in order not to interrupt their high school course of instruction; provided, that persons enlisting for 11 weeks of active duty for training may be deferred from entrance on such active duty for training until their graduation; provided, they will complete their active duty for training prior to January

Gain A Promising Career In Marines

Chilton County's young men will be able to learn about the opportunities offered members of the U. S. Marine Corps when Marine Sergeant R. L. "Bob" Roland visits here on each Thursday.

The Marine Recruiter, who will have full information about service in this world-famous outfit, will be located at the Post Office in Clanton from ten a.m. until four p.m.

He will advise men with one dependent how they can qualify for enlistment. Many questions relative to the pay scale, liberty and leave, duty stations, educational opportunities and recreational facilities offered Marines will be answered by the Marine Sergeant.

Active duty tours for Marines are now offered for as low as two years as well as for three or four years. This variety allows volunteers to choose the amount of time they wish to serve. Young men between the ages of 17 and 28 who meet the qualifications may be eligible for enlistment.

More detailed information on the U. S. Marines may be obtained from the Marine Recruiter during his visit here.

Credit Bureau Takes Part In Nationwide Visitation Survey

Ott Miller announced today that the Credit Bureau of Clanton is participating in a nationwide personal visitation survey being conducted by the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc. This program is believed to be the first of its kind to be conducted by a trade association.

During the period of April 24 to May 8, a personal visit will be made by an official ACB of A representative to each of 3100 credit bureau members of the association.

This gigantic undertaking is designed to determine the extent to which member bureaus and collection services of the national association are serving the consumer credit industry. The survey will also benefit the public by showing how the facilities of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America can be improved an dextended to meet the demands of an expanding economy. Erwin E. Singleton, Beaumont, Texas, first vice-president of ACB of A, is spearheading this program; and Ott Miller will be working with Mr. Jim Fenn, President of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Alabama and manager of the Merchants Credit Association of Birmingham.

Statistics indicate hat consumer credit is still rapidly increasing. Mr. Miller points out that factual information and additional services rendered by his office, in conjunction with the 3100 members of the national association, have been instrumental in the sound extension of credit thus far; and data from this survey will be useful in maintaining the enviable record of assisting credit granters in the use of sound consumer credit practices.

Dependent Children Payments Will Be Increased In March

Over-all payments to needy persons being made through the Department of Pensions and Security are more than $5 above those of January 1955, Commissioner J. S. Snoddy said this week.

Snoddy pointed out that average payments to the totally disabled and dependent children will be increased in March.

This increase is due to a special release of a conditional appropriation to the State Pensions and Security Department authorized by Governor James E. Folsom, Snoddy said.

DODGE PowerGiants

Most Power of the Low-Priced 3!

Everybody agrees . . . the main reason for buying a truck is to haul a payload. That being the case, doesn't it make sense to get the truck that's powered and built to carry the most in its weight class? Of course it does! That's why so many truck owners are switching to Dodge.

Dodge gives you the most powerful V-8's of the low-priced three, ranging from 204-hp. pick-ups to 232-hp. tandems. And Dodge trucks are built especially tough to handle bigger loads. For instance, Dodge pick-ups can haul up to one-third more than other competitive makes.

Dodge makes hauling these bigger loads easier, too. Shorter turning radius lets you needle in and out of tough traffic spots in a jiffy. Power steering is available on most models, and the extra convenience of a push-button transmission* can be yours only with Dodge.

Think it over. After all, it's just plain good business to get the most for your money . . . and your dealer can prove the most truck for your money is Dodge.

Remodeling Termed False Economy--

Grand Jury Favors A New Courthouse Here

"To The Hon. Oakley W. Melton, Judge:

Circuit Court of said County and State

Supplemental Report

March Term, 1957

Having reconvened on March 2, 1957, the Grand Jury reconvened this date for the purpose of further investigating certain matters which were left pending at the time of our recess.

Subsequent to our report of March 2, 1957, the sheriff of Chilton County and two of his deputies have been convicted in the Federal District Court at Montgomery on charges of conspiracy to violate the liquor laws. In view of this fact, the Grand Jury does not deem it necessary to further investigate violation of the prohibition laws of this County as pertains to the sheriff and his deputies.

The Grand Jury has made a limited investigation of the action taken by the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control pertaining to the County Courthouse building in accordance with our previous recommendation. Subsequent to our prior report a constructional engineer was employed by the County to make a study of the Courthouse building. The contents of his report were explained to the Grand Jury by the County Engineer of this County.

From the text of the report it appears that this particular engineer considers the building reasonably safe for occupancy by a reasonable number of individuals.

Certain immediate repairs on the building were recommended, such as removal of a portion of the chimney, reinforcement of the stairs and changes in the electrical wiring. It appears that these repairs have been made.

In view of prior inspection reports and in view of the latest inspection report placing a limitation on the number of persons who could occupy the courtroom at any given time.

this Grand Jury will not assume the responsibility of recommending that the courtroom be used for holding of court when large crowds are anticipated.

The Grand Jury studied the figures submitted in the engineer's report concerning renovating the present building with an annex thereto. It is the opinion of this Grand Jury that it would be false economy to expend the amount indicated which would be necessary to restore the building and add thereto sufficient room to meet the County's needs.

It is our recommendation that a new courthouse be built at some point outside the main business district of the City of Clanton, and that the building be placed on a lot sufficient in size to accomodate all anticipated traffic.

Now, having completed all of the matters before us and having complied to the best of our ability with Your Honor's charge, we respectfully request that we be discharged until such time as Your Honor may deem it necessary to have us again reconvene.

Dated this April 2, 1957.

County Corn-Growing Contest Offers 4-H'ers Cash Awards

Plan now to enter the big corn growing contest in Chilton County.

All County 4-H Club boys and girls are eligible, and encouraged to enter the contest. Members of a family may assist the girls or boys with land preparation, plowing, etc.

This fall, all participants and their parents will be invited to a banquet where 4-H talent will perform and County winners will receive their cash awards. Sponsors and extension personnel from Auburn will be on hand as guests of honor.

Cash premiums for high yields will be awarded as follows: 1st place $50.00; 2nd place $25.00; 3rd place $15.00; 4th place $10.00. Also, based on yields and records, 20 additional small cash awards will be made.

The following production practices should result in profitable yields for you and give you a chance at the big prizes:

If no soil test has been made, or if vetch or barnlot manure isn't turned under, use approximately 90 pounds N (nitrogen), 30 pounds P205 (Phos. Acid), 30 pounds K2O (Potash).

Use 300 lbs. 4-12-12 at or before planting time. 30 days after planting, side-dress with 250 pounds of Ammonia Nitrate or 500 pounds of Nitrate of Soda, or its equivalent.

Your corn should be planted between April 20th and May 10th in order to be silking and tasseling in early July when summer rains usually come.

Be sure to use certified seed of a good hybrid variety. Good varieties for this section of the state are. (White) Coker, 811; Dixie 29 or Dixie 55; Pfister (PGA) 653 or Coker 911. Yellow corn varieties are: Dixie 18 or 82; McCurdy 1003; North Carolina 27.

Space rows uniformly 36 to 42 inches apart. You should plant two-eared or prolific varieties to leave stalks 16 to 18 inches apart in the row.

For additional information relative to the contest, or for help with your corn project, contact any member of the Extension Service personnel in Chilton County.

Further developments will be published as the contest progresses. Watch the pages of your Chilton County News for these important details.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

Money may talk, but the amount most of us handle hardly speaks above a whisper.

The fellow who sponges his way through life merely soaks up the fruits of others' labor.

The way to start a day right, is to start the night before.

Motorists should remember that even St. Christopher begins to lose faith at 90 miles per hour.

We're sure 'tis true that only about one in a million catch up with that promising future.

The man who thinks he is a genius usually can't think of anything else.

You never realize how many people are coasting downhill until you try to get help going the other way.

Hold your horses!—It was uncontrolled horsepower that caused half of last year's traffic deaths.

An Enlightening Subject----

When we spoke of the needed lights and precautions at certain intersections last week we didn't know that arrangements had already been made by the City for just such improvements.

According to a member of the City Council arrangements have already been made for a light at the intersection of Third Avenue and Fifth Street. This we believe to be the most dangerous corner so far as traffic hazards are concerned in the City.

We also learned that a traffic light would be placed at the intersection of the Enterprise Road and Second Avenue. That is another bad corner with traffic increasing at a steady pace at this corner.

Plans for new wiring of all traffic lights have been made with provisions for a continuous red light whenever needed because of a fire or an emergency ambulance run.

All these improvements are necessary we believe and we commend the City Fathers on their progressiveness as well as the thought that there is but one way to prevent an accident or save a life and that is before the tragedy occurs—not after.

We Can't See For The Fog----

It's t-i-r-e-d we are of hearing citizens of Chilton County bellyaching about how ashamed they are to be from Chitlon County and what a rotten mess "Chilton County" is now in, in several respects.

Chilton County in literal terms, is a victim of circumstance. Yes, the people have made the so-called "mess" and now they want to blame it on geography.

We know that when folks speak of Chilton County, they often mean the "people". However, we think the County is an accomplishment in its own right. Mother nature put Chilton County here, wihout the help of this weak species called man. Chilton County is Chilton County. . . we're just borrowing it from mother nature. And it has done nothing which should make you ashamed that you live here on its soil.

As far as we're concerned, it's a privilege and honor to trod the soil here. We'll be satisfied to spend our days here and call it home, no matter what goes on with the "tenants". And we'll never, never say that we're ashamed of our County because some of the "tenants" choose to make a mess. Ashamed we are, of what's going on in the County, but never of the County itself.

The next time vau have occasion to state vour views on whether or not you're proud of your homeland, make it clear, if you are not proud of it, that its those who reside on the soil and not the soil itself, which make it barren and fruitless. Also make it clear, my friend and neighbor, that you could have had a little something to do with the "mess" the "tenants" are in. You certainly had nothing to do with the land they're "renting".

Don't trv to take credit for something which mother nature did all by itself. The earth itself was not given the power to be good or bad, but there certainly seems to be ample room for improvement with the "tenants".

Be proud. Don't use your home for a scapegoat. You may live to regret your pettiness for you may need the land to boost yourself someday.

FCDA Urges 7-Day Emergency Food Supply for All Families

If the United States ever suffers thermonuclear attack, one of the basic problems for America's millions would be food, and how to get enough of it.

In the so-called good old days the family pantry generally was loaded with food—ready for any emergency.

TODAY, THE FEDERAL Civil Defense Administration recommends that every family keep a minimum of a seven-day supply of food in the home for instant use in an emergency. This has become known as Grandma's Pantry

To estimate how much food is needed for seven days, multiply the number of persons in the family by the amounts shown in the adjoining list for one person. A two or three weeks supply would be more desirable. Foods listed are merely types recommended, not necessarily those which must be stocked.

The items kept on hand should be those staple groceries that are used in your normal pattern of daily serving. By following this plan rotation is no problem, as you replace the items used by shopping frequently enough not to deplete your supply to an appreciable extent.

IF YOUR CHILDREN are young, decrease the amounts by one-fourth. If the children are infants, canned baby foods should be substituted for some of the other canned foods. And don't forget—be sure to plan for old people or invalids.

Another word of caution: check your "pantry" at least monthly, and rotate items regularly. Bottled water, for instance, should be changed every six weeks.

Essential items for your stockroom should include two gallons of water in jugs or bottles for each person, and three gallons for each child under three years old. You should also maintain a supply of salt and sugar, matches, fuel, cooking utensils, a can opener, and tableware.

You would also do well to have in your storage room a portable radio, flashlight, candles and holders, first-aid kit, blankets, pail and garbage container.

On the lighter side, you might add a supply of games and toys for the children.

Suggested Pantry

MILK: One package of powdered, non-fat dry milk, and two 14½ oz. cans of evaporated milk.

FRUITS: One 1 lb. 14 oz. can each of two varieties of canned fruits, and 1 lb. of dried fruits.

JUICES: Three cans of approximately 1 qt. 14 oz. each of fruit or vegetable juice.

VEGETABLES: Six cans (approximately 1 lb. each) of vegetables.

SOUPS: Four 10½ oz. cans.

MEATS AND MEAT SUBSTITUTES: Four cans (approximately 1 lb. each) of your favorite items. Include cheese or peanut butter if desired

CEREALS: Seven individual-serving packages of ready-to-eat variety

BREAD: The canned varieties.

CRACKERS-COOKIES: One box.

BEVERAGES: One small jar of instant coffee, one of instant tea, or a 1 lb. package of instant cocoa, whichever your family prefers.

SOFT DRINKS: Twelve bottles.

SUPPLEMENTARY ITEMS: Sugar, salt, seasonings, candy (types that store well), chewing gum, and cigarettes and tobacco.

CAUTION: Store these items like Grandma did—in a dry, cool basement or storeroom within a temperature range of 35 to 50 degrees for best results. Check your "pantry" preferably weekly but at least monthly and rotate items regularly. Use within six months. Bottled water should be changed every six weeks.

"GRANDMA'S PANTRY" exhibit in California shows typical amounts and items of food which might make up a meal for families ranging from two to eight. Food in the "Pantry" would be used—just as in bygone days—to provide a reserve in case of emergency. But now, it's a different kind of emergency—instead of impassable roads, it could be radioactive fallout which would force a family to stay in shelter for days without outside help. IT'S MY OPINION

By BOB TUCKER

The Farmer's God-Given Rights

We have come to the disgusting opinion that the farmer is being imposed upon.

As if that weren't bad enough, the very ones who are supposed to be helping the farmer are the ones doing the imposing.

Imposing is the mildest of terms; for the fact is, the farmer isn't being allowed to do his best.

All this "dealing" that the government does through different organizations is in actuality in many instances hurting more than helping the farmer. What the farmer needs is honest help, not "deals", and by help we do not mean charity. We know many, many farmers and there's not a one who isn't proud of that fact alone. No they don't want charity, they want a fighting chance to "do their best".

The web has become so entangled that the average farmer, with his minimum of education in the ways of the world, doesn't know whether this new bill or that new program does him good or cuts his throat. He just doesn't know how to best protect his own interests.

Free enterprise should include all people in this free republic of ours and that includes John Doe—the farmer.

The possibly well-meaning limits that are put on so many of the farmers' endeavors tend to get well out of hand year after year.

By the time this is added for that part of the country and that is added for this group of people, you really don't have anything but a blockade to progress.

We will not prosper much until the farmer prospers along with the rest of us. You say he is prospering! Perhaps. But how in comparison with other big businesses? In our opinion a country or state or county isn't "prosperous" unless "all" its people are well off. If you think this is prosperity, wait until the farmer reaches the ranks.

There is not an humbler, more God-fearing human on this earth than the men who work the earth—the farmers. Yet, we would treat them as children, putting heavy weights on their progressive efforts.

The farmer is making progress alright, in spite of these struggles, and many organizations are trying "to protect the farmer". But protect them from what? Themselves? They are citizens. They know their own minds.

No, they're not being protected, they're being held back and being told how to do their farming by people who never saw a plow and don't know the south end of a mule from the other end.

How many farmers have been elected to seats in the Congress as compared with other fields. So-called fields of higher learning. A handful. We're talking about dirt farmers; men who know the land and how to use it to the best interest of all concerned; men who can look at the soil and tell you what will grow best in it. And don't think, that because a farmer is comparatively uneducated that he doesn't respect the value of his land and all land.

We would say that the average farmer respects the soil and does more to preserve it than all the government agencies combined, because he realizes his need for the soil and the soils need for farmers.

The fact is, the farmer is concerned and interested in all the people and what's best for them rather than himself and a handful. As we said, he is humble and grateful to the Lord for giving him his land. There's nothing in the world that makes a farmer happier, prouder, fuller and more close to God than to see things grow and know he had a small hand in it. How many of these big businessmen, who are supposed to be helping, can say that. They don't see things in this humble light. They are too concerned about "how much money is in it", "what's my group going to get out of it". No doubt some of these things are important to our economy, and a person would be foolish indeed to overlook the fact that these stalwarts of the financial world have their place in our economy.

But at the other end of the rope, is a group of people whose importance to our very living is so important that it overshadows the financial giants and makes them look unimportant. The basic end of the rope is the one at which stands the small farmer, our lifeline.

You can't eat money. And though the farmer is restricted in this field, he can set a mighty mean table, and he thanks God for giving him these things which make him self-sufficient and wealthy. . . things he can grow. How many materially wealthy men are in this self-sufficient category. Take away their money and they'd starve to death. How many of them thank God for their kind of wealth. It takes both kinds of wealth perhaps, but there's no doubt about which kind is the more necessary and we think the farmers, who hold up this basic end, are sorely mistreated at times.

The farmer has a place. A God given place. No one has the right to deprive him of the privilege of doing with it as he sees fit, except the One who gave it to him.

One Citizen's Opinion

By H. Calby Smith

Ever so often one hears the age old lament of the oldsters that the Youth of today are bad hombres headed for perdition. My experience with youngsters for many years in the Service and here on the farm leads me to believe that the Youth of Today are more intelligent, have as good or better character than we did at their age, and that the future of America is safe in their hands. We have done irreperable harm to them in some instances by divorce, drinking, and lack of intelligent discipline designed for this modern age, but in many instances they have overcome these obstacles. Certainly in the age in which we live, the world is their oyster, and many of them are capable of taking advantage of the unlimited opportunities available to them. Members of such character building organizations as the FFA, FHA, Boy and Girl Scouts, Church organizations, etc. will find a welcome mat on my farm for their outings and camping at all times.

We enthusiastically commend the initiative of the group of citizens in Chilton County working for more industry for this area. The ideal situation for a farm family is a place where one or more members can work off the farm for cash income. The trouble is that in so many instances the would-be farmer has to work at public work. While it is a good life and nice work if you can get it, these Saturday farmers do not have time for good crops.

Many, many years ago, we started out trying to find the real difference between the two major political parties in this great country of ours. In books, personal quary and otherwise, we have searched for the answer. An Australian probably supplied the best answer with "let's see. The Democrats are in, the Republicans are out." This was, of course, several years ago when they were "In". The main thing is that both parties contribute the balance and check that has helped our Country become the greatest nation on earth.

FARMERS INTERESTED in a Cooperative limited to farmers and willing to get together to discuss such a movement are requested to send a note to this column in care of this paper. We are well aware of the many fine farm organizations and the splendid work they are doing. There is still an area of mutual help where combination for worthy purposes can mean a good deal to each of us. Let it be understood that we have no axe to grind. What this writer wants are some of the many things that are available to a group working together for common objectives.

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

We've heard of scarin' the pants OFF of somebody, but we've never heard of scarin' them on! Other day, during those stormy winds we were having, a fella we know must have gotten into his clothes in a powerful haste. When he undressed afterwards he found a sock in his shorts. Nervous man, nervous. Yeh, we've heard of freak stunts by the wind too, but we doubt this is one of them.

Truth is the foundation of everything that is stable.

The only truly independent thing on this earth is nature itself; it depends on nothing and no one; it is completely self-sufficient. Ironically, man and every living thing depends entirely on nature for survival. Living proof of the perfection of the Plan.

The big blow we had early Monday of this week loosed several shingles. It also, according to reports, did considerable property damage south of Clanton in the vicinity of Spigener and north of that community. Quite a number of folks were without very good TV reception Tuesday and Wednesday due to the [illegible] and breaking of their antennae. Awnings and other things felt the impact of the blow too. Understand someone's outhouse is now scattered all over the hillside. Glad no one had occasion to take refuge in it. Could have proven not only dangerous, but also embarrassing.

Mrs. Duren (we don't know her first name) of Rt. 2, Clanton is the most faithful mother we have ever seen when it comes to keeping her boys (who are in service) well informed. If she has been in once she has been in ten times to change addresses and be sure that her boys get the News. We're not a bit tired of it Mrs. Duren. In fact, we admire your faith in us and we'll try to live up to it. You just see they get the paper. . . we'll see they get the news.

Some folks are so busy being skeptical and doubtful, they wouldn't know a fact if it hit them in the face. Don't throw caution to the winds, but don't run it in the ground either.

TWO CAN LIVE AS CHEAPLY AS ONE

PROVIDING THEY'RE BOTH LAYING HENS

A flock of 500 laying hens requires little more energy and work than a flock of 250 layers. And the larger flocks pay off with more eggs and, thus, income.

The size of the flock is the key to profit or loss. The minimum number of birds recommended for efficient flock size is slowly being pushed from today's 500-bird mark up to 1000.

Hired labor for laying flocks costs a minimum of 75 cents an hour and a flock of 500 takes very little more than does a smaller flock. So, often the smaller flock becomes a losing proposition unless the poultryman has idle time on his hands.

The poultry farm is gradually being mechanized, and machinery helps cut labor costs. For example, feeding and watering a flock of 100 hens by hand usually takes about 42 hours each year. Mechanical feeders and automatic waterers reduce this time to only three hours.

Of course, gathering, cleaning, and grading eggs take most of a poultryman's time, something like 100 hours a year for 100 hens. But here again mechanical washers and graders cut this labor to around 40 hours per year.

In the past 15 years whereas the price of poultry equipment has doubled, farm wages have quadrupled. However, the size of the flock should be the guide on using mechanical equipment.

Many times mechanical feeders prove impractical for flocks smaller than 700 birds, but automatic waterers will pay, even in the smaller flocks.

So you see Mr. poultry farmer: two can live as cheaply as one, providing both are producers of "hen fruit" at regular intervals.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A resolution authorizing an in- stigation of the national mone- ry structure and credit system s defeated last week by a vote 225-174. This resolution, which ould have made possible a broad vestigation of government fiscal licies by a subcommittee of the use Committee on Banking and urrency, was supported by 172 emocrats and 2 Republicans and pposed by 187 Republicans and 38 emocrats.

Earlier in the session President enhower had requested congress- nal permission to appoint a panel "experts" to make an over-all udy of the nation's financial sys- em. Many Democrats doubted at such an appointed panel would completely impartial and had ffered as a substitute the resolu- ion that would have allowed the nvestigation by a duly constituted ongressional committee.

Rayburn Defends—

Had the resolution been adopted, the Congressional inquiry would have been conducted by a Banking and Currency Subcommittee headed by Rep. Wright Patman of Texas. Congressman Patman has been one of the strongest critics of the Administration's controversial "hard money" policy, and Republicans argued that under his chairmanship the proposed inquiry would not be objective. Speaker Rayburn, immediately rallying to Rep. Patman's defense, said he had "never served with a more devoted man" during more than 40 years as a member of the House of Representatives.

Veterans' Loans Increased—

In an effort to encourage new residential construction for veterans who live in small towns and rural areas, the House has adopted a measure that raises the maximum amount of direct loans from $10,000 to $13,500. The legislation also adds $200 million to the revolving fund that finances the loan program and makes changes in the law designed to expedite the processing of loans.

An attempt made during the bill's consideration to increase the interest rate for direct loans from 4½% to 5% was soundly defeated.

Budget Cuts Continue—

—The House of Representatives continued last week to trim the President's proposed budget by tentatively cutting nearly $15 million for the Labor Department's recommended appropriation for fiscal year 1958 and deleting additional funds from the budget requested by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Although four days were spent on this appropriation measure, the House had not completed the legislation when it adjourned last Friday. Final action on it, however, is expected early this week.

Farmers Must Declare Net Income In Excess Of $400

All farmers who have a net income of $400 or more must file tax returns to report their self-employment income, according to George D. Patterson, manager of the Birmingham office of Internal Revenue Service.

Mr. Patterson pointed out that the requirement to file a self-employment return is based on the farmer's net earnings or profit. He added that filing a return does not necessarily require a person to pay income tax, although he might be required to pay social security tax. He stated that a tax return cannot be filed until the end of a taxable year. For most farmers the taxable year ends December 31.

Farmers are required to pay social security tax if net profit from farming is $400 or more, Mr. Patterson said.

This provision of the law is compulsory. The law also provides a special method of figuring net earnings from farming operations for social security purposes only.

Farmers who gross not more than $1800 in any taxable year ending December 31, 1956 or later may report two-thirds of their gross, even though net profit is less than $400. Farmers who report on a calendar year basis may exercise this option in reporting their income for 1956. If the farmer's gross income is more than $1800 and net profit is less than $1200 he may report $1200 as net profit. If net profit is over $1200 there is no option and the farmer must use his actual net.

In order to report earnings properly, a farmer's social security number must be shown on his return.

Forms for reporting farm income and instructions for completing them may be obtained from the Birmingham office of Internal Revenue Service.

This office is located at 1531 3rd Avenue North, Birmingham, Ala. Telephone number 53-3421.

Applications for social security account number cards may be obtained from the Birmingham social security office or the nearest post office.

JEMISON FFA SAYS "HOLD YOUR HORSES"

Speed is the number one killer on the highway today. Deadly, uncontrolled speed is nothing more than runaway horsepower. It was uncontrolled horsepower that caused almost half of last year's 28,000 deaths.

Here are some places you should "hold your horses":

1. Out on the open road. . .

Three-fourths of the accidents reported in Alabama last year occurred on the open road on clear days. The reason is simply uncontrolled speed, uncontrolled horsepower. So control that urge to cut loose. You'll live longer; get there just as fast; and save money.

2. At all intersections. . .

In towns and cities, failure to yield the right-of-way at intersections is one of the highest single causes of accidents. A driver cannot yield the right-of-way when he is traveling too fast. It's a life-saving habit to slow down every time you approach an unprotected intersection

3. At night. . .

Two-thirds of the traffic deaths occur at night even though only about one-third of the miles are driven after sundown. So drive at a lower speed from sunset to sunrise.

4. For pedestrian traffic. . .

When schools are letting out; passing a playground or park; factories are changing shifts; driving through congested shopping districts; whenever there are people on foot—ease up on the gas pedal.

When you come right down to it, what's the hurry anyway?

The minutes you might save are not worth risking your life and the lives of others. The main idea is to GET THERE SAFELY.

Begin holding your horses right now. You're the driver, your foot controls that horsepower, and it's your life that is in the hands holding the steering wheel.

Compiled by Truitt Moore and Jerry Wright, the above is third article in a Safety Series by the FFA.

BIG PERCENTAGE OF CHILTON FARMERS WORK PART-TIME JOBS

The financial squeeze play is on. Every Chilton County and Alabama farmer knows it. But it's the small farm operator who feels the full impact of this powerful pinch.

Reeling from the impact of being caught in a financial trap, these small farm operators seek work off the farm to tide them over to better times.

Almost one-third of Alabama farmers are working on jobs off the farm. And this number is growing as the squeeze gets tighter.

Many farmers placed cropland in the Soil Bank. Some of these with idle time try to better their financial status by seeking employment off the farm, making fewer available jobs. Some join the ranks of the common laborer because their only knowledge and skill lies in farming. A few find that jobs are scarce for men of their age, and they can only hope that they will be able to stand he pinch until it lets up.

Reports point out that the small farmer has trouble making ends meet because his expenses have tripled since 1920 (as many small businesses have). More modern, efficient farming which leads to greater profits, usually calls for a high capital investment. Although in the long run this investment will more than pay for itself, the average small farmer may not have the capital to wait for it.

Suggested "life - lines" for these small farmers are fruit and vegetable growing—an intensive type farming.

Enterprise requiring a great deal of labor should be avoided because labor costs are prohibitive. Intensive farming, it would seem, is the big hope of the small farmer in his competition with the large commercial farm operator.

(Received too late for last week)

We had a good attendance last week (Wednesday night) for the weekly Prayer Services. We are hoping more people in our community will take an active interest in these important services and make their plans to attend regularly.

We are proud of our attendance for the past week. The people of Marbury Baptist Church worshipped with us and the Rev. Allan Rogers, a Howard student preached Sunday morning. Everyone enjoyed the sermon.

The Singing turned out well despite the rain. We are glad to have all of these people in our church and invite them back again.

The Training Union attendance was good last Sunday night. We were glad the Marbury people could worship with us again on Sunday night. The Rev. McCullough, pastor of Marbury brought the message.

Good Emergency Grazing Crop In Starr Millet

Summertime brings grazing problems. But many a farmer side steps this worry by planting a good temporary grazing crop, such as Starr Millet.

About 38,000 acres were planted in Starr Millet last year. This years' acreage will jump to 45,000 it is predicted by experts.

Farmers commonly use Starr Millet for good, quick-growing emergency grazing crop for dairy and beef cattle and hogs. One-half acre provides enough grazing for one cow or 10 shotes. The crop also makes good silage but it is difficult to cure for hay.

Starr Millet may be planted any time after frost danger until the middle of July.

Grazing may begin when plants are 20 inches high. You farmers can rotate your grazing by planting several acres to this crop; then, one area can make a re-growth while another is being grazed.

TEN PIGS averaging about 90 pounds each will eat about one bushel of corn daily plus proper supplements.

COMPARE

● See the difference nitrate nitrogen side-dressing (left) makes on cotton. Nitrogen in Chilean Soda is 100 per cent fast-acting, efficient nitrate nitrogen.

CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

Experience, they say, is the best teacher and 100 years of consistently satisfactory experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for side-dressing cotton, corn and other summer crops. It is a rare, natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the supply of available phosphate is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal among nitrogen fertilizers.

The side-dressing effectiveness of any nitrogen fertilizer depends very largely on its content of nitrate nitrogen. The nitrogen content of Chilean Soda is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen and this, together with its rich sodium content and minor elements, accounts for its remarkable efficiency in the field.

Sodium adds a great deal of extra value to the product. It destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and calcium when necessary, increases the supply of available phosphate, and helps the plant gain the utmost benefit from the nitrogen. In addition, Chilean Soda contains small amounts of needed minor elements to protect against hidden plant-food deficiencies.

If you have any question about your nitrogen side-dressing program this year, we urge you to use Chilean Nitrate, if only in a small way to begin with, so that you can see the difference for yourself. We are confident you'll find it the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used for side-dressing your crops.

From Thorsby Baptist Church—

A WELCOME TO EVANGELISTS AND HOW TO TREAT THEM WHILE HERE

Rev. B. B. Burks, pastor

As Chairman of Evangelism in the Chilton -Unity Association for this Associational year, I should like to use this means to express my gratitude to everyone who is giving special emphasis to this most important work. Now that we are approaching the opening date of our Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign, (April 7-21, please let me make an appeal to all pastor's and churches participating in this move: Do not leave any stones unturned for Christ during the coming days and nights. Please remember that the days and hours through which we will be passing will be destiny-determining to many people. Please do not forget the man who lives across the tracks or at the head of the branch Keep in mind that he said "inasmuch as ye have helped one of the least of these. . ." Let us be patient but persistent in pressing the claims of Christ on the hearts of the people in our County.

To the visiting evangelists: Men of God we welcome you to Chilton County. We welcome you because of whom you are, what you are and why you are what you are; where you are from, why you are here and what God will do through you while you are here.

For all of this we are eternally grateful and assure you that we will never be the same because you have been sent to us God bless you and use you mightily.

A Word Of Warning—

Mr. McClelland points out 15 ways to sabotage the evangelist:

1. Put him in a home where he is overburdened with social obligations. 2. Fail to follow to the letter his suggested plan. 3. Expect him to be the sole promoter of the plan he gives you. 4. Hole him up in a hotel and never take him visiting. 5. Work him to death in visitation. 6. Feed him until he bloats. 7. Let him guess you are blessed by his messages. 8. Let your discouragement chill him. 9. Look over the congregation and whisper, "we're a way off tonight". 10. Fail to point out every prospect present. 11. Give him the service at too late an hour. 12. Allow him to develop tension. 13. Blame him if things go wrong. 14. Not allow him free time. 15. Fail to pray for him and with him.

Dr. Cornelius DeBlock

The revival in our church will begin April 7 and close on Sunday night, April 21. The evangelist will be Dr. Cornelius DeBlock from the Southside Church in Columbus, Miss. Night services only during the week. Regular services beginning at 7:30.

Due to the fact that the first week day service is April 8 which is the time for the Brotherhood meeting, the men of our Church have made the following decision: First, that we will meet at 6:30 for supper; Second, we will invite the Jr. and Inter. RA's; Third that we will invite men of our town and community to be our special guests. We will reserve 15 min. at the close of this meeting for special prayer directed by Bro. Herschel Smith, after which we will go into the auditorium for the worship service.

The Brotherhood is sponsoring a men's Prayer Meeting throughout the entire revival. It will be at 7:00 and last until 7:30 each evening.

Space does not permit, but every group in the church family will have some special night set aside for them and their activities. This is to stimulate interest in our revival and also to give every member a chance to actively participate.

Sunday, April 14 will be set aside to bring as special guests to the revival all the members of the Extension Department of our Sunday School as well as any shut-ins who would like to join in. Rev. J. W. Jones and his Transportation Committee will gladly make arrangements with interested people.

Let us be much in prayer for our revival and we join our hearts and prayers with the 30 or more churches in our Association for a great evangelistic campaign.

SENATE PASSES SPARKMAN'S FIRE ANT BILL

WASHINGTON—Senator John Sparkman (D., Ala.) summarized today progress of four farm bills he is currently sponsoring in the Senate.

He said the fire ant elimination bill had passed the Senate and gone to the House. This bill is jointly sponsored by Senators Hill (Ala.) and Long and Ellender (La.). A similar bill has been reported favorably by the House Agriculture Subcommittee.

A bill sponsored by Senator Sparkman and a number of other senators to provide for compulsory inspection of poultry and poultry products is ready for Senate Floor action.

Another Sparkman-sponsored bill to provide more liberal credit terms to farm families is now under study at the Department of Agriculture, according to Sparkman.

He said the Senate Agriculture Committee would take action on the bill as soon as the Department of Agriculture makes its report.

"This farm credit bill would provide auxiliary credit resources needed to preserve the family-size farm" Senator Sparkman stated, explaining that the bill would provide additional credit to enlarge and develop these smaller farms.

Other provisions of the farm credit bill include refinancing existing indebtedness, expansion and simplification of farm ownership and operations credit programs; and extension and simplification of emergency and disaster farm credit

A fourth Sparkman farm bill, also under study by the Department of Agriculture, would provide for scientific study and research to develop increased and new industrial uses of farm crops.

"Since no program has been developed and no one can foresee a program [illegible] successfully shrink farm production for any length of time this bill looks to research programs to increase considerably the industrial uses of farm products," Senator Sparkman declared. "I am convinced that this bill, if enacted, could eventually go a long way toward solving many of the complex issues now contributing to our farm depression.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

HOW OLD ARE YOU??

Do you dread growing old? Too bad if you do, because, like the weather, there is nothing you can do about it physically.

Mentally, there is much that you can do. You can prepare yourself for the years that have been added to your life span through the modern advances of medicine.

To a person who has devoted a great part of energy to his job, premature retirement is often like a death certificate. A feeling of usefulness and a purpose in living are extremely important to every man and woman.

If, however, you are one of those to whom the rule applies, get ready for it. Plan new things. Develop a hobby that will keep you interested mentally and physically. Generally older people are thought unable to learn new things. This is not true. Prove the statement wrong by broadening your interests. Keep yourself flexible in your thinking.

Keep yourself active. This is another step in the right direction to prepare for your advancing years. Get yourself a part-time job if need be. Take part in church and club activities. Keep yourself busy. Use the proverbial rocking chair occasionally if you will but don't plan to rock the rest of your life away with thoughts of what used to be.

Remember that life can be fascinating or meaningless at any age. If life is interesting, there is always something to live for. It is when one feels lonely and useless that life loses its meaning.

As the years go by, physiologic changes take place in the human body. The skin becomes wrinkled. Walking is slower; there is less spring to the step, and the body becomes susceptible to the chronic illnesses that beset the older age population. These are natural changes which must be accepted.

But the way you accept them is what counts. Just as modern science has added years to your life, you are the one who can add life to your years.

Don't Chase That Kite; Just Notify The Power Company

Gusty spring winds just naturally bring out kites and model planes. But even these childhood sports may prove dangerous if safety rules aren't observed.

Never run across highways or streets while flying kites or planes. Do not permit them to soar over television or radio aerials. Never fly kites or planes near power lines, or in thunderstorms or rain. Never use a kite with any metallic substance. When a plane or kite catches in a power line, let go immediately.

Don't try to pull it down or climb up to get it. Just notify your power company. They know what they're dealing with, you may not.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

Saw Herbert Kliimer at the Post Office the other morning and he was on crutches. He stepped in a hole on a truck and broke his leg. He says he is mending fine and everything is going to be O.K. That's good news, knowing how hard it is to keep Herbert still we were afraid they would have to chain him to the bed. At any rate it is one heck of a way to get out of work.

A young and keen police officer was being shown a new nite beat by the sergeant. "Do you see that red light in the distance? Well that is the limit of your beat. Now get going the rounds." The young policeman set out, and was not seen again for a week. When he did show up at headquarters the sergeant demanded furiously where he had been. "You remember that red light", asked the cop. Well, that was on the back end of a bus headed for Chicago".

Joe Smith has been selected one of 12 men from the more than 300 Sinclair Oil Dealers in this district to represent them before the Board or Directors this week. This is a signal honor and we're proud for Joe. Hope he doesn't have to buy a bigger cap

The name of a mighty good friend appeared in the news the other day and she deserves an honorable mention here as she is well-known in Chilton County as is her prominent husband. Mrs. Raymond Mims received the extensions award from the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs at the close of their Convention at Tuscaloosa recently. Raymond and Lois just recently became "city slickers" having spent most of their life right here among us "hillbillies". Anyway, congratulations Mrs. Mims and give our regards to the old man.

A prim little old lady was telling a friend about her awful shock upon finding two empty whisky bottles in her garbage can.

"You can imagine my embarrassment," she said. "I got them out fast, because I didn't want the garbage man to think I drink."

"Well, the preacher lives next door," was the reply, "so I put them in his can. Everybody knows he doesn't drink."

Talking to Hugh Champion this week and he is really taking his new job as Sheriff seriously. He means to uphold and enforce all the laws for all the people alike and only asks that he get cooperation from the good people of Chilton County so that it will make his work easier. Hugh is no publicity seeker and is a little embarrassed about all the publicity and attention he is getting. As any man would, he appreciates, but is naturally self conscious about it. Our belief is that we could not have chosen a better man for Sheriff and urge for him the cooperation he deserves.

Thanks to Red Glasscock and his "crew" for the peach story in this edition of the News. They worked long and hard to gather the information so that it might be passed on to you.

Amon Jones, the former hardware, furniture man, dropped in this week to pay his respects. He is located now at Clearwater, Florida, and says he likes it fine. However, he did remark something about having Chilton County sand in his shoes. He is still in furniture at Clearwater, and after a few days with his family in Clanton he will return there.

Lions Light Sale To Be April 12th

The Clanton Lions Club is going to have a light bulb sale in Clanton on Friday night, April 12th.

Hours for the sale (door to door) will be from 6:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

This is one night only. Bulbs are packaged in cartons of 6 and can be easily stored for future use. Each carton contains (2) 100 watt bulbs; (2) 60 watt bulbs; and (2) 40 watt bulbs. Selling price is only $1.30. This gives full value as the same bulbs in the stores would cost a few cents more.

The profit from the sale of these bulbs will be used by the Clanton Lions Club for helping finance some of their many worthy projects.

All the profit goes to a good cause and you get full value for money spent. You can help and your help is needed.

COUNTY-WIDE SURVEY SHOWS:

Growers won't go 'out on limb' to predict peach crop here

A number of individuals are constantly asking the question "what is our present peach situation?" To attempt to give our reader's an answer to this question the County Agent's office has contacted a number of leading growers from several of the major peach producing areas of the County. The growers' evaluation of the peach crop as of Wednesday, April 10th, is as follows:

Reedie L. Culp, Clanton, Rt. 3 says "The 1957 overall peach crop potential is now to one-half crop".

In attempting to break down peach production potential by varieties Mr. Culp states as follows:

Dixie Red, don't know; Erly Red Free, don't know; Hale Haven, 50% crop expected; Ranger, 40% crop expected; Elberta, 40% crop expected; Southland, Early Elberta, Golden Jubilee, Cardinal, present indications point to a full crop. Late Elberta, 40%; Red Haven, 50% crop; Rio Oso Gem, no guess ventured as leaf bud development very slow."

Sam Bentley, peach producer and packer of Thorsby community. According to Mr. Bentley an overall guess at the peach crop potential as of April 10th is for a 50% crop.

By varieties, Mr. Bentley's estimate is as follows: "Erly-Red-Free, too early to tell; Hiland, 50% crop; Dixiered, 50% crop; Coronet, 75%; Hale Haven, 25%; Elberta, 50%; Fair Haven, too early to tell · Southland, 100% crop; Trio Gem, 100%."

A. D. Headley, Clanton, Rt. 1, Collins Chapel-Union Grove communities. According to Mr. Headley our 1957 overall peach crop is estimated for at least 50 percent of a full crop.

Mr. Headley sees the situation as follows: Dixiered, bud development not far enough along to make a reliable estimate. Hiland, 10-15% crop; Coronet, 10-35% crop; Redcap, 50% crop; Hale Haven 10% crop; Dixiegem, 60% crop; Elberta 25% crop; Ranger, too soon to make estimate; Golden Jubilee, 100%; Hiley, 100%; Southland, 65% crop; Erly-Red-Free, Red Haven; Red Bird and Mayflower, 10-15% crop expected; Shipper's Late Red, 25%; Fair Haven, 10% crop; Rio-Oso-Gem, 10-15% crop expected."

Horace Popwell, Clanton area. Mr. Popwell is expecting only a partial crop of peaches on most varieties and stated that it is too early to make an accurate estimate as to potential of the crop in today's condition.

By carieties, Mr. Popwell's orchard is as follows: Fairy Beauty, in full bloom today, fruit buds quite strong, leaf buds showing very little activity; Coronets, peaches developed up to ½" in diameter, leaf buds on old wood very strong, leaf buds on last year's growth not showing desirable development. However, this variety shows more possibility of a full crop that many others in Mr. Popwell's orchard. Hale Haven trees have shed approximately ½ shuck cover, leaf bud development scattered but possibly sufficient to support a fair crop of peaches. Regular Elberta, have developed an encouraging volume of fruit buds but are seriously lacking in leaf bud development particularly on last year's wood growth. According to Mr. Popwell, it is optimistic to expect more than ½ a crop of this variety.

S. V. Miller, Higgins Ferry Road, Providence Beat 16 community. As reported to Extension Secretary today by telephone, it is entirely too early to make reliable estimate.

Leaf bud development on practically all varieties quite questionable.

As will be noted from the above reports, all growers are rather pessimistic about the peach outlook at the present time

It is well to recall that our peach acreage this year is laboring under abnormally warm dormant period conditions.

First full-bloom this year was noted on February 23rd, and to date some varieties have not reached full-bloom stage. At the very best we can expect our harvesting season to be spread over a longer period and possibly we will run into an overlapping in our marketing program with Carolina or some of the other areas that have had sufficient dormant periods to bring their peaches through in normal ripening sequence.

All of the above conditions can change rather rapidly if very favorable weather conditions cause Chilton County's peach trees to develop leaf buds.

Letter From R. O'Dell Payton

I want to take this means to thank all those friends who stood by me in my recent trial and to assure you that I hold no ill will towards anyone.

If I have made a mistake, and I don't say I have, I want to say to the people of Chilton County, "I'm sorry". It is unfortunate that things have turned out as they have, but I just wanted all of those who were so willing to help to know that I appreciate their loyalty.

Short Session---

Board of Revenue & Control Shuns Courthouse Problem

By Vernon P. Payne

Members of Chilton County's Board of Revenue & Control were able to relax Monday in the quietest regular session held this year. This may have well been the lull before the storm as the question of building a new courthouse was shunned by both factions. It is probable that the next session of the Board will see action on this issue

The small office of the Judge of Probate was literally filled to capacity, overflowing into the hall, with delegations appearing before the Board seeking road improvements.

Henry Clay Nix, Mayor of Maplesville, asked cooperation of the Board in paving a street [illegible] adjacent to the Maplesville [illegible] limits. The Town of Maplesville [illegible] to pay $200 of the cost of improving the 330 yard street. It was unanimously agreed by the Board to have the County Engineer investigate the situation as to the possibilities of making the improvement soon.

Two delegations, totaling more than thirty persons, asked that the Board take steps to pave the Old Yellowleaf Road and the Blacksnake Road. The Yellowleaf Road leaves U. S. 31 just North of Clanton at the Quick Freeze Plant and runs north. There will be about four miles of paving to be done on this project. A unanimous vote put the job on the paving "system".

The Blacksnake Road lies east and west between U. S. 31 and the Lay Dam Road. This single-lane road, serving Friendship Church, is the only connection of the two thoroughfares between Clanton and the Bell Lane Church Road. It is an important road as it could carry ambulances from U. S. 31 directly to the hospital without bringing them through town. A unanimous vote allowed the County Engineer to begin widening and improving this road in the near future.

The short session of the Board adjourned shortly after noon after disposing of several other diverse matters.

Revival Crusade Continues Over Entire County

Now in the midst of the Simultaneous Revival Crusade several of Chilton County's churches will start their Revivals on the 14th.

Some of them are:

Mulberry, with Rev. Joel B. Lucas evangelist; Providence, Rev. Harper Shannon; Clanton First Baptist, Dr. Edgar Arendall; Pleasant Valley, Rev. Jimmy Chapman; New Salem, Rev. Adolph Phares.

At Refuge, Rev. George Smith will be bringing the messages. At Maple Springs, Rev. F. F. Glidewell; Ebenezer, Rev. Harry Kirkley; New Cedron, Rev. G. G. Williams; Pilgrim's Rest, Rev. L. M. Gray; Rock Springs, Rev. L. E. Watts is pastor.

Some fine reports are coming from churches that have already begun their Revivals and reports on the Youth Revivals are heartening indeed. Good crowds are attending each night. Pastors seem to be pleased with results.

X-Ray Clinic Cancelled

The chest clinic which was to be held at the County Health Department on April 23rd and 24th has been cancelled due to technical difficulties. Persons scheduled for x-ray at this clinic will be notified later.

Thorsby-Jemison Organize Joint Baseball Club

Peaches are not the only topic of conversation up Thorsby way.

According to reports, after an absence of several years, this Chilton County peach and berry center will again yield its own baseball team.

When these two small towns go after something they usually get results. This time their sights are set on a winning baseball team and Wallace "Bull" Watkins might just be the one to guide the team to a winning year.

This past week-end saw Manager Watkins putting 22 players through their paces preparing for the 1957 baseball campaign. Manager Watkins was well pleased with the Sunday afternoon game but states that his team will not be at full strength until the latter part of May when 4 or five outstanding high school players will be added to the roster.

The players will soon be sporting new uniforms through the courtesy of Thorsby - Jemison business houses.

These firms are to be congratulated for providing a way for a lot of clean, wholesome entertainment for the people of that area this summer. This writer has always maintained that a good baseball team displaying good sportsmanship is a real asset to any city or town.

Manager Watkins will announce the opening game as soon as possible. Watch for the announcement and support your team.

Notice From Chairman Of Red Cross Funds Drive

The deadline for making a final report to the Area office has been given to the local Red Cross office, which date is April 18th.

Chilton County is far behind the total quota assigned for this campaign. May we ask that anyone wishing to donate to the Campaign and who have been missed by the workers, please mail your contribution to the Red Cross Office.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

It's true that the Lord will provide, but it's up to each of us to wash our own dishes.

A dime in the hand is worth more than a dollar in the pocket of the fellow that owes it to you.

Free speech should be used with discretion; especially when engaged in a hot argument.

A fool and his money may soon be parted, but they command a lot of respect while they remain together.

The man with no initiative at all sometimes fares better than the fellow who starts a job he can't finish.

A Job For All----

WHEN HUGH CHAMPION was appointed Sheriff of Chilton County last Friday he stated "I will do the best job I possibly can, and I want the help and cooperation of all the people of Chilton County."

That statement is the meat in the cocoanut. If Mr. Champion does a good job of being Sheriff, it is up to the good people of the County to get behind him and support him one-hundred percent.

With this kind of help we know he will fill the bill. We are confident he is experienced enough, capable enough, and willing to do what he thinks is best for the County as a whole. No more can be asked of any man.

Until he proves himself different, we are behind him all the way and will do all we can to help him serve all of the people to the best of his ability.

Getting It Done----

LOOKS LIKE THE MAYOR and City Councilmen have the United State Senators and the Congressmen on their side to get Clanton a Sewage Disposal Plant. In a telegram received last week they stated:

> Have just been advised by Department of Health, Educaton and Welfare of primary approval of application of the City of Clanton for interceptor and outfall sewers and a secondary sewage treatment plant for the City of Clanton. Estimated total cost $230,941; Federal share $69,282.30.

This is another example of what we can get done by working together. It takes no more effort to work together than to back-bite and fight among ourselves—but look what a difference it makes in the out-come and the advantages it gives our County and Community.

A Reader's View----

Chilton is a wonderful County. It is noted for its health, good water, rich soil and much beauty.

Chilton is also peopled with some wonderful folk. And if those inclined toward ill gotten gains, would read the Bible with understanding, they would hesitate.

I do not believe that old addage, "Elect an honest man to office and he will come out a thief."

Nor do I believe, that a knock on your door with a card, saying "Vote for me" is assurance sufficient for the confidence of our vote. Can it be utter indifference, that the people of Chilton County exact so little in return for their vote?

Jemison FFA Says—

Safe Driving Must Be Taught

WE MUST RESPECT THE AUTO'S CAPACITIES

It is a proven fact that untrained young drivers have twice as many accidents as those who have had competent driving instruction in high school classes.

We teach our youngsters how to cope with almost every aspect of modern life except the automobile. As a result one out of every four fatal auto accidents involves a youthful driver. What is the answer? The automobile is an important implement of modern living, and learning to drive safely should be just as important as the other basic courses offered in our schools today. Students must be taught that the motor vehicle is not a toy, but a powerful—and potenially deadly—common sense and caution in its operation.

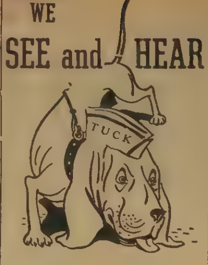
Nearly twice the number have been killed in automobiles than all wars the United States has been engaged in. All that is needed is one generation of well-trained drivers to reverse this entire fatal trend in a few short years.

Good driving is a fine art. Go to it! And may this series of articles help you to learn to drive skillfully and live.

(This is the fourth of a series of safety articles submitted by the Jemison FFA Chapter, Truitt Moore and Jerry Wright, secretaries.)

A rubber cap, like those used on crutches, placed on the broom handle will keep your broom from sliding and falling down when leaned against a wall or door. This cap will not leave any marks or scars on anything it accidentally hits while the broom is in use.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR



By "TUCK"

Things We See, Believe;
Things We Hear, Consider

We were listening to a fella on television the other night who, by the way, was a foreigner, and we noticed something about the gentleman. It's the fact that, though there are hundreds and thousands of dialects and languages in the world, there is one word in particular that is common to most of them. That word is "UH". It would seem that no mater where you are from when you run out of speech the most natural thing to say is "uh or "and uh". Some folks break this down to "duh" which makes them sound something short of intelligent. We had a school teacher once (bless his ole heart) who couldn't say good morning without saying "and uh" before and after it. Naturally he caught the brunt of many cruel jokes. No harm intended, but you know how youngsters are. They're cruel. Here's about what this fella sounded like in the classroom and we submit it simply to prove a point:

"Well, uh, we'll study about uh American history today and uh this uh lesson will include uh ten chapters in all uh. The best way, uh to study this uh lesson will be to uh get with a friend and uh work uh at it together. . . ." Well, he could go on like that for hours, but it sure was tiring just listening to him.

The point we were trying to make is that the time we all waste saying "uh" takes up about half of our speaking time. In other words if we could cut down on the "uh's" we could talk a lot more. That may be of particular interest to you ladies. Next time you're conversing try to count the times you say "uh" to the party with whom you are talking.

The one thing that puzzles us most about it is that everyone seems to speak the same language when it comes to the word, but no one has come up with a definition yet. For a word used as much as that one, you'd think it had some meaning. The definition could very well be, "I'm thinking".

The best things in life are free, but the next best cost too doggone much in comparison.

S'funny how nearsighted some husbands are when it comes to their wives. Maybe self-centered is a better word, but you judge for yourself. It seems this wife was looking at an appliance of some kind and hubby boy wouldn't let her have it because it naturally was too expensive. Hubby however, seldom does without anything when it comes to his appliances (cars, trucks, etc.). We use this illustration to remind you husbands that, since you handle the money in the family, perhaps sometimes you forget that wifey doesn't have any access to any and that maybe you get more than your share of it, personally (as opposed to family). You can't very well say "it's my money and I'll spend it as I see fit." You can't say that when she's the one who feeds you, takes care of your home and your children and blah, blah, blah. Sound like a sermon? It might do you some good to heed a sermon now and then and anyhow, why should someone else remind you to be good to your wife. By the way, you wives who have your own income, need'nt expect the above consideration from husband, 'cause you just ain't gonna get it. See, it pays to be a housewife and take care of the kiddies and the home; the old man appreciates it more than you'll ever know, because he just doesn't have sense enough to tell you now and then.

While we're on the subject of homemakers, we'd like to congratulate the members of an organization which devotes all of its time and efforts to making better homes for tomorrow. That is the FHA (Future Homemakers of America). This organization can be made into the very backbone of our home if we support it. Girls who join this organization are investing their time now to something that will be of more help to them in a few years than any of them probably realize. If there's anything a man can't stand the thought of, it's getting married to a girl who can't cook, can't sew and doesn't know how to take care of the children. It's amusing, but it's also serious, for a mother who doesn't know the first thing about being one, is in for a tough time, not to mention daddy. Yes sir, to those girls who don't get the training at home and even to those who get above and beyond training the FHA is truly a wonderful thing. It helps girls begin to accept the responsibilities which they inevitably will have and teaches them to accept these tasks with not only open minds, but also a little knowledge to boot. These things will go a long way toward making a happy home, tomorrow. We salute the FHA.

Please read the Jemison FFA article in this issue on "Safe Driving" and then tell us, why doesn't someone do something about it. It would seem to be a need when the youngsters themselves start begging us to help them. What does it take? We wish we knew. Accidental death doesn't seem to wake us up because we hear of it every day. A driving course is what we need, now let's get with it.

10 ABUNDANT LIFE
BY ORAL ROBERTS

SOME CALL IT LUCK — OTHERS CALL IT GOD

Physical healing by faith in God is no new thing. Begin with the Old Testament. Miracles and healings abound there. In the New Testament, the life of Jesus is summed up with these words "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power who went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the devil"

Following Christ's ascension, there are recorded thirteen clear-cut physical healings: Besides these, the Bible says, "By the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people" But the account doesn't stop there The early centuries bear record for 300 years after Christ's resurrection by the testimonies of Irenaeus, Tertullian, Origen, Justin Martyr, and others. They give specific accounts of individual healings.

There is abundant evidence that healings and miracles were in evidence in almost every century up to this present day St. James gives the greatest reason why more people are not healed now—"You have not, because you ask not."

If you were to take inventory of your own life, you will find many places where a higher power worked in your behalf. Accidents were avoided, death missed you by a whisper, some chain of events brought good to you and others too numerous to mention. Don't write it off as fate—don't call it a happy circumstance; call it what it was—God'

Mrs. R. H. of Oudtshoorn, South Africa, writes this account of her healing by faith in God:

"About sixteen months ago I began having pains in my left leg from the hip to the ankle. The pains grew worse until I was forced to seek medical aid.

"After X-raying my spine, the doctor told me I had a prolapsed disc pressing on a nerve. He sent me to the hospital for two weeks. There I was put in traction to stretch my spine. This consisted of a boarded bed and weights of 10 pounds pulling on each leg. For months I was bedridden. As I continued to grow worse, my doctor advised me to see a specialist.

"The specialist said that I would have to wear a surgical corset for the rest of my life.

"I began reading the Bible and other publications that helped me.

"One day while lying in bed, I suddenly felt a warm glow. It seemed the presence of the Lord hovered over me. I began moving my body, and I found I had no pain. God healed me right then, and washed my sins away.

"I have not had the slightest pain since then, nor do I have to wear a surgical corset."

These stories of wonderful recoveries are received by the thousands at my office in Tulsa, Oklahoma. I believe in miracles. I believe a miracle can happen to you.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

After almost two weeks of debate on the appropriation bill for the Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, members of the House of Representatives completed action on this legislation last Thursday. A total of $2,846,730,781 was approved for operating two departments and their related agencies for fiscal year 1958. This amount was $15.7 million less than the appropriation recommended by the Appropriations Committee and was $134 million below the President's budget request.

There were 14 roll call votes during final action on the measure on Thursday. Speaker Rayburn, who has been in Congress for 44 years, remarked that he could not remember an occasion when as many recorded votes had been taken in one legislative day.

Naval Exercises—

As a member of a Naval Reserve unit composed of congressmen and congressional staff members, I took part last week-end in a simulated air, sea, and underwater anti-submarine exercise. Included in this demonstration were surface ships, submarines, blimps, helicopters, and aircraft. Except for the fact that the weapons fired did not contain lethal explosives, the exercise was completely realistic.

The four participating submarines endeavored to penetrate a protective screen set up by surface ships and all types of aircraft. When the surface vessels and aircraft detected a submarine on their underwater sound equipment, they sought to "annihilate" the target with "live" ammunition. The submarines were unrestricted in their maneuvers, and a number of torpedoes were launched by them against surface targets.

Fastest Submarine—

Those of us present were divided into five groups so that we might have an opportunity to participate in the exercises on a vessel or aircraft of our choice. I was very fortunate in being assigned to the Navy's experimental submarine, the Albacore. This submarine is the fastest and most maneuverable underwater vessel in the Navy today and is often referred to as the submarine of the future.

Although the Albacore was surfaced a portion of the time we were aboard, she was submerged for nearly two hours. While underwater we operated at high speeds and great depths.

Advances Made—

Having spent more than three years in the Navy during World War II in anti-submarine work, I am familiar with this type of operation. However, tremendous advances have been made since World War II in submarines as well as in the equipment and weapons with which we can combat these underwater craft. Although most members of Congress are familiar with the changes that are taking place, it was an enlightening as well as beneficial experience to actually see our Naval forces in action.

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

One Citizens Opinion

By H. Calby Smith

This County needs a good tornado warning service during this season. While it is realized that such storms do not occur very often, an efficient organization using the services of our weathermen, forestry fire watchers and the renowned courage of our telephone operators, would be worth its weight in gold to those individuals who live in mortal fear during this season of the year. In addition, such a service might save lives in the event a tornado hits in the County. This is not intended as any reflection on our radio service or our weathermen, and the day and night service would take over where they have to leave off. The paths of hurricanes are plotted from the time contact in the Carribean until it finally blows out. While it is understood that the nature of these storms are quite different, they move slow enough to permit warning when they are traveling on the surface.

Many people cannot afford to travel. The money grubbers cannot leave the source of their income to go abroad and see the world in which they live. A few of us are fortunate in having travelled considerably in the service of our Country. The point we wish to make is that travel helps us to a better life. In addition to the known medical value of a vacation, people traveling in foreign countries come back to their own with a keener and more basic understanding of how fortunate they are to be citizens of this great Country. Travel is a wise use of accumulated money that you cannot take with you when you leave this world. It is a sad commentary on our citizenry that the people who do the most traveling are not the wealthiest. Stenographers, clerks and skilled labor do more traveling than people of wealth. There are many pleasure trips designed for low income people and they don't cost much.

A lot of people know, but do not realize that if they travel South they encounter different weather as they pass through the zones. Literally ti is "June in January" in "Rio" or Buenos Aires. Also, many do not realize that the vast majority of the people of this world are brown, yellow, black and the shades in between. The fair-skinned Anglo-Saxon constitutes a small but definite minority. South of us in this hemisphere, from Mexico to Argentina, people are predominately Catholic. A sprinkling of Protestant Missions here and there, and a number of foreign residents from protestant belts, but in some areas protestants have difficulty in establishing a church or a mission. In the west, among the Polynesian people, protestants have a minority of churches and missions, and beyond the Phillipines lies Japan, Russia and other lands of several religions, or no religion in some cases.

Australia, the land of the Kaola "Teddy" Bear, and nearby New Zealand are the Countries with people most like the Southerners. Nearer in point of relationship with our common Mother Country, Great Britain, some have a slight accent. Otherwise, they are fair-skinned Anglo-Saxon of British and Irish descent. Follow them in the news and you will find they think and act more like the Southerner as a people, except that they have no racial prejudice. This may or may not be due to the fact that they have very few, if any, people of color as inhabitants. In addition to the small Kaola Bear, a matter of interest is that they have literally millions of acres of "back country" which was undeveloped due to arid nature of the region when I was there. Also, they have a tribe of primitive "bushmen" or blacks that occupy approximately the same status as our native Indians in the early days of this country, except that they do not fight wars.

In the land of Allah and the Koran, where [illegible] is the Prophet, one sees many strange things. This mysticism also applies in the land of the Hindu and the God Buddha. You have to see some of these things to believe them. Our Houdini never learned their secrets. You have to see a man walk through thirty feet of glowing red hot coals barefooted to believe it.

Near Holalndia in the Dutch Indies, they have a small tribe of pygmy people that looked to me like a group of Poland China pigs, insofar as wearing apparel was concerned. We awoke from a noon-day siesta to find these litle people around our cot near the edge of the jungle. They were jabbering a dialect we did not understand and their bodies were covered with a black substance that looked like mud, hence the similarity in dress mentioned above. The enemy snipers were still around and the jungles and hills still had a remnant Army. We were frightened when we first saw these friendly little people, but soon overcame our fear.

Nature has never presented a more brilliant spectacle of color and force than exists this spring in Chilton County. Bountiful spring rains have literally brought the earth to life. Old fields that have long been barren are covered with green grass and the woods are turning green so fast that you can almost see it grow. Strong winds and lightening reminds us of the force of nature. Many people worry that crops will be delayed too late. We are enjoying this Spring.

Sermon by Telephone

Aged and invalid members of the Village Presbyterian Church in Prairie Village, Kansas, can hear church sermons right in their own homes—by telephone. As assistant Pastor Robert H. Ralston delivers his sermons to the congregation, a Bell System Speakerphone installed in the pulpit carries his voice to as many as six homes. Here's how this "conference" call is arranged: Prior to sermon time, an operator connects any six parishioners to the Speakerphone in the pulpit. Then, just before beginning to speak, Pastor Ralston pushes the Speakerphone button and those at home hear the sermon.

ALMOST ANY HOMEMAKER around town will tell you one of the most tiring parts of running a home is "running" from room to room. "Room-to-room travel," is how one good lady described it the other day. I'm no adviser on home economics, but was able to tell her a good way to save steps. Have additional telephones installed where they are most needed, like the kitchen, bedroom and den. And I showed her how the smart decorator colors blend, contrast or harmonize with her own color schemes. If you need additional phones, just call our Business Office and place your order. They cost so little—less than a nickel a day plus a one-time charge for color and installation.

AMAZING THINGS in telephone communications are resulting from use of the transistor, a tiny electronic marvel no bigger than a penny. Invented and developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the transistor will do most of the things bulkier vacuum tubes will do, and others besides. It multiplies the voice thousands of times, takes up little space, generates little or no heat and should last indefinitely. So it makes possible many new kinds of telephone equipment which will mean more and better telephone service for you.

"SCIENCE SPECTACULARS," the Bell System's hour-long dramatic television presentations, are being enthusiastically viewed. The first, titled "Our Mr. Sun," was telecast last November. The second, "Hemo the Magnificent," was shown last month. Other gripping science dramas will be presented on network television later. Color films of these exciting spectaculars are available for showing to your school, civic or church group. To arrange for showing these films, just call our Business Office.

ISABELLA NEWS

MRS. J. H. WELLS

Mulberry Church News—

Our Sunday School and Training Union attendance is still climbing. We were proud of the good attendance for both services last Sunday.

Our Revival starts this week. Let's be much in prayer for our Revival and for those who need to be in the Lord's house. Church members, will you make it your duty to be in the Lord's house during the Revival and also to visit someone who needs to come? Our pastor will be bringing the messages each night as we are having night services only.

This week our pastor has been in a Revival at the Union Grove Baptist Church. Pray for him as he goes to preach each night of the week.

Next Sunday our Church will observe the Lord's Supper at the Morning Hour.

Choir robes were purchased for our choir last week. We hope to have them in about thirty days.

The Brotherhood sponsored a social for the Young People Wednesday afternoon at the Isabella School.

Last Wednesday night for our Family Night we had fifty-five in attendance. We are proud of the interest shown in the Lord's work. Especially on our Prayer Meeting night. We need to remember that the strength of the Prayer Meeting determines the strength of the Worship Services on Sunday.

Grow A Garden—

Balance Budget By Producing Your Own Vegetables

PRACTICAL, PROFITABLE AND OH SO DELICIOUS

Home-grown vegetables may do more than anything else to rescue the family budget from its doldrums.

More home vegetable gardens are prescribed to help the farmer (and anyone else) in these days of limited acreage and low farm prices. The experts say that theories to the effect that vegetables can be bought cheaper across the counter than they can be grown at home are unfounded and just not so.

Studies by Virginia Polytechnic Institute specialists show that enough vegetables for a family of five can be grown in a garden 100 by 220 feet—approximately one-half acre—provided the garden is planted on good soil, is well fertilized, and is well cared for. It takes an average of 12 working days to grow the vegetables.

The vegetable bill for a family of five at current retail prices will run around $325. This amount is equal to the price paid the farmer for two bales of cotton, ten 200-pound market hogs, 5800 pounds of milk, 600 three-pound broilers, or 3.6 choice beef calves weighing 500 pounds.

Another thing to consider, is that the value of home-grown vegetables does not have to be reported for income tax. But income used to buy vegetables does have to be reported for taxes.

When a farmer sells his products, he receives only 38 cents out of the consumer's dollar paid at the retail level. However, he gets a full 100 percent value out of all the vegetables he grows for his family's use.

New Enlistment Plan Offered By Marines

ENLIST NOW, GO ON ACTIVE DUTY LATER

"Buy now, pay later" might be applied to the new enlistment procedure being offered by the United States Marines. Captain Roy R. Van Cleve, Officer in Charge of Marine Recruiting for Alabama and Northwest Florida, announced today that high school seniors, who will graduate this year, may enlist in the Marines in April and May and be assigned to active duty in June, July and August.

The new program will afford high school seniors the opportunity to assure themselves of service with the U. S. Marines at a future date with the further opportunity of completing their education first.

Individuals interested in and qualifying for this program will be enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve and then request assignment to active duty for two or three years during the June-August period.

There will be no change in the training of the men entering the Marines under the new program. They will receive the regular 12 week basic training course with a four-week advanced infantry training period. Upon completion of this phase of their Marine service they will be granted the customary 15-day leave to visit relatives and friends.

A limited number of two and three year enlistments will be available under this program according to Captain Van Cleve. He suggests that interested individuals contact their local Marine Corps Recruiter for further details. He will be at the Post Office in Clanton each Thursday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

GOODS—AND THE GOOD

"When the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions." Matthew 19 22.

An interesting young man was that; the like of whom we see almost every day. He had been quite diligent in his effort to live up to a worthy moral standard, and yet had sense enough to realize that there was something beyond—something which he had not yet acquired.

Also, the young fellow "had the goods", as the expressions goes in our day. And yet he was not satisfied. Even though somewhat boastful of his moral conduct, and also with nothing to worry about re his financial standing, nevertheless he looked into the future with nagging dissatisfaction, with even a degree for foreboding.

The young ruler, a member of the highest Hebrew court, decided that he had better see Jesus about his disturbing conscience. Consequently putting his pride into his pocket, he condescended to approach the Galilean, and opened the interview by calling him "Master". "What shall I do that I may have eternal life?", implying thereby that he already had pretty much everything else.

The Master's reply was quite to the point, taking all the wind out of the visitor's sails. He gave the inquirer to understand that two barriers must be surmounted before he could be numbered among the possessors of eternal life. The first was that, with any notion of repentance for his sins, he was claiming merit as a commandment-keeper, but that for some reason God had not recognized that merit. The second was that, regardless of his pious talk, he was yet a slave to property, property, property.

That was the Master's answer to, "what lack I yet?" And it was a thrust that smote him under the fifth rib, to use an Old Testament figure of speech. Refusing to act upon the advice that he had sought, he was compelled to admit that "where your treasure is, there will your heart be also". We wonder if anybody today is permitting goods to outweigh the good: or is substituting a cultivated morality for genuine religion. Surely nobody in this enlightened generation is doing anything so silly as that! In case there is, it is hereby recommended that he re-read the record relative to that rich young ruler. 'He went away sorrowful". So will all do who surrender to such notions as he had.

Check With Gas Company—

Overlook No Detail When Installing Gas Fixtures

HELPFUL OR HARMFUL; TAKE ALL PRECAUTIONS

Springtime just naturally seems to give homeowners the itch to modernize their houses. And this modernization oftentimes includes installation of gas furnaces, gas water heaters, or gas clothes dryers.

Gas appliances have a completely different and more rigid set of rules than those using other fuel. For safe installation of such appliances the following rules are recommended—the manufacturer's instructions. the aNtional Board of Fire Underwriters' rules and local building codes.

Check with one of the two local gas firms before going ahead with your plan. No one knows better than they, the necessary precautions and steps to be taken.

For safety's sake, galvanized or black iron pipe or fittings and unlined masonry chimneys should never be used. Safe chimneys are lined with vent piping of incombustible, corrosion-resistant material of sufficient thickness to prevent heat and fumes from escaping through the walls.

Every vented appliance—except incinerators—needs a draft hood to let air in and fumes out. When joining two or more vents, such as the water heater and furnace, use a larger common vent and provide the maximum possible rise for each vent before they join the large vent. Always locate a gas appliance where a vertical vent can run straight up through the roof.

Warm air heating layouts call not only for hot air ducts but also cold air ones. Basement stairways are a dangerous substitute for the cold air duct if the water heater is in the basement.

Gas clothes dryers throw out so much water vapor that they may be vented with a single wall pipe, preferably aluminum.

As we said before, see your gas company, they know all the answers when it comes to installing and servicing with gas

Old Mother Hen Has Easter Bunny Sittin' In Clover

WITH BIG EGGS, LITTLE EGGS AND. . JUST EGGS

The Easter Bunny is in for an easy time of it this year when time comes for him to make his rounds.

Old Mother Hen has supplied him with just lots and lots of pretty, big eggs to hide in every nook and cranny for all the kiddies to find Easter morning. And what's more, there will be oodles left for outdoor egg rollings.

This good news for the little ones says that Mother Hen has more than outdone herself this year to fill all of the Easter Bunny's requests for eggs.

She has given him big eggs, little eggs and medium-sized eggs; and best of all the Easter Bunny will have no trouble finding those big white eggs that he likes to use to paint all sorts of faces on, in all sorts of colors.

Yessir, the youngsters will be smilin' this year when the Easter Bunny comes hoppin' and say mom, you will find that egg prices have never been more reasonable. Not only will Bunny Boy have plenty of eggs for hidin' but you'll have plenty for "hidin' " too. Dad, knows what we mean.

CANCER IS NO MORE, HOPELESS

HERE, BROKEN DOWN, IS HOW YOUR CANCER DOLLAR IS SPENT

Most Cancer can be cured by early diagnosis and treatment. It behooves every man and woman, therefore, to learn everything possible about Cancer.

Armed with this knowledge, you can help materially to reduce the suffering and death caused—often times unnecessarily—by Cancer.

Like any other organization, the American Cancer Society is only as strong as the efforts of those behind it.

Help our volunteers.

The funds raised by volunteers make it possible to carry on the society's broad program. And if you have wondered just how this money is spent: 60% of each dollar contributed in Alabama stays in the state to be used for education research and service. Twenty-five% is allocated to the National Research Program, part of which is returned to Alabama for research. The other 15% is used by the National Office as follows: Medical grants and clinical fellowships 3%; Professional Education 1.2%; Statistical Research 9%; Public Education 2.4%; Administration 2.6%; Fund Raising 2.4%; Contingencies .4%.

Progress in the fight is slowly, but surely being made. The American Cancer Society is in business to go out of business. If Cancer is treated successfully and does not re-occur in five years, it may be considered cured. This is the standard considered by scientists and doctors.

See your doctor in time!

It is sincerely hoped that you will attend this meeting. Door prizes will be presented.

New Kitchen Arrangements To Save Mom Miles

MOM'S TOOTSIE TRAVEL BEING CUT TO MINIMUM

Kitchen arrangements are being revolutionized to fit the cook's needs. Also to cut down on mileage while getting meals. A recent study has thrown some old standard rules away and streamlined the proceedings.

The mixing center is the pivot for kitchen travel to the sink, range and refrigerator thus its location (or should we say, new location) is between the sink and the range, not beside the refrigerator. The same counter can do double duty as a mixing and serving center if it's large enough with plenty of storage space nearby. The cupboard holding table setting supplies—not the range—proves to be most efficient near the table.

POULTRY MANURE taken directly from the house and used on pastures or row crops tend to give greater returns than manure which is put aside for later application on crops.

SLOW DOWN and Live

Give More Milk—

Artificial Insemnation Successful; Heifers Exhibited At Fat Stock Show

NEW CONCEPT IN ANIMAL BREEDING SHOWN TO LOCAL DAIRY FARMERS

The advanced dairy cattle breeding practice, artificial insemination, has been used by Chilton's leading dairymen only approximately one and one-half years. The strong heifers, daughters of production proven bulls housed in American Breeders Service's Carmel, Indiana stud, were on display, as a result demonstration, Tuesday, April 9th at the Clanton Airport.

The average Alabama dairy cow produces annually only slightly above four thousand pounds of milk. The heifers placed on exhibit in Clanton on April 9th were sired by bulls with proven milk production transmitting ability of from 10,000 to above 16,000 pounds annually. The exhibit heifers were from dairy herds of Chilton's leading dairymen and will eventually be replacement cows in the milking herds of Chilton County dairies. They have the inherent ability to greatly increase per-cow milk production in the herds of their owners. They are the type of dairy heifers that can be on the farm of every Chilton County dairy cow owner if complete use of available breeding service is utilized.

TAX DEADLINE; APRIL 15TH

WAITING FOR LAST MINUTE? WELL 'TIS HERE

Mr. George Holman, Supervisor of the Montgomery Revenue Office issued a reminder to last minute taxpayers today. "April 15 is the last day for filing calendar year 1956 income tax returns of individuals, partnerships, estates and trusts" Holman said.

He also stated that April 15 is the deadline for filing gift tax returns if a gift of more than $3,000 was made to any person in 1956. "The same deadline applies to most individuals who must file declarations of estimated income tax for 1957", he pointed out.

Agents will assist taxpayers in the Montgomery office from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday through April 15. Holman requests that taxpayers complete as much of their own returns as possible before telephoning or going to the office for help in completing the returns.

The Montgomery telephone number is AM-3-7521, Ext. 301.

Electric's the Way—
Which Shall I Get NEXT?

IF YOUR REFRIGERATOR IS TOO SMALL and doesn't have the quick-freeze and frozen foods storage compartments, your first choice may be an electric refrigerator. For farm homes, a home freezer (farm size) should be an early choice because then fruits, vegetables, fowl and meats can be preserved in quantity with all of their freshness.

AN EARLY CHOICE should be an electric range. If you are like most women who switch to electric cooking you'll say, "I wish I'd started sooner."

THE NEW HIGH SPEED electric water heater of adequate size provides an ample supply of hot water always. Completely automatic, you install it and forget it.

EVEN IF YOU LIKE to wash and dry dishes by hand (but who does?) an electric dishwasher will be near the top of your list. It does the job better than human hands and is a time and labor saver. Dishes washed in an electric dishwasher dry themselves.

WITH ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT, the laundry can be done whenever time permits. Economical to operate, electric washing machines and electric dryers eliminate a lot of drudgery and make it possible for you always to have clean linens.

Electrify your home step-by-step, or all at once. Pay for the new equipment you choose on the convenient terms offered by your electrical appliance dealer or us.

Alabama Power Co. Opens 9th Annual 8-Month Fishing Contest

By R. L. (Dick) Scott

April 1st ushered in the Ninth Annual Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest which will continue throughout the summer until November 30th. No changes have been made in the contest rules, and the awards will be the same as those of last year.

The contest area is the lovely lakes and tributaries of the Coosa-Tallapoosa Rivers. Prizes are an attractively engraved trophy for first, second and third place in each of the six contest species of popular game fish entered during the contest period. Whopper Catcher certificates will be awarded each contestant whose entry equals or exceeds the following weights by species:

Largemouth Bass, 5 lbs.; Smallmouth Bass, 3½ lbs.; white or Striped Bass, 2 lbs.; Crappie or White Perch, 1½ lbs.; Shellcracker, 10 ozs.; Bluegill, 8 ozs.

Each month during the contest the best Whopper Catcher entry, based on a weight percentage, will receive a merchandise award of $10.00, to be traded at the winner's favorite sporting goods store.

All Smallmouth Bass entries must be accompanied by a clear snapshot to be considered for a prize.

Most boat docks or stores nearby act as weighing-in stations, and, upon request, can supply a leaflet giving full details of the contest. Ask about the Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest and join the fun.

The contest is open to all Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes sportsmen, and is designed to add a little more pleasure to catching a big one. It is suggested that you always enter your best catch, for you may have a prize winner at any time.

Boat dock operators agree this year's fishing is better than ever. Usually, spring fishing offers the best prospects for all comers, and now is the time to go. Bass and Crappie are being taken in large numbers on live minnows and medium running plugs. April showers have stained the waters to the right degree for outstanding catches, and if you are possessed with a strange and unusual feeling—go fishing.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: Before you start on that next fishing trip, you'd better check your equipment. Check not only your fishing equipment, but your safety equipment as well. This is the equipment that can save your life. . . and that is far more important than landing any fish, regardless of how big. Make sure you have at least one life preserver for every person on board. Have a pair of oars with you, just in case. Anybody can be foolhardy, but a wise man is always cautious.

Big Fishing Rodeo At Wetumpka April 24-25

MANY LOCAL FISHERMEN EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE

WETUMPKA—April 24 through 27 will be big days around Wetumpka as a result of the Fishing Rodeo being sponsored by the local Lions Club. Participants from throughout Alabama and surrounding states will be on hand to take out after the champion bass, crappie and striped bass for which hundreds of dollars of prizes will be awarded.

Everything from an outboard motor to the very best in modern fishing tackle will be given to luck contestants during the four days of the Rodeo.

Daily prizes will be awarded for the largest bass, crappie and white lake or striped bass while two grand prizes will be awarded at the close of events on Saturday, April 27.

The outboard motor will be given for the largest game fish caught during the four day contest while a complete casting outfit will be awarded for the largest fish, game or non-game, caught during the same period.

Members of the Wetumpka Lions Club have left no stone unturned in their efforts to make this the outstanding fresh water fishing rodeo in the country. Weigh-in stations have been established at all camps and boat docks on Lake Jordan as well as Ernest Stoddard's Bait Shop and Rodeo Headquarters at Wetumpka. According to Judge Edwin Sanford, Rodeo Chairman, the Lions are making everything as convenient as possible for the participants. "We want the fishermen to take part in this popular event and enjoy themselves," Sanford said, "and since we are blessed with some of the finest fishing in the South, we feel that everyone will have a wonderful time and many of them will take home some mighty valuable prizes."

Sanford stated further that all proceeds from the Rodeo would go to the Lions' Club Sight Conservation Fund.

Since the Rodeo waters will be from the Montgomery County line on the Coosa River to the Chilton County line on Lake Jordan there will be ample opportunities to fish either the fast moving currents below the dam or the slack water impounded above. Heavy populations of bass, crappie, and white lake bass are found in these waters, and since the Rodeo is being held the latter part of April, fishing should be at its best.

CONTEST RULES ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. Any fish entered in the contest must have been caught in waters of the Coosa River basin within Elmore County.
2. No person may enter a fish in the contest unless the person has purchased an entrance ticket prior to catching the fish.
3. The entrance tickets shall be non-transferable and the right is reserved to refuse to sell a ticket to any person or to limit entrance at the will of the Wetumpka Lions Club.
4. No fish may be entered unless caught by the person entering it, with pole, line and baited hook or with artificial bait, within the period of this contest.
5. This contest shall begin at 12.01 a.m. on April 24th, 1957 and end at 8:00 p.m. on April 27th.
6. Any fish entered must be registered at an approved weigh-in station before midnight of the day caught.
7. Approved weigh-in stations are:
   (A.) C. E. Turner Service Station-in Wetumpka at the square.
   (B.) E. W. Stoddard's Bait Shop on Company Street in Wetumpka.
   (C.) Bonner's Camp at the Lake Region Area of Lake Jordan.
   (D.) Blackwell's Camp at Shoals Creek Area on Lake Jordan.
   (E.) Trousdale's Camp near mouth of Shoals Creek on Lake Jordan.
   (F.) Sears Boat Landing at Swayback Bridge on the Sofkahatchee Creek area of Lake Jordan.
   (G.) Stanley's Camp on Southern side of Weoka Creek area of Lake Jordan.
   (H.) Gantt's Landing on Northern side of Weoka Creek area of Lake Jordan.
8. Members of the Wetumpka Lions Club and their wives and children shall not be eligible to enter fish or to win prizes. Neither shall any person be eligible who is an official or administrator of the Rodeo.
9. Prizes shall be awarded for the largest fish properly entered on each day of the contest for the following specie: (a) Black Bass—(exclusive of Saltwater Striped Bass), (b) Crappie or White Perch, (c) White Lake Bass. There shall be a prize for the largest game fish and for the largest fish of any specie, caught during the entire contest.
10. The largest fish shall be construed to be the fish having the greatest weight. In the event of a tie in weight, then the length shall govern and if a tie in length then the girth shall govern. In case of ties in all categories then the fish first entered in the contest shall win.
11. Prizes shall be awarded at the end of the Rodeo and entrants do not need to be present to win a prize.
12. Any person willfully violating any of the rules of the contest shall be disqualified as a participant together with any fish entered by him.
13. The overall committee for the Rodeo shall be the final arbiter or any dispute in connection with the contest and its decision shall be incontestable.
14. All entrants are responsible for having their name and address and the fish's weight, length, girth and time and date caught entered at the weigh-in station.

FARMERS LEAN TO LONG-TERM LOANS FOR SURVIVAL

The reduction of cotton acreage for four successive years makes it necessary for most farmers to make major adjustments and changes in their systems of farming, says G. B. Auburtin of the National Farm Loan Association.

These changes and alterations, include many things from the purchase of additional land, livestock, and farm machinery to establishment of improved pastures, expansion and improvement of dairying and cattle raising, construction of needed buildings, and refinancing of farm debts on a long-time basis.

With restricted acreage of cash crops, low prices for products farmers sell and high prices for commodities farmers buy, it's hard for farmers to make the low income meet the need for large outlays.

Many farmers are considering the advantages of a long-term, low cost loan that will enable them to meet pressing financial needs and bridge them over the present difficult situation in the hope that farm prices and income will improve later, Auburtin said.

A long-term land bank loan would reduce interest costs and lower the amount of annual debt payments and thus give the hard-pressed farmer a chance to meet current obligations and improve his farm operations at the same time, Mr. Auburtin concluded.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Heard a funny conversation over the telephone this morning. The wife was talking to the yard man (Sie Jack on) about working in the yard. She asked him if he could come this week. He said he could, so she asked him what day Sie said, "Well, it won't be any later than Saturday."

Just thinking about "The good old days" that most people claim never happened. Do you remember when you could go hunting and never had to bother about buying a hunting license? Or you could stroll off to the creek or river and fish to your hearts content and you ddin't need to watch for game wardens, for there weren't any. And how about when you learned to drive a car? You didn't know what a driving license was because there weren't any highway patrolmen even. And even the reallly young remember when you could park on the main street of our largest city and just stay as long as you wanted. No officer tagged your car, nor were you told to feed the kitty. Come to think of it, we guess once upon a time, a long time ago, there were "the good old days".

Our new Highway Patrolman's name is Rufus Head. He's here and seems to be on the job all the time. Those who have met him say he is a most likeable fellow and think he will make friends here. We hope so. There's an old saying about that Chilton County sand getting in your shoes you know? Maybe Mr. Head will get some between his toes and make this his permanent home. We hope he likes us.

Now just about the nicest motto we have heard this season is that of the Junior Citizen's Club: "Our aim is to be a part of the answer and not a part of the problem".

We all know that "a man is judged by the company he keeps". Well, if a good man keeps company with a bad man, is the bad man good because he keeps company with the good man or is the good man bad because he keeps company with the bad man?

Lambert Motor Company, our popular Chrysler Dealer, has a line of beautiful Mercuries lined up across the showroom window.

Chilton County Rescue Squad was certainly on the job Sunday afternoon and displayed ability and courage in their getting the body of Horace Taylor who drowned. The Squad asked that we thank telephone operators especially for their cooperation in calling all members of the Squad and notifying them of the tragedy. They will have a meeting Friday night at 7 o'clock at the courthouse and all members are expected to be present as the season when most accidents happen on the river is nearing.

Burton Mullins deserves a bouquet for his work in behalf of Civilian Defense in Chilton County. He is County chairman, you know, and has devoted a lot of time to this important work. It is a work that the average layman knows little about and does not take too seriously—that makes Burt's job much the harder. If the work was taken more serious, he would get much better coperation from the citizens of the County. Anyway, our hat is off to Burton Mullins for his good work in this field.

The two Garden Clubs will be in charge of the food booths at the Fair at the Clanton Airport next week. They are working in cooperation in order to feed the large crowds expected. All monies received will go to the treasury of the Clanton Community Center that has started its drive for funds to construct a Community Center building here. When you go to the Fair next week—go hungry, then visit the Garden Clubs sandwich and cold drink booth.

George Prickett went to save him, but failed to reach him in time and the Chilton County Rescue Squad was called out.

The Squad was notified at 5:30 and was on the job at 6:15, finding the body about 8:00 o'clock Sunday night. The body of Taylor was found by Curtis Collins, a member of the Rescue Squad.

Taylor was a resident of Childersburg, Alabama.

For '57 Season----

Meeting To Be Held At City Park To Re-Group All-Stars

The weather is looking brighter and so are the prospects for this year's Clanton All-Star Baseball Team. According to reports this week, the potential for having a good club in Clanton is unlimited, but there seems to be a lacking of spirit among the players and the fans.

Some theories have it that a manager is the cure for what ails the baseballers.

Assuming that this is the trouble, then leadership is the problem.

It has been stated through these columns that a good sports club of any kind is an asset to any and every community. There are enough who agree with this line of thought to support a team and then some.

A meeting will be held at the Clanton City Park Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. for the purpose of re-organizing the All-Stars for the 1957 season and putting a litle pep into the shoes of participants and fans alike.

During the past two season the All-Stars have played the best teams in Central Alabama including teams from Birmingham, Bessemer, Selma and Montgomery and have a record of 49 wins to 21 losses.

This record is proof enough that Clanton has the makings of a fine ball club. All we need is guidance.

All players including the newcomers and high school prospects are invited to attend this meeting.

Your reporter is B. B. Bates.

Clanton Lions Sell Out Light Bulbs First Week

The Clanton Lions Club has sold out of light bulbs practically before they started.

According to reports the campaign sponsored by the Local Lions to raise funds for worthy projects was a tremendous success.

Earlier this week, Bruce Barze, publicity man for the Lions related to us that "not many people turned us down when we approached them to sell bulbs."

The Lions thank the public for their cooperation on this worthwhile endeavor.

And reports have it that the Club will try to make this an annual or semi-annual event.

Within the Club itself, the winners in the selling contest were: T. J. Lockhart for individual effort and his associate Doc Wilkerson. The team efforts of Charlie Tucker and Raybon Crew were recognized. They sold 35 packs of bulbs in less than two hours. Also recognized for their selling efforts were: Doc Gowan, Jim Fort, Ray Hamilton, Bobby Lane, Chet Miller and others.

From a satisfaction standpoint this project went over well so you folks keep the "lamplight" burning until the Lions come 'round again.

IF PRESENT intensified cooperative efforts keep up their present pace, bovine brucellosis can be reduced to one percent or less throughout the U. S. within the next five years.

RESEARCHERS at Texas A & M have discovered that mesquite trees can be ground up into cattle feed. They claim mesquite makes good feed when mixed with such things as sorghum grain, molasses, cottonseed meal, cottonseed hulls, and silage.

Susan Scott and Patrciia Lewis will accompany them to the altar as bearers of their Holy Communion candles.

On Good Friday the "Tre Ore" or three hours agony of the Crucifixion of our Lord, will be observed from 12 noon to 3 p.m. A Holy Hour will be conducted by Father Wiess, from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.

On Tuesday night, April 30th at 7:00 o'clock at the High School Gymnasium, the third grade students of Mrs. Eunice Mims and Mrs. Elsie Sexton will present a delightful musical program of folk dances.

City Council Asks For General Clean-Up Drive In Clanton

The City Council of Clanton has set aside May 6 through May 18 as a period for a general clean-up, paint-up campaign for the City and surrounding area.

The Mayor says:

"Will you as citizens of our wonderful little City cooperate in making this campaign a success? With the help of every person and every organization we can clean up and keep clean a City that we all will be proud of and be proud to say we live in Clanton, Alabama."

Check all your property for unsightly trash, weeds, excessive growth of grass or any old buildings that are in bad repair or unsightly.

You may paint, repair or remove. Get a good garbage can, or cans, so paper will not scatter over the area and make it unsightly.

The sanitation department requests this so all their time may be utilized into collecting garbage and not half wasted in picking it up.

The garbage truck has a full schedule. When time is lost, rounds are thrown off schedule and patrons wonder why.

During the period of May 6th through 18th an extra garbage truck will be operated so the City can pick-up all that is cleaned-up without delay.

"Will you cooperate? We know you will".

J. Hollis Jackson, mayor

Civitans To Present 2nd Talent Show May 4th

The audition successfully completed the Civitan Club of Clanton is now gathering the loose ends so that the second big Talent Night can be presented on May 4th.

The Show will be held on Saturday night, May 4 at 8:00 o'clock at the New Wadesonian Theatre here in Clanton.

It was reported to us this week that since public opinion seems to be for it and it is logical, that there will be two categories for dentical prizes this time. The categories will be Live Talent and Pantomine. First and second prize to each group. This change is made through the feelings of fairness to all. It is thought that since the talent is so different, then it should be separated.

For any information on the Talent Show contact William Hicks at 601, G. D. Jones at 1113-J, Billy Hayes at 466-W, John Ed Bates at 520 or the Rev. James Jones, who will be Master of Ceremonies for this second show of the season.

The Civitans remind us to remind you that the "Korn Dawg Kings" are back and will be at the Fair next week. Don't miss 'em!

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

It All Depends----

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stay these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."—But the lack of an appropriation does, doesn't it?

Most times a self-made man lacks the finishing touches.

It doesn't take long for inside information to get outside.

Too bad so many people use their tongue as an express agent.

Ninety-nine percent of the time, if we keep our advice to ourself, people will thank us for it.

No living man is as good today as he expects to be tomorrow.

Many a man thinks he's climbing when he is merely welling up.

When two people get wound up, someone is going to get run-down.

Nothing starts so easily as a rumor and nothing is so unreliable.

"Horse And Buggy Mails"----

The U. S. Post Office is a three billion dollar a year business. With half a million people on the payrolls, it is the nation's third largest employer, ranking after the Telephone Company and General Motors.

Through its 40,000 branch offices flows 60 percent of the world's mail—a piece a day for every man, woman and child in the U.S.! But it flows more slowly than it did before World War II, for, although this stream has reached flood proportions, the Post Office "uses the same methods of gathering, sorting and delivering the mail that it did 100 years ago".

This is today's picture of the Government institution that most drectly affects the life of every citizen, that spends two million dollars a day more than it takes in, as presented by Wolfgang Langewiesche in the May issue of Reader's Digest.

Wages, says this article on "Our Horse and Buggy Mails", represent 75 percent of postal costs. To cut ese costs, mechanization must replace the presently asteful "primitive procedures". The Post Office, says Ir. Langewiesche, has ignored the industrial law: "the igger the volume, the lower the costs". But he points ut that "it's a technological law, you're supposed o work with machines—bigger, faster, more efficient machines."

To get in step with industry, even with presently superior European postal service, says the author, will require intensive research. He reminds us that the Post Office is asking four million dollars for that purpose this year and says: "That's chicken feed! Especially when, for lack of research, it spends beyond its income half that much a day!"

The article points out that proportionately, the Telephone Company spends 18 times as much on research, and that, if it had been satisfied with earlier methods, all the females in the U. S. would be unable to handle today's telephone raffic! So perhaps we'd better do something about the Post Office before we have to draft postal workers like soldiers in wartime.

As the article says: "Let's find out what a modern mail system would be like."

Power Of The Press----

For the benefit of those who may doubt the influence of the press in these days when so many media are clamoring for the individual's attention, we recount, modestly, a recent case in point.

The American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, Inc., with offices in Birmingham, received a check for $390 from a place in the far-away State of Washington. After proudly accepting the donation to help carry on the ACS program of education, research and service, Mrs. Lillian G. Meade, executive director of the Alabama division—highly elated, of course—became a little curious. Without wanting to ask too many questions, she simply dropped a note to the donors—a married couple—and intimated politely that she would be interested in knowing how they came to send the contribution to the Alabama Division.

Here is the substance of the answer received by Mrs. Meade: the couple whose home town is Luverne, Alabama, read in their home town weekly newspaper (The Luverne Journal) a feature entitled "Facts about Cancer," a small factual feature prepared and distributed to Alabama papers by the state publicity office of ACS. The item had impressed them . Being strict tithers of their income for religious and charitable purposes, the couple recalled that they had $390 left in their tithing account from 1956, unallocated. Then and there, they determined it should go to the American Cancer Society.

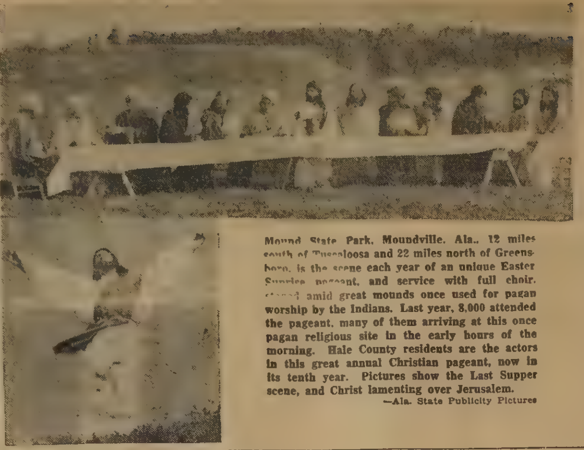
Wanting no personal credit or recognition for themselves, this generous couple asked that their names not be used. The public owes to this public-spirited couple a debt of gratitude for demonstrating once again that the true spirit of humanitarianism is still very much alive in America. People will give generously to a good cause when called upon to do so.

This is also another indication to this newspaper that the press cannot but feel a great sense of humility and responsibility where the lives of our readers are concerned. As little as we think about it, hundreds and thousands and millions of lives are directly affected each day by the things we print, the causes we advocate, and the way in which we make our appeals.

By the way, this is "Cancer Control" month throughout our County, Alabama and the nation.

The annual crusade of the American Cancer Society is now underway—to help save lives by encouraging adults to have a regular physical checkup, and to raise funds for support of the ACS program. If you haven't already given to the 1957 crusade do it now. Mail your gift to the American Cancer Society, in care of your local postmaster.

Easter At Indian Worship Site



Mound State Park, Moundville, Ala., 12 miles south of Tuscaloosa and 22 miles north of Greensboro, is the scene each year of an unique Easter Sunrise pageant, and service with full choir, staged amid great mounds once used for pagan worship by the Indians. Last year, 8,000 attended the pageant, many of them arriving at this once pagan religious site in the early hours of the morning. Hale County residents are the actors in this great annual Christian pageant, now in its tenth year. Pictures show the Last Supper scene, and Christ lamenting over Jerusalem.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

Things We See, Believe; Things We Hear, Consider

A high school friend of ours, Curtis Baker has been pledged to the Theta Chi Fraternity at Birmingham-Southern College. Congratulations to the fraternity on accepting a fella whom we know will do them proud. Naturally we're sorry he didn't pledge the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity because we're sorta partial to them. However, their loss is someone else's gain. We know Curtis will be an asset to the fraternity and the college. Let us hear from you Curt.

By the way, Curt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Baker of Clanton.

The out-of-staters in the accident on the University Highway Sunday afternoon can be grateful to some folks who they don't know, never saw and likely never will. The Alabama Highway Patrol, the Maplesville Police, Chilton County Sheriff's Deputy, Doris Cook and numbers of others, including the Mayor of Clanton were on hand to salvage the people's belongings so that none, or at least as few as possible, would get lost. These men went beyond the call of duty, for they got their feet wet, their uniforms muddy and torn trying to retrieve articles. We'd say they deserve a vote of thanks from these neighbors of the north. We hope they go home with a friendly word for us here in Central Alabama.

We like the cooperating spirit shown by our new Highway Patrolman in Chilton County, Rufus Head. In our opinion he has shown a very sincere wish to get-along and cooperate with us. We sincerely hope he is accepted into the community and treated as one of the crowd. Our first impression is that he's a nice fella.

Many is the time we've thought, and dreamed of pulling up roots and moving to greener pastures, but then—we don't transplant too easily.

A lot of good things can be said for laughter. Ironically, the best thing, we think, is the fact that it's contagious. It's disheartening how some folks are immune to practically everything.

It's a cryin' shame when a bunch of guys elect a man for "Man of the Year" and then have the audacity to make him write himself up for the papers. We don't know what their motives were, but we trapped 'em. It was rewritten for him. They can't say he's modest, bragging, conceited or any of those other adjectives because he didn't write it. No kiddin', we're mighty proud for ole' Bruce Barze, who was chosen "Man of the Year" by the Clanton Lions Club and personally we can't think of a better choice they could have made. Congratulations to him.

Some folks who claim to practice the Golden Rule evidently, from their actions, don't give a hang what others do to them.

And speaking of the Golden Rule; we wonder if the fella with the license number 2-17569 would like for one of us Chilton or Autauga Countians to throw a pop bottle out of our car window the next time we're down in his neck of the woods. A strange wish, but we're completely forgetting the fact that he may not practice the "Rule".

IT'S MY OPINION

By BOB TUCKER

What We Consider The Finer Things!

Well, to us, the first and foremost thing in our life is our family. As far as we're concerned the sun rises and sets on them and we'd be a sad excuse of a man if we didn't have them.

We sometimes wonder if some folks aren't completely blind to the fact that they are blessed with a loving family to protect and provide for.

A family is an incentive, heaven-sent, to inspire a man to do better and improve himself. To work hard for a loving and deserving family is the very heighth of satisfaction. In fact, we consider work a pleasure in the literal sense because we have a cause and we know our efforts are appreciated.

We all think sometimes, how fine it would be, were we foot loose to do as we please. A sure cure for that mood is to come home and have the wife and kids greet you warmly. It makes a guy feel important as nothing else can.

Not important in the sense of being a big shot, but as though you have a purpose in life and are fulfilling it.

If you have a loving and devoted family you'll understand what we mean when we say we sometimes wonder how we come to deserve it. Sometimes we think maybe there's a mistake and we got more than was coming to us. That too, is an incentive to improve ourselves. The fact that the Lord has placed so much faith in us to give us a family to care for and love makes us feel very humble and inadequate.

Nevertheless, we're proud that he did. Mighty proud. And we spend very little of our time wondering why He did it.

Some folks don't seem to share our opinion of a family. To them it's a chore, a burden. It's sad we are for these folks, because they are missing entirely more than half the good in life. To have a family and not know how to appreciate it, is, in our opinion, worse than having no family at all. At least the person who is without a family realizes what a blessing having one is.

We haven't the ability nor the words to describe what having a family is like. We can only thank God for it; and do the best for it we know how, and hope that in some way our efforts meet with His approval.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A measure was passed last week by the House of Representatives that gives the United States Department of Agriculture the authority necessary to eliminate or control the imported fire ant. This bill is simliar to legislation I introduced early last month.

In a statement supporting the House-adopted measure, I emphasized that its passage alone would not eliminate or control the fire ant and that additional legislation as well as the appropriation of funds would undoubtedly be necessary. However, the passage of this bill was a necessary initial step in our efforts to obtain federal assistance to fight this dangerous and destructive insect.

1945 British Loan—

On December 6, 1945 the governments of the United States and the United Kingdom entered into a financial agreement whereby our government loaned to the United Kingdom $3,750,000,000. Repayment of this loan was to be made over a period of 50 years in the amount of $138.4 million annually. These annual payments which began in 1951 were to include both principal and interest. However, provision was made in the 1945 financial agreement for the waiver of interest payments whenever the United Kingdom found itself in serious financial difficulties.

Repayment of the loan began five years ago and Great Britain made all payments on the principal and interest until December 31, 1956. On that date, the British government paid the principal, but made a formal request for a waiver of interest under the terms of the original agreement.

Finding the 1945 "waiver formula" inadequate, the United States was faced with the alternative of extended negotiations over the waiver provisions, with the ultimate possibility that the matter might end up in prolonged legal dispute, or of achieving a new formula agreeable to both countries. The latter alternative was chosen.

Agreement Revised—

Under the terms of the new agreement, the United Kingdom gives up all rights to claim a waiver of interest. In return the United States agrees that Great Britain may postpone but not waive a maximum of seven payments of principal and interest.

Under the 1945 waiver provision, it was theoretically possible for the United Kingdom to qualify for complete forgiveness of interest for each of the remaining 44 years of the original agreement. Had this provision remained in effect, the loss to the United States Treasury could have been in excess of $2 billion.

Last week Congress approved the new agreement that had been negotiated by Treasury Secretary George Humphrey. In doing so, the majority of the members of both the House and Senate felt it would be to the long-term advantage of the United States.

Across The Editor's Desk--

A Dissenting Opinion With Postmaster General

Dear Editor;

When our present Postmaster General took office, he started in with a great ballyhoo about the wastefulness of the Department, and he was going to put it on a paying basis. He raised first class rates, and fourth class rates. He doubled the rates on Postal Cards. Everything that the public at large uses most.

He did not raise the rates on second and third class mail, which is mostly used by big business corporations, and which is causing the deficits.

He curtailed delivery service everywhere. In fact, he has the Postal Service down to the point that it is in the worst condition in the history of the Post Office Department.

He has created a great number of unnecessary regional offices, with his big friends in command, drawing huge salaries of $20,000.00. Is it any wonder the department is running out of money?

The Postal System was originally created as a Public Service, and down through the years has been maintained as such, and it has always been run with service to the public as the first requisite. This is as it should be.

It was never intended as a money-making institution. However, if handeld efficiently, it should about pay its way.

It can never be made to do it under Summerfield's management.

Now, he closes everything on Saturday, the most important day of the week. It is my opinion that no one man, especially one who is merely an appointee, and not even elected by the people, has the right to suspend anything as important to the people as the mail service. The rule has always been, "The U. S. mail must go" and I for one, still think it should.

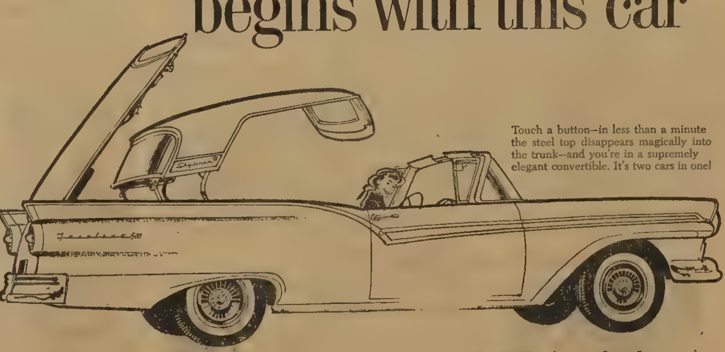
A new age of automobiles begins with this car



Touch a button—in less than a minute the steel top disappears magically into the trunk—and you're in a supremely elegant convertible. It's two cars in one!

The FORD SKYLINER—world's only Hide-Away hardtop

Once in a long, long while a car comes along that people remember and talk about for years after its introduction.

The first model "A" Ford was such a car...
The first Ford V-8 was such a car . . .
The first Ford Thunderbird was such a car.

Today Ford Division is proud to announce still another car that many say is destined to become the most famous Ford of all: The Skyliner—world's only hide-away hardtop.

If you plan to buy a new Ford, or already own one, the fact that Ford created this car is important to you. For all the exhaustive research, planning and testing that went into the Skyliner is evidence of the engineering skill you get in every Ford model.

The Ford SKYLINER, the only all-steel hide-away hardtop, is a car for history.

This is an old dream of Detroit, a dream of two generations of motorists.

And today Ford has made that dream come true—in steel.

But the story behind this dream is a story of men who refused to accept "no" for an answer. In the Ford tradition they kept striving toward the goal long after others had given up the chase.

To understand this Ford spirit you must go back to 1908. That was the year when many Detroiters smiled smugly as Henry Ford announced, "We will build a motor car for the great multitude . . . so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one."

And they did.

Today, nearly a half century later, Ford continues to cause the "experts" to change their tune. When you see this all-steel hardtop that retracts into a convertible, you'll be seeing a car that many said would never be mass-produced.

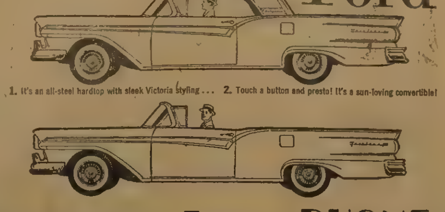
But Ford did it.

It was December 1956—after eight years of research, planning, experimenting and testing—when Ford unveiled this masterpiece . . . unveiled it amid all the pomp and splendor of the New York Automobile Show.

And now this history-making car, this prototype of a whole future generation of cars, is ready for your own personal inspection in the showrooms of many Ford Dealers.

Plan to see it soon. And ask your Dealer to show you the exciting advances in all models of the new Ford line for '57.

It's the newest new kind of Ford



1. It's an all-steel hardtop with sleek Victoria styling . . . 2. Touch a button and presto! It's a sun-loving convertible!

STATE CIVIL AIRPORTS 'TOPS IN NATION'

WASHINGTON EXPERT INFORMS GOV. FOLSOM

Alabama's air-minded Gov. James E. Folsom learned from a Washington expert this week that the State's civil airport construction and development program is "the most uniform . . . in the nation, with the State getting more per dollar value from money spent than any other state."

This endorsement was given by Cyril C. Thompson, Washington, D. C., airport consultant for the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, following a tour of the State with Asa Rountree Jr., State Aeronautics Director.

The Clanton Airport in Chilton County is one of the most newly developed in the State and future development is anticipated.

The Governor, who often travels by air, and who recently learned to handle the controls of a plane, said he agreed with Thompson also when the expert pointed out that in this air age industry is turning increasingly to the use of private aircraft so that business executives can negotiate their business with greater speed.

Gov. Folsom told Rountree, and State Aeronautics Board Member Bill Lyerly, director of the State Dept. of Public Safety, that "first class airport facilities in the State encourages industrial leaders to locate new plants in Alabama."

Half Of Cancer Victims Could Be Saved

Through the years, the American Cancer Society has been shouting through the rooftops, the message of —early detection and prompt diagnosis.— For four decades it has informed us that many cancers are curable if caught in time. And the ACS, in its lifespan, has distributed the list of cancer's danger signals—seven of them—literally in billions.

For its part, the public has been generous in its financial support of the organization. But the fact remains that vastly too many people are dying needlessly of cancer. Last year 80,000 persons lost their lives to cancer because treatment was begun too late. The ACS says that with cooperation we could detect and save half of those who develop cancer today. Get your checkup now. . . while you're feeling good.

New Night Highway Safety Program

SET THE PACE
FOR SAFETY

Congressman Kenneth A. Roberts, of Alabama, Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Highway Safety, places the first of a new type reflectorized decal on the back of a truck to launch a nation-wide trucking industry night time safety program. Many truck operators will be putting similar safety decals on their trucks in advance of the summer Slow Down and Live Safety Campaign sponsored by the governors of the forty-eight states. The night safety project, headed by Goley D. Sontheimer, (right), director of safety of the American Trucking Associations, is the first of a three-part drive of the ATA in conjunction with the governors' program to cut down highway accidents during the summer months.

Local Jehovah's Witnesses Will Attend Confab At Alex City

Arrangements are being made here to attend the semi-annual conference of Jehovah's Witnesses that will be held in Alexander City at the National Guard Armory April 19-21.

The local Congregation will join with 17 other Congregations from east Central Alabama and Columbus, Ga., for the event.

This will be the first time for such a Conference to be held in Alexander City, although similar conferences are held world-wide by Jehovah's Witnesses. All three days of the program will include demonstrations and discussions considering how improvements can be made for the year ahead.

Mr. William E. Robinson, presiding minister of the Clanton group, said yesterday, "the purpose of this conference is to aid each dedicated witness of Jehovah God. Each one is a minister in their own community and attends several hours of meetings each week to receive training which prepares them for ministerial service to others in their assigned territory. Jehovah's witnesses take their ministry seriously. The conference program at Alexander City will therefore include much instructive material intended to supplement the weekly school surriculum in home congregation meetings."

The main feature of the assembly will be the public address on Sunday at 3 p.m. entitled "Removing the Barriers Dividing Mankind."

Mr. Robinson will share on the Saturday night program with songs and experiences. Other members of the local congregation will assist him.

USE INSECTICIDES with caution and stay up-wind from them to avoid inhalation and bodily contact.

Check Up On Bossy—

NEW PROGRAM ENABLES DAIRY FARMERS TO RECORD PRODUCTION

WILL CHILTON COUNTY BE NEXT?

Weigh-A-Day-A-Month is rapidly spreading across the State of Alabama and farmers and dairymen in these parts are wondering just when this new program will be inaugurated into Chilton County. Milk cows in small herds are coming under a merit system. Even Boss, the old family cow, will find it necessary to keep up the milk production pace or turn in her Grade A permit.

Up until just recently only the big herds came under any such system. Their plan was a record keeping one which operates through the Dairy Herd Improvement Association. But now, under the new plan, even the smallest herd can have records showing just how much milk each cow gives and whether or not she is worth keeping on the production line.

This new record plan, called simply Weigh-A-Day-A-Month, can be put into effect on any herd in the State.

In February, four herds in Lee County came under the plan; six in Randolph; two in Marshall and one in Talladega. Other counties in the process of organizing such a program are Pickens, Marion, Calhoun, Baldwin, Lowndes, Perry, Geneva, Lamar, Conecuh, Jefferson, Morgan, Escambia, Hale, Marengo, DeKalb, Pike, Chambers and Shelby.

County Agent, Red Glasscock and his workers are prepared to set up the program. For detailed information see someone at your County Agent's office.

Fees are 60 cents per cow per year.

The plan is just what the name implies. The dairyman weighs and records the milk from each cow on the same day each month. This information is sent to a County employee, either full or part-time. He computes the records and returns them to the farmer—giving him an accurate basis for culling, selection of breeding cows for herd replacements, and a feeding program.

A basic assortment of top-of-the-range cooking utensils should include three saucepans—pint, quart and two-puart sizes; a four-quart kettle; a two-quart double boiler; a six to eight-cup coffee maker; one seven-and-one-half inch skillet; a 10-inch skillet with a heavy cover; and a pressure saucepan.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

HINT O' THE WEEK—A piece of apple in the brown sugar jar will keep the sugar from drying out and getting lumpy.

Measuring cups for dry foods will measure full at the VERY TOP so that excess food can be leveled off, but measuring cups for liquids will have an extension ABOVE the one-cup mark to give a lip for pouring.

Raisins destined for cakes and breads will be plump and juicy if they are first soaked in warm water and then added to the batter or dough.

A coat of transparent shellac (use water-resistant type) will keep cook book covers fresh and new looking. They can be cleaned with a flick of a damp cloth.

A CHECKUP. . . AND A CHECK

Last year cancer took the lives of more than 4,000 children under 15 years old. About half of them died of leukemia. Last year more school children died of cancer than from any other disease. Today there are more than 160,000 American children under 18 who have lost their fathers to cancer. More than 175,000 have lost their mothers.

Remember your checkup this year. And then when you do, remember the check that keeps the American Cancer Society operating to rid us of this killer. Progress is being made. Join in the fight.

JUNIOR CITIZENS CLUB DOES IT AGAIN

RAISE FUNDS FOR CIVIC CENTER

The Junior Citizens Club of the Clanton Elementary School, under the guidance of Mrs. L. C. Warr, has always taken part in, and worked faithfully and enthusiastically on any Community Project. The current Club members have been selling candy and peanuts, putting on playlets and donating their personal allowances, and with the co-operation of all their schoolmates and friends who have bought their wares and attended their shows, these boys and girls have raised $100.00, which they presented to the Clanton Civic Center Fund.

The Junior Citizens Club consists of the 24 members in Mrs. Warr's 1956-57, 5th and 6th grades. The Club meets each Friday at 11 in the classroom. Every nine weeks during the year, each member has either served as an officer or Committee chairman. The Club motto is: "Hard work, Fair play, Faith will win."

This year's motto is "We will be a part of the answer and not a part of the problem".

With these mottos in mind, the following boys and girls have given of their time, talents and money for something they want very much for their community:

Jamey Propst, Colyn Moatts, Charles Patterson, Nona Jean Smith, Burneal Williamson, Rebecca Hayes, Wayne Comer, Patsy Baker, Joe Tillet, Lynda Hamm, Mary Ann Hogue, Lynn Popwell, Marie Parker, Evelyn Windham, Douglas Coe, Calvin Wright, Glenda Faye Baker, Roy Mahan, Claudia Fields, Edith Ann Blanton, Sandra Sewell, Deborah Thompson, Dianne Carter and Margaret Mims.

Now, if they are so willing to sacrifice their Cokes and candy, surely all the adults in the Community will take this as an incentive to work out an "answer" in making this "problem" of having a Community Center a reality.

How about it? Are you as interested as Mrs. Warr's Jr. Citizen's Club.

Let's all work together. If you have any ideas, bring or send them to the Center Chairman, Mr. Callen Alred, Clanton.

This coming week be sure to attend the Fair at the Clanton Airport and help those Clubs with their projects. They are working on the Community Center Fund.

Mrs. R. M. Tucker,
Publicity Chairman

● See how the extra value in Chilean Soda makes an extra good crop of corn. Chilean is a natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

One hundred years of consistently satisfactory experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for side-dressing corn, cotton and other summer crops. It is a rare, natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the supply of available phosphate is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal among nitrogen fertilizers.

The side-dressing effectiveness of any nitrogen fertilizer depends very largely on its content of nitrate nitrogen. The nitrogen content of Chilean Soda is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen and this, together with its rich sodium content and minor elements, accounts for its remarkable efficiency and consistently superior performance in the field.

Sodium adds a great deal of extra value to the product. It destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and calcium when necessary, increases the supply of available phosphate, and helps the plant gain the utmost benefit from the nitrogen. In addition, Chilean Soda contains small amounts of needed minor elements which help to protect against hidden plant-food deficiencies.

If you have any question about your nitrogen side-dressing for corn, we urge you to use Chilean Nitrate, if only in a small way to begin with, so that you can see the difference for yourself. We are confident you'll find it the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used for side-dressing your crops.

Sparkman Says-

Half Of States Men 18-40 Needed If Foreign-Aid Cut

TO DROP FOREIGN AID POLICY WOULD MEAN DRASTIC CHANGES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"At least five out of every 10 male Alabamians between 18 and 40 would be needed to man our armed forces if we dropped our foreign aid program and attempted to provide alone the protection against Communism we have now," Senator John Sparkman cautioned this week.

His warning came in the face of mounting sentiment against foreign aid. "Think twice, and then think again before substantially cutting foreign aid," Sparkman urged. "We will be cutting off our nose to spite our face if we allow our foreign aid program to decrease substantially."

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, pointed out that the nation's defense budget for fiscal 1958 will be about $40 billion. He said this money would provide a defense force of about 20 army division's, 1000 navy vessels, and 125 air wings.

"The striking thing about our foreign aid program is that for an extra $4 billion, or one-tenth of what we spend to support our own armed forces, we get the equivalent of an extra 200 army divisions, 2000 naval vessels, and 125 air wings," Sparkman said.

"If we tried to build a defense force of this size on our own, we would have to draft an army 11 times larger than the one we now have; a navy, three times as big; and an air force twice as big."

Sparkman termed the dollar and manpower requirements of such a defense "overwhelming." He explained that it would cost not $40 billion, but almost $111 billion yearly, and that it would require over 50 percent of all males between 18 and 40.

"Instead of maintaining such a large force at such a prohibitive cost we have formed a series of defense partnerships with our partners putting up men, money, material and equipment" Sparkman observed. "These partnerships are giving us the use of air and naval bases at strategic sites around the world. Thus, foreign aid provides this nation with the greatest amount of national defense at the least possible cost."

Sparkman said foreign aid money is used as follows: 53 percent for weapons; 31 percent for direct economic aid; and 16 percent for U. N. programs, primarily economic in nature.

Laughter: Everyone's Dose Of Medicine

Laughter is a tonic, and great good is accomplished with it. Not only does laughter suggest happiness but it evokes good will. It creates conviviality and promotes friendship. It is a stimulus to exercise for it puts into play many muscles that are ordinarily not active. Laughter reduces nerve tension and contributes to relaxation of the mind and body. It stimulates circulation.

There are different types of laughter which shoud be avoided.

The derisive laugh, usually an expression of contempt, does not convey happiness. It suggests unpleasantness in the nature of the person who produces it and creates unhappiness in the listener.

Then there is the hysterical laugh. This is so unpleasant that again the listener has no desire to imitate. This is also true of the "giggle."

Some people do not laugh readily, while some only smile or emit a soft chuckle. But the happiness is revealed in the expression. And happiness is so essential in our lives.

Happy laughter is a joy to hear. It is mirth provoking and conducive to cheerfulness. With the stress and strain of modern living and the keyed up pitch of competition, our spirits become burdened. This is when we can try laughing. Try it in the home and office. Try it on your way to work. And try it when you're alone.

Keep your disposition blithe and gay so that when the occasion presents itself you can laugh happily. You'll help yourself and inspire happiness in those about you. And remember if you're the type that doesn't laugh easily, smile instead. A warm [illegible] and sincere smile [illegible] the same effect. Remember too that good health and happiness go together. So when you can, try laughing.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Be sure to be down at Shelton Truck and Tractor Company on Saturday, April 27th. It is the formal opening of their new home. Everybody registers for free prizes and free balloons will be furnished the kids. Russ Shelton's new building is located on U. S. 31 just south o fM. C. Bartha Lumber Company and Russ invites you to be his guest on aSturday.

The Jaycees of Clanton are sponsoring a Street Fair at the airport this week. Lots of fun, rides, games, and best of all corn dogs, hot dogs, cold drinks and sandwiches by the various clubs about town. Go out and live a little. Oh yeah, and don't forget to go by the Clanton Community Center booth and give one of the pretty girls a contribution to our new Community Center. A sketch of the building is on display there.

The driver's licnese examiner was taking a test ride with an applicant. A woman driving the car ahead put her hand out the window. "See that?" asked the examiner. "What does that mean?" "Only one thing for sure," said the applicant. "The window's open."

The electricians have been working on the traffic lights around town. The traffic light at the Willingham Hotel will be replaced by a blinker and that light will be moved to the Enterprise Road intersection. Mayor J. Hollis Jackson said the motoring public will be inconvenienced a few days this week, but when the work is finished our traffic light troubles will be over for a while. A light will be placed at the corner where 3rd Ave. and 5th Street intersect. That is where Dr. Charles Moore and Jim Wade live, for you city slickers who don't know the streets, which incidentally includes the writer. But anyway, the City Council is getting the traffic lights straightened out and it has been needed for a long time. We're glad.

Just thought you'd like to know: One of the most absent-minded men was aPinleve, three times premier of France. It is said that he would take a taxi home when his own car was waiting for him. When the taxi driver asked for his address he often gave his telephone number. Once, expecting a friend, he pinned a note on his door: "Painleve will return in 15 minutes." On returning he saw his own note and sat down on the step and waited for himself.

They say a fool and his honey are soon parted, but not Little Jack Mims. A swarm of bees came to his house to stay, it loks like. They swarmed around teh chimney in the attic and woe be unto the person who tries to move them. Bet old Jack is spending some restless nights these nights.

Guess you heard about the girl who was very much opposed to strong drink who was thinking of getting married. She asked her husband-to-be: "Darling, do you drink anything?" "Yes sweetheart," he answered, "anything!"

By Jemison Firm----

County jail to be repaired

By Vernon P. Payne

In Monday's oBard of Revenue & Control meeting steps were taken by two of the members to begin a repairing job on the Chilton County jail in Clanton. A resolution accepting bid from a Jemison firm was passed by the "yes" vote of two members, Cost and Hilyer, against Smith's vote of "no". Sherman Motley, fourth member of the Board declined his vote.

Much preliminary discussion was made on the matter before Cost entered the resolution. The bids on this project were opened at the March 25th meeting of the Board and were deferred since the Board was, at that time, planning immediate action toward building a new courthouse which would contain a jail.

The lowest of the three bids received by the Board on April 8th was the one accepted this week. This bid, offered by the Norwood Plumbing and Heating Co. was for a total of $3100.00

County Makes Appropriation For Civil Defense Corps

All members voted unanimously to appropriate $500 to the Chilton County Civil Defense Corps for the continued organizing of Civil Defense Units in the County. This sum matches an earlier appropriation made by the City of Clanton.

Sheriff Names Two Deputies—

Hugh Champion, newly appointed Sheriff of Chilton County, asked that the Board appoint as his deputies L. D. Cook and Floyd Lee Porter. The appointment of these two men was unanimously passed.

As yet, a Chief Deputy has not been named by Champion.

County Due For State Appropriation Soon—

County Engineer Lewis advised the oBard that Chilton County will be granted a new appropriation by the State of Alabama on July 1st. This sum, ear-marked for road work, should be in the excess of a minimum of $37,000.

Members of the Board voted unanimously to use the money for paving the Liberty Hill Road which had been set up earlier on the FAS paving system.

Also brought to the attention of the Board by the Engineer was the fact that the new Federal Highway to pass cast of Clanton will dead end several County Roads since they cannot be connected with this new super-highway. It was agreed that these roads would be connected by loops and roads parallel to the new highway. This project will be undertaken at Federal and State expense.

Trucks and Car Bought on Low Bid—

At 11:00 a.m. the Clerk opened bids submitted to the County in regards to the purchase of four (4) new trucks and one (1) 4-door automobile. Clanton Motors, Hayes Chevrolet Co., and Troy Maddox Motors submitted the only bids.

Low bidder on both invitations was Clanton Motors, Inc. and their bids were accepted.

Harold Smith moved that the purchase be made on low bid and Lonnie Cost seconded his motion.

Swedish Writer Seeks Local Geographic Data

The Chilton County News
Clanton, Alabama

Gentlemen:

Attached is a copy of a letter received from a Mr. Landelius in Sweden. We wonder if you would like to publish the letter and request that any local persons having the information (desired in it) contact Mr. Landelius.

Yours very truly,

To:
The County Engineer
Chilton County, Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sir:

Since some time I am engaged in writing an historical guide (Gazateer) on places in the United States whose names are of Swedish origin.

From the authorities of several counties in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Washington, California and some other States I have received county maps which proved to be of very good help to my undertaking as they offered quite a lot more local names (of villages, streams, lakes, etc.) and also more exact position of localities than do the ordinary State road maps.

I therefore should be most obliged to you if you kindly would send me such a county map also of Chilton County in Alabama, where the region of Thorsby (named for Torsby in the province of Varmland, Sweden) is of special interest to me.

It will perhaps be possible to trace Swedish Board of Place - Names of Swedish origin on the county map.

My manuscript has in its present state, been examined by the Royal Swedish oBard of Place - Names (Kungl. Ortnamnskommissionen) in Upsala, Sweden, and has by this board also been recommended for publishing.

Additional reference: Professor E. Gustav Johnson, Swedish Pioneer Historical Society, 3225 Foster Avenue, Chicago 25, Ill.

Thanking you on beforehand for your most kind assistance, I should be very glad if I can be of service to you in return.

Very truly yours
-s- OTTO ROB.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

THE only way to beat the other fellow at his own game is not to play it.

MOST people find it much easier to agree with others than it is to convince them.

JUSTICE to some people is in getting what they want—not in getting what they justly deserve.

A thought people should keep stored away in the back of their heads is that money is not wealth.

THE man who is afraid to look his faults squarely in the face has no chance of getting rid of them.

THERE is as much difference between information and gossip as there is between day and night.

Easter Parade----

THE weatherman cooperated this year, although half-heartedly, in giving the ladies an opportunity to show their new Easter finery. The day was half-sunshine and half-showers, but as usual it daunted not the Easter Parade—they were out in all their glory. And regardless of reports to the contrary there are no prettier ladies in any Easter Parade than those from Chilton County. Not boasting man, just facts.

Graduation Coming----

THE time rolls around once again for graduation time. That is the biggest day of the year for all children, maybe with the exception of the high school graduate. To most of those it is a sad time and on that day many tear-dimmed eyes will be noticed among the graduates.

But the words "Commencement Exercises" is very appropriate. It is a time when they are stepping out into a new life, a new world, and a new career. Immediately after the exercises the members scatter to the four corners of the world and commence their life's work, whether it be study, travel, work, or pleasure, as a rule many, many years pass before old acquaintances are seen again. Each is engrossed in his own destiny, and his or her own world.

But no matter how you look at it, it is an adventure. For the pre-shool child he is starting on his first adventure into learning. For the child going to Junior High School it is another adventure and for the high school grad still another adventure. Within four years for most, vet another adventure will start — that into manhood and womanhood; a life of their own. That s the greatest adventure until death.

So congratulations graduates—it's graduation time again.

Fantasy And Fact----

Medical Education Week — April 21-27

A "week" of more than ordinary importance will be celebrated during the April 21-27 period. It is Medical Education Week, and the sponsorship includes the American Medical Association, the Association of American Medical Colleges, the National Fund for Medical Education, and other such organizations. The "week's" general purpose is to develop public understanding of the aims, problems and progress of medical education.

In this connection, a leaflet published by the AMA, entitled "What's Up With Our Medical Schools?" provides a mine of information—and also clears up some more or less common misconceptions. The booklet takes seven myths which have to do with the state of medical education, then counters them with the actual facts.

MYTH 1: Medical school graduates are not keeping pace with the population growth. FACT: While our general population increased 80 per cent during the 1910-1955 era, the supply of doctors increased 120 per cent. The number of doctors increased 120 per cent. The number of doctors in this country is at a record ration of one to every 730 persons, a proportion exceeded only by Israel, which has an abnormal number of refugee physicians.

MYTH 2: Medical schools try to keep their enrollments as low as possible. FACT: In less than 50 years medical school enrollments rose more than 128 per cent. New records in the size of enrollments and graduating classes are constantly being made.

MYTH 3: Medical schools refuse admission to a vast number of applicants. FACT: In a recent year more than half of all applicants were accepted. More and more, medical schools are competing with each other for the better-qualified applicants.

MYTH 4: Only "A" students are admitted to medical schools. FACT: In a recent year, only 17 per cent of the students had "A" averages in their premedical work, as against 69 per cent with "B" averages and 14 per cent with "C". Most medical schools give important consideration to character, personality, leadership, and other non-scholastic factors when selecting applicants.

MYTH 5: Medical schools fail to grow with the times. FACT: The number of approved schools in this country increased from 66 in 1910 to 81 in 1955, and a number of new schools are now being developed. At the same time, large numbers of sub-standard schools and "diploma mills" have been closed. Such schools were a scandal years ago.

MYTH 6: The AMA attempts to restrict the number of physicians. FACT: The AMA has neither the authority nor desire to control the size of the enrollment or the number of graduates. It may recommend a ceiling on enrollment only when it appears overcrowding of facilities may endanger the quality of instruction.

MYTH 7: Medical schools are hard pressed for operating funds and only the federal government can meet their needs. FACT: Medical schools do need more income. The profession welcomes one-time federal grants to the schools for worthy purposes. But it opposes continuing federal aid lest the government seek to control that which it finances. Medical educators are confident that increased private funds will be made available to schools once their needs become more widely known.

IT'S MY OPINION

By BOB TUCKER

A Good Thing... Don't Let's Kill It!

After a few weeks of casual observation, we have come to the definite opinion that the Drag Track that has been organized and built up here by interested parties is a useful and could prove to be an important part of our community.

It has been proven in other communities that these tracks prove very effective when it comes to the younger set letting off steam. It tends to relieve their tensions and gives them an opportunity to "take their chances" (which are inevitable) in such a way that it doesn't endanger anyone else.

The new Drag Track here in Clanton has met with strong approval by the youngsters and we think, it has the support of quite a number of influential citizens who are not so young (except in spirit). It seems to be going even beyond the expectations of the organizers first dreams.

The "track," in efforts to pay its way and to improve its facilities, has started charging a small(and we think fair) admission to its events. We definitely approve of this measure providing the authorities of the track (and we assume they will have some sort of governing body) are responsible with the funds raised. An organization of any kind must have a source of revenue to continue to serve the public.

Geographically, the track has a strike against it from the start. It is located too near the main highway.

Wherever you find people, for some reason, you find a certain amount of that old "that's my good luck" attitude. Though the percentage is sometimes small there is still an influence.

And we might add, it's a bad influence. Some people are parking outside the grounds, while others are paying to get in. Personally, we don't feel it's their "good luck" because they are deliberately making it harder for the folks in charge of the track to make ends meet.

It is unfair to themselves, but is moreso to those who pay to get in and to those who would keep the Track going.

We don't feel that taking advantage of something that was originated for your benefit is in the least bit "smart". If you like the sport and take advantage of it, who do you think is going to pay in the end?

It's people like this that kill a thing while it's still struggling in infancy. we don't appreciate their short-sightedness. We that if they are interested enough to come to see the event then they should be interested enough to pay their way.

We say again, you're cutting off your nose to spite your face. You can't expect a loyal few to carry the entire load. We think the Drag Strip will pay off in more ways than one, handled properly, and a little cooperation from you, John Q. will certainly help them on their way to getting on their feet.

The strange part of all this is, if the Strip failed to materialize, the very ones who took advantage of it would make the most noise. We don't understand them, but we wish they'd understand this:

The accepted saying that what you put into a thing is just about what you get in return, has its merit. We'd advise those parties who think they can get something for nothing to bear this in mind the next time they're obliged to watch the "Drag Races" in Clanton.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Before adjourning last week for a ten-day Easter recess, the House of Representatives made a further rduction of $101,850,000 in the President's 1958 budget request. This latest reduction was made in funds for the Departments of State and Justice and the United States Information Agency. More than one billion dollars has been cut from the eight appropriation bills considered to date by the House of Representatives. The Senate has yet to act on any of these measures.

Committee Study—

One of the most important tasks assigned the House Foreign Affairs Committee each year is the authorization of funds for the Mutual Security (foreign aid) Program. This year the President has recommended for that program a total of $4.4 billion. I am one among several on the committee who feel that this sum can be reduced substantially. In order to secure first-hand information on the current operations of the Mutual Security Program in Europe, the Subcommittee on Europe of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, of which I am a member, is scheduled to spend the Easter recess in that area in an effort to determine if and where our assistance programs can be safely curtailed.

Other important matters will also be looked into during the subcommittee's European mission. Included will be the question of a coordinated effort with the members of NATO and with other European countries to strengthen the fight for and maintenance of freedom, independence, and stability in the European area.

The subcommittee expects to spend several days in Austria in an effort to secure information in connection with the Hungarian refugee program. Committee members have been concerned for several months over reports relating to the screening of Hungarian escapees who were brought to the United States, and we expect to furnish the full committee with a detailed report on that subject.

Itinerary—

The chairman of the European Subcommittee announced the proposed study mission in February and, since that time, we have held a series of preliminary hearings here in Washington. In addition, we have conferred at United Nations headquarters with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and with other United States representatives to the U. N.

In Europe, the subcommittee members will meet with American officials in France, Austria, Germany, and England, as well as with government representatives and other citizens of those countries.

Report on Study—

After our return, we will present to the full committee a report that will be published and made available to the public. In the meantime, I shall give an account through this column of the subcommittee's activities while it is in Europe. My first report will probably be sent from Vienna and will appear in next week' edition oi this paper.

This Season—

Suggestions For Money-Making Vegetable Crops

WHAT TO PLANT FOR BETTER PRICES

Best money-making bets in the vegetable line this summer and fall in Alabama will be eggplant, green peppers, sweetpotatoes and early and late sweet corn.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported this week, a recommendation for increased production of these vegetables to meet expected market demands. This recommendation calls for a 20 percent increase in eggplant acreage, 10 percent increase in green peppers, and five percent increase in sweetpotatoes and sweet corn.

The USDA also suggests that plantings remain at last year's level on lima beans, snap beans, fall cabbage, cucumbers, late tomatoes, cantaloupes, and late watermelons. The recommendation calls for reduced total acreage, however, including a three percent cut in fresh summer vegetables, five percent for fresh fall vgetables, four percent for summer melons, and eight percent for vegetables to be commercially processed.

One Citizen's Opinion

By H. Calby Smith

We hear that Congress has the appropriation bill for funds for the monthly pension to the aged tied up with other funds in a bill that may not become law.

It is a shame on sensible men in our lawmaking groups that funds for such purposes that are already a matter of law, get mixed with appropriations for unapproved expenditures.

This kind of politics is bad enough when it affects the bread and butter of our civil service employees and military personnel. It is intolerable when it affects our oldsters who depend on their small monthly check for a living. It is the wish of this writer that one of these days we will get around to taking proper care of aged people without strings attached. The cost of doing this properly would not amount to a decimal point of the money that we pay out to foreigners.

We understand that in order to bring an industry to a local town, the citizens must provide the acreage and build the plant. People are asked to buy this stock as an investment.

If the above is true, this is a high price to pay. It is our opinion that Chilton County can get suitable industry for less cost.

Further, there are many types of industry that our people would not want because they never brought prosprity to any town. A highly competitive industry based on piece work in competition with faster people of colder climates is, not in our opinion, suitable industry for this County. Clanton, located in beautiful mountain foothills, less than sixty miles from one of the world's greatest coal and iron deposits, nearly 700 feet above sea level, adjacent to abundant water power, served by one of the South's best railway systems, a stone's throw from a river water project that will provide water transportation to the ports of the world, an area that is one of the major fruit and berry centers of the U.S., a scenic wonderland in spring and fall with peach blooms that rivals the Cherry trees of our Capital, a land of abundant forest cover for wild game and streams and lakes for fishing, populated with intelligent, hard working people that have a background of initiative and know-how common to small town and rural areas, should get the industry it needs and desires on its own terms.

Speaking of future development, this Coosa River project that would open this stream to navigation from Georgia to the Gulf is one of the most exciting projects of our time. Think of being able to get into your own boat and cruise down to the gulf, and who knows where from there. For those who are not keen about the water, there are the famed river showboats, and the commercial steamships that could influence vast economic progress for this area.

The press has had considerable comment of late regarding our representation in the foreign countries of the world. The vice-president of the United States, during a tour of several countries, commented on this subject. In thirty years of travel, we have constantly wondered just what the impression our aristocratic officials, unconcerned military officers, bragadocio service men, and last but not least, our vain and pompous tourists with money to burn in lands of poverty, create with peoples of foreign lands. It is our opinion that the career service of the State Department should be opened to competitive examination and that political appointments for the scions of influential families and graduates of colleges renowned for their vain alumni eliminated. Our military personnel now realize the importance of making friends for the United States and our tourists should be thoroughly indoctrinated before receiving a passport.

The United Nations is the hope of mankind today. Slowly it is becoming less potent and may lapse into obscurity like the League of Nations of yesterday. Little "Ceasars" and "Hitlers" are playing this great organization for a sucker. The thing we want to emphasize is that the world cannot have another all-out war under present circumstances. The known power of destruction today is so awful that an all-out war could literally destroy the world.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR OVERCOMES FEAR

What is a single eye?—I mean in the way that Jesus meant when he said, "If the eye be single, the whole body is full of light." Simply this—you can't practice fear and faith at the same time. When you try it, the whole body becomes immeshed in a violent conflict. Fear is unnatural. "Fear hath torment," the Bible tells us. As God originally created us, man's eye was single—he had only faith. Therefore, he should stand up and shout, "I believe!"

But for thousands of years man has lived negatively. "Thou-shalt-not" has become his password and byword. This is what would give rise to the fifth president, Mr. James Madison's article:

"Honesty has fled from the world, Sincerity has fallen asleep . . . Conscience is locked in a closet and Chastity has eloped."

This is a valid picture of humanity. We fear life, we fear each other, we fear God. But Scripture says that "God hath not given us the spirit of fear." Jesus said, "Fear not. Only believe."

Jesus cures many bodily afflictions, but he is more concerned that we develop new attitudes, he wishes to create within us a new outlook on life—one of faith instead of fear.

Dr. G. Canby Robinson said that 80 per cent of the patients at Johns Hopkins' suffer from disorders that are in part due to emotional causes. Asthma, high blood pressure, headaches, functional heart trouble, stomach ulcers, arthritis, and numerous other diseases often arise out of emotional tension.

Man is just now learning that his greatest health springs from within himself, that as he returns to God and practices faith instead of fear, a very large part of his diseases is cured almost instantly.

The attitude that makes healing possible is to receive by faith God's power. Your faith will make you healthy in mind, soul, and body.

A high school senior, Miss M. B. of Stony Point, North Carolina, wrote this letter:

"I don't know whether you would call it sickness or not. A terrible fear covered my entire being. This started in the summer of 1952 and returned every summer for 3 years.

"I would get very weak and full of terror and I cried most of the time. But in the summer of '54, my pastor and his wife saw your magazine in my home and read the sermon 'Deliverance from Fear' to me. Then they knelt and prayed and I believed God was healing me and he did heal me.

"It was like stepping out of prison and beginning life all over again."

I'd like to tell you that this young lady is a successful song writer now and life is wonderful for her. You, too, can be delivered from fear. Only believe!

Mrs. Heflin made her listeners enjoy every detail of her tour abroad. She showed some interesting color slides of famous places.

At the brief business session which followed the program, Miss Louise Foshee was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Jessie Ekblad who has found it necessary to resign as president. At the conclusion of the meeting Miss Foshee presented Mrs. Georgia Billingsley with a handsome silver bon bon dish as a friendship token on the part of Delta Kappa Gamma members. Helpful Hints For Housewives

HINT O' THE WEEK—Prevent the corrosion of metal salt shaker tops by covering the inside of the top with melted paraffin. Before it has a chance to set, open the holes by punching them out with a pin or toothpick

Closets, attics, and cellars are where the majority of home fires start. Thus, good housekeeping is not only one of the best ways to prevent fires but also to curb its spread.

An Essay--

A Grown-Up World's Problem Through The Eyes of Our Youth

By Karen Black

(Ed. Note: The following article was the winning paper in an essay contest at the Jemison High School recently. The subject of the paper is one of vital interest to us all. Read it and get some idea of the potential of our youth.)

WHY STUDY SCIENCE?

There is an alarming shortage of scientists and engineers to work on our atomic energy program. Our national defense depends on trained men and women in many fields of science. We in the United States, are not producing trained men and women as fast as we need them, while Russia is training more than her needed quota.

Our government is finding it hard to secure enough scientists and engineers to work in the United States, and many times must use inexperienced men and women to furnish technical assistance to foreign countries. This is one cause of the great waste of money in our foreign aid program.

Now, more than at any time in our past, we depend on scientific research and development to make the most of our natural resources. Only in America does the food supply more than meet the demand. Biologists continually study and work on problems of farm production and control of insects. The engineers find better machinery to cultivate the land and harvest the crops. Our irrigation system is a product of scientists and engineers. Our coal and oil production depends on our scientists in fields of mining and chemical engineering. Physics, electricity, in fact, almost every part of scientific knowledge is used in making our life easier and more enjoyable.

Where could you do the most? At the drawing board where the plans for the building, the bridge, or the [illegible] takes form; or in the labo[illegible] [illegible]king to help medical advance[illegible].

There is no end to the great opportunities. There will always be new fields to explore, new facts to collect, and new services to render.

Maybe you do not want to be an engineer or geologist and the work of Dr. Jonas Salk and Madame Curie does not seem to be your calling; you haven't the patience to spend years working on formulas to produce a product such as nylon. Then you should study science to simply improve and discipline your mind and to learn more of the world around you.

We must not forget other fields of science such as art, music, languages, and the science of history. We may be tops in the field of physics, chemistry, and other scientific subjects and not be able to express our thoughts to our friends and co-workers.

Many business executives in large businesses have been required to return to school and study classics and sociology in order to be better executives and understand how to get along with fellow employees. The scientific field is a field of teamwork. One must know how to communicate with others.

You might thing that the invention stage is over and there isn't anything left to do in the inventor's world but to sit back and enjoy the things that have already been invented. This idea is far from the truth. Just a few days ago, I learned that a new method for easing the pain of cancer has been perfected. It lasts from three to six months, not from three to six hours like former methods. On the same day, news was disclosed about the production of a drug which may be able to protect people from the effects of atomic radiation. Advancements such as these show how understanding science benefits everyone.

Surely people are seeing the need for more scientists. Why aren't more people studying science?

Well, Read Admiral H. G. Rickover, a brilliant engineer-scientist, has an answer to this problem. He says that we are wasting our greatest natural resource in failing to provide the necessary education to the youth of the United States.

We, the Youth of America, are much to blame. Many have taken the easy courses in school, very little math, and no chemistry or physics. The lack of ambition of young people and the desire to "get by" has not helped in getting a well-rounded education.

We cannot always leave up to others, the task of solving our problems; therefore, we should all begin thinking of the future and how we can help ourselves and the people around us. Remember, the understanding of sicence can help us to help ourselves. We should take advantage of this assistance

Imporant Things You Should Know About Your Soil Bank Program

FARMERS CAUTIONED ON SOIL BANK COMPLIANCE

Farmers who have included cropland under the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve program for cotton should remember that they must comply with all requirements of the program in order to qualify for the cotton payments, Eddie L. Owen, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said this week.

"A program provision which farmers are likely to overlook is the one which requires that a farmer comply with all acreage allotments established for his farm if he wants to earn any kind of a Soil Bank payment," the chairman explained.

"This means, for instance, that a farmer who expects to earn payments under the Wheat Acreage Reserve program must also comply with the corn allotment for his farm if there is one. Farmers should not overlook the fact that they must also comply with acreage allotments for other 1957 crops to be planted this spring in order to receive a wheat Acreage Reserve payment."

Where a farmer willingly and knowingly harvests or grazes designated Acreage Reserve land, the payment is forfeited and in addition he is subject to a civil penalty of 50 percent of the payment which would have been made for compliance. If the payment has been made when the violation occurs, the amount of the payment must be refunded.

Farmers who take part in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank must also comply with all acreage allotments for their farms in order to qualify for the Conservation Reserve payments.

ACREAGE RESERVE AGREEMENTS BINDING

A Soil Bank Acreage Reserve agreement is a legal contract between the farmer who signed it and the U. S. Government, farmers are reminded.

Under the agreements, both parties obligate themselves to carry out specific provision of the program. The agreements to place land in the 1957 Acreage Reserve are in effect from March 1, 1957 through December 31, 1957.

Regulations under which the program is operated make no provision for revision or cancellation of the Acreage Reserve agreements after the close of signup for the crop covered by the agreement, the Chairman explained. The closing date for signing Acreage Reserve agreements for cotton was March 1, 1957. During the signup period, however, farmers were permitted to cancel agreements or to substitute new agreements for those previously signed.

Compliance with his Acreage Reserve agreement will detrmine whethr or not a farmer will receive his full payment, according to Mr. Owen. Each farmer who signed an agreement agreed to comply with all acreage allotments established for his farm. And he also agreed not to graze or harvest a crop from the land designated for the Acreage Rseerve.

Violation of either of these provisions will disqualify the farmer for the payment he might otherwise have earned. Furthermore, grazing or harvesting a crop from the designated Acreage Reserve land makes the farmer subject to a civil penalty equal to one-half the payment he would have earned by qualifying for the full payment.

SPANISH EXPLORERS

PICTURESQUE Covington, one of Alabama's oldest and most historic counties, was visited by Ponce DeLeon, DeSoto and other Spanish explorers. Burial mounds indicate the existence of early Spanish settlements. Created in 1821, Covington was named in honor of Brig. Gen. Leonard Wailes Covington, a hero of the War of 1812.

Today agriculture and industry are making outstanding economic history. Peanuts, cotton, corn and livestock give a varied agricultural income, while textile, lumber and peanut processing plants add substantial industrial payrolls.

In Covington and other Alabama Counties, the U. S. Brewers Foundation works constantly to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interests of the people of Alabama, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing "self-regulation" program.

Anglers Making Good Catches On Coosa Lakes

By R. L. (Dick) Scott

Spring fishing is good on Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes in spite of heavy April showers and much stained waters. Bass, crappie and bluegills are being taken in large numbers with artificial lures and live bait. The clearing tributaries offer the best fishing.

Wetumpka Lions Club is squaring off for an exciting fishing rodeo in Lake Jordan and the Coosa River in Elmore County. There will be prizes, from an outboard motor to a TV lamp, for the best bass, stripe or crappie entry during the rodeo period. Weighing-in stations will be at practically all fishing camps in the area. The contest starts Wednesday, April 24th, and ends at 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 27th. Entrance tickets are now on sale at two dollars each. Everyone is cordially invited to vie for the prizes.

It's about time for those huge salt water stripes to make their annual visit to Wetumpka, and they are eligible subjects for prizes too.

Write Lion Ed Sanford, Wetumpka, Alabama for full details and reservations.

By the way, all catches made above Jordan Dam, or Lake Jordan, are eligible for prizes of the Alabama Power Company fishing contest, now in full swing. Your catch may be a double prize winner.

Last weeks flood put the damper on contest entries for the week. However, several nice strings were reported and the following entries were made:

LAKE JORDAN

Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoals Creek, near Holtville, reports: Gordan Chesser, Montgomery, creeled a fine string of large crappie weighing up to 1 pound 9 ounces each. A flip pole baited with live minnows on Shoals Creek was the catching combination used.

N. W. Easterling, Montgomery, used a similar rig to boat his string weighing up to 2 pounds each.

LAKE MARTIN

H. E. Dopson's Store, Red Hill Community, reports, W. S. Ingram, Tallassee, used a spinning rig with a 5 pound test line baited with a yellow "Bama" spinning lure to snag largemouth bass weighing up to 5 pounds 12 ounces.

If you haven't been this season, now is the time to break out the old tackle and give it a try. A good wholesome day in the sun might be just what you need to brush away the cobwebs.

CHIEF ALAPOGO SAYS: The signs immediately above and below all dams say in bold block letters "DANGEROUS WATERS". The signs are absolutely right, too. At these points there is a strong deceptive current flowing over and past the dams. Turn back, do not approach these areas. The safe way is to be aware of danger at dams and be conscious of them at all times.

Last Sunday was the last Sunday of the six weeks contest we were running. The one that brought the most to church during this time was to win a flash bulb camera and we want to congratulate Sarah Spigner as the winner.

We appreciate such excellent work for the church as Sarah did, and we wish that more people would work for the church.

Mrs. Clarence Spigner is still in the hospital, but she is doing better.

The pastor is bringing some wonderful messages every Sunday night and morning and on Saturday night. You are cordially invited to come.

Telephone Talk

By

OLIVER W. NORTON

Your Telephone Manager

I ran across an old friend the other day and he was wondering what to give his Mother on Mother's Day that would be really unusual and useful. I suggested an additional telephone in color. It's such a thoughtful gift, one that will save Mother a lot of steps and time. Why don't you call Mrs. Parson or Mrs. Salter right now at 9000 and let them arrange to have a phone in Mother's favorite color installed when and where you say. By the way, if You are unable to be with Mother on her day, why not surprise her with a telephone call.

Have you ever stopped to think that since the invention of the telephone, an industry has developed which has changed the whole pattern of our daily living. For thousands here in Clanton and Chilton County, the telephone has become an indispensable tool of living. It takes you to the stores, the doctor's office, it's used in the hour-to-hour conduct of your business, it brings friends to your side, makes life easier and more pleasant all around. Years ago, folks saw the phone as a modern miracle, today you take its faithful service for granted and we want you to. Tomorrow you'll see many new developments that will make your friend, the telephone, more than ever a part of better living.

Last month a group of telephone employees organized the Bell Teletalkers Club for the purpose of providing speakers and programs to civic and church organizations and school groups. For an appearance before your group, please contact our business office at telephone number 9000.

Better Speech Club Makes Annual Tour To Moundville

Ed. Note: Annually the Better Speech Club of the Clanton Grammar School makes a trip to Mound State Park, near Tuscaloosa. The following is a student report of this year's excursion.

What an unusual Spring outing members of the Better Speech Club indulged in.

We had been dreaming of this experience all the year, for Mrs. Thomas' class always makes such a trip. Many items of interest in connection with this trip came up constantly in social studies.

Yes, we visited Mound State Park and Alabama's Museum of Natural History. As April came nearer, our interest increased so that by Friday, April 12, all preparations had been made.

On that balmy morning when the parents arrived with the cars, we boarded them eagerly, thinking of the good times in store for us. After passing the Talladega National Forest, we arrived near Centreville, County seat of Bibb County, where we had a rest stop and refreshments.

Away we hastened to Hale, where we formed in our regular squads and entered Mound State Monument. Mr. DeJarnette, the director, was expecting us and showed film strips which helped us to understand the way those ancient people had lived, worked and worshipped. He lectured to us in both the North and South pits. Some time was spent studying models and remains shown in display windows and counters.

Later, we made several purchases at the souvenir counter.

Next, to the lovely picnic area, situated on the banks of the gently flowing Black Warrior, sped the cars. After an expression of thanks, offered for the group by Linda Jones, we gathered 'round the tables arranged under wide spreading trees and enjoyed our delicious lunches. Several pictures were taken under the green canopy of the trees.

A high point of interest was our race up huge Mound B. Bobby Miller being the winner, with Jerry Price a close second. From its height a wonderful view of the whole area was possible. Later, we had fun on Mound A.

Our next stop was at Smith Hall on the University campus where we saw rock of unusual shapes, sizes and colors. Most of the group got their chief enjoyment from the stuffed animals on the third floor, one being an Alaskan Brown Bear.

Before returning home, we drove through the Bryce Hospital grounds and to the Partlow Home for children. We observed what beautiful surroundings Alabama provides for its mentally unfortunate.

Vermont Schoolers Tour Places Of Interest In Clanton

OUR TRIP THROUGH CLANTON

Tuesday, April 9, 1957 the third and fourth grades of Vermont School went on a tour of Clanton.

We had been planning this trip for many days and we were all looking forward to it.

We left at 8:30 Tuesday morning. First we toured the Chair Factory and this was very interesting. We saw how chairs were made.

Next we went to Ward's Flower Shop and there we saw many pretty flowers. After leaving the Flower Shop, we saw the Water Plant. The basins there are 10 feet deep and 30 feet wide.

At the Clanton Laundry we learned how they keep the clothes separated by numbering them.

We had lunch at the City Park and enjoyed playing on the swings and slides.

We later went on a shopping tour of Elmore's where we enjoyed spending the money we had left.

On the way home we stopped by the Radio Station and sang several songs before returning to our school.

A visit to the telephone office was interesting and we saw seven women working there.

At Elmore's I bought a ring, some clothes pins and a little jewelry box when we stopped there to shop.

We went to the City Park for lunch and had fun playing on the swings and slides there.

Our last stop was WKLF where we sang several songs before returning to Vermont in time to catch the bus.

The Night Has Deceiving Eyes

AND THEY CAN CAUSE YOU TO KILL YOURSELF

Changing traffic lights, flashing neon signs, swaying street lights, glistening reflections; these are the deceiving eyes of the night. You have been confused by these lights, but do you know that they make night driving four times as dangerous as during the day?

But you can reduce the dangers if you will take a few precautions.

Reduce your speed at night.

Turn on your lights immediately at sundown. More accidents occur between 4 and 8 p.m. than any other period of the day.

Keep your windows clean night and day.

Stop to rest when you become tired.

Keep the lights inside your car turned off.

Never wear sunglasses at night. They reduce your vision.

Lower your beam for an approaching car, even if he doesn't lower his. Suppose you are blinded by lights at 60 m.p.h. You can travel 630 feet in the 7 seconds it takes to recover your vision.

Make your night driving safer. Remember this: Decrease your speed, increase your visibility.

COLITIS—Symptoms and Cure

The colon or large intestine is important in the digestive process. When its normal function of assisting in the elimination of waste materials from the body is impaired, distressing symptoms develop, such as rectal bleeding or alternating constipation and diarrhea. The condition attacking the colon may appear in either of two forms, mucous or ulcerative colitis. Both types are disturbing, but the latter is more serious.

Just why colitis develops is not clearly defined, but emotional factors are involved. The way some persons react to tensions and frustrations of everyday living is a clue. That is why diet and disposition are important when either mucous or ulcerative colitis develops.

In mucous colitis, the characteristic symptoms are alternating constipation and diarrhea that come and go over a long period of time. Usually, there is no damage to the tissues. Once the victim has been restored to a state of equanimity, the condition disappears.

Ulcerative colitis, however, is a serious complication. The diarrhea is accompanied by pain; it is severe and prolonged. The loss of blood from the bowel is an added menace. Pain is frequently associated with ulcerative colitis. It is spasmodic in type, causing the patient to double up with its gnawing sensation.

Diet is important in the control of the condition. Usually it is bland in nature, since every effort is made to lessen irritation. Good mental hygiene is equally important. A calm, mental acceptance of everyday tensions will help. And hurry, worry and excesses of any kind should be avoided.

Jemison 4-H'ers Plan Many Summer Projects

The Jemison 4-H Club met Monday, April 15, at Jemison High School.

Mr. Sellars spent the first part of the period discussing the 4-H Club Corn Project. Each boy present told what his 4-H project was. We also discussed plans for our summer recreations.

Jerry Avery then drew the names of five boys who had corn projects. Each of these five boys received a bag of corn: Charles Easterling, Raybon Ellison, Jerry Hicks, Joe Frank Paschal and Herman Smith.

The planting date for "Cribbing" corn is April 20 to May 10th.

Benny Joe Collins and Jerry Roper auditioned for the 4-H Public Speaking Contest.

Five Steps For Good Seedbed

Tiptop farm machinery operation in planting, cultivating and harvesting calls for a good, smooth seedbed.

Five steps necessary in making a good, firm seedbed are:

First, remove all obstructions such as stumps or rocks.

Second, turn the land at least six inches deep.

Third, disk to remove air pockets, clods, and to firm the soil.

Fourth, smooth the land with a section harrow or drag.

And finally firm the top layer of soil with a cultipacker or similar implement.

Contract Egg Producing Being Considered In Ala.

LOW EGG PRICES CAUSE NEW PROBLEMS

A big question mark, pushed by low egg prices, inches over the horizon toward Chilton County and Alabama poultry farms.

The question—Will vertical integration, or contract production, take over the egg business?

Local and Statewide poultrymen may soon have to decide whether to continue producing eggs independently or grow them on a contract basis for an integrated organization. Broiler producers have already answered this question. In some areas now 80 to 90 percent of the broilers are produced under contract.

Interest has been shown in contract egg production projects in different parts of the states. With current low egg prices, more and more questions about contracts are anticipated. Each poultryman is advised to study contracts carefully, then decide which will be best for him—now and later on.

Here are some of the pros and cons of contract production:

A big advantage in a contract is that it finances producers who have facilities and capabilities—but lack money. It may finance larger flocks leading to more efficient units. Contracts erase the producer's risk by guaranteeing a specified price and furnishing supervision, resulting in a more uniform product at lower cost.

On the other hand,

The producer loses some of his independence under a contract. His management decisions are restricted. In some cases this leads to a lack of incentive to improve practices and product. Contract production can also lead to over-expansion, causing even lower prices.

So there you have both sides of the argument on contract egg-producing. Weigh it carefully before you change your methods, but if it serves you better, see your County Agent.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Adios Mr. Boockholdt and hello Mr. LeCroy. That seems to be the order-of-the-day at the Chilton County Board of Education office. Mr. Boockholdt has resigned after many years of faithful service to Chilton County Schools and will take a like position in the Green County Schools. And "Bing"? Well, just about everybody in the County knows "Bing" LeCroy. He needs no introduction. We wish him well and of course offer our assistance to him and his staff at any time.

We're sorry to hear Mrs. Lloyd Popwell is sick. We guess, pound for pound, she has helped more people than anybody in this community. And the thing about Mrs. Popwell's charities, most of them you have to find out about yourself. She goes about them quietly and only for the good she can do—not for the publicity she might gain. There are few like her and we hope she is well and about her good work before too many moons.

Dr. and Mrs. C. O Lawrence were in an automobile wreck on their way home last Thursday, but neither were hurt seriously. Dr. Lawrence was back at his offices Saturday—a little "bunged" up as he said, but not hurt too badly. Mrs. Lawrence was painfully hurt, but not seriously, according to a report from the Doctor.

The new bride cried, "boo,hoo, the dog ate up all the nice cookies I baked for you." "Don't cry", returned the groom, "we'll get another dog".

A good friend called us the other day and asked how much we charged for a thousand envelopes. After we told him the price he said "oh, I've been getting them much cheaper out-of-town." And he told us what he had been getting them for. Very surprised at the price, we asked him where he had been getting them at such a low figure. He exclaimed: "He's out of business now. Went busted."

It is getting a bit ridiculous the way some of our merchants and businessmen are ordering their printing from out-of-town firms to save a few pennies, when their newspapers serve them in so many ways in their everyday life. Their newspapers are behind every worthwhile project, every drive, every civic movement and very seldom ever receive one penny for their expenses and efforts in these causes. It really isnt' fair.

"You look worn out dear," said the wife of a business man as he sat down to dinner.

"I am, I've had a trying day. That office boy of mine tried that old gag about wanting the day off to attend his grandmother's funeral. I thought I'd teach him a lesson, so I said I'd go with him."

"Well, wasn't it a good baseball game?"

"No. It was his grandmother's funeral."

Chilton's CD Rescue Unit prepared for grim emergencies

FAITH, HOPE, CHARITY AND HARD WORK MAKE UP CD RESCUE SQUAD

It's a grim business. But if there is one thing the Chilton County Civil Defense Rescue Squad has it is optimisim.

The go about their job of "being ready" just as calmly and efficiently as the butcher who grinds your meat or the pharmacist who fills a prescription.

The Squad, formerly the Chilton County Rescue Squad, has combined forces and equipment with the newly-organized chapter of Civil Defense here in Chilton County with Burton Mullins at the helm.

Alvin Ellison, president of the Squad and his members, in cooperation with the Civil Defense Program are working, planning and dreaming for an organization here in Chilton County the likes of which you have never seen

The original Squad started taking shape in this County some two years ago after the drowning of a local man in the Coosa River near here. Since that time, through the trials and errors which are inevitable with the forming of a new organization, a group of determined, self-sacrificing and neighbor-loving men have grown into a strong an stable team, equipped and ready to handle practically any disaster or emergency with which they are confronted.

Watching these men gather you get the feeling that "they're just another bunch of guys". But once they set to work on a job, you'd think they were getting paid fifty dollars per hour. You get a feeling of humbleness in a proud sort of way, watching these men work together And that "together" is the key to their success, for without it the Rescue Squad could not function

It should be brought to mind here that these men are not paid for their perticipation and have not up to now, received any outside funds for their equipment and upkeep. Dues and the desire of each man to help his neighbor have kept the organization going for two years.

But help is finally here. Under the Civil Defense Program, which has many facets other than rescue work, the Squad will get new backing and support and will be even better equipped to serve the public.

They do not have a book of rules and no by-laws are set up as yet They do not come to their meetings dressed in their Sunday best expecting to hear some dull oratory

They volunteered their services in the Squad and they put service to use. When they gather, it's for a specific purpose.

As was the case last Friday evening when they met at Alvin's Welding Shop for a "working" they called it. Things got started off in the usual hum-drum way of normal meeting and we thought "oh, well," but inside of ten minutes we've never seen 19 men come to life like those fellas did.

They have acquired a panel truck since combining with the Civil Defense Program now, and some other badly needed equipment (part of which, was bought with their own funds made up entirely of dues) and they are getting things ship-shape.

These men are not polished talkers, no big shots either. These are men who work with their hands, and that's what they do best. About seven or eight mechanics and would-be mechanics tackled the truck (which had seen better days) and inside of two hours they had the tenders changed, doors off and on, dents flattened out, etc It amazed us to see so much enthusiasm grow from so many tired, working men. They were weary from their days work, but it wasn't hard to tell that they enjoyed this work, as they readied their equipment for a phone call or message that might come at any minute.

Yes, a grim business; but a necessary one, and one which is being handled most efficiently and effectively by your Chilton County CD Rescue Squad.

Since combining with Civil Defense brings on new duties and added responsibility the Squad also has added advantages, if you would call them that. They are being supplied CD tags to wear on their cars and each tag has a different number. They are registered similar to our license plates. These tags are primarily to identify the CD worker to avoid unnecessary explanations during a time of emergency. Personally, we'd be mighty proud to wear one They carry a certain dignity of purpose and honor that is rare They show that the owner is a civic-minded individual; wide awake and ready to serve his neighbors whenever the need arises.

Well, this is your Civil Defense Rescue Squad. Only, this is just a smattering of their real potential. Organization, which they have had a time developing, is now a reality and they can serve you efficiently This one thing the members ask: A true and sincere cooperation of the general public. The satisfaction they derive from their efforts is a job well-done and to accomplish this, they need your help

They are donating their money time and effort. Can you, in return give your whole-hearted support?

Be watching your Civil Defense Rescue Squad. They are progressing.

Members of the Squad who participated in the work meeting last Friday night were: Alvin Ellison, Fred Smitherman, Henry McKey, Joe Brown A. C. Gentry, Clarence Burnett, Jr., Jerry Gentry, Bill Wates, Carlton Rhodes, B. I. McGuire, G. E. Minor, Curtis Collins, Robert E. Martin, Walter E. Gwathney, Harlon Baker, John H. Bryant, Grady Easterling and Obie Patterson Also present was Gene Gore and Burton Mullins, who is president of the Chilton County Civil Defense Chapter.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

TRUTH sure is stranger than fiction—when it comes from the lips of some people.

THE further a man ca n see in the future, the less sure he feels that he is right.

MONEY probably does a lot of talking, but very few people ever get a chance to listen.

IT'S EASY to be optimistic when every thing is going your way.

ONLY the man who is looking for trouble, is the man who can stay in business and not advertise.

THE MAN who sets the pace is not necessarily chosen for the leader.

IF ALL the fools refused to part with their money we know a lot of people who wouldn't have an income.

Vacation Time Nearing----

Most people are planning their vacations about this time of year. Where to go? What to take along? What to do with the pets? Many like questions will arise before you get into the family car and get started on the yearly jaunt.

But these are not always the most important questions. Just how safe is your home and your property while you are away? That is becoming the number one quesion, and we would like to make these suggestions:

Do not boast of money you have accumulated.

Lock your doors and windows well, leaving one key with a close friend or relative.

Tell the news boy to stop your paper until your return. A stack of unopened newspapers on your front steps is a sure give-a-way that the coast is clear for prowlers.

The same goes for your milk man. Tell him you will call and resume service when you return.

Have that friend or relative check each day or so to see that everything at home is O.K.

Being no authority on this subject now, you may be able to add many suggestions to the list. If you do, that's fine. Just remember to take all the precautions you can, when you leave this Spring for the Annual Vacation. It's very uncomfortable to get several hundred miles from home and then start wondering if you left the water in the bath tub running, or the fire on under the coffee pot.

Wanted: People As Well As Dollars----

The oldest records of human history show that there have always been people who suffered from mental illness. For a long time. the mentally ill were punished Or, at best, were put away somewhere out of sight and forgotten. They and their families often bore an unwarranted stigma.

Today, we realize that it is no more shameful to be mentally ill than physically ill. Only our neglect of the mentally ill has been shameful. And we still have a long way to go in providing adequate care and treatment for them.

Here in Alabama and across the nation growing numbers of volunteers are at work interpreting the unmet needs of our mentally ill, the need for more and better preventive services and mental health education to help stem the rising toll of mental illness.

Once a year, this group working through the Alabama Association for Mental Health and 27 county associations. seeks support for this vital program. And they not only want dollars. . . they want your active interest.

So when the Mental Health volunteer calls at your door join the group which gives not only of its money, but itself. You could not become active in a more worthwhile cause.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

Things We See Believe;
Things We Hear, Consider

Philosophy of life: Seldom ask a favor, never fail to grant one. Good or bad, we kinda like that philosophy.

Certainly glad the City of Clanton has made the improvements on its traffic light situation. Certainly wasn't a bit too soon. Still seems to be a few bugs here and there, but the over-all improvement is one which we needed and is unquestionably an improvement. The City Fathers are on their toes.

And speaking of City doings; it's our sincere hope that the City, or nobody else for that matter, ever sees fit to do away with those big beautiful oaks or elms or whatever they be out on the Maplesville Highway, just outside of town. About this time of year, they certainly contribute a lot to that "good to be alive" feeling. We like 'em there.

Seems apparent to us, that the efforts of the civic organizations and other groups in and around Clanton in behalf of the new Community Center did not go unrewarded. They took in a grand sum at the Fair last week. Just goes to show what Chilton Countians can do when they set their minds to a task. Their hearts too. We think everyone cooperated magnificently for this one great cause Made us proud of our neighbors to see them working together in such a worthwhile undertaking. There is not a doubt in our mind, that Clanton will soon have the Community Center it has so long dreamed of having.

Ode To A Drag Strip—

Oh he went down the track just a'rarin',
And he said "I've got power to spare."
But, alas and alack, as he sped down the track,
He found the power just wasn't there.
Oh he went down the track just a'flyin',
And he said as he passed by the tree,
"I'm a son-of-a-gun if he'll win this one."
And that's just what he turned out to be.
Oh he flew by the crowd like a comet,
And the "loser" was eatin' his dust,
"I've won by gar," but a look at his car,
Might show he was second. . . not "just".
Oh he zipped down the track like a bullet,
And his girl gave hurrahs in the stand,
"I'll show 'em whose good," and off flew his hood,
Now how'll he explain this to the old man.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

THE GOSPELS BRING JESUS INTO FOCUS

A positive conviction has seized me. I sincerely believe that there will be a new world-wide emphasis on healing and supernatural deliverance. This will shortly come to pass in: (1) the established churches, (2) in the medical profession, and (3) among mankind generally.

Already this has begun. Miracles, healing, supernatural deliverance are the talk of spiritual leaders everywhere. A new wave of it is sweeping Scotland and England. Sometime ago, we sent our film, "Venture Into Faith," to Berlin for its German premiere. On the opening night 2,500 were present. This film has caused an amazing revival of healing and supernatural deliverance in South Africa, Israel, Trans-Jordan, Switzerland, England, Germany, Philippine Islands, and in other foreign lands.

Doctors are opening their minds more and more to healing by faith. I am receiving a lot of mail from doctors. Many of them are attending our campaigns, often sending their patients for prayer.

Mankind everywhere is becoming more conscious of God's supernatural power of deliverance. I urge you not to lag behind in your thinking and believing. A few years ago I did not know the Lord as he really is. I knew him as the Redeemer of my own life, but not as the Deliverer of humanity. Now, I see his infinite tenderness, his constant concern for men's souls and bodies.

The reading of the four Gospels and the Book of Acts brought Jesus into focus for me to see. Jesus came against four enemies of mankind: sin, demons, disease, and fear. He was a healer and miracle-worker. He spent two-thirds of his time healing the sick. He looked on sickness as a criminal power and all his power was against it.

What he did, he wanted his disciples to do. He transmitted his power and authority to them. They went forth healing the sick and preaching the gospel. With his authority they brought deliverance to the soul, mind, and body of the people. He still expects his followers to do the same things. His orders haven't been changed, and he hasn't given the signal to stop work.

The second day that I was in the Holy Land, I visited the garden tomb where Jesus rose from the dead. The man in charge of the tomb had broken his leg and had it in a cast. I said to him. "Sir, I would like to pray for you." He said, "Why, of course." I then laid my hand on his leg and asked God to heal the broken bones.

When I came out of my hotel room the next day, the street was full of people who were seeking my prayers.

I had never seen them before, but they had heard of the miracle at the empty tomb the previous night. The caretaker had been completely and miraculously healed.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

. . . With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.—(St. Mark 10,27.)

There is no limit to God's love for us, His children, or to His power to help us in all mortal troubles large or small. Therefore we overcome all fear and anxiety when, through faith, we ask His blessing and then place our complete trust in Him.

Used to, when we snapped our fingers at home, everybody hopped. Now we just crack our nuckles. No, nobody hops, but a fella looks kind of silly just standin' around snapping his fingers. At least nuckle cracking is practical. . . it keeps our hands strong. Why? Why to man that mop, what else! Ah, my horse for a kingdom.

Never fear dear Sis,
It's you that we miss,
On your birthday and eachday and nite.
But, why don't you write?
You old Brunswickite,
And maybe we wouldn't fergit!
Huhuh! That don't rhyme do it?

We do not entirely agree that you get out of life only as much as you put into it. We know a lot of folks who admit they get a lot from life, who add very little to the overall betterment of same.

Sit up and take note. The combining of the local Rescue Squad with the newly-organized Civil Defense Program here is destined for big things. Watch them closely. And you can do that through this paper.

You know, it's darned lucky for the fish last Saturday afternoon that the missus made us cut the grass. Boy, did we feel fishy!

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The European Subcommittee of the Committee on Foreign Affairs arrived in Paris, France, after a smooth and uneventful non-stop flight from the United States. Our entire flight took approximately 12 hours.

As you know, Paris is not only the location of our American Embassy, but also the location of the headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). In addition, the United States maintains in Paris our country's mission to NATO. This mission is somewhat comparable to our New York mission to the United Nations. Despite the fact that we were in Paris over Easter week-end, arrangements were made so that we were able to hold conferences with our American Ambassador to France and members of his staff, with General Norstad and other key military commanders, and with members of the U.S. Mission to NATO.

Embassy Briefing—

It is generally conceded that France is not only a key country in the defense of Western Europe, but to our own defenses as well. It was important, therefore, that our Subcommittee secure firsthand information on the progress that is being made in France on collective defense measures.

We spent several hours with Ambassador Amory Houghton, our new Ambasador to France, and with his top-flight advisors. We were thoroughly briefed by this group, who later answered all questions propounded by the Subcommittee members.

NATO Briefing—

Located on the outskirts of Paris at Marly-le-Roi is the headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, generally referred to as Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE). The commander of all NATO forces at the present time is General Lauris Norstad of the U.S. Air Force. He holds the same position formerly held by President Eisenhower and more recently by General Alfred Gruenther. General Norstad gave the committee a thorough briefing on the NATO organization, its present status, and its future plans and prospects. Also, we discussed with him, as well as with other members of our military, the use of mutual security (foreign aid) funds in the European area and the effect on NATO in the event such funds are reduced by Congress.

U. S. Mission to NATO—

Unlike General Norstad's Headquarters, which is international in scope and composed of military and civilian personnel from all of the NATO countries, the U.S. Mission to NATO is made up solely of representatives of the United States. The primary responsibility of this particular mission is to represent the interests of our country in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Since one of the main objectives of the Subcommittee's mission is a study of United States policy toward the nations of Europe still under the domination of Communist Russia and the coordination of that policy with our European allies, a meeting with the United States Mission to NATO produced information of importance to us.

Further Report to Follow—

I am writing this report en route by air from Paris, France, to Vienna, Austria. In next week's column I will report to you on the remainder of hte Subcommittee's trip, which will take the members to Vienna. Munich, Bonn, and London before returning to the United States.

Our Training Union is steadily reaching higher goals in attendance, as we had 80 present on the last Lord's Day. We hope everyone of our members will continue to be present each Sunday.

Our pastor is in a revival at Hillcrest Baptist Church in Birmingham this week. We all are wishing him great success there.

Next Sunday, Bro. J. B. Mizzell will bring the morning and evening messages while the pastor is concluding the Revival at Hillcrest. Pat Webster will bring a message in song during the worship services. Both of these young men are in school at Howard.

We are proud of them: Leslie Smith, Charles Calfee and George White in Auburn; Emogene Cummings at Alabama College in Montevallo; Ophelia Conway and Dale Nabors at State Teachers College at Jacksonville and Glenn Jones at State College at Tallahassee, Florida.

The Ordinance of Baptism was observed during the evening worship services last Lord's Day. We are proud of those who were baptized into our church. May the Lord bless them as they work for Him.

Poplar Springs NEWS

By Dorothy Hill

The Rev. Roy Hornsby, pastor

We really had a wonderful Sunday School with 76 present. We are happy over that large number and hope that we can continue to have that many and even more in the future. We also had a wonderful worship service following the Sunday School. Our pastor, Bro. Hornsby brought a wonderful message on "The Prodigal Son."

After the worship service we met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beard for the Baptismal Service which was held in the pond there. Four people were baptized and we are happy to have these people in our church and we pray that they will always have the courage to follow God.

Bro. Hornsby brought another wonderful message at Training Union. It was taken from the book of Romans.

A good number of our people attended the Youth Rally at Concord last Saturday night, but we hope more of our people will go to the next one.

Everyone remember Prayer Meeting next Wednesday night and come if you are able.

We are planning a Youth Day for next Sunday. We invite everyone out to see and hear our youngsters as they take part in the Lord's work.

Let us be in constant prayer for those who need it and that is everyone.

We were happy to have our visitors, as always, Sunday and Sunday night. We welcome you at any time.

Quite a number of friends and relatives enjoyed a wonderful Birthday Dinner given for Mr. W. C. Moore, Mr. Sam Beard and Mr. E. W. Hill at Mr. Beard's home Sunday after the Baptismal Service.

Let's all remember Sunday School, Training Union and worship services next Sunday. Come and invite someone else to come with you.

We will meet at the church early after lunch to clean off the cemetery and Church yards. All who have loved ones buried here or have an interest in any way, please come and bring tools to work with. We can get this job done if we work together.

Then on Sunday, Mother's Day, is our Homecoming. We are looking forward to a good day and we invite everyone out to spend-the-day with us. All singers have a special invitation also.

A "white charger," complete with a team of white-clad "knights," may some day come to your rescue if you are trapped under debris after an attack or natural disaster.

The "white charger" would be a Civil Defense "Calamity Jane" heavy rescue truck, or the recently announced light truck. Some 800 rescue trucks are now in use by local U. S. civil defense units.

Approximately 60,000 trained volunteers—some of them perhaps neighbors—are serving on civil defense rescue teams.

SUDDENLY IT'S SPRING

FOR A TOUCH OF SPRING ON YOUR TABLE, try this Strawberry Cream Icebox Cake! It's easily prepared in not much more than an instant—cool and refreshing, too.

The filling is made with strawberry instant pudding and whipped cream. This is spread between split cake layers and on the top and sides, as pictured here. Fresh green mint leaves or fresh strawberries as garnish give it that "extra special" party look.

STRAWBERRY CREAM ICEBOX CAKE

- 2 cups cold milk
- 2 packages strawberry instant pudding mix
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 2 8-inch sponge cake layers

Pour milk into mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and beat slowly with egg beater just until well mixed, about 1 minute. Do not overbeat, mixture will be thin. Let stand until slightly thickened—takes about 2 minutes. Whip the cream and fold into the pudding. Cut the cake layers through center horizontally, making 4 layers. Spread the mixture between layers and on tops and sides of cake. Garnish top of cake with mint leaves or fresh strawberries. Chill before serving.

Apricot Pie Boasts of Few Calories

Calling all dieters: Here's the pie you may have been dreaming about! It's mouth-watering to look at, heavenly to eat, and most important, low, low in calories.

Make this luscious Apricot Glace' Pie according to our special dieter's recipe, and you'll cut 64 unnecessary calories from every serving. The secret is a simple one. Instead of sweetening the pie with sugar, we've used the non-caloric sweetener, Sucaryl. This sweetener gives the pie a natural sugar-like taste, yet doesn't add a single calorie.

Learn how to be a calorie-cutting cook, and you'll be able to indulge in all sorts of delectable desserts. With the help of this non-caloric sweetener, it's easy to whittle calories from all of your cooking and baking.

Apricot Glace' Pie

- 1½ teaspoons unflavored gelatin
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 1 cup dietetic apricot preserves
- ¼ cup sherry
- 1 teaspoon Sucaryl solution or 8 tablets, crushed
- Pinch of salt
- 2 1-pound cans dietetic apricots
- 1 8-inch baked pie shell

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine preserves, sherry, Sucaryl and salt; bring to a boil. Remove from heat and stir in gelatin until dissolved. Cool until mixture begins to set. Drain apricots and place in pie shell, rounded side up. Cover with glaze. Let stand until set.

Makes 6 servings. Each serving, not including pastry, contains 78 CALORIES; 1.3 grams protein; .06 gram fat; 15.0 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 142 CALORIES.

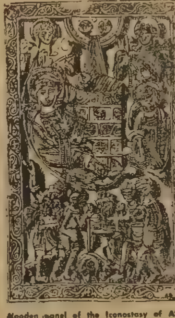
Egypt's Coptic Church



Wooden panel of the Iconostasy of Abou Serga representing the Nativity.

Although most Americans consider Rome as the seat of early Christianity, an equally ancient branch of Christendom — the Coptic Church—was established during the first three centuries of the Christian era in the city of Alexandria, Egypt.

The Church of St. Sergius marks the site of the home of the Holy Family during the traditional Flight into Egypt. From this early beginning, Christianity flourished and by the end of the Second Century it was firmly established in Egypt. The Coptic faith received its strongest impetus during the Third Century when St. Anthony, a native Egyptian, laid the foundations of the church's monastic tradition.

Up to the Fifth Century, the Coptic Church at Alexandria played a leading role in the history of the Christian World. The earliest churches were cut out of rocks and caverns, but in the days of Constantine and Justinian, basilicas of great splendor were erected. The use of the dome by Coptic architects was universal; most churches had at least three domes overshadowing three altars.

In 638 the faltering Roman Empire in Egypt gave way to the Arabs who brought the new message of Islam while maintaining the security of life, property and religion for the Egyptian Christians. These Christian Arabs enjoyed complete freedom from religious persecution and played integral role in conducting the affairs of state. These conditions have continued unbroken ever since.

LOCAL CLEANER WARNS OF POSSIBLE DISADVANTAGES IN USE OF NEW SYNTHETIC FABRICS

Judging by their varied use and wide acceptance, synthetic fabrics are here to stay. These materials lay claim to many advantages, including ease of care, light-weight and crease resistance.

However, Leo Thompson, Mgr. of the Clanton Laundry & Cleaning Company here warns consumers that the popular fabrics composed of synthetics may have certain disadvantages.

He points in particular to a fabric which combines nylon and cotton. This fabric closely resembles material made of 100% cotton, though it ordinarily has a more silky, shiny appearance. Because it can easily be confused with cotton, quite often the same care is given to the nylon-cotton fabric that would be given to 100% cotton.

Being a thermoplastic material, nylon cannot withstand the normally high temperatures of home ironing. In fact, it will melt when it comes in contact with an iron set at a cotton-linen setting. In the professional laundry, Thompson points out, the presses are set low and cool to avoid melting the nylon. Actually, the laundry treats this nylon-cotton fabric as though it were made entirely of nylon. The nylon will melt at a temperature of about 480 degrees, therefore it should be ironed at a heat of no more than 400 degrees to allow a safe margin. Thompson pointed out that the professional laundry presses, using 100 pounds of steam pressure, are generally maintained at a 337 degree setting.

When damaged by heat, this fabric appears to have suffered multiple cuts by a sharp instrument. This occurs because only the nylon yarns have been damaged. The cotton yarns are not affected by these ironing temperatures and remain intact and in satisfactory condition.

Manufacturers sometimes include the fiber content on their garment labels. These serve as a guide for the care that should be given the particular item. Thompson suggests that the label be left on a garment so that it can be easily identified by the professional laundryman and given proper care.

HD Club Aims, Beliefs, And Future Plans

The aims of National Home Demstration Week are:

To further acquaint the general public with the Cooperative Extension Service and its home demonstration program planned by and for homemakers

To help famliies understand better their part in planning and carrying out the extension program.

To stress research that relates to the home and family and to encourage homemakers to put research finding into use.

To interpret to people the scope of home economics and its contribution to family and community life.

To recognize the work of volunteer leaders without whose services the home demonstration program would not benefit as many families as now.

To inform others about the duties of their local home demonstration agent, and how to take advantage of her assistance

In the following article we would like to present information about the Home Demonstration Club program in Chilton County. Twenty-two Clubs throughout the County are located in the following communities:

Adams-Mt. Carmel, Baker, Bethsalem, Cane Creek, Cedar Grove, Center Hill, Cooper, Fairview, Friendship, Isabella, Lomax, Macedonia, Maplesville, Maples Springs, Thomas Jr., Mineral Springs, Mt. Carmel, Mt. Pisgah, New Cedron, Poplar Springs, Shoults, Thorsby and Verbena.

The Home Demonstration Program strives to introduce to homemakers newer methods of homemaking that will be of help to them in their every day tasks. The program is divided into seven different subjects:

Foods, food preservation, Child care and family life, home management, home furnishings, consumer education and clothing and handicraft.

During the year one or more demonstrations in each subject are given at Club meetings. Club members select the demonstrations they desire for the year.

Chilton County's newest Home Demonstration Club was organized April 12th at the home of Mrs. B. H. Giles in the Adams-Mt. Carmel community. Eleven ladies met for the first meeting and expressed much interest in this organization.

Home Agents, Mrs. Johnnie M Lane and Miss Jean Porter, explained the organization, discussed the yearbook and duties of officers and outlined the year's program.

Officers elected for the new Club are: President, Mrs. Woody Klinner; 1st vice-president, Mrs. J W. Mitchell; and secretary, Mrs Aleen Lenoir. The Club is scheduled to meet the first Tuesday afternoon in each month. The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, May 7th at 2:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. W. (Doris) Mitchell. Miss Downs Honored For Many Years' Service

Poplar Springs Home Demonstration Club plans to honor the "Golden Agers" in the community as their project for this year. Top honors go to one of our charter members, Miss Lena Downs, who helped reorganize the Club in 1947, and was also one of the ladies who met with the County Board of Revenue in 1933 to ask for a Home Demonstration Agent for the County.

We remember that aging brings "plus" changes, as well as "minus" ones. We do not get too old to modify an attitude or habit, acquire a motor skill, render a service, keep up-to-date, create something beautiful, or say to a new idea "I'll try it—not every new idea is bad—nor every change a revolution."

We continue to learn new ideas in Home Demonstration Club work. As opportunities for self-expression in our work or family lessen, realize that the human imagination does not grow old, and find our creative outlets in hobbies, the arts and community activities.

Other charter members since the re-organization of the Club in 1947 are: Mrs. Flora Wilson, Mrs. Myrtice Smith and Mrs. Webster Hill who has rejoined the Club after an absence of a few years. There are twenty active members on roll, one of whom won the County Dress Revue and a trip to Biloxi, Mississippi last year. We have fixed several boxes for the needy, layettes for mothers, road signs for the Church, booths for the Fair and box for shipment to Korea.

One Of County's Oldest Clubs: Cedar Grove

Since the organization of the Cedar Grove Home Demonstration Club in the Spring of 1933, the Club has been an active club and is still a very strong Club. There are eighteen members enrolled this year and the average attendance at meetings is ten or more members.

Looking back on some of the accomplishments of this Club we are most grateful for the Home Demonstration Clubs and for the many advantages they offer rural women. We are thankful for the Agents and for the leadership extended through them. Rural women have reached greater heights, and homes have been elevated to higher standards as a result of good leadership. These gains all help to realize for our people one of the great freedoms of this nation, the freedom from want, and represents real progress.

We mention here a few of the contributions this Club has made toward achieving the goals of HD Clubs:

We have carried out home, lawn and mailbox improvements for a number of years; put up Church and road signs, quilted quilts for school and other benefits; contributed toward college scholarships; church funds and to the 4-H Friendship to Korea; observed Rural Youth Sunday for several years, with much interest being shown by both 4-H Club members and their families; assisted at County Fairs—also exhibited some of our own produce and handiwork at the Fairs; Collected "Pennies For Friendship" each year. This group has also remembered hospital patients and shut-ins with various kinds of gifts and get-well cards. Quite a few of our members watched the nursing course on television last fall with two of the members attending practice sessions and receiving certificates and nursing pins.

In addition to the above, the "Golden Agers", which is indeed a very worthy project, have been included in our program from time to time.

"Our hopes are to learn to live wisely and well on the land which is ours, leaving it ever richer and more beautiful for having been our home. (taken from Club Collect).

Jemison FFA Elects Officers For 1958

The FFA chapter at Jemison High School has already made a big step toward an outstanding and progressive program in FFA next year, according to Mr. L. C. Shields, vocational agriculture teacher at Jemison. His Future Farmers have elected officers already for next year's school year. Mr. Shield's points out that electing officers early has several advantages, among which is the preparation that the new officers made upon learning that the task for leading the chapter in FFA is in their hands the next year. Leadership training camps and schools have become very popular in the FFA chapters throughout Alabama for this purpose. He went further to say that the boys would have the opportunity to watch their predecessors carry out the actual functioning of officers.

The following boys were elected as officers of the Jemison FFA Chapter:

President, Harry Benson; First Vice-President, Alvin Hayes; Second Vice-President Aurbon Porter; Third Vice-President, Harold Mims, Secretary, Johny Bean; Treasurer, Ralph Morris; Reporter, Raymond Hilyer; Sentinel, Horace Davis; Ast. Reporter, Earl Smith; Asst. Secretary, Larry Crowson; Asst Treasurer, Lydon Blow; Asst. Advisors, Bill Coleman, Chester Posey, and Truitt Moore.

• See how the extra value in Chilean Soda makes an extra good crop of corn. Chilean is a natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

and you'll choose CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

One hundred years of consistently satisfactory experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for side-dressing corn, cotton and other summer crops. It is a rare, natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the supply of available phosphate is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal among nitrogen fertilizers.

The side-dressing effectiveness of any nitrogen fertilizer depends very largely on its content of nitrate nitrogen. The nitrogen content of Chilean Soda is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen and this, together with its rich sodium content and minor elements, accounts for its remarkable efficiency and consistently superior performance in the field.

Sodium adds a great deal of extra value to the product. It destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and calcium when necessary, increases the supply of available phosphate, and helps the plant gain the utmost benefit from the nitrogen. In addition, Chilean Soda contains small amounts of needed minor elements which help to protect against hidden plant-food deficiencies.

If you have any question about your nitrogen side-dressing for corn, we urge you to use Chilean Nitrate, if only in a small way to begin with, so that you can see the difference for yourself. We are confident you'll find it the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used for side-dressing your crops.

Tor Yamato Featured At The Armory Wrestling Bouts

ROUGH, ROWDY, AND JR. LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMP IN SOUTH

Tor Yamato

The local wrestling fans, the National Guard, sponsors of wrestling at the Clanton Armory have finally secured the toughest, rowdiest wrestler in the South for the local Armory, on Saturday, May 4th.

The wrestler in mention is the Japanese, Tor Yamato, present Southern Junior Light Heavyweight Champion.

Yamato is tops when it comes to winning and since becoming champion, he has knocked over opponents time and again.

He is probably the most exciting wrestler to appear before the millions of wrestling fans.

He is matched with one of the outstanding matmen of all time, Lester Welch, brother to Herb, Roy and Jack.

Welch is qualified to take the measure of Yamato and will certainly make every effort to take the Championship Belt back to Oklahoma.

The first event will pit popular Kathy Branch, one of the nation's top girl wrestlers, against Judy Glover, a newcomer to this territory, but one who possesses experience and has a reputation as a splendid wrestler.

Admission prices for this event will remain the same as in the past: $1.00 for adults and 50c for children from 4 to 11.

Doors open at 6:30 and fans are advised to come early.

Both matches will be the best two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

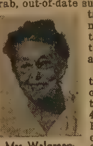
Spring Days Spur 4-H'ers in Home, Yards Projects

In the spring a young homemaker's fancy turns to thoughts of a bright new look for house and yard. Right now 4-H Club members here are dreaming up ways and means to transform drab, out-of-date surroundings into cheerful modern areas that are functional as well as decorative.



Mrs. Walgreen

To help make their dreams come true are two popular 4-H programs: Beautification of Home Grounds, and Home Improvement. Members may begin with a simple project like a small flower bed, and in a few years learn enough to landscape the entire grounds. Home interiors benefit from newly acquired skills that range from making pretty sofa pillows to redecorating several rooms.

Besides the satisfaction of having accomplished something that can be enjoyed by family and friends, the boys and girls have an opportunity to compete for valuable awards when their projects are completed. For outstanding accomplishment in beautification of home grounds, state winners will receive a 19-jewel wrist watch from Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Chicago, who has donated awards in this program for 20 years. Eight national champions will be her guests during the 4-H Club Congress next December.

State winners in home improvement will attend the Club Congress, while six national winners will each receive a $400 college scholarship. The Sears-Roebuck Foundation provides these awards. Medals of honor are awarded four outstanding club members in each county in both programs.

Information regarding enrollment may be obtained from the local 4-H Club leader or the County Extension agent.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

... But if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth His will, him He heareth.—(St. John 9,31.)

So many of us, in bewilderment and misunderstanding, often seek to find a quick "short cut" to our Heavenly Father's love and mercy. But the Bible is a never-failing guide, and Jesus tells us the straight, sure way to reach God through devotion and prayer.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Doris Smyer of the Doris Beauty Salon won first place and a beautiful trophy in the hair styling contest that was held at the Whitley Hotel in Montgomery Sunday. The contest is an annual affair and beauty operators from Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Tennessee and Florida compete. Congratulations to Doris on her signal honor and her contribution to the beautification of the American woman.

Sunday is Mother's Day. It is a day when we all pay tribute to the person who influenced our lives most and one person we all reverence most. To those who will wear the red rose we salute you and to those who wear the white—well, we have our memories. If you are fortunate enough to wear the red rose remember to tell her now, how much she means to you. Time has a way of changing things. You won't have her always.

A railroad engineer got up on the wrong side of the bed one morning. The water for his shower was cold. His shoelace broke. At breakfast his toast was burned. His car wouldn't start and he had to take a taxi to the yards. He was late, so when he started his train he speeded it up to 90 miles an hour. Just as he swung around a curve, he saw another train coming straight at him—and on the same track. He heaved a big sigh and, turning to the fireman, said, "Did you ever have one of those days when just everything goes wrong?"

Bob Sewell has opened a service station next to his "Bob's Drive-In" north of the City. Looks like he will keep on until we have a trading center in that community. He just opened this week and is inviting his friends and the motoring public in general to come up and see him sometime.

Wes Gletty has a wonderful idea. He is devoting his full-time now to selling people on the idea of reading and studying the Constitution of the United States. He has some small booklets that are very reasonable in price that contain the Constitution and he is putting them out in schools and just about any place that he can. Personally we know for a fact that foreigners who come to this Country know more about our Constitution than we do here at home. We take our great Country too much for granted. Wes Gletty should be congratulated and solidly backed in this new work he has undertaken.

Alabama Trucker says the Agricultural official told the farmer to collect his stock of every description and have them branded. "I suppose that's all-right", the old farmer said, scratching his head, "but I'm gonna have the devil of a time with them bees!"

The FFA of Chilton County are building mail box stands and selling them for $5.00 per each, which is about five dollars less than you could build one of the same quality. One of the stands is on display at Peoples Savings Bank and one at the Post Office. You can leave your order with the Bank or the Post Office or you can contact members of the FFA in your community and place your order for one of the sturdy mail box stands. It will encourage the boys and you will get more than your moneys worth.

Sorry to learn that Dyer Shackleford got hurt Tuesday evening. Seems there was an accident with the wrecker and Dyer got hit on the leg which put him in the hospital. Hope to see him back at his job at Clanton Motors, Inc., before too long.

22 Miles Under Contract----

Road-Building Program Progressing In Chilton

Judge M. D. Tingle announced this week that 22 miles of new Farm to Market roads were under construction at the present time in Chilton County. Two bridges have been completed and more under construction.

The longest bridge ever to be constructed in the County is under construction over Mulberry Creek. It is 452 feet long and was built at a total cost of $63,000. This is located on the new Farm to Market road from Isabella to Highway 191.

The Enterprise to New Cedron road has been graded and bridges are under construction as is the Oak Hill Road. County forces will be used in the building of the road.

Judge Tingle stated that the Board hoped to let four other contracts this year which will bring the total to 46 miles of Farm to Market road either under construction or contracts to be let this year.

At the beginning of the present administration there were 63 miles of Farm to Market roads in the County and today the County has a total of 135 miles.

Most of the bridges have either been constructed or are under construction.

The four contracts to be let by the Board this year if any way possible, will be the 10 from the gap of the mountain towards Wilsonville. The plans on this road are complete and the rights of way will be secured in the near future.

Number two is the road from Liberty Hill Church to Thorsby. Three, is from Cross Roads School House to Isabella and number four is Cobb Road to the Bibb County line which is some four miles.

There is a total of 22 miles now under construction with the hope of 24 more miles to be let this year. The Board hopes to build 46 miles of Farm to Market roads in the County this year.

Does Chilton Need 6-Man Control Board

Talk is around that the need is great for a six member Board of Revenue & Control taking a great load off of the present members that have too large a District to see over properly.

For instance, District 4, as it is now known, takes in Beats 4, 5, 10, and 16. This reaches from Mt. Creek to Lomax, taking in Clanton, Cooper, Verbena, Liberty Hill to Thorsby, east to the River, West to County Training School and Enterprise.

According to those interested in increasing the Board the Beats would be broken down into Districts comprising three Beats each, with the exception of Beat 4.

The general opinion is that this Beat would be served better with only one Board member responsible because of its size.

Also the members would be nominated by the voters in their own District only, and elected Countywide in the general election. Voters in Beat 4 have long dominated the voting in the smaller Beats in the County.

Feelers are being put out for the reaction of the voter so that the citizens of the County can let their wishes be known to their Representative.

The outcome, of course, would in the end, be left up to the voters of Chilton County.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

IF this old world was all that it should be, all reformers would be out of a job.

THE man who attempts to drown his troubles in drink only gets his head in a swim.

IT'S a good thing to remember, that what you allow to enter your mind also goes into building your character.

ADVERSITY may help a man prepare for the hereafter, but it sure cramps his style while here on earth.

THE scheme of life seems to be that one-half is ruined by our parents and the other half by our children.

ADVERSITY never makes people weak—it only proves to them they are weak.

A Man spends his days pondering how to reconcile his net income with his gross habits.

A MAN who tries and fails will eventually profit by the failure if he keeps right on trying.

Truly A Minor Miracle----

THE wanderlust that sprouts with the crocus and the forsyhia will blossom this year (say the experts) into vacation trips for well over 45 million Americans. Many will cover more than 2,000 miles of geography in their search for sunshine and scenery, to dunk in salt water and fresh, to play and to rest.

And a lot of them will feel pretty queasy over every mile of it.

Almost everyone is subject to motion sickness under extreme conditions - and there are many degrees of susceptibility. Further, the person who enjoys a storm at sea may be unhappy in a plane. And carsick children - and dogs - have spoiled many a vacation trip.

No one ever dies of seasickness, we are told. It's victims merely want to! But it should be a comfort to know that the medical profession has moved motion sickness ino the category of preventable disease - thru the use of an easy-to-take drug called meclizine. This not-so-minor triumph was documented by a joint Army-Navy-Air Force study under the direction of Dr. Herbert L. Chinn of the School of Aviation Mericine, USAF and reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association just last year.

The study, which began in 1950, employed half a hundred different remedies on 16,902 military personnel during troop-ship voyages between New York and Bremerhaven, Germany and return. Treatment with 14 of the drugs tested gave "significant protection" against that urge to rush to the ship's rail, and three proved to be outstanding in their stabilizing effect on Army, Navy and Air Force interiors. Of the three, meclizine demonstrated particular effectiveness in tests where patients were given a single dose daily rather than two or three. On long trips, this was considered particularly desirable.

This preventative is now sold in drug stores without prescription and under the name of Bonadettes - so that every mother who is preparing now for a family automobile tour this summer can put it on her shopping list - as well as anyone else of any age who is taking to the wild blue yonder or the deep blue sea.

This Tri-Service study also proved that people who say seasickness "is all in your mind" have never had it!

Edgar Has Company; They're Not Laughing Either----

President Eisenhower drew the biggest laugh of his political career when a reporter at his press conference asked him to comment on news reports that his elder brother, Edgar, then visiting Washington had expressed criticism of the budget, the trend of the Administration and the influence of broher Milton and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

The President's terse but smiling answer, received with gales of prolonged laughter from the assembled press, is now a household quip: "Edgar," he said, "has been criticizing me since I was five years old."

But the incident has not been amusing to millions of Americans who pinned their faith to the Eisenhower campaign promises that brother Edgar also recalled, and the millions whose criticism of the President is a very recent thing - post-budget, to be exact.

Next day, after a White House stag dinner attended by brothers Edgar and Milton, the President sent to Congress suggestions for trimming his requests for appropriations by a little over $1.8 billion. This is probably just a coincidence, and besides, the message explained that this is a proposal to trim, not the $71.8 billion budget, but the "obligational authority" for fiscal 1958 which is estimated at $73.3 billions. In reducing requests for new spending authority, the White House is suggesting the postponement of part of the money asked for in specific budget items, such as military assistance under the mutual security program, military public works, the soil bank program and others.

This is expected to provide a "more promising outlook". But, whether or not brother Edgar's comments suggested this might be in order, we hope his views will encourage the Congress to keep on cutting. . . and to make cuts that will not be replaced after next year's elections with deficiency appropriations.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Last week I reported to you on the conferences held in Paris by the European Subcommittee of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs with NATO officials and representatives of the French and American governments. My report this week covers the remainder of our trip which took us to Vienna, Austria; Munich and Bonn, Germany; and London, England.

Talks With Refugees—

In Vienna, we were able to confer for more than half a day with the U. S. Ambassador to Poland, Joseph E. Jacobs; our Ambassador to Yugoslavia, James W. Riddleberger; our Austrian Charge d'affaires, David Wainhouse and their staffs. Following our conference with these diplomatic officials, we visited a number of the Hungarian refugee camps in Austria, talking personally with many of the refugees. We also visited the Czechoslovakia-Austria border where we could see very plainly the barbed wire fences, the watch towers, and the communist border patrol stations. Later, we had a most interesting an enlightening question and answer session with five prominent newspaper reporters who were in Hungary and Austria during the Hungarian revolt

Before leaving Vienna, we conferred with Austrian Foreign Minister Fiegel and Austrian Minister of the Interior Helmer.

Bunich, Bonn, London—

From Vienna, we went on to Munich where we met with officials of Radio Free Europe. RFE is a private organization which broadcasts information from the West on a round-the-clock basis to nations behind the Iron Curtain. Our purpose in visiting Radio Free Europe was to ascertain the exact contents of their broadcasts made before and during the Hungarian Revolt.

In Bonn, we talked with our Ambassador to Germany, David K. E. Bruce, with other United States officials, and with representatives of the German government.

Specifically, we discussed the East-West trade situation, German reunification, and the status of West German rearmament.

London was our last stop prior to returning to the United States. There we were briefed by John Hay (Jock) Whitney, who is the U. S Ambassador to Great Britain, and by other United States officials. We also had an interesting and informative conference with British Defense Minister Duncan Sandys.

Impressions—

Without attempting to anticipate the content of the committee's report, which we hope to issue in about two weeks, the following constitute a few of my own personal impressions:

First, the Hungarian revolt has seriously weakened the communist movement in the countries that our committee visited.

Second, further uprisings among satellite nations of Eastern Europe, although not likely at the present time, are not impossible; and the United States should formulate a definite policy in this connection.

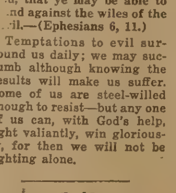
Third, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) is serving as a definite deterrent against further Soviet aggression in Western Europe and should not be allowed to deteriorate.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.—(Ephesians 6, 11.)

Temptations to evil surround us daily; we may succumb although knowing the results will make us suffer. Some of us are steel-willed enough to resist—but any one of us can, with God's help, fight valiantly, win gloriously, for then we will not be fighting alone.



It's My Opinion..

Community Center A Reality Only Through Your Endeavors

No Time To Get Impatient: Just Climb On The Bandwagon

It was brought to our attention this week that some folks are already showing their pettiness by trying to dampen the spirits of those who would have a Community Center in Clanton. It seems to us that this would-be discord being stirred up is completely unwarranted and painfully unnecessary.

No individual stands to gain a thing from this Project. It will be a share-and-share-alike program with everyone in the Community and vicinity deriving the same benefits and getting the same privileges. Perhaps this is the reason those who would stagnate the project feel as they do; their personal glory and recognition will be dimmed by all those taking part and helping.

We can only say, along this line, that for a project of this importance we don't need the assistance of these few who would gain their own ends above the good of the community. We can build our Community Center without them.

As far as Civic Club participation around town, we feel that there is a misunderstanding in that everyone is waiting on everyone else to take the initiative and report on progress, intentions and goals. It is not for one group to decide the future workings of another group, especially on a project that calls for everyone's cooperation and participation in his or her own way.

We'd also like to say here, that if any club or organization plans and carries out a project under the auspices of the Clanton Community Center, then that organization should immediately turn in its receipts to the Finance Committee or the treasurer of the Community Center Commission. For this reason: If funds made are held in reserve to finance another project, which may not prosper as did the first, then you can see where we would be getting on our goal toward the Center.

Any amount, whether a quarter or a hundred dollars, taken in in the name of the Community Center should be immediately turned over to that Commission. It's the only way that everyone will know where we stand on the matter and the only way we can expect an accurate report from the Commission.

There has been such an air of cooperation on the Project that we do not want to see it deteriorate even one percent. Without the cooperation that has been manifested thus far by so many citizens, the percentage, we fear, could be much more than one.

We've been informed that the Commission is determined to see a Community Center in Clanton, regardless, and we feel they are sincere. If enough of us show this same determination we won't let the pettiness of a few spoil such a good thing for so many.

If one person feels that another is not quite good enough to work alongside, then we suggest the person that feels thusly go somewhere else and work alongside someone that meets with his, or her, approval.

And do so without making a fuss. If a person is willing to share in the work of building the Community, Center then we can't think of any person, offhand, that is too good to work next to them.

We have a long way to go, even with the good start attained, and it's certainly too early in the game for anyone to be getting impatient. Some of our citizens have been working on this Project for years and years and the're still plodding along. They are the ones who will see the thing through. Those impatient few may drop out along the way. It isn't somethng you can snap your fingers over and sit down and watch take shape. It takes work, with your mind, your hands and most important your heart.

Let's combine our "manpower" and pull together. . . all in the same direction. No sense in wasting good energy by pulling off to one side or back the other way. We know what our goal is and it's in front of us. Only our combined efforts can put it satisfyingly and satisfactorily behind us.

Keep in mind, that it's for the kids

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

Things We See, Believe;
Things We Hear, Consider

You know, the U. S. Mail and its far-reaching distributor, the Post Office are a controversial lot. They have as many pros and cons as they have pieces of mail. Sometimes their criticisms are warranted, sometimes unfounded and sometimes. . . the shoe fits the other foot and its the P. O. that has cause to beef.

A particular item in mind is those folks who clutter up the Post Office building and grounds with ends of envelopes and other odds and ends. It just seems to be the natural thing (to some folks) to tear open an envelope upon leaving the P. O. and depositing said jiblet into the air. The ground catches the paper naturally, but the P. O. catches the dickens in more ways than one. It has to clean-up the debris, which necessitates many things. We could call names of folks we've seen coming out of the P. O. building and throwing paper down who we'll bet a three cent stamp to a registered letter, would deny that they were ever so careless.

That's precisely the point we're trying to make. Stay alert to what you're doing. Keep your civic and personal pride in the forefront by thinking at all times. We sometimes daydream and forget what we're doing. It's your P. O. and it's also your money they have to spend cleaning up after you. Try to be neat, pals (and gals)!

Say, how many of you nastalgic people recall the traveling circuses that used to play in every small town it came to. They used to always (practically) have a little monkey whom they'd try to team up with someone in a banana eating contest. Always surprised us to see that there were so many "dudes" who'd take them up on the wild scheme and usually come out on the short end of the deal. It was really hard, after the thing was over, to tell who had really made the biggest monkey of himself. Anyway, it was fun to see the little monkey show up the big "monkey". Man, could he eat bananas. Usually outate his opponent by half dozen or more.

It always behooves us to hear someone say they have an uncontrollable temper. There's no such animal. Sometimes we wonder if they aren't proud of the fact, the way they mention it. It's something to worry about rather than prize. It shows a dangerous lack of self control and discipline.

A person who thinks twice before he speaks usually has far less to say than one who doesn't. There must be a reason.

Since we're dwelling on pet peeves this week, there is one in particular which seeems bad to us for the simple fact that the fellow guilty of it is hampering his own progress so. He's the person who cannot, or will not, keep his mind on the subject at hand. For instance if you were teaching him the use of a hammer and you said, "this is the head and you hammer this way" he'd probably remark, "I wonder why they make the handle out of wood?" or "that's pine you're hammering on, isn't it?" Then later, he'd argue with you about something you explained when he wasn't listening. We don't know what's the matter with a fella like that, but it's our opinion that he'd better grow up, and fast or he's gonna miss the proverbial boat and get all wet.

The poor fellow mentioned above will never become good at anything because he always tihnks he's there before he attains his goal. He doesn't stand a chance, at least not in that line of thought.

You know, we should be more like children, whose faith is renewed each day. Not a care in the world because faith is their nature. You can compare the two and easily see which is the happier of the two . . . the child or you.

Laughter is a key to happiness; thus we would say that a lot of laughter should unlock doors to new horizons for you. Try it.

Compare yourself to the locksmith and the key is available to you. It's your business to know how to use it to the greatest advantage.

S'funny the many ways in which different people put off would-be salesmen. Some folks don't want to hurt their feelings and if they can't buy they'll make rash promises or ask them to come back, while others try to insult them merely because they're salesmen. We think the former are too naieve and the latter are hypocrits. We don't deny that some salesmen deserve the axe, but to be insulting to a person simply because he represents something you don't like is, to our way of thinking, very small, in a most obnoxious sense. Most salesmen offer you conveniences that you otherwise wouldn't have access to. You not wanting his product does not make him a heel. We'd rather believe that the heel is the one who treats others with disrespect as if he thought himself better than they. Pettiness and narrow-mindedness are not virtuous and certainly can make you look like a mule (to put it mildly).

Ignorance is becoming a luxury few can afford these days. The head-hidin' days of the Ostrich are apparently on the way out.

Young lady passing in a car holding up her baby. We couldn't tell whether she was showing the baby the sights or the sights the baby. Junior didn't act as if he were enjoying it too much. If she's a normal mother, we'll bet we can guess who was seeing who.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

VICTIM OF CEREBRAL PALSY HEALED

Pity is a beautiful virtue, but compassion is lovelier. Pity extends sympathy and condolence, but compassion wraps her arms around the object.

The priest and the Levite had pity upon the Jew as he lay helpless by the wayside, but compassion came by in the person of the lowly Samaritan. Not satisfied to sympathize from afar, he went down into the ditch; made the dying man's problem his own personal business.

That is what motivates my ministry. I know what it is to be dying by the wayside—I had tuberculosis in both lungs. I know the pity and sympathy of loved ones and friends—but there is one who had compassion for me. He is the same one who had compassion upon a blind man named Bartimaeus, upon a demoniac, a sinking disciple, a weeping widow, a dying thief. When he stopped by me one night and healed me, a compassion for other sufferers filled my soul

For the past 10 years, a vibrant desire to tell others about him has sent me across this continent and around the world. I've felt the thrill of compassion over and over while ministering to the needy. When I'm able to help through faith and God's power, my soul leaps within me I, too, have been a sufferer. I know the marvelous resources in the touch of the Master's hand

Let me quote a letter from one who was helped through faith in God. "I took my young granddaughter, Elizabeth, to your campaign for prayer. A birth injury had affected her brain. She was a retarded child. She couldn't talk; had no sense of balance; was unable to do anything for herself.

"While you prayed I held her in my arms. After you finished, I looked into her face. It was aglow with light! She smiled! I put her down. She started running with complete balance. She is entirely well. She plays and talks like a normal 4-year-old. We can never thank God enough." Mrs. L. D., Arizona.

"Is anything too hard for the Lord?" was a question asked centuries ago. As you answer that question, remember Jesus' statement, "According to your faith be it unto you" (Matthew 9:29).

Faith is not something you get or borrow from God. Faith is something you already have. The Bible tells us: "God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith" (Romans 12:3). But faith unused is like an automobile stowed away in a garage. Unless you drive it, the car is of no use to you.

And faith, to be effective, must be used. I coined the saying, "Turn your faith loose." I believe that's exactly what happens. When you believe God and expect him to do what he has promised, then you cut the bonds off your faith. You release its potential power so that it becomes active for your benefit as well as for others. Only believe, and life becomes abundant for you.

Tribute To Mother—

This is one of our very sacred days, (May 12th), the oldest day set aside for us to honor. God made Eve for Adam and Eve means Mother of All. She was mother o all living beings. God really set aside Mother's Day. But it took the lawmaking bodies in recent years to designate a certain day in each year to be known as Mother's Day. The 2nd Sunday in May is that day.

A white flower is worn in memory of a deceased mother, a red one in tribute to a living one.

The young people had charge of the Sunday School, with each teaching a class or participating in some part of the service in observance of 4-H Club Youth Day. The attendance for Sunday School was fair and we were happy to have all our visitors. We also had a wonderful worship service as Bro. Hornsby brought a great message pertaining to young people.

The attendance for Training Union was about as usual and we had a good lesson. We would like for more people to attend Training Union. We invite each and every one to come to church on Sunday night, as well as Sunday morning.

Bro. Hornsby brought another great message from the book of Romans, chapter eight.

Everyone remember the Youth Rally and try to attend Saturday night.

Educational Jaunt--

Grammar School Group Makes Annual Trip To State Park

Editor's Note—Annually several classes of the Elementary School in Clanton tour Mound State Park on an educational jaunt. In cooperation with the teachers and the youngsters we are publishing some of the children's ideas and learnings that they brought back with them.

A Trip To Mound State Park—

On Friday morning, bright and clear,
Cheery voices you could hear.
The cars were lined up, ready to go,
The air had a slight and gentle blow.
On the way were many trees,
And there was also a slight breeze.
We stopped one time to drink and eat,
But were still dressed very neat.
On the mounds we had a great time,
There were many relics we could find.
And from their heights we looked away,
Wondering about their ancient day.

—GUY RAY

Mound State Park—

A trip to Moundville we did take,
In the early morning, just about eight.
Into the cars we all did go,
And sang some songs we were sure to know.
So into Mound State Park we came.
We arrived just after playing a game.
Into the souvenir shop we fled,
But first we heard what gentleman said.
In the pits were many bones,
In the room slides were shown.
Into another room we fled,
To see Indians who've long been dead.
Then to the picnic ground we went,
Where an hour's time was gladly spent.
Then some pictures I did take,
On the picnic grounds beyond the lake.
Up Mound B we then climbed,
Racing. A winner we wanted to find.
There from its height we gazed afar,
Wondering what all those mounds were for.
Next we left to find Smith Hall.
I think that was most interesting of all.
Out of Smith Hall we did come.
Oh, we had had so much fun!

—MARY K. MOODY

At Moundville—

Our Class to Mound State Monument went,
After getting permission from the gent,
The one that has all things in charge,
From the tiniest tool to Mound B, large.
We took that trip on a bright spring day,
When all of us were bright and gay.
He kindly met us at the door,
Where many classes had entered before.
When we were hungry, 'twas noon we found,
And we hurried away to the picnic ground;
Then we went to big Mound B,
What a far distant view we could see.

—JERRY PRICE

Mound State Park—

Away we go to Mound State Park,
Where bones are as old as Noah's Ark.
To see these things it'll cost us small,
But, really, to us it's none at all.
Then we go to the great outdoors,
To a river once paddled by Indian oars,
Where blossoms bestow sweet, fragrant odors,
And winds whisper like countless motors.
'Round to Mound B, what a wonderful sight!
Where Temples once stood — I know that's right.
'Tis small wonder that everyone's gay,
Yes, everyone's happy in the very same way.

—BUTCH GLASSCOCK

To Moundville—

Mrs. Thomas asked, "Are you ready to go?"
"Of course we are," said we;
So off we sped to Moundville town,
To see what we could see.
We saw an Indian, who was dead,
As dead as dead could be.
For centuries long he'd lain there,
As you quite well can see.
We went to a building, big and tall,
Sawrocks, bears, and diamonds, too.
The many treasures stored there.
Impressed us through and through.

—KARLA CHRISTIANSEN

Our Moundville Trip—

On Friday morning, bright and gay,
To Mound State Park we made our way.
Quite joyously we sped ahead,
Dreaming of food we would be fed.
Along the way, we stopped at two stations,
Having our fill, of drinks and rations.
We entered the monument in single file,
Acting sedately and not wild.
North Pit burial we went into first,
To see the Indians' bones at their worst.
Next, along the walls of the largest room,
The civilization of those ancients loomed.
Into South burial pit we sauntered next,
To see bones of ancient Indians, each sex.
A lecture was given to us in each pit,
To measure our intelligence and test our wit.
We walked into that large room again,
Accompanied by mothers and some men.
Before our class left this museum.
Susan thanked the people for let'n us see them.
The bones — I meant in the other verse,
Because you might think I mean worse.
The picnic area was very clean,
And while we were there, none were mean.
On to Smith Hall we then went.
On learning we were surely bent.
There were minerals, also a meteorite.
I busily took notes on a story to write.
The second floor was so enchanting,
As we ascended almost panting.
There we saw diamonds and jewels rare.
And on the third floor an Alaskan bear.
We then returned home, happy, not sad.
Yes, happy because of the good times we'd had.

—SHERRY WYATT

The Better Speech Club really had a thrill.
For we were going to Moundville.
When our parents and cars arrived that day.
The Better Speech Club was on its way.
On the way, we saw lovely red clover,
It looked like it covered the ground all over.
Past Centreville we stopped for a drink.
But were on our way as quick as a wink.
When we reached the monument, we went right in,
Mr. DeJarnette was waiting there with a grin.
The director is surely a very nice man,
He made our stay simply grand.
Inside the monument was much to see.
Things that really delighted me.
There were pottery and Indian bones,
Indian art, and interesting stones.
Then to the picnic grounds we headed,
This was something no one dreaded.
After lunch we raced up big Mound B.
And from the top, what a sight we could see!
Before going home, we went to Smith Hall;
This was a thrill for one and all.
On the first floor, many things were in sight,
We even saw the Hodge's meteorite.
On the second floor, there were rocks to see,
Rocks from far across the sea.
There were marble, talc, and aragonite,
Chalk, clay and marcasite.
On the third floor, there were stuffed animals, galore.
They were so interesting, I wish there were more.
There were stuffed rattlesnakes and a polar bear.
A cougar, even an Alaskan brown bear.

Our Trip—

During the year of fifty seven and six,
We studied of men who were using picks
To uncover the ruins of ancient tribes,
And bones of those who had lost their lives.
During our study we visited a place,
To see remains of the Mongoloid race.
We visited Moundville one bright Spring day,
And, chatting merrily, had fun all the way.
Our leaders made [illegible] for us to obey,
So we would have a happy day.
The cars to take us arrived at eight.
We all were prompt so we wouldn't be late.
We stopped [illegible] Bibb on eighty-two,
Where some bought drinks and candy, too.
On to Hale we made our way,
And entered pits where burials lay.
Then we looked at the exhibits there;
Saw trinkets and tools that were very rare.
After our visit we went to lunch,
A joyous, merry, happy 'bunch'.
From the picnic grounds we went to Mound B.
We had a race up, but they didn't leave me.
When we came down and went to the car,
Everyone was feeling up to par.
We saw a quartz crystal and a meteorite.
The rocks and minerals were a beautiful sight.
We saw a tree that was petrified,
Because it was broken, it was on its side
We saw an exhibit of the planets and sun,
And more beauty of whatnature has done.
On the balcony were stuffed animals and bones,
And snakes adorned with beautiful tones.
We [illegible] through Partlow's and Bry[illegible] grounds,
After seeing Smith Hall and the Indian mounds.

At Mound State Park—

On a bright and warm day,
To Mound State Park we made our way.
To see the graves where people lay,
Among their pottery made of clay.
When we arrived and had seen the sight,
We ate our dinner with delight,
Those sandwiches so soft and light.
We climbed Mound B after lunch.
We liked the mounds very much.

Moundville—

A place called Moundville we decided to see —
The whole sixth grade, including me.
We saw some skeletons that looked so scary,
I thought I'd better go with Ann and Mary.
We went to the eating-place and ate our food,
Every little bit 'cause 'twas really good.
We went to Smith Hall and saw some rocks —
Very pretty; they didn't look like blocks.

Mulberry Baptist Church—
Joel B. Lucas, pastor

The pastor will be back in the pulpit this Sunday. Bro. Lucas completed a Revival at the Hill Crest Baptist Church last Sunday. This Sunday is Mother's Day and we would like to recognize all mothers at our Morning Worship Services. We also are expecting to have a special program arranged in remembrance of our mothers and the home. All members are urged to be present for Sunday School and Worship Services.

The choir robes that were purchased for our church are here and the choir will have on their robes for the first time. We are expecting a great day for the Lord. Surely we will receive just as much as we expect from God.

We were glad to have Bro. J. B. Mizzell in our Church to preach for us last Lord's Day. May the Lord Bless him as he works.

The pastor went to Selma Baptist Hospital Monday to see Mrs. R R. Webster, who underwent an operation there. He also saw Lowel Stroud, Derril Stroud, Claughton Earl Kendrick at the Selma Baptist Hospital and James Smitherman and Clyde Kendrick at the Vaughn Memorial Hospital. These folks were all in a severe car wreck Saturday night. Our prayers go out to these boys that they may have a speedy return home. Mrs. R. R. Webster is a faithful member of our Church and we sincerely pray that God will heal her and send her back to her home.

The [illegible] business meeting of Mulberry [illegible] held following the Morning Worship Service Sunday morning. The pastor and Sunday School Supt. urges all members to be present for all business meetings.

On Wednesday night of last week there was a good crowd at the School house for Family Night. Each organization had their own business meeting and Missionary Program.

Cattle Industry On Increase In Chilton County And Vicinity

BEEF PRICES GOING UP; CATTLEMEN GET READY

According to official U.S.D.A. estimates recently released by Alabama Division of Agricultural Statistics, the number of cattle on Chilton County farms January 1, 1957 was 19,700 animals.

Of the 19,700 cattle in the County, 13,600 were estimated to be beef cattle and 6,100 dairy animals.

Regardless of the fact that w[illegible] have fewer farmers producing dai[illegible] and beef cattle, the total numb[illegible] kept on farms by remaining cattl[illegible] men has increased.

With the forecast for slight [illegible] creases in beef prices in com[illegible] months, and with substantial [illegible] provement in quality of beef ca[illegible] now going to market from Chilt[illegible] County farms, the 1957 total inco[illegible] from beef should show an encou[illegible] aging upward trend.

"WHAT a clean and neat town!" the visitor exclaimed. "Why, they even painted their fireplugs!"

This is an actual comment of a visitor to an Alabama town after having visited other localities. Then he wanted to know about schools, about churches, about recreation, clubs and related things.

He asked about water supply, sanitation facilities, adequacy of fuel and power and of raw materials and other manufacturing necessities.

He inquired about the availability of the kind of help he would need.

He wanted to meet some of the public officials and other leaders in the community.

Finally, he asked to visit some of the existing industries in the town.

When asked why, he replied, "The best way for us to learn whether or not a community would like to have us become a part of it is to inquire about its relationship with industries already located there. If it is pleasant, we may safely assume that our relationship also would be satisfactory."

"Why are painted fireplugs important to you?" he was asked. "An unpainted fireplug may work just as well as a painted one," he observed, "but a rust-streaked fireplug suggests that maintenance might be poor, and inattention to fireplugs might also be an indication of inattention to other important things in a community. Certainly other things being equal, an attractive, clean, neat, well-maintained community makes a much better initial impression. When we observe that, we are almost certain to learn that the other things also exist which modern indusry would like to have available for its employees — good schools, churches, recreational facilities, adequate municipal services, cordial relationship."

(This story of the painted fireplugs is from an actual experience of our Industrial Development Department. The industry decided to locate in the town described after having viewed several others.)

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

URINARY TRACT INFECTIONS

Infections of the urinary tract are common to everyone, afflicting children and adults alike. Some are controlled by the sulphonamide and antibiotic drugs through medical management, while others require surgical correction.

The urinary tract includes both kidneys, the passages or tubes which run from the kidneys to the bladder, the urinary bladder and the passage or tube which runs from the bladder to the exterior. Chronic infections may produce high blood pressure, decrease the patients' usefulness, and may produce a slow destruction of kidney substance leading to loss of one kidney or, when both are involved, eventually leading to insufficient kidney function. When this occurs, uremia or poisoning develops and death is the result.

Infections of the area are usually caused by bacteria which are filtered from the blood stream by the kidney. These bacteria are almost continually being absorbed from such locations as the nose and throat, the bowel, breaks in the skin and by the blood stream. A number of these are filtered from the blood stream by the kidney; and, under normal conditions, they leave the body in the urine. Any condition which slows up this process and gives these bacteria a chance to multiply makes infection possible. There are certain exceptions, however, such as occuring in the bedridden patient or in the female infant.

Other causes of urinary tract infections are the development of tumors or growths which may arise anywhere along the urinary tract or in structures adjacent to the tract. These form obstructions which slow up the excretion of urine containing the rapidly multiplying bacteria. The formation of stones in the kidney may also be a cause.

The value of a periodic medical examination including a urinalysis cannot be overemphasized. As in other conditions, early detection of abnormal conditions is essential. Infections of the urinary tract, if neglected, not only may prove painful but also may have long-range debilitating effects. Once extensive damage to the kidneys is established, the outlook is dim indeed.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Some teen-agers were making a race track out of Glendale Drive the other afternoon and officer Clanton Parrish investigated. We were not the one who called the police, but we heartily commend the one who did. In that neighborhood there is anywhere from one to six small children in most every home and they are crossing the street to the playground or the neighbors constantly. It was thoughtless of the boys and we are sure they meant no harm, but just were not thinking. Whoever the boys were, we hope from now on they release their pent up energy for racing out at the Drag Strip.

Sunday, Mrs. Mamie C. Smith received her 37th bouquet of flowers from Mrs. Frank Callen. It was Mother's Day. Can you imagine the love that has gone into all those flowers for all those years. Few mothers are remembered by their own children so constantly. But we know many, many folks who love Mrs. Mamie C. who don't send her flowers. And speaking of Mrs. Smith reminds us that she is leaving for a wedding. Her great granddaughter is getting married at Trussville. That's Frank's granddaughter. You oldtimers will remember him. Now Mrs. Mamie C. is just waiting until she can see one of her great great grandchildren. By-the-way, she's 83 years young and looking forward to 90.

A very chic young woman walked into a furniture store and sought out one of the salesmen. She wanted advice on how to augment her present furnishings.

The salesman asked: "What is the motif—modern, provincial, oriental or early American?"

"Well," she replied, "we were just recently married so our style is sort of Early Matrimony—some of my mother's and some of his mother's."

Mrs. Minnie Wade says the "99's" are giving away a free airplane ride at Gragg Field next Sunday. However, to make a little money for their Chapter they are charging everyone but the lucky winner a penny a pound to take a ride over Clanton. Let's see now, if we can get Joe Campbell out there, they won't need a very big crowd to make some real dough. No kidding, it's for a good cause, go out and fly.

The policeman stopped the speeding motorist and asked, "Where's the fire buddy?"

And the anguished man behind the wheel replied: "In the place my wife's going to give me if I miss the plane her mother's coming in on!"

We noticed an interesting item in the Mt. Pisgah News. On Mother's Day prizes of beautiful flowers were given to Mrs. Dora Partridge and Mrs. Myra Patterson for being the oldest and youngest mothers to attend church on that Sunday. Now what we want to know is how they ever got a woman to admit she was the oldest woman there. Reckon that reporter got her facts straight?

Father frowned disapprovingly as he watched his young son reach for the last piece of cake. "Tommy, you're a pig," he declared. "Do you know what a pig is?" "Yes sir," mumbled Tommy, his mouth full of cake. "A pig is a hog's little boy."

In Local Cafe----

Charlie Mims Kills Wife, Self Monday

Charlie Mims, 51, shot and killed his wife Flora Mims, in the Theatre Cafe, Monday afternoon at 1:30, and then turned the gun on himself and put a 22-calibre bullet through his own temple.

Officers reported that the couple had been having marital troubles for some time and Mrs. Mims had secured a divorce from her husband.

They were the parents of two married sons, Charles Jr., and Lawrence.

Leroy Martin, County Coroner, stated that Mrs. Mims died soon after the shooting and Mims died an hour later at Chilton County Hospital.

Charlie Mims for years operated a taxi service with his late brother and later operated the Clanton Lunchroom. Presently he operated a drive-in ice cream stand at Thorsby. Mrs. Mims was a waitress at the cafe where she was killed.

The shooting was witnessed by five diners and two cafe employees.

Sheriff Hugh Champion was quoted as saying the slaying and suicide happend like this:

Mims, who ate at the cafe regularly, approached his wife at breakfast and asked her to reconsider their separation. Mrs. Mims refused to sit down with her ex-husband and told him: "I'll never live with you again." Mims asked, "Is that final?" When she answered, "Yes", Mims stalked out of the cafe.

At 1:30 p.m. Mims entered and ordered a soft drink. The first clue witnesses had of trouble was when they heard Mrs. Mims scream, "No. Don't do it, Charlie." Mims was behind the counter and aimed the pistol at his ex-wife who was arranging glasses.

The first shot hit her over her right eye and spun her around. Mims pumped two more into her back and then stood over her and shot her fatally in the chest three times. Two other bullets misfired and he then put the pistol to his right temple and pulled the trigger. Mims fell into his wife's arms. He died an hour later at the hospital, Sheriff Champion said.

Columbiana will have Howard Merrill, [illegible] pounder demonstrating [illegible] pitching form that has had big league scouts looking for more than a year. West Blocton is sending [illegible] Hicks, a 210 pound catcher and [illegible] White, 180 pounds of do-it-all"—and both are already signed to scholarships at the University of Alabama.

Chilton County will have James Carl Deason and Joe Thomas Ousley of Billingsley, J. W. Bush and Bill Ray of Jemison, W. C. Hayes and Harold Motley of Maplesville, and Terry Jones and Ralph (Herb) Vines of Clanton.

Ed. Note: Billingsley is included in the Chilton County lineup because of its nearness geographically. Actually it is in Autauga County

For the most part, this is a game of Seniors, but Holtville is sending a Freshman by the name of Billy Wilson; and a Soph, Tommy Gibbons. Others from Elmore County will be J. D. Lee and Charles Tatum from Marbury. Tatum, in addition to his talents as a short stop, is Valedictorian of his Class and has served the Seniors as their president

This game is always played for the benefit of Alabama Sight, Inc.—a very major project with all Alabama Lions Clubs; and a very special charity for many people in Chilton County who are not necessarily Lions Club members.

Mr. "B[illegible]" Silverfield, Birmingham business man and chairman of all 13 past East-West Games, has advised that Mr. Ronnie Weatherly will cover the local game for the Birmingham News; but the identity of the major league scouts has not been reported. The scouts and sports writers will choose two boys from our game to play in the Birmingham game on Friday night, June 7th; and plans are already being discussed to furnish transportation for our Little Leaguers and Babe Ruth Leaguers to that game.

Remember, game time is 7:30. Plenty of time to get home and eat supper and still make the game.

And that's this coming Saturday evening, 18th.

SOLONS CONDUCT JUNTA PARLEY SANS SOUCI

By Vernon P. Payne

A definite lull in agitation, perhaps brought on by spring fever, was quite evident in Monday's meeting of the Board of Revenue and Control. No controversial matters were brought up and what few resolutions were proposed received a unanimous vote from the four members. In fact, the lack of static in the air turned the session into a dull affair, with few onlookers remaining throughout the proceedings.

A delegation asked that the Cotton Mill Road be paved all the way to the Liberty Hill Road and the County Engineer informed the Board that it would be wise to make the Liberty Hill Road 20 feet wide instead of the usual 18'. With these matters brought to agreement, the usual business was disposed of and the Board adjourned, again with a unanimous approval.

Verbena P.M. Asks Cooperation During Improvement Prog.

The Annual Rural Mail Box Improvement Program will be observed this year for a 2-week period beginning June 3

Rural mailboxes which are improperly erected or in unserviceable condition retard delivery of mail and expose it to the weather. The Department wishes to encourage rural patrons to provide suitable receptacles, erected and maintained for easy and safe accessibility, presenting a neat appearance, and affording protection to the mail

Names of box owners should be inscribed on the side visable to the carrier, and boxes and supports should be kept painted.

Rural mail boxes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers in all cases where traffic conditions are such that it would be dangerous for the carriers to drive to the left in order to serve the boxes, or where their doing so would constitute a violation of state or local traffic laws and regulations. The bottom of the boxes should be 3½ to 4 ft. from the ground.

Your coperation will be appreciated by the rural carriers from the Verbena Post Office.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

THE habit is good if you rule it—bad if it rules you.

SILENCE is the theme song of the school of experience.

REFRAIN from saying anything and you will keep others guessing.

WORK makes for success—luck is a distant relative.

THE man who tries to live on promises isn't long for this world.

IF every bird was early there would be a shortage of worms.

JUST because you have an iron will doesnt mean that you won't grow rusty.

ANY man who marries a woman with plenty of money will soon realize that money talks.

Paying The Piper Too Much----

News stories carried this week, tell of Uncle Sam paying a "Jazz Orchestra" $100,000 for a six weeks tour of Europe. In the same papers, news stories appeared saying President Eisenhower would take his budget to the people.

What we wish to know is how the President is going to explain that $100,000 paid to a jazz orchestra for a six weeks engagement in Europe is justifiable or be of any earthly benefit to the American taxpayer.

That is only one of the hundreds of foolish things we taxpayers are footing the bills for.

Granted that the President is a good man; that he has a wonderful personality; that he is the favorite of millions; but let's see him talk the American people into a 71 billion dollar budget while, according to the Hoover Report, hundreds of unnecessary bureaus and committees are draining the taxpayer dry.

THEY'RE SEEING SNAKES!----

Mayor J. Hollis Jackson of Clanton appreciates the way the citizens of the city are cooperating in the "Clean Up Campaign", but cautions them to look out for snakes when cutting in high grass or weeds. Several civic minded citizens who were doing their bit in cleaning up about their premises, have run into snakes and the Mayor is calling the fact to the attention of others who might do the same thing.

If you do run into such a situation, just be sure you see the snake before the snake sees you.

To The Graduates----

Congratulations! To all the graduates in Chilton County who step out into the big, wide, beautiful world on their own, beginning next week.

Never before have there been more opportunities for the young man or young woman who is willing to apply himself, or herself.

Some will go to the various colleges, some to work at jobs that have been fascinating to them and will train them in some specialized field. But, wherever you go, wherever you are, remember. . .

It is honesty and integrity that will win. "To thine own self be true, and as night follows day. . . ."

Your Health

Strike At Polio—Now

What are you doing to cut down poliomyelitis as a threat to good health? Are you among the vast army of adults and children who, despite all the warnings, yet remain to be inoculated against this cause of prolonged illness and possible severe crippling? Are you one of those who cried out for something to be done about polio, but now that a preventive inoculation is available you refuse its advantageous protection for you and your children?

Within the past two years, the most effective weapon yet developed against polio has emerged from the medical research laboratory—a preventive vaccine.

When polio strikes, even though sporadically, fear and panic set in. Why? Because polio is a communicable disease, and one case may be the beginning of an epidemic. But the three inoculations recommended for protection against poliomyelitis may eliminate you as a possible paralytic victim.

While poliomyelitis vaccine also has been found effective in the nonparalytic type of polio, medical research has proved conclusively that immunization will now lessen and even curb the onslaught of paralytic poliomyelitis.

All persons between the ages of six months and forty should be vaccinated against polio. All pregnant women should be inoculated, regardless of age, since they are most susceptible to the disease.

How is the vaccine administered? By injection. How often? Three times. An interval of from two to six weeks should elapse between the first and second injections and seven months between the second and third doses.

Immunization against communicable disease has proved effective in a number of conditions that were once a threat to health and life. Now that paralytic poliomyelitis can be safely included in this group, why don't you do your part? See your physician now. Get that first injection. See about the second and third. Insist that your family be given similar protection. Carry on a personal campaign to help eliminate polio from your community. Talk it up to your friends, neighbors, co-workers. With your help and cooperation, your physician can strike at polio before it strikes you.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In a speech I delivered recently in Tuscaloosa to the state convention of Exchange Clubs, I explained how closely our mutual security or foreign aid program is interwoven with out entire defense structure. While I emphasized that our country could ill afford to abandon this program at the present time, I pointed out that, in my opinion, reductions could be made in the amount requested for the program by President Eisenhower without endangering the security of this country. The President's decision last week to reduce his foreign aid request by a half billion dollars confirmed my views on this subject.

Although $500 million constitutes a cut of approximately 12 per cent in the President's original request for mutual security funds, I am reasonably confident that, after a careful review of the entire program by the Committee on Foreign Affairs, additional reductions can be made without danger to our defense establishment.

Warrior Lock And Dam—

Last week I appeared before both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees and urged the approval of $2,192,000 for the completion of the Warrior Lock and Dam This sum is contained in the President's budget request and, according to the United States Corps of Engineers, will be sufficient to complete this structure by early next year.

The Warrior Lock and Dam is located on the Warrior River between Hale and Greene Counties, and the construction of this important installation began in the fall of 1954.

Housing Bill Passed—

A housing bill designed to lower FHA down payments and to stimulate the supply of mortgage credit for the home-building industry was passed by the House of Representatives last Thursday.

Under the terms of this legislation, the present FHA minimum down payment of five per cent on the first $9000 of appraised value is lowered to three per cent. On the next $6000 of appraised value, the bill requires a down payment of 15 per cent; and between $15,000 and $25,000 the home-buyer would have to make a down payment of 30 per cent.

In order to supply more cash for the home-financing market, the bill authorizes the Federal National Mortgage Association to buy up an additional $1.25 billion of FHA-insured mortgages.

Viet Nam President—

One of the strongest and most effective foes of international communism, President Ngo Dinh Diem of Viet Nam, addressed a joint session of Congress last Thursday. This leader of a nation of some 12 million people discussed his nation's geographical vulnerability but emphasized his determination to continue the fight against communist aggression and infiltration.

At a small luncheon given on the same day by Vice President Nixon for the Vietnamese leader, I had an opportunity to talk personally with President Diem.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

Things We See, Believe;
Things We Hear, Consider

It seems to us that the only way Clanton will have its Community Center is to publicize the fact that it needs one. Also, we need to publicize ALL the facts as to who is working on what, when and where. It's the only way we'll get any unity without which, there'll be no Clanton Community Center. Publicity is knowledge and public knowledge, it would seem, is very necessary if we want results on this, or any other project. How about it, neighbor?

We were coming up from the river Sunday afternoon when we saw a fella stop his car right in the middle of the road, jump out and run over to the side. He then jerked his arm up into sight again and there on the end was a snake. No the snake didn't bite him, it seems it was the snake who got it in the end (and does he have a crick in his neck). For those of you who don't know, the object of this little game is to get the snake by the tail and snap his head off (sometimes literally). We don't recommend the sport. Evidently this fella was far from being a beginner. Had he been, it might have been the bull by the horns instead of the snake by the tail.

The local Civitan Club is coming into its election period and new officers will be the result. As far as membership is concerned this Club is one of the most active we have ever heard of or seen. They have very good attendance. Were it in our power to make predictions, we don't feel we would (about the elections) because there are some talented men on the ticket. As far as we're concerned there are very few members of the Civitan Club who couldn't hold practically any position entrusted to them. We think that's the makings of a mighty fine organization and one which will be an irreplaceable asset in this community, which is now in its prime. Growing, building and looking ahead.

Look around you at the progressive undertakings that Chilton Countians have embarked upon during the past few years. Buildings are being planned, projects of all sorts, community centers all over the County. Then look around again and count how many civic organizations and civic-minded individuals are backing these projects. Proof positive, we think, of the effects the boosters can have when they make a sustained effort. No wonder we call Clanton and Chilton County ". . . A Better Place To Live".

Banker McKinney down here at Peoples Savings may lead a distinguished life while putting in his eight hours or so, but when he gets home it's an entirely different story. It seems someone (the possibility of it being 'mamma' is not overruled) has taught McKinney Jr. to click his tongue, you know, the way you say geddap to a horse. When Johnny goes out to do a little wagon-pulling (after a lot of coaxing) the driver of the buggy likes to make like daddy's a 20-mule team. Say Johnny, we have a sure cure: Next time they put on the feed bag, don't eat nuthin'!

We told you advertising pays. Cecil Powell should be glad to know, that according to a sign between here and the river, crickets still drink Royal Crown Cola.

They always said Eisenhower was a big man. He thinks big anyway: 71 billion dollars doesn't seem to sound like much to him. Us little thinkers (and big payers) think he's thinking just a little too big. We can't keep up with him, or we should say, we can't keep him up.

The Editor,
Chilton County News
Clanton, Alabama

My dear sir:

As a former resident of Clanton for many years and the first County Engineer to hold office in the County under both the former Judges of Probate, the Honorable L. H. Reynolds, now no longer with us, and Hon. J. Lee Smith, and with thousands of friends throughout the County, including the present Judge, "Bud" Tingle, C. B. Cox, the McKees, Easterlings, Mullins', Headleys, Jones' etc., I would like to have the enclosed item of mine in your paper for them to know that I am still standing for those things of good report.

This item was carried in the Alabama Journal on May 1, and I have been called upon for numerous copies. . . . I would like to have 25 copies of the paper to send to those who are calling on me for it. . . .

With kindest regards to all my old friends there, I am

Yours very truly,
-s- THOMAS J. ARLEDGE, Engineer-Author, Ala. Hwy. Dept.

Editor, Alabama Journal

I respectfully submit for your consideration and use in your editorial columns if found consistent, the following comment on two Associated Press news items in the Journal April 24th under Washington date line relative to the administration's Civil Rights program now under consideration by Congress.

The first item entitled: "Brownell Cites 'Great Pressure' in Rights Cases," in which the attorney general said his department had been under "great pressure" in the last year to intervene in "shocking" civil rights cases and that he had urged Congress in his annual report, to enact the administration's civil rights program to give the government "more flexible" powers. In this annual report, many "shocking" incidents of violation of civil rights were cited by Mr. Brownell, specifically the killing of Rev. George W. Lee and the shooting of Gus Courts, both leading Negro agitators of the NAACP in Mississippi. He also cited the kidnapping and murder of Emmet Louis Till, the young Negro from the North who had insulted a white woman with apparently, wanton attempt to provoke and incite discord in this small Mississippi town.

The second item, "Sparkman Against Ike's 'Rights' Bills," on which Senator Sparkman announced his support of a resolution adopted by the Alabama League of Municipalities opposing federal civil rights legislation.

Mr. Sparkman restated his view that President Eisenhower's civil rights program would "destroy trial by jury and give the attorney general of the United States complete dictatorial powers over local law enforcement officers." And he further stated, "I am not willing to give any attorney general of the United States such great authority, and that is especially true of the one now in office."

This writer fully concurs with Senator Sparkman that the proposed civil rights bill would be a traversity and plague upon the people of the Southland upon whom the provisions of such a proposal are specifically directed. Its purpose is that diabolic and malicious desire to enforce upon the people of the Southland the rule of thumb so prevalent in those countries under the tyrannic rule of communism!

Any citizen of the United States having the most meager understanding of the provisions in the first nine Articles of the Constitution must realize that the enactment of the proposed civil rights bill in its present form would be in direct conflict with such provisions denying the Supreme Court the authority to enact any type of laws, and must nullify: (1) the very first line of Article I of the Constitution that vest all legislative powers granted by the Constitution in the Congress. (2), it must nullify Section 7 of Article I which provides that federal laws may not be made without the concurrence of the President or th concurrence of two-thirds of th members of both Houses of Co gress. (3) It must nullify Secti 8 of Article I which confers up the Congress the power to make laws for carrying into execution th powers conferred upon the judicia (4) It must nullify the limitat placed upon the judiciary by Art III which restricts the judiciary "cases and controversies," and limi the appellate power of the Supr Court to law and fact, with su exceptions, and under such regu tions as the Congress shall mak (5) It must nullify that part of A ticle VI that requires that all those who make or enforce laws the United States, state or feder shall take an oath "to support th Constitution." (6) It must nul all of our cherished guaranties freedom, catalogued in the Bill Rights.

One who insists that the decisi of the Supreme Court in "Brow et al.," of May 17, 1954, is the "la of the land" either knows better he doesn't. If he knows better is depraved. If he doesn't kno better he is ignorant. If he is ig norant he must be taught, and depraved he must be shunned!

For its fateful decision in th case, the Supreme Court cited "M dern Authority." With that lea research has at last turned up "authority" that the court followe without citing. It is the "Course Criminal Procedure" by Andrei V shinsky, published in Moscow. that book Vishinsky said: "Sovi justice is an effective organ of S viet policy." He described the func tions of the Soviet judge, saying "He should not aim merely at judi cial logic: he should always be con scious that the law is nothing othe than the expression of policy of th party! In practice, this means th the Soviet judge, in case of contra diction between the law and th general line of the party, shoul not hesitate to set aside the applica tion of the law and obey absolut the directions of the party, whic represents for him the suprem law!"

That is "Brown, et al.," and th fateful decision on integration o the White and Negroes in the public schools and other facilities o the Southland; to compel by forc of armed might if necessary, th amalgamation, regimentation an mass-conformity of the peoples o the South into a single social uni composed of all races, regardless o character and morals. And if th proposed administrations' civil right program is ever enacted it will mean the beginning of deterioration an destruction of individuality and individual initiative and action that has alone, brought us to the highest peak of civilization, achievement and development the world has ever known!

The free press of the entire nation should get wholeheartedly behind a movement to defeat any attempt to revoke the provisions of the Constitution that have kept us free from the rule of tyranny since its inception. Congress should make a full investigation of the efforts behind this concerted drive to overthrow the principles of the American form of government as spelled out in the Constitution. Congress should leave no stone unturned to discover the identity of those responsible for and directing this drive.

Telephone Talk

SPRINGTIME IS SPRUCE-UP TIME! And folks all over town are talking about the way those smart color telephones bring the breath of spring (and a lot of convenience) to their homes. Soft colors like ivory, yellow and beige are mighty popular, probably because of the feminine influence in our homes. Six other shades to choose from, too—gay as a spring garden—for contrast or harmony with room decorations. But take a tip from me. Most of all, you'll like the many, many steps extra phones will save around your home. If you'll give our Business Office a ring, we'll give you the full story on how to make yours a "well-telephoned" home, at low cost.

"IT'S A GIRL!" When there's a "blessed event" in the family the happy Dad just can't wait to get to the phone to share the good news. And when baby comes home, the same phone helps so many ways. It goes to the drug store, department stores, doctor's office. And it's like that with all of us. Just think how often the telephone eases your mind . . . buys things you need . . . makes life easier and more pleasant every day. These days you take your phone for granted, and we want you to. In days to come you'll see lots of exciting new things . . . telephone TV, for instance . . . that will make your phone even more a part of pleasant living.

TELEPHONE TIPS—Your out-of-town calls go through twice as fast when you give the operator the number of the person you're calling . . . Your telephone cord will never tangle again once you get a handy, stretchy spring cord . . . You solve shopping problems fast when you check the Yellow Pages first for the product or service you need.

Here's A Thought For All Of Us

(Editor's Note: The following article was sent in by Ruby L. Davis of the Ebenezer Baptist Church. The title is "Something To Think About").

Are you an active member, the kind that would be missed,
Or are you just contented that your name is on the list?
Do you attend the meetings and mingle with the flock,
Or do you stay at home and criticize and knock?
Do you take an active part to help the work along,
Or are you satisfied to be the kind that "just belong"?
Do you ever go visit a member that is sick,
Or leave the work to just a few and talk about the "clique"?
There's quite a program scheduled that I'm sure you've heard about
And we'll appreciate it if you too, will come and help us out.
So come to the meetings often, and help with hand and heart;
Don't be just a member, but take an active part
Think this over member, you know right from wrong,
Are you an active member, or do you just belong?

TO BE GUESTS OF HONOR AT BARBECUE

Chilton County 4-H Club members won top honors at the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce for having the best County exhibit.

The twentytwo (22) calves exhbited by the following boys and girls weighed 18,317 lbs. and returned them a gross of $5,338.72, an average of almost 30c per pound.

Harvey Cox, Loraine and Bernard Cox from Verbena; Thomas and Roger Traywick from Clanton; Butch Glasscock and Margaret Glasscock from Thorsby; Henry O'Neal and Judy O'Neal from Stanton; Ollie Clyde Jones, Edward Wayne Jones and Ocie DeVaughn from Clanton; Charles Patterson, Jr. from Clanton; Frank Daniels and Nancy Daniels from Maplesville; Charles Strain from Clanton and Johnnie Mims and Sandra Mims from Thorsby.

The County Show, held prior to the District Shows, was one of the best ever held in Chilton. All calves graded good, choice, or prime.

Each of the above 4-H Club members and their parents will be guests of Mr. C. W. and Jack A. Roberts, owners and operators of the Mahan Creek Farm in Dry Valley. Their lunch will consist of beef, not on the hoof, but just off a charcoal blaze with all the trimmings. After lunch one of the finest purebred Aberdeen-Angus herds in Alabama will be viewed by the group.

This was also the home of the County's Reserve Champion, as well as a half-dozen of the top fifteen light weight Angus calves, exhibited at the Birmingham District Show.

The County Board of Revenue and Control, Merchants of Thorsby, Maplesville, Clanton and Jemison contributed cash premiums for each exhibitor. Each member has a list of the contributors and in the future plan to personally visit them.

Campaign To Blot "Spot" Stepped-Up By Local Orchardmen

TWO-WEEKS SPRAYING SCHEDULE IN EFFECT

Bacterial Spot, now occuring heavily in Chilton County orchards, has been examined by Experiment Station officials at API and determined to be resulting from Bacteriosis (Bacterial Leaf Spot).

Experiment Station officials give no encouragement toward methods of eliminating this damage on fruit already attacked.

To prevent spread of Bacterial Spot it is suggested that spray materials containing zinc-sulphate at recommended rates be applied on a "stepped-up schedule".

Growers now following a two-weeks schedule will probably be able to protect fruits not now affected if they will spray once each week from now until harvest time with regular parathion-sulphur-zinc spray or with lead arsenate-lime-sulphur-zinc spray.

According to Experiment Station research officials the only protection from this type of damage now known is that of being doubly sure that clean fruit has a covering of protective spray from now until plum harvest time.

Can Your Child Reach That Bottle With The Crossbones

THE POISON SYMBOL IS SELF-EXPLANATORY

Thousands of our children are dying because poisons are carelessly stored. Death and disability may be caused by drinking, eating or even inhaling many products used in the home.

According to a summary outlined in the Journal of the American Medical Association recently, more than 15,000 Americans, including 5,000 childern have lost their lives from such poisons in the past 10 years.

At least 1,000 children die annually from such causes as drinking kerosene, eating aspirin or sleeping tablets, inhaling cleaning fluid, or coming in contact with lye, phenol, or strong acids and alkelies. One of the toughest poisons to counteract is kerosene.

Here are some ways to fight this unnecessary, waste of lives:

1. Education about poisons and how they kill.
2. Safety campaigns to warn of danger in home medicine chests, insect sprays, and disinfectants, and use of corrosive chemicals.
3. More stringent laws governing the sale and use of poisons.
4. The establishment of "poisons centers" in strategic areas with laboratories equipped to make necessary tests.
5. More care by parents in providing safe storage for items which might poison children, keep in separate cabinet from medicines.
6. Label them poisons.

Some Tips Herein, To Hotspots On The Coosa; Where The Big'uns Are Bitin'

By R. L. (Dick) Scott

As most good fishermen know, fishing prospects forever are changing through a multitude of variable cycles from good to bad. During this part of the spring, the cycles lean heavily on the good side, and almost everyone who fishes consistently is bound to hit the jack pot.

As the old saying goes, "there is no better proof of the pudding than the taste". The following reports from Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest weigh-in stations indicate hot spots on the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes.

LAKE LAY

Chubby's Bait and Tackle, Columbiana, reports: Outstanding strings of bluegills, smallmouth bass and crappie are being taken in the Spring Creek area. Top water lures, artificial worms and pork rind are working great in the bass department. Crappie are running the banks and live minnwos are the most effective bait. Fly fishing is improving steadily and should be in full swing within a few days.

Ted Blue, R. F. D., Birmingham, picked up a nice string of large bluegills from Spring Creek while using red worms [illegible]. Ted's best catch weighed in at 19½ ozs.

John T. Smith, Montevallo, fly tested a [illegible] Buck Tail and spinner [illegible] his string of smallmouth bass weighing up to four pounds eight ounces each.

Jack Story's Hardware, Wilsonville, reports: Bill Vansant, Birmingham, used crickets in the upper reaches of Lake Lay, and when he and his partner counted the bluegill catch they had 34 nice ones. Bill caught the largest, weighing 12 ounces.

G. G. [illegible] General Store, Talladega Springs, reports: F. H. [illegible] Talladega, [illegible] Rock Springs Creek [illegible] red worms to [illegible] shellcrackers weighing up to [illegible] ounces each.

Buck Blanchard, Sycamore, used the same combination and also [illegible] ounce shellcracker.

[illegible] Talladega Springs, tried [illegible] and Cisco Kid on Rock Springs Creek to bag bluegills weighing up to 14 ounces.

H. C. Leigh's Camp Waxahatchee Creek, near [illegible], reports: Chas. R. Bates, Clanton, had good luck with Waxahatchee's shellcrackers while fly fishing a yellow popping bug. Charles' whopper tilted the scales to 14 ounces.

LAKE MITCHELL

M. A. Inman's Camp, Cargile Creek, near Clanton, reports: Mrs. F. W. Hilly, Birmingham, had an exciting time on Cargile with live minnows as bait. Her nice string of crappie weighed up to one pound eight ounces each.

LAKE JORDAN

Mrs. J. R. Gibson, Mgr., Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoals Creek, near Holtville, reports: Leonard S. Allen, Deatsville, caught his three pound 12 ounce smallmouth in Shoals Creek on a spinning rig and Csico Kid.

R. S. Sims, Montgomery, boated a nice string of crappie with a flatfish lure from Shoals Creek. Mr. Sims' largest catch weighed one pound 12 ounces.

Log Cabin Beach, below Mitchell Dam, reports: Mrs. Lois Cox, Verbena, fishes frequently and catches many fish from the upper reaches of Lake Jordan. Last week, Mrs. Cox was enjoying some crappie fishing when she hooked a two pounder.

Just as the fish was being boated it dropped from the hook into the water. It was an unlucky day for Mr. Crappie. Mrs. Cox reached out with her hands and caught the fish before he could swim away.

LAKE MARTIN

Kowaliga Beach Resort, near Alexander City, reports: E. V. Estes, Eclectic, and Bo Jordan, of Kowaliga Beach, fished together and each landed whoppers.

Vince says that he will have his nine pound eight ounce largemouth bass mounted. Bo says his five pound four ounce bass will be on the table for supper.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt Barnes, colored cook at Kowaliga Beach Resort, hooked a four pound eight ounce largemouth bass, along with eight catfish from the waters of Kowaliga Bay.

Lake Hill Inn, near Alexander City, reports: Billie Boone, Alexander City, used branch minnows as bait near the railroad trestle and boated crappie weighing up to two pounds eight ounces each.

Brewers Bait and Tackl'e, Dadeville, reports: Gaines C. Brewer, Dadeville, cleaned house last week. Gaines trolled a bomber trailed by a red and white spoon and hooked a three pound eight ounce bass on the bomber and a six pound one ounce bass on the spoon. How about that?

Davis Fishing Camp on Big Kowaliga Creek, reports: Bill Fields, Sylacauga, brought in a five pound 12 ounce bass on his assorted stringer of crappie and bass.

Mr. Davis mentioned also that he now has some new boats and can gas boats at his dock.

LAKE THURLOW

H. E. Dopsons Store, Red Hill Community, reports: Curt Patterson, East Tallassee, used a spinning rig and artificial redworm to creel his six pound seven ounce largemouth bass.

Like we said, fishing prospects are good on the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes.

LAKE LAY

Chubby's Bait and Tackle, Columbiana, reports: Lewis B. Walker, Columbiana, fly-fished a popping bug on Spring Creek and boated a string of bass weighing up to four pounds eight ounces each.

Benson's Store, Shelby, reports: Dwight Cather, Birmingham, used a Cisco Kid on Spring Creek to bag his whopping five pound eight ounce largemouth bass.

H. C. Leigh's Camp, Waxahatchee Creek, reports: J. H. Lawrence, Bessemer, creeled six nice bass and several good sized bluegills weighing up to nine ounces each while fly fishing a yellow popping bug on Waxahatchee.

Riverview Camp, near Lay Dam, reports: Brook's Guin, Bessemer, tied into a school of bass with a black Hulla Popper fly. Brooks' best catch weighed in at five pounds nine ounces.

Mr. D. T. Sanford writes us that the bass, crappie and bream of Waxahatchee are taking most any kind of bait and prospects are improving each day.

LAKE MITCHELL

M. A. Inman's Camp, Cargile Creek, near Clanton, reports: Last years prize winner, L. D. Eubanks, Jr., Birmingham, is tuning up for a prize this year. L. D. boated bass last week weighing up to five pounds three ounces each. Hawaiian Wiggler was the type bait used.

LAKE YATES

John T. Short, Bridgeman's Store, near Yates Dam, reports: The old timer, Harvey Bishop, Tallassee, two-time first prize winner, used a Hula Popper to snag a six pound 15 ounce largemouth bass.

LAKE THURLOW

John T. Short, Bridgeman's Store, reports:

Tommie Osborne, Tallassee, tried a white Coosa Nugget and caught bass weighing up to five pounds each.

Stop wishing and go fishing.

You too, could catch big one's and perhaps win prizes, but you've got to go fishing to catch fish. Now is the time to go.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS:

Courtesy on the water ways is deeply appreciated, and highly contagious. Respect the rights of others, and you will find a safer boating pleasure.

Nancy Daniel Wins First Place In Recent County Stock Show

Nancy Jane Daniel

Nancy Jane Daniel, a Maplesville High School student, was not only the winner of the recent Chilton County Stock Show, but she also received a $100 cash award at the Birmingham Stock Show. The award, presented by the Birmingham News and Post-Herald, and Stations WAPI, WAFM and WABT is to be used to purchase a new calf for feeding and to show at the 1958 Birmingham Stock Show.

Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Daniel, started raising calves to help pay her way through college. She named her calf "Chubby" because she thought his face "looked like a teddy bear."

The Daniels did very well this year at the Chilton County Stock Show. Nancy's brother showed the Reserve Champion Calf, and also won a fourth-place prize with another calf.

In June, Nancy, her parents, and adviser will be guests of the Birmingham News and Post-Herald and Stations mentioned above at a barbecue for all the award winners. There will be special entertainment for the guests and the $100 awards will be made then.

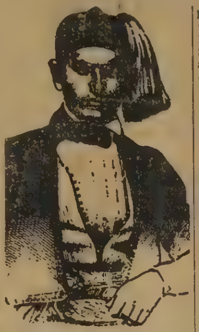
Arab Pioneers in America



For many years, scholars dealing with the origins of Arab immigration to the United States were uncertain about the date of the first immigrant. The earliest arrival known to date was Antonio Bishallany from Lebanon. In 1918, the historian Dr. Philip K. Hitti discovered Bishallany's grave in a Brooklyn cemetery.

Bishallany first came in contact with Westerners as a tourist guide in Beirut. Fired by tales of the "fabulous land" told by missionaries and travellers, he decided to come to America to prepare himself for missionary work. He landed in Boston in 1854 and made his way to New York City where he was welcomed by American friends he had made in Beirut. He began his study at a school in Amina, New York, but he was fated never to achieve his goal. He died in New York the year after his arrival.

Another early arrival was Hadji Ali, a Syrian who took part in a fascinating and little-known incident in American history. Secretary of War Jefferson Davis, later the President of the Southern Confederacy, approved a plan to experiment with camels for communication and transportation in the arid Southwest.

In 1854, a load of 33 camels landed at Indianola, Texas, with Hadji Ali as their caretaker The camel herd and its master soon were known as "Hi Jolly." In 1857, the camels were used in the Beale expedition to open a wagon road across Arizona to California In spite of the proven worth of the camels, the War Department abandoned the experiment and the camels were left on the Arizona Desert to shift for themselves. They survived for many years, creating interest and excitement. Hadji Ali later joined the Army as an Indian scout and when he died in 1902, a memorial to him was raised in Quartzite, Arizona.

The first permanent settler from the Middle East was Professor Joseph Arbeely who came with his family in 1878. Professor Arbeely had taught Arabic to American missionaries and later assisted in the translation and revision of the Bible into Arabic. His family attained some prominence in America. One son became the publisher of Kawkab, the first Arabic newspaper in the western hemisphere; another became a distinguished physician in Washington, D. C., and later, American consul in Jerusalem under President Cleveland; and a third, an immigration official for many years.

From this beginning came the larger immigration in later years which established Americans of Arab descent throughout the United States where they have helped to build their adopted country and have contributed to its culture by adding the traditions of the East.

Extended Dormant Period-

Peach Crop Predicted Short This Year; Farmers Still Hopeful

A short peach crop is in prospect this year becaues the trees did not wake up soon enough.

Growers may pick a third of a normal crop, according to observations at the Chilton Area Horticulture Substation near Clanton. Many trees did not get enough cold weather to break their rest period before February 15.

As a result, leaves are not forming on new wood of some trees and many peaches are irregular in size. Unless foliage forms, peaches will drop off before they ripen. Much of the small size fruit also will be lost.

Peach rest period observations were made by Dr. T. B. Hagler, associate horticulturist, API Agricultural Experiment Station; Ray Livingston, Experiment Station assistant horticulturist; and C. C. Carlon, superintendent of the Chilton Area Substation.

Some varieties require about 1,000 hours or 42 days of temperatures below 45 degrees before February 15 to bloom and fruit normally. In central Alabama, trees had only 682 hours or 29 days of temperatures below 45 degrees by March 1.

Dixired, a leading early peach variety in Chilton County, has few leaves on new wood. Other varieties such as the Cardinal, Coronet, Mayflower, Dixigem, Fairhaven, Halehaven, Redhaven, and Triogem are not leafing normally.

The Elberta has some leafing, but not enough for best production of peaches. Other varieties that need less than 800 hours of temperatures below 45 degrees are leafing and fruiting. Among these are the Redcap, Loring, Hiland, Southland, Sunhigh, Hiley and July Elberta. However, some of these varieties were damaged by frost.

A similar mild winter resulted in a short Alabama peach crop in 1950.

For example: the Mayflower variety, which needs about 42 days of chilling temperatures below 45 degrees to break its rest period before February 15, was just beginning to bloom and had no foliage on May 4, 1950.

These observations are indicative of a short peach crop, but who can tell. Indications are not good, but miracles have been known to happen and Chilton County's peach crop is not lost by a long shot.

"Revised Projection of Costs"—

FARMERS WARY OF ANY PROGRAM IDLING THEIR LAND FROM 3-10 YEARS

BENSON SAYS NO "CUT-BACK" IN SOIL BANK PROGRAM; FARM'RS WAIT

The budget amendment recently submitted to Congress in no sense reflects a "cut-back" in the Soil Bank Program, secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has stated.

"The budget amendment," the Secretary declared, "represents a revised projection of costs in the fiscal years 1957 and 1958 based on substantially completed signup experience on the 1957 Acreage Reserve program and what we believe to be a more accurate projection of participation in the Conservation Reserve Program. Also in connection with the cost of the 1957 Acreage Reserve Program in the fiscal year 1957, that is a change in the estimated timing of payments to be made."

The amendment reduces estimated expenditures for the Soil Bank from $1,254 million in the fiscal year 1958 to $1,000 million, and the estimate for the fiscal year 1957 from $1,229 million to $452 million. The major change in the estimates is in the estimated cost of the Conservation Reserve Program, since actual participation has been lower than originally expected.

"Farmers are taking time to give careful consideration to participation in a program which will take their land out of production for 3, 5 or 10 years, as is the case under the Conservation Reserve.

It will take time for participation to develop to the point where annual payments amount to as much as $450 million per calendar year, the limit contained in the Soil Bank."

Secretary Benson also pointed out that the bulk of program payments will be made later in the year than was at first expected, since no payments will be made to a producer until it is apparent that he is in substantial compliance on all crops and all phases of the program.

MT. CREEK NEWS

Pastor, The Rev. Herman Lowery

Recently the Church decided, at its regular business meeting, that it would finish paying off its debt during the month of May. After this accomplishments, plans will be made to build the new Sunday School rooms.

We extend a cordial welcome into our congregation to Mrs. Estelle Harris who came to our church by letter from the First Baptist Church in Clanton and also on a Rededication of Faith. We are happy to have her in our midst.

JORDAN IN HISTORY

Jordan, situated in the heart of the Arab World, has since ancient times, witnessed the impact of successive civilizations which have greatly influenced human progress. It has seen the empires of Egypt, Assyria and Persia; it was the battlefield of the Romans and their Byzantine successors, and Christianity was born within its borders.

In April 1950, after the end of hostilities between the Arabs and Israelis, the Jordanian Parliament, representing Central Arab Palestine and Trans-Jordan proper, approved the union of these two regions into the new country called the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan.

The total area of present-day Jordan is 37,500 square miles, slightly larger than the state of Indiana. The population of 1,500,000 is predominantly Arab in race and Moslem in religion with about 12 per cent Christian Arabs and a great variety of other distinct groups and cultures. This mixture of cultures adds a picturesque diversity of dress and customs.

Jordan contains most of the sacred shrines of Christianity. Within its borders lie Bethlehem; Jericho, the site of the oldest walled city in the world; Hebron, where Abraham is buried; the River Jordan; the Dead Sea, the Mount of Olives and the ancient walled city of Jerusalem.

The country offers a great variety of climate and scenery—from the temperate heights of the rugged mountains of Moab, to the gently rolling hills of Judea, to the tropical Jordan Valley with its luxuriant vegetation; the Dead Sea, the fantastic, sandstone mountains of Wadi Rum and, finally, the dry arid desert of the eastern plateau.

Winter often brings snow to the mountains and Spring carpets the countryside with myriads of beautiful wild flowers. Rainfall occurs only in Winter, from November to April, so for the rest of the year the people of Jordan rarely see a cloudy day.

Soil Bank Cover Crops Must Be Approved Says Owen

STATE AND COUNTY COMMITTEES MUST 'O.K.'

Farmers who plant a cover crop on land designated for the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve should make sure that the crop planted is one of those approved for that purpose, Eddie L. Owen, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, cautioned growers today.

A list of crops approved by the State and County Committees for protective cover was given to each farmer at the time he was mailed a copy of his agreement, the Chairman explained.

He emphasized, however, that approval of a cover crop on Acreage Reserve land does not void the agreement not to harvest a crop from the designated acres. If a grass, legume, or other crop is approved for protective cover on Acreage Reserve land and would mature a crop in 1957 which could be harvested for grain or seed, it must be disposed of in such a manner that no part of the crop can be harvested.

November 30, 1957 is the deadline for disposing of such a crop in Chilton County.

Farmers are urged to check with the County ASC Office if they have any question about this or other phases of the Soil Bank Program.

NOTICE OF COMPLETION

Clark & Merrill Const. Co. hereby gives notice that they have completed contract with the State of Alabama for construction of Project No. S-781 (1) & (2) in Chilton County, and that the State has set the date for final settlement as May 24, 1957. Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Oh, no! How far can this tax business go? We see that a member of the legislature wants to tax drinkers. What is a fellow going to do to forget his tax troubles if he has to pay a tax on what he has to do to forget them? They have forgotten one thing they could tax—how about that going to the rest room?

Those Pilots are having a Rummage Sale around in front of the Health Offices Saturday. The Sale will start at 8:30 o'clock a.m. Now anybody who is smart knows that it's a matter of first come, first served at a rummage sale, so if you want the pick of the merchandise—come early. The Pilots always have some good bargains and the proceeds are used for a worthy cause.

A sergeant was trying to drill a lot of raw recruits, and after working hard for three hours he thought they seemed to be getting into some sort of shape, so decided to test them. "Right turn!" he cried. Then before they had ceased to move, came another order, "left turn!" One soldier left the ranks and started off towards the barracks. "Here, you!" yelled the angry sergeant. "Where are you going?" "I've had enough," replied the recruit in a disgusted tone. "You don't know your own mind for two minutes running."

How about that Grady Heflin? Basking in the cool breezes of the Gulf of Mexico at Mobile while we are up here sweating. The Bankers are having their annual Convention in the Port City this week and Mr. Heflin thought he had just better go down and join in the fun. One thing for sure; don't take any of your troubles to Peoples Savings Bank next Monday morning and look for sympathy. All the sympathy around there, Grady will need.

Monday a week ago the Lions took the School Patrol on a weiner roast. "Pig" Headley and Lamar Powell furnished the eats and Police Chief C. E. Tucker, Leonard Traywick and Chester Miller acted as hosts. Chief Tucker reports the young "Patrolmen" had a wonderful time really put away the hot dogs and pop. Incidentally they are from Clanton Elementary School.

The Alabama Aeronautics Commission has made a grant of $2,300.00 to Clanton for retreatment of the paved runway at the airport. Funds for this purpose come from aviation gas tax revenue and are not from the general fund of the State.

A young man of very limited means, after the marriage ceremony, presented to the minister twenty-seven cents spread out on the palm of his hand. "This is all I've got parson", he said. Seeing the disappointed look in the minister's face, he added, "But if we have any children we'll send them to your Sunday School".

Grade A eggs are best for poaching, frying and cooking in the shell But grades B and C are more economical for scrambling and to use in sauces.

Ice cold soapsuds will help remove a ring from a swollen finger.

Leftover fruit juice, coffee, or chocolate can be made into tasty sweet sauces of various types.

Local Law Officers Will Crack-Down On Noisy Motors

The local law enforcement agents in Chilton County are serving notice to the motoring public that after June 1, 1957 they will start making arrests of those who refuse to keep mufflers on their cars, motorcycles, motor scooters, etc.

The law is clear that this must be done and the officers are only holding off so that those who have not been using the mufflers prescribed by law can have them installed.

The State Code says:

Title 36, Section 39. Mufflers; prevention of noise, smoke, etc.

(a) Every motor vehicle shall at all times be equipped with a muffler in good working order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise and annoying smoke, and no person shall use a muffler cut-out, bypass, a muffler without baffles, or similar device upon a motor vehicle on a highway.

(b) The engine and power mechanism of every motor vehicle shall be so equipped and adjusted as to prevent the escape of excessive fumes or smoke.

(c) No vehicle shall be driven or moved on any highway unless such vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent any of its load from dropping, sifting, leaking, or otherwise escaping therefrom, except that sand may be dropped for the purpose of securing traction, or water or other substance may be sprinkled on a roadway in cleaning or maintaining such roadway. (1b.; 1949, p. 762, Section 9, effective Jan. 1, 1950.)

Dr. Leroy Ewton, Baptist Minister, Succumbs At 85

Dr. L. S. Ewton, one of Tennessee's best-known Baptist ministers, died at the Baptist Hospital in Nashville, Tennessee. He was 85 years old.

Although officially retired in 1946, Dr. Ewton remained active to the last. He had been scheduled to open a reviavl the day he entered the hospital. He had served the Clanton First Baptist Church on many occasions and has many friends here who will mourn his passing.

Dr. Ewton was the father of Mrs. J. Gilbert Hutchinson of Clanton.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, May 21 in Nashville.

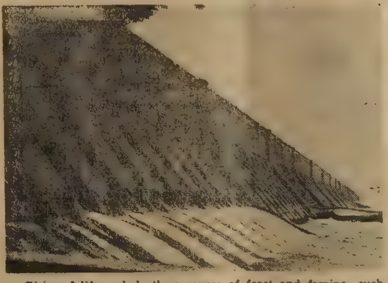
FATHER NILE



Giver of life and death, a source of feast and famine—such is the mighty River Nile which dominates the fortunes of the Egyptian people. Indeed, without the Nile there could be no Egypt, for the waters are the lifeblood of a parched and desert country. The soil is fertile only along the banks of the river, at its triangular delta and in the artificially irrigated sections.

The ancient Egyptians learned how the waters of the great river could be controlled to bring the floods into productive use. They dug channels across the higher lands flanking the river, to carry excess water to low-lying lands farther away. After the Arab conquest in 640, much valuable work was done in irrigation.

A revolutionary change in the method of controlling the Nile took place in the 19th century, when cotton was first introduced into Egypt. Although it soon became apparent that Egypt could produce the world's finest cotton, the old irrigation systems failed to provide the frequent and constant watering that the cotton plant requires. Therefore, Egyptian engineers built deep canals to conduct the low-level waters of the summer to cotton fields and built dams to protect the crop from inundation during the flood season.

Cotton flourished so rapidly in Egypt that soon greater canals like the Ibrahimia were built. Then early in the 20th century, a large dam was built at Aswan, some 550 miles south of Egypt's Mediterranean coastline. The Aswan Dam was enlarged three times. Several other dams and barrages were built along the Nile to supplement the irrigation and flood control projects.

The High Dam, envisaged also at Aswan, will dwarf all its predecessors in size and ultimate utility to the Egyptian people. A huge, 300-mile long lake will be created to eliminate the old danger of famine when the Nile is low. An additional two million acres of desert land will be irrigated. Irrigation authorities believe that Egypt's cultivated land will be increased through the increased irrigation capacity by nearly one-third, and her agricultural income boosted by fifty per cent. In addition, the High Dam will give rise to new industries by providing ten billion kilowatt-hours of electrical power a year.

Your Artificial Lake Must Be Approved By Health Dept.

By G. M. Taylor
(County Health Officer)

The construction of an artificial lake creates a potential malaria hazard. This fact prompted the State Board of Health to adopt regulations in 1927 governing their construction and maintenance. The purpose of the regulations is to prevent the spread of malaria among people living within the zone of transmission around any artificially created lake

These regulations are based upon state laws now on the statute books, and are for the welfare of the people.

Unless an impoundage is properly constructed and maintained conditions are created which provides a [illegible] place for the [illegible] mosquito.

Regulations governing the construction of ponds are on file at the County Health Department, and will be explained to anyone interested in the construction of a pond. These regulations must be abided by, so if you plan to build a pond in the future contact the County Health Department beforehand. It may save you time and money.

Truman Appraises U.S.S.R.----

Harry S. Truman, who, in our opinion will go down in history as one of our greatest Presidents, recently outlined his diagnosis of the current Communist design in Moscow. The former President believes the Russians are attempting to do three things:

First, Mr. Truman believes the Russians are attempting to intimidate the free world.

Second, he says they are trying to destroy the NATO alliance, and third, he believes they are going all-out to achieve domination in the nuclear field.

Mr. Truman sees the large number of nuclear tests in Russia recently, and Russian threats to Western Europan nations that they will be mercilessly bombed with nuclear weapons if they are allies of the United States in the event of trouble, as a war of nerves designed to intimidate Western European countries.

The Russian drive to gain supremacy in the field of nuclear weapons is an effort hard to appraise. However, we do know that the Russians have surprised our experts on several occasions in the last ten years, making far more progress in this field than we thought they could make in the time they have had.

Of course, the work of spies, some of them Americans, helped the Russians greatly to overcome the considerable lead of the United States in the nuclear field.

We agree with Mr. Truman's appraisal of Soviet intentions, generally speaking. The Russians fear NATO because it means that if they attack one country, they attack all fourteen—including the United States—and naturally they are seeking to break up this alliance. In our opinion, as long as this alliance is functioning effectively, the Russians will not attack any member of NATO.

The Russians past history in foreign relations reveals a caution which would not justify any conclusion that a Russian attack on NATO power was in any way imminent or possible within the near future.

Fair Warning----

The American Legion believes that Americans should emulate the Highest Authority. . . and finds its Golden Text on the foreign aid question in the words of Benjamin Franklin: "God helps them that help themselves."

In its foreign policy statement, released by the National Executive Committee in Indianapolis this month, the Legion declares: "Our Foreign Policy should be predicted on the fact that we wish to help (through military aid) the free nations of the world who have and are demonstrating their willingness to help maintain their dignity, independence and integrity." (The emphasis is ours.)

"No stop-gap program can continue forever," continues the Legion resolution, "especially when the basis is give-away. Even the U. S., with all its wealth and resources, can not survive such a load. We cannot continue to do so will have the effect of placing an economic millstone around the necks of our people for generations to come.

". . . Freedom is something we can not create for other nations; nor can we buy friendship. People must create their own freedom and be at liberty to decide for themselves their own friendships and enmities."

Most Americans, we think, will regard the Legion position as both fair and generous. It offers more than this nation ever asked of foreign friends in the darkest hours of the Revolution. And it offers this continuing aid after we have already given and/or loaned more than 100 billions of our substance abroad, and at a time when our national debt, per capita, is higher than that of any of the nations we have been helping.

It is time, as the Legion strongly infers, to face up to the fact that a prostrate America can help no one.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

He who thinks the best ideas his own, seldom has a good one.

It is a sincere hope of ours that the Board of Education or the faculty or the parents or the students or whoever is responsible will see to it that the Chilton County High School building gets a face-lifting during the idle summer months. The old place is in dire need of a paint job and we feel that it is a reflection on every one of the above mentioned when it deteriorates as it has. There are a lot of problems involved we're sure, that we aren't acquainted with, but one thing we do know; we can't be proud of the place unless it's something to be proud of. If it's funds, why don't they say so. We know any number of citizens who can wield a pretty mean paint brush and we're fairly good foot-patters ourselves No foolin'! It needs attention.

The Road of Life—
If you're down on life,
And out of gas;
It may be pal,
You went too fast.

You know, the fact is, Truth and Honesty always win out; whether for you or against you. You can't fight it, so your best insurance is to join. . Truth and Honesty. Ah, the dividends.

A true, blue frog (frawg, if you [illegible]). Here at the Chilton County News Plant we have a friendly frog that has been fraternizing with us for quite a spell now. Nigh to two years we think, and he's fit as a fiddle and fat and sassy. We first noticed "Froggy" one night while working late and have observed him for some time. His home is a hole in the wall near the door and he seems quite cumfy. His favorite pastime consists of just looking. He is greatly attracted to and fascinated by the printing trade. So far our only complaint is that we can't find a stool high enough for the toad, so he can set type or feed the press. After all, we can't afford any freeloadin' toads around. We've needed a sports editor for some time now, h'm-m-m.

We all know from experience that some folks won't even let experience teach them anything.

We understand that the biggest difference between working yourself to death and worrying yourself to death is several years.

It may surprise some of you to know that you command quite a bit of respect as an individual citizen of these United States of America. By the same token, it may surprise some of you that legislation in Washington is being pushed that involves you, as an individual citizen. It regards Civil Rights. We would like you to read Rep. Armistead Selden's column (on this page) this week in order to get some idea of just what is taking place along these lines. Then, take time out and write your opinion to your Senator, your Representative and anyone else whom you feel might regard your opinion. You may also be surprised at the effect your interest will have on matters that concern you, even indirectly. From what we gather of this proposed legislation it is preposterous to the extent of questioning or completely disregarding the integrity of you, the American citizen. What are YOU going to do about it?

We can't honestly say anything about his character, his friends or his family 'cause we honestly don't know about them, but that Harvey Cleckler down at the Service (we think) Barber Shop is a jam-up hair cutter-offer. We've been in several times now to get the wool rearranged and he pulls, and digs and otherwise mutilates our scalp, but by golly, when he's through we've got a sho'nuff haircut. We like it anyway. The only serious damage he does to us is through our left hind pocket and boy does it hurt. At least we get a good haircut though, and that's what we go in there for.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

HOW TO KILL YOUR ENEMY

When I visited the garden of Gethsemane many memories flooded my mind. One night among the old gnarled olive trees, the Lord talked to me about healing one's enemy. And there where he had done this he gave me this picture.

A mob came sweeping into the garden. It was led by Judas Iscariot. They had come to arrest Jesus. The disciples were badly frightened and Peter whipping out his sword made a big sweep and cut off the ear of Malchus, the high priest's servant. The only reason he didn't cut his head off was because he missed! But instantly Jesus touched Malchus and healed him.

Here, in one dramatic moment, is the hand of man against man, enemy fighting enemy, and the hand of God healing the enemy Malchus' hands were reaching for Jesus when Peter's sword-filled hand struck at him. Jesus could have called many legions of angels to cut his enemies down. Instead he rebuked Peter, telling him to put up his sword. Then he reached forth his hand and touched Malchus and healed him.

What drama! What incomparable meaning! The last act performed by the hands of Jesus before they were tied before the cross was to stretch them forth and heal the ear of a man who was directing his arrest.

The lesson is unforgettable. Our hand should never be balled into a fist, but stretched forth to heal and to bless. Whenever you allow anything, no matter how severe, to bring prejudice, malice, envy, or hatred into your heart the bitterness always hurts you . . . much more than the one toward whom you are bitter.

Get rid of it! How? First, ask God to help you cast it out completely—root and branch. Second, believe that he does help you at this instant. Third, confess your wrongs. Nothing will help you more quickly than to confess to the person you have wronged. And you will have learned the best way in the world to kill your enemy—make a friend out of him!

I prayed for a man to be healed one night. Or rather I started to pray, but he jerked away and went rapidly out of the big tent cathedral. A few nights later he returned. "Reverend," he said, "I suppose you wondered why I left so abruptly the other night?" I answered, "Yes, I did." He said, "As I stood before you suddenly I realized that there were some wrongs I had to make right. I decided to fix them up before you prayed for me. I have righted my wrongs and now I know I will be healed." He was, too.

A man and his wife had quarreled daily for years. The woman accepted Christ. She asked her husband to forgive her. A month later he died suddenly. After the funeral she said, "I am so glad he did not die before I asked his forgiveness."

The apostle James tells us, "Confess your faults one to another and pray one for another that ye may be healed!" Your healing may depend upon it.

Report From Washington--

Selden Points Out Absurdities Of New Civil Rights Legislation

TESTIFIES BEFORE RULES COMMITTEE

Last Friday I testified before the Rules Committee in opposition to the Administration's so-called civil rights bill, H. R. 6127. In my testimony, I pointed out the many dangers of this legislation and emphasized that the proponents should not overlook the fact that its provisions will apply to all sections of the country, not just the South.

Instead of denying powers to the federal government, as does the Bill of Rights, this dangerous legislation vests the federal government with new powers with which it can oppress the individual citizen. The measure also strikes a major blow against the traditional power and independence of the states by giving the federal government authority to supervise matters traditionally within the field of state control, such as education and primary elections. This would constitute a constant threat, not only to all state and local governments, but also to virtually every officer and agent of such governments.

No Jury Trial—

One of the most alarming provisions of this ill-conceived legislation is the section that permits federal judges to issue injunctions against anticipated violations of civil rights and to punish local officials or private citizens without trial by jury.

Under the terms of the proposed bill, the Attorney General is authorized to bring suit against any person who has engaged or is "about to engage in any acts or practices" which would deprive any other person of his civil rights. The bill does not require that such acts shall have been committed or even threatened. It permits the courts to step in whenever anyone is "about" to invade someone's rights.

But how, I asked the members of the Rules Committee, can the Attorney General or anyone else determine when a person is about to do something?

This provision, coupled with the broad and vaguely defined rights that may be protected by injunctive relief, gives the federal courts a blank check to write new criminal laws, to affix the penalties, and to prosecute and punish offenders without any of the safeguards that experience has taught are necessary to preserve individual liberties.

In urging the Rules Committee to vote against granting H. R. 6127 a rule, I told the members I was firmly convinced that if all of the people fully understood the implications of this legislation, it would never reach the floor of the House of Representatives.

Action Delayed—

The Southern members of Congress, with the help of a few from other sections of the country who also realize the dangers of the so-called civil rights bill, have managed to postpone House action on this legislation since the beginning of the session. The measure was favorably reported by the Judiciary Committee in April and then referred to the Committee on Rules. On the latter Committee are eight Democrats and four Republicans. It is generally conceded that the Democratic vote will be split. For that reason, it will take three of the four Republican votes to report the measure for House consideration. It has been announced by the Republican leadership that the necessary Republican votes will be forthcoming this week. If so, the measure will probably be debated in the House of Representatives before the middle of June.

Soil Bank—

In a surprise move, the House of Representatives voted last week to discontinue the soil bank program by denying funds for its 1958 operation. The amendment that eliminated these funds was offered during House consideration of the 1958 agriculture appropriation bill and passed by a vote of 192-187.

The soil bank program, which has been in operation only one year, was designed as an emergency effort to reduce farm surpluses by paying farmers for retiring their cropland. Although there is also opposition to the soil bank in the Senate, many observers believe the program will be restored when the Senators vote on the agriculture appropriation bill.

Visitors—

We enjoyed a visit last week from Mr. Louie Smith of Clanton. Mr. Smith was in Washington to meet with members of the Alabama Congressional Delegation in connection with the development of the Coosa-Alabama Rivers.

Letter From Dept- of Agriculture

Our God-given Heritage - - The Productive Soil

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK AND RURAL LIFE SUNDAY OBSERVED MAY-JUNE

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today make the following statement in behalf of Soil Stewardship and Rural Life Sunday, both of which occur this month:

The Department of Agriculture is happy to join with the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and national church organizations in the observance of National Soil Stewardship Week which they are sponsoring May 26 to June 2.

During this week, or on Rural Life Sunday, May 26, local churches of various faiths and soil conservation districts throughout the nation will join in special recognition of man's responsibility as a steward of our God-given heritage — the productive soil.

Such observance is especially heartening to us in the Department of Agriculture who are charged with helping farmers use soil wisely and at the same time conserve it for continued production for the generations to come. Our future food supply depends on the intelligence with which we use our productive resources—such as soil and water. Not only food but many raw materials for industry come from the soil. While solving today's problems, we must not neglect tomorrow's needs.

I strongly urge farm, church, civic, conservation and other organizations to participate in this event as an important means of becoming better acquainted with the vital importance of wise use of our land to both our material and spiritual welfare. I am urging employees of the Department to participate in soil stewardship observance as citizens in their communities or to help organized groups, when requested, in planning or conducting such events.

A Salute to MADISON COUNTY

Developing the "WEAPONS of TOMORROW" Amid the Glory of the Old South

Located in the heart of the growing Tennessee Valley, scenic Madison County, long prominent in Alabama history, now has a vital part in safeguarding our country's future. Huntsville, the State's first capitol, is the control center for the nation's key rocket and guided missile programs. Large payrolls from these governmental agencies and from many new and diversified industries have given this north Alabama county a future of great promise.

Another big payroll of our State is that of the Brewing Industry. Last year, 23,500 citizens of Alabama earned more than $35,500,000 directly through the distribution and sale of the beverages of moderation—beer and ale. This is only one of many contributions the Brewing Industry is making to the welfare of our people and the forward march of Alabama.

In this friendly, freedom-loving land of ours
Beer belongs... Enjoy it

Perfect for outdoor dining, are TV trays and portable meals in general. Serve in the kitchen, or from a serve-yourself-buffet table in the "fun" area. Be sure to have plenty on hand, for these demand seconds everytime.

Accompany the burgers with relishes, if desired, a mixed salad, made with crisp young greens, and a fruit dessert. You and your menu are in vogue!

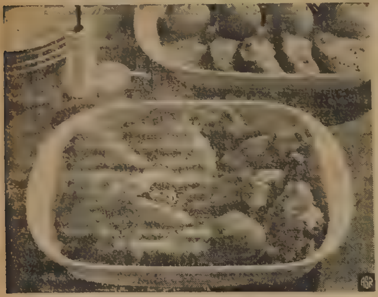
Spanish Cooking Is Easy



If you haven't tried Spanish cooking, these dishes will endear you to its delicious simplicity and make you look for more recipes.

Chicken Saute a la Teneriffe with baked onions and fried tomatoes, Spanish style, will delight your family and guests. The chicken is fried to a golden brown in Spanish olive oil, then cooked in a sauce, the flavors of which are enhanced with cinnamon and cloves.

The fried tomatoes, Spanish style, will become a regular in your menus, once made. The lightly seasoned batter retains the wonderful olive oil and tomato flavor combination. This Spanish cooking idea is a real treat.

These recipes are from the files of Ignacio Domenech, author of many cook books and articles, and one of Spain's foremost chefs.

A tossed green salad with sliced avocado and a simple olive oil and vinegar dressing goes well with these recipes. Crusty bread with a touch of garlic and fresh fruit spiked with a sweet Spanish sherry should finish the meal to perfection.

Chicken Saute a la Teneriffe

- 1 4-pound frying chicken, cut up
- ½ cup Spanish olive oil
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/16 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/16 teaspoon cloves
- 2 cups dry white wine or 2 cups chicken broth plus 2 teaspoons vinegar

Wash and dry chicken pieces. Heat olive oil in skillet. Add chicken and fry until golden brown, turning to brown all sides. Pour off any excess olive oil and save to use for other frying.

Add remaining ingredients. Simmer over low heat, turning chicken occasionally, until liquid is almost evaporated and chicken tender, about 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Fried Tomatoes, Spanish Style

- 3 firm ripe tomatoes
- 1 egg white
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Slice tomatoes ½ inch thick

Beat egg white, flour, vinegar and salt together until just blended. Dip tomato slices in batter.

Heat a ¼-inch of olive oil in frying pan and fry tomatoes quickly on both sides until golden brown. Serves 4

Baked Onions in Olive Oil

- 4 large onions
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- ¼ cup Spanish olive oil

Remove outer brown peel from onions and parboil for 20 minutes. Drain and place in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour olive oil over onions. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 20 minutes, basting with olive oil once or twice. Makes 4 servings.

It's 'Sparagus Season!

Sing a song for 'sparagus.

Each tender green stalk is so good, everyone should make the most of it during the too short season. First rule is to cook it tender.

Next: serve it simply, or dress it up. Who doesn't like asparagus, dressed simply with butter, a little lemon juice, salt and paprika? Dressed up, as the basis for a luncheon or supper main dish, you'll do well to consider this very special recipe.

Smother hot cooked asparagus in an elegant sauce made from frozen oyster stew to which grated sharp cheese and sliced hard-cooked eggs have been added. A sprinkling of paprika is used for garnish. Looks very partyish, and tastes that way too! Here's how to do it.

Asparagus With Oyster Sauce

- 1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed oyster stew
- ½ cup milk or water
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 cup shredded sharp cheese
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 1 pound fresh asparagus, cooked (or 10-ounce package, frozen)*
- Dash paprika

Thaw oyster stew over low heat. Gradually blend milk into flour to form a smooth paste; pour into stew and stir constantly, until thickened. Add cheese; continue to cook until cheese is melted. Fold in eggs and pour over hot asparagus. Sprinkle with paprika to garnish. Makes 4 delicious servings.

*Be sure to save this recipe for use with frozen asparagus later on.

Mix Imagination With Sandwich Fillings

There are as many ways of making a sandwich as there are people to eat them. Sandwiches can be surprising . . . and surprisingly good! Consider this intriguing combination: Mix the contents of a can (5-ounce size) of boned chicken or turkey with 1 cup shredded cheese, ¼ cup chopped nuts, 1 tablespoon pickle relish, and 1 tablespoon mayonnaise. Spread mixture over 2 sandwich buns, split and toasted. Broil slowly until cheese is melted. Makes 4 delicious sandwiches. Try it!

Studdard of Clanton, Ala., took place Saturday, May 18th at 11:00 a.m. in All Saints Episcopal Church in Jacksonville with the Rev. Gladstone Rogers officiating.

White gladoli and white chrysanthemums banked against a background of stately palms formed the setting for the wedding party. Cathedral candelabra holding lighted white tapers completed the setting.

Miss Geraldine Anderson, organist, presented a program of nuptial music with Asa B. Gardiner as soloist. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Joyce Ann Amling, maid of honor, wore a pink chiffon dress with portrait neckline, shirred cummerbund and bouffant waltz-length skirt. She wore a matching bandeau in her hair and carried pink rosebuds and ivy.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Herbert Jackson Youngblood. Her gown was of Alencon lace and tulle over satin. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a crescent of pink cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

MOTOR MAIDS

Don't Blame the Weather

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

DRIVER CARELESSNESS, not driving conditions, are responsible for the majority of accidents.

And to prove it, John T. Tynan, Connecticut Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, recently gave me some pretty convincing statistics which are representative of driving habits throughout the country.

Miss Smith

For instance, most of Connecticut's traffic accedents last year occurred during so-called "ideal" driving conditions — in broad daylight, during good weather, on straight, well-paved roads.

Contrary to what you might imagine, experienced motorists got into trouble far more often than novice drivers. Furthermore, male motorists were involved in five times as many accidents as women! (Who says women aren't the safest drivers?)

Of the 33,880 accidents recorded in Connecticut, 21,333 occurred in clear weather, 19,910 on good road surfaces and 20,854 in daylight. The majority of the 62,627 drivers involved in these accidents had been driving at least 11 years. And of these drivers, 51,442 were men.

Heading the list of accident causes were, as might be expected, excessive speed and driver inattention. Following the car ahead too closely, driving on the wrong side of the road, driving off the road, cutting in and out of traffic were the causes of many other accidents.

"In today's modern, complex highway travel," said Tynan, "safe driving is the only kind of driving that should be practiced.

"Your driving license gives you the privilege—not the right—to drive. Careful, courteous drivers can continue to enjoy this privilege, while careless or dangerous drivers must be taken off the roads. It's as clear and simple as that! Only YOU are responsible for your driving."

Frozen food bought at the grocery store and stored in the freezing compartment of a refrigerator should be used within four or five days.

Mustafa Ben Halim: Statesman Self-Made

Mustafa Ben Halim, the Premier of Libya since April 12, 1954, is in many ways a human symbol of the nation he represents—young, energetic and undaunted by the multitude of problems facing the newly independent country.

Ben Halim, now thirty-six years of age, assumed the post of Premier at a time when his nation was faced with the difficult and delicate negotiations over the question of foreign bases in Libya. Shortly after taking office, he successfully concluded an agreement with the United States concerning Wheelus Air Force Base. In the summer of 1955, he signed a treaty with France providing for the evacuation of French troops from the areas they had occupied in Libya ever since the Italians were driven out during the Second World War.

Married and the father of three children, Premier Ben Halim was educated in Egypt, where he received an architect's degree from Alexandria University. But he soon found himself concerned with the building of his country's economic and political future. His public life began in 1949 as Minister of Communications in Cyrenaica, one of Libya's three provinces. He held this post until the fall of 1953, when he was appointed Minister of Communications in the Libyan federal government. Since he assumed the premiership he has held the position of Foreign Minister simultaneously.

A man of frank speech and direct answers, Ben Halim is appreciative of Western friendship and economic support. Yet Libya's Premier is critical of Western attitudes toward the nationalist struggle of his Algerian neighbors. He describes the oppressive French military operation in Algeria as "one of the biggest shames of the free nations . . .

"One cannot see how a people who are trying to achieve their independence should be treated the way they are treated now."

ELEMENTARY 4TH GRADERS MAKE TOUR OF STATE CAPITOL

Mrs. Leila Belle Moore's thirty-three fourth grade pupils from the Clanton Elemnetary School, with six home room mothers and our very capable bus driver, the Rev. R. E. Wilkins and the church bus, made a very enjoyable trip to Montgomery on Monday, May 13th.

The Class had just finished the study of Alabama history and we were especially interested in many historic exhibits in the Archives and History building.

"The Little White House" of the Confederacy and the Capital were also visited, which included Governor Folsom's private office.

Later we visited the Governor's Mansion and some of us took pictures in front of it.

Included on our trip, was a visit to WABT TV. We saw a live show and then were invited "onstage" where the courteous staff showed us many interesting things about TV.

Of course our trip would not have been complete without going to Oak Park where we all enjoyed lunch, the rides and the zoo.

On the way home, we stopped to see the grave of Alabama's first Governor, William Wyatt Bibb.

We arrived home safely but tired and felt that we had learned many interesting things about our Capitol and State of Alabama from our trip.

Your reporter, Miss Faye Williams.

Dept. of Agriculture Announces '57 Cotton Program Provisions

Premiums and discounts for eligible qualities of upland cotton under the 1957 Cotton Price Support Program were announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Minimum loan rates for eligible qualities of extra long staple (American-Egyptian, Sealand and Sea Island) cotton will be announced later.

The Department also announced that the Commodity Credit Corporation will make price support loans on 1957-crop upland cotton available to eligible producers in the early harvesting areas prior to August 1, 1957, at the announced minimum of 28.15 cents per pound, gross weight, basis Middling ⅞-inch cotton at average location. In event the support price as of August 1, 1957, is in excess of this rate, the difference will be paid to the producer upon application by him. If application is not made for the difference and if the loan is not repaid, the difference will be paid upon maturity of the loans. All other provision for loans prior to August 1 will be the same as for loans made after that date.

The premiums and discounts for upland cotton have been determined on the basis of market differences for the various grades and staples in a manner similar to that used in previous years.

Loans will be available from banks and other agencies that have entered into agreements with CCC and direct from CCC through April 30, 1958, and will mature July 31, 1958, or earlier upon demand. Loans will be available on cotton stored in warehouses approved by CCC and in farm storage structures approved by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) county committees.

The basic loan rate for 1957-crop upland cotton (28.15 cents per pound) will apply to Middling ⅞-inch cotton at average location. Since the base quality used by the spot and futures markets will be Middling 1-inch, the basic support rate is converted to a Middling 1-inch basis by adding the average market differences between Middling ⅞-inch and Middling 1-inch to the Middling ⅞-inch rate. The rate for 1957-crop Middling 1-inch will be 250 points (2.50 cents per pound) above the rate for Middling ⅞-inch cotton. The accompanying schedule of premiums and discounts for upland cotton is based on Middling 1-inch cotton.

Loan rates on upland cotton will vary with the freight rates to the mill areas of the Carolinas except in Alabama, Georgia, eastern Tennessee, Florida, South Carolina, and Virgina, where a zone system will be in effect. Schedules of the base rates for Middling 1-inch cotton, gross weight, by counties and warehouse points will be issued soon after August 1.

Price support loans at rates to be announced later will be available on American-Egyptian cotton produced in Cochise, Graham, Greelee, Maricopa, Mohave, Pima, Pinal, Santa Cruz, and Yuma Counties, Arizona; Imperial and Riverside Counties, California; Dona Ana, Eddy, Luna, Otero and Sierra Counties, New Mexico and Brewster Culberson, El Paso, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Loving, Pecos, Presidio, Reeves, Terrell and Ward Counties, Texas.

Price support loans at rates to be announced later will be available on Sealand and Sea Island Cotton produced in Alachua, Bradford, Columbian, Hamilton, Jefferson, Lake, Madison, Marion, Orange, Putnam, Seminole, Sumter, Suwanee, Union and Volusia Counties, Florida; and in Berrien, Cook and Lanier Counties, Georgia; and on Sea Island cotton produced in Puerto Rico.

Marketing quotas will be in effect for both 1957-crop upland and extra long staple cotton, but compliance will be considered independently for each crop. A producer will be eligible for price support on either 1957-crop upland or 1957-crop extra long staple cotton produced on his farm if he has complied with the farm acreage allotment established for such kind of cotton for his farm. Upland cotton cannot be substituted for extra long staple cotton or vice versa.

However, if a farmer for whom both upland and extra long staple cotton allotments have been established complies with his allotment for one kind of cotton and exceeds the allotment for the other kind of cotton, he will be eligible for price support on the former, but not on the latter.

Detailed information on the 1957-crop cotton loan program for either upland or extra long staple cotton will be available during the loan period, from warehouses approved for the storage of loan cotton, from lending agencies approved for making loans, and from ASC State and County committees in cotton producing areas.

On February 9, 1957, the Department announced (press release USDA 464-57) that the loan rate for 1957 crop of upland cotton would be at an average of 28.15 cents per pound, basis Middling ⅞-inch cotton or the minimum level of support determined on the basis of the supply percentage as of the beginning of the marketing year (August 1, 1957) and the applicable parity price, whichever is higher.

The final loan rates will be announced about August 1, 1957.

Keeping pace with modern developments the Navy has added Nuclear Training to its streamlined High School Graduate Training Program. Under this program a young man who possesses a diploma from High School and can pass the qualification tests will be guaranteed a career in one of five fields; Electronics, Airman, Hospital, Specialist and now Nuclear field.

The dolphin pin, symbol of submarine qualification and brotherhood, is one of the most prized insignia of any branch of military service and now the Submarine Service is open to young men with a yen for nuclear training or in one of 54 other ratings. For others interested in aviation, Naval Aviation offers an interesting and challenging career. Many of the ratings in the Aviation Group allow actual flight duty although in each case the person must volunteer for duty in the air. Chief Carl Jensen of the Navy Recruiting Station located in the Post Office Building in Clanton, says that young men who are to graduate from High School this year should come in for a visit before graduation and learn first hand all the amazing opportunities offered by the Navy to top notch young men who can qualify for service in the World's Greatest Navy—the Service with an unlimited future and real forward look.

Learn Survival Techniques—

The local Civil Defense held a very informative meeting at Bob's Drive-In Friday morning, May 10th at 10 a.m. Mrs. Burton Mullins called the meeting to order. Mayor Hollis Jackson gave us a short talk on helping to get the organization underway.

The main speakers for the day were Mrs. Opal Adams, Welfare Specialist Survival Program project manager from Montgomery and Mrs. Emily P. Holmes, State Coordinator of Woman's Activities, also of Montgomery. Mrs. Adams made us all realize that we must prepare to meet any and all emergencies, to believe that our liberty is worth saving at any cost. We may start with simple things by everybody joining hands and putting right foot forward, then left and keep going with what we have to do. By each community doing what they can to preserve a life our organization will be worthwhile.

Mr. James R. Harkins, the Survival Planning Project Manager of Montgomery showed us some very interesting slides on 35MM film of radioactive particles and how they can be detected and dealt with.

The following ladies were served a most delicious barbecue chicken plate at the noon hour:

"MY RESOLVE FOR THE YEAR," says one man..."Was to follow a steady thrift plan . . . But I've saved ne'er a dime . . . At the quarter-mark I'm . . . Not a bit better off than in Jan." The bard who penned this effort readily admits that it describes his own situation. Just plain forgetting to make a savings deposit each payday has been his problem. But this is how he has solved it. He has written another bit of verse on a card, which he keeps propped up on his desk: "Yes, a fourth of the year is behind me . . . But to thriftlessness I've not resigned me . . . It's the balance that counts...So my bank balance mounts . . . Every payday henceforward: Remind me!" If any of you readers made a similar New Year's resolution and have similarly let things slide, here's your reminder. It's never too late to get back on the savings track; but — in terms of being able to say "Happy New Year!" with conviction at the end of '57—the sooner the better. See you next payday?

The Farmer's Stethoscope—

KEEPING RECORDS GIVES FARMER VALUABLE THREE-WAY TOOL

A clicking Geiger counter indicates radioactivity for the scientist and plays a valuable role in the atomic age. In the same way complete farm records indicate where the farmer's money is made or lost and play a valuable role in the era of the cost-price squeeze.

More Alabama farmers than ever before are keeping records while still others admit that they ought to keep records. Complete, accurate farm records serve as a valuable three-way tool when properly used.

First, records indicate business success—net income rising or falling. Second, they are a service tool for such jobs as filling out income tax return. And third, they serve as a detector, locating weak points in the farm's business.

This last use of farm records is compared with the doctor's use of a stethoscope. Records will indicate strong and weak points of the farm's program just as the physician's instrument helps him make his diagnosis. But records will no more tell the farmer what steps to take to improve his situation than a stethoscope will prescribe a cure.

For example, records may show the farmer that he has an efficient, profitable dairy herd, but a losing hog enterprise. Then it is up to the farmer to decide whether he should concentrate on milk production and eliminate hogs; start an improved hog program; or change to a completely different combination of enterprises. Although records will not give an answer, they will furnish facts on which to base a wise decision.

Fin-Fan Items---

The Hard-Luck Story of The "Misguided Guide"

By R. L. (Dick) Scott

As most of you readers of "FIN-FAN" know, very few off days for fishing on the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes ever are mentioned in this column. The reason for this is because ole Alapoco only interviews or hears from the successful fishermen. Everyone knows that even when fishing is at its best some fishermen manage to come in empty handed.

A no-luck sob story usually holds little interest. However, Alapoco breaks a precedent this week to tell you the story of "The Misguided Guide."

Once upon a time there were several well-meaning and very honest tub-thumpers. They constantly sang the praises of their wonderful fishing spot, Lake Mitchell. Just mention the word "fish" and you would receive an invitation to try this angling paradise. One bright and sunny day, namely last Thursday, visitors from the north decided to test the words of the honest tub-thumpers and try their luck. The Yankees were in strange Rebel territory and depended on the guidance of the thumpers. This was a chance to show the Yankees some real southern fishing, assuming they were skilled in the sport, as they were. But, lo! Those Rebel bass would not cooperate. The thumpers guided and guided to no avail.

Perhaps the moon was not right or else the thumpers inadvertently misguided. The outing had disappointing results. However, the scenery was superb.

The moral of this tale is: Tub-thumpers, stick to your thumping and let the guides do the guiding.

Seriously, last Thursday was not a good day on Lake Mitchell, but last week as a whole was very good. The following contest entries indicate the best locations and results.

Lake Lay—

G. O. Norred's General Store, Talladega Springs, reports: Edward Cooksey, Sycamore, caught the creel limit of bluegills at Rock Springs Creek while fishing with worms as bait. Ed's largest catch was 13 ounces.

Chubby's bait Shop, Columbiana, reports: J. M. Weldon and J. W Rollins, Birmingham, fly-fished popping bugs near Camp Okomo and each brought in the creel limit on bass. Mr. Weldon rigged up a white cricket trailer to his black popping bug and hooked two bass on a single cast, a two pound ten ounce and a six pound ten ounce. Chubby adds a note saying that large strings of shellcrackers and bluegills are being taken with most any kind of bait from any point on Lay Lake.

Lake Mitchell—

M. A. Inman's Dock, Cargile Creek, reports: Young Billy Bennett, Birmingham used a Wee Nippee on Cargile and boated smallmouth bass weighing up to five pounds eight ounces each.

Raymond Wyatt's Camp, Walnut Creek, reports: [illegible] of Birmingham, boated bass weighing up to six pounds four ounces each while fishing an Hawaiian Wiggler.

G. H. Kelley's Cross Roads Store, reports: Dick Crew, Rockford, fly fished Pennymotley Creek, and his whopper was a four pound bass.

Lake Jordan—

Mrs. J. R. G[illegible]n, Manager, Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoals Creek, reports: Jimmy Park, Montgomery, used a mirror lure to catch his string of bass weighing up to four pounds two ounces each.

Log Cabin Beach, below Mitchell Dam, reports: A. C. Guinn, Verbena, boated two bass on a single cast. Mr. Guin used a homemade duster trailer a plunker to snag three and one-half pound and five and one-half pound whoppers. Two partners assisted in making the catch.

Lake Martin—

Brewer's Tackle Shop, Dadeville, reports: Ernie O. Moore, Dadeville, fly-fished the Smith Mountain area with a Hulla Popper and strung up bass weighing six pounds nine ounces each.

Lake Hill Inn, near Alexander City, reports: Henry Whittle, Alexander City used top water crickets near Young's Island to boat bass weighing up to four pounds 12 ounces each.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS:

Never overload. Overloading is responsible for more boating tragedies than any other cause. Many builders now are showing load limits on the name plate. Also, any dealer or dependable camp operator will be glad to advise you.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

All players on Clanton's All-Star Team are asked to be at the City Park Sunday, June 2nd prepared to play ball. The game opponent is unknown, but a worthy rival will be ready to play. Time of the game is 2:00 o'clock.

Speaking of baseball, J. E. Easterling issues an invitation for all boys who wish a ride to the East-West game at Birmingham on June 7th, to get in touch with him. No, wait a minute, that would require too many phone calls. He wants the boys who wish a ride to be at the City Park and those who can take their car to carry the boys to phone him. Now that's better! If you can spare the time and furnish your car to take some boys to the game call J. E. Easterling. He is the vice-president in charge of transportation.

Alabama Trucker says: A Tenn. hillsman gave 2 visitors permission to hunt on his laud. As they set out he told them, "you'll find a still 'round t'other side of the mountain, I'd be obleeged if you'd bring me back a jugful."

At the end of the day, the pair stopped at the still, filled a jug but were barely on their way again when a bullet whistled over their heads. Pounding at top speed down the path to the mountaineer's cabin. they rushed in and panted that his still was being raided.

"Boys," he replied, as he hastily shut the door behind them, "I plumb forgot to mention, that ain't my still.'

Bubble gum with scrambled eggs! Did you ever try it for breakfast? Eddie and Ruth Waters have adopted two little boys and their many friends are tickled pink about their happiness, but we think Eddie was in the clouds last week after he brought the boys back from Montgomery. Ruth sent Eddie over to Litlejohn's Store to get a loaf of bread for breakfast. He saw some bubble gum on the candy rack and bought the boys a big bag of it. He returned home minutes later with the bubble gum but no bread, he had completely forgotten that you just can't eat scrambled eggs with bubble gum.

The foreman employed by a contractor rushed into the office wide-eyed and all excited. "Boss," said he in an agitated voice, "one of them new houses of ours fell down during the night!" "What's that?" exclaimed the boss, jumping right up and beginning to take notice. "What was the matter? How did it happen?" "It was the fault of the workmen, boss," answered the foreman. "They made the mistake taking down the scaffolding before they put on the wallpaper."

Alabama's Golden-Agers Increasing

The percentage of Alabamians 65 and over is rising, according to a report issued by the State Pensions and Security offices.

The report stated that "Current Social Security Administration estimates (June 1956) indicate 235,000 Alabamians to be 65 or over—an increase from 198,648 of the 1950 Federal census.

"This means" said the report "that about 75 of every 1,000 persons in this State are now in the old-age group." This is a figure more than three times that of 1870 when it was only 23 per 1,000."

By way of further emphasis of the apparent increase in the number of senior citizens in our State today, the report noted that "the U. S. Census figures for 1940 and 1950 showed a 46 per cent increase in Alabama's aged population, but only an eight per cent increase in the total population for the 10-year period."

"Since Alabama ranks 46th in per capita income", it was stated, "it is not surprising we have a big need among our senior citizens. They don't earn enough to save for old age," the report said "and many are not eligible for the Old Age Survivors Insurance program (of the Federal Government.)

In April of this year, 104,665 aged persons received Alabama State Old-Age Pension Checks, records disclose.

Clanton Youth Teams Open Baseball Season With Bang

First Little League Game Well-Attended

By Mrs. M. R. Glasscock

The Clanton Little League ball season opened Tuesday evening with a double-header at the Clanton City Park. The Methodist Braves defeated the Lions in the first game with a score of Braves 10 - Lions 1. The Jaycees defeated the Kiwanians with a score of Jaycees 13 - Kiwanians 0.

In the first game, pitcher Bobby T. Miller of the Braves turned in an excellent pitching job as he struck out 14 and had a no-hitter going into the last ining.

Johnny Smith, pitcher, got a triple to drive in the lone Lions run. Hitting star for the Braves was Lannis Jones with 2 doubles and a single. Pat Murrah had a homer and Johnny Mims drove in 3 runs with a double as the Braves scored their ten runs. The Braves are coached by "Ott" Miller and the Lions by Henry Wyatt.

In the second game, Douglas Coe, pitcher for the Jaycees, turned in a 3-hit shut-out.

He was as col as a big-leaguer on the mound as he struck out 15 and walked none. Colyn Moatts, Tommy Miller and Butch Glasscock got the only safeties for the Kiwanians.

The Jaycees took advantage of the wildness of the Kiwanians pitching to score their 13 runs.

One of the smallest players in the League, Earl Wray, turned in a sparkling performance in the field for the Jaycees and also walked 3 times and scored 2 runs.

The Kiwanis team is coached by George Smith: the Jaycees by Donald C. Finlayson.

(Umpires for the first game were: Jerry Bodden at the plate; "Bing" Lecroy at first base; and James Duke Heflin at third base.

Second game umpires were: "Tex" Lockhart at the plate; Herb Salter at first and "Red" Glasscock at third.

Control Board Members Split On Road Work

Chilton County's Board of Revenue members again [illegible] banners at Mondays meeting [illegible] renewed their verbal duels [illegible] gress blocks.

A new tactical block was introduced into the already prevalent discord when Board Members refused to discuss the extension of pavement on the Cotton Mill Road.

Judge Tingle brought the matter before the Board at the request of citizens living on the road who asked that an additional two miles of the road be paved.

Hilyer, whose district covers this road, stated that paving was needed worse east of Highway 31 than on roads lying west of U. S. 31.

City of Clanton Denied Coperation on Paving—

County Engineer Harold Lewis brought to the attention of the Board that the City of Clanton had requested that Chilton County pave 1 mile (approximately) and resurface approximately three miles of streets at City expense.

Harold Smith offered a resolution that this be done, but his motion died for lack of a second.

Since the Board has filled numerous requests of this type since the first of the year, it was recently decided that a standard rate of pay would be charged to any municipality wishing road work done by the County. Resolutions have been pased within the past few months to do work in Jemison, Thorsby, and Maplesville.

Sheriff Names County Jailor—

A request from the Chilton County Sheriff asked that Royce Smith be hired as County Jailor and Smith's wife as Jail Matron.

This request was unanimously approved by the Board members.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

TRUE, money talks, but it doesn't always give a true financial statement.

THE voice of conscience is merely the watchdog that barks at our shortcomings.

THE chap who does not bridle his tongue is likely to be saddled with much trouble.

NEXT year is election year, so remember that a man's fitness for office can be judged by the means he uses trying to get it.

LIFE is a tough battle and $10 worth of ambition won't hold down a hundred dollar job.

No Time To Lag----

Are things lagging in the drive for a new Community Center for Clanton? If so, there is some one who is not doing his share.

Remember it will be you and your children and your grandchildren who will be enjoying the benefits of this Comunity Center for years to come. It is your duty to see what you can do to bring about this worthwhile undertaking for our little city.

If you want to help, but don't know what you can do to further this cause, then call Callen Alred, Chairman of the Clanton Community Center, and he will be more than glad to fill you in on the progress being made and the part you can play in finishing the job.

Up to now the project is just getting underway—we all have time to get in on the ground floor and do our part—don't wait to be invited to lend a hand, find out what needs doing and do it. That is the only way we will be able to finish this much needed asset to a growing city.

A Step Forward----

With the beginning of a new month the Chilton County News is planning an unprecedented change in its procedure of publishing the news for and about Chilton Countians and Central Alabamians.

After thoroughly discussing the new program, it has been established that the change will be one of improved service to you the public, and we feel, one which will give you a better general news coverage on an even broader scale than ever before.

One big influence in the new program is the fact that production costs are getting out of hand. Due to this fact, we are "sreamlining" the News. It will still be "Your Community Newspaper" but with modifications in the right places so as to bring you better news coverage and still keep production costs in reason.

One of the greatest time-consuming facets of publishing your newspaper is the re-typing, setting-up, printing, etc, of "social items." By this we mean "Mrs. so-and-so spent the day with Miss so-and-so."

We feel that by condensing this particular type of news we will be enabled to extend our general news coverage to a much higher degree, thus giving you a more concise, newsy and generally interesting Chilton County News.

In other words, you'll be getting the same kind of good news and reporting that you have in the past. . . just more of it because we will have more time to gather it up and print it.

The only thing that will be modified greatly will be the "social news", and we will still carry a minimum of that for those interested.

The program outlined is, we believe, a step in the right direction toward making your newspaper one which will appeal to everyone, because it will be complete reporting on everyone and everything.

We ask your support in our new undertaking. We feel that it will not only benefit you as a reader by keping you well-informed, but that the entire area will benefit by the change.

In effect, we are modernizing the Chilton County News, but still keeping the personal touch that we know our readers like and look for.

We appreciate suggestions, constructive criticisms and it is with this in mind that we are making this change for the better.

We must all keep up with the times. We will appreciate any comment you may have on the program because it is for our readers that we are making this change. You may be assured, that any suggestion you might have will be seriously considered, providing it has the best interests of the majority in mind.

We sincerely hope you like the program and we think you will. Look for big things in your Chilton County News. It is the voice of the people; "Your Community Newspaper" and we feel that as the communities grow, so should grow the newspaper.

BABE RUTH BASEBALL LEAGUE HAS MORE MERIT THAN SOME FOLKS KNOW

Not Just Another Ball Club To Clutter Your Free Time!

By Bob Tucker

Some, or we should say, m[illegible] of our citizens have a mis[illegible]preted impression of j[illegible] the Babe Ruth Baseball [illegible] is, and it is causing the sp[illegible] and managers working with [illegible] boys no end of trouble [illegible] proper backing and support.

Could we impress upon you here and now, that the Babe Ruth Baseball League is not just another ball team or proje[illegible] make some money for a [illegible] organization Some folks, pa[illegible] included, seem to have the [illegible] that there are getting to be entirely too many boys ball clubs around them [illegible] out our ears" so to speak. How true this opinion is, we won't attempt to say, but we will say that the majority of the boys baseball clubs serve a purpose and a valuable one in your community.

The Babe Ruth League is designed for boys from 13 years of age to 15. It has been pointed out that these boys are too old to be Little Leaguers and too young to join any of the other teams.

So they're stuck in the middle. This leaves these boys without any organized summer recreation by and large, and stop and think a moment: These are the boys in their most impressionable years. They can be led astray easily or they can be taught to be good citizens just as easily.

Now going astray is too easy. That's why the few who are working so hard here in Clanton, Jemison and Montevallo are trying to get the League on its feet. The boys need guidance and something to do with their idle time.

If you had planned to help out in this endeavor, may we respectfully ask, what's keeping you? If you're a parent of one of the boys who signed up for this Club please try to do something to show your boy that you're interested in him and his welfare and yes, even his ball club. If only the parents took the interest they should and can we'd have more than enough backing to get started.

The men trying to get the League started deserve a little more cooperation and its our confirmed opinion that the boys deserve a little attention, too. How do you feel about it, Citizen?

Mrs. Silas Oden (Bro. Paul's sister-in-law) of Mobile dropped [illegible] last Saturday morning to ch[illegible] us and during the course of conversation we explained our new program to her. She understood our intentions and our position as to the high costs of production and she also agreed with us that ten [illegible] twelve hours a week put into endeavors other than just social news would indeed make for a better, newsier, Chilton County News.

Oh, by the way, Mrs. Oden also said that the reason, or one of the reasons she was in Clanton and teh County was due, in a way to the News. It seems she and Mr. Oden had been planning on attending the annual Homecoming at one of our community churches. She said when the time came she just knew the announcement would be in her News. And sure enough, there it was. So, they made it to the Homecoming. We're mighty glad she could take some of her valuable time to visit with us. A good word now and then boosts our morale no end. Mrs. Oden, we h[illegible] you always depend on the Ne[illegible] to keep you informed on things of interest to you. We'll do our dead-levelest not to let you down.

Mr. Charlie Bowles (if we didn't get his name right, he'll get us good) of the Bethsalem Community was in to "rest a spell" Monday and we just talked a spell. He says he's 76 years young this week [illegible] seems a bit irked at the fact [illegible] he can't get around much anymore. "If I just had my old hor[illegible]" [illegible] he, "I could ride wherever I [illegible]sed when I ple[illegible]". In the [illegible] of the con[illegible]ation, we [illegible]entioned something about hoping [illegible] live that long and he said "well, [illegible] never know what's in store for [illegible]

Now there's a true and realistic [illegible]ilosophy and we believe he's one [illegible] believes it. He seems like a [illegible] old gentleman and we were [illegible]roud to make his acquaintance [illegible] hope he'll visit us again

S'funny how you never care for swimming until you get near the [illegible]ater. Then you think about it; yep, you left it at home. That bathing gear can be pretty important, huh?

You'll see a good bit in this issue of the News about our new program which takes afect the first of June and we'd like to impress on those of you who don't fully understand the change, the fact that it is not our intention to "cut out" community news. We're merely streamlining what news we get from our comunities; cuting down on unnecesary items in order to build up items of interest to more in the community. If anything's cut-out it will be the repetition that clutters the good news. On the contrary, send in more "community" news; that's what we're after. Cooperate with us and watch your newspaper grow with the communities. We [illegible]eel certain you're going to like the change.

We have nothing whatsoe'er against the grand old state of Tennessee, but, being a true, blue southerner and loyal Alabamian our first praise naturally goes to our home state. If you've never been to Cheaha State Park in Talladega and Clay Counties just south of Anniston, you don't know what you're missing. Exactly 100 miles from Clanton (less if you live in north Chilton) is the most beautiful country you ever did see, if you like mountains and views. Recreation[illegible] facilities abound and stay-over facilities are available on top of the mountain. Don't let anybody tell you you have to go to the Blue Ridge Mountains to see some real scenery. We have it right here in Alabammy and we're proud of it. Don't go up there expecting to see the Grand Canyon, but go with an open mind and you'll enjoy every minute of it. One thing, you'll be surprised that there's a spot that high in the clouds so near to you. If you need directions, we'll be glad to oblige.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

AN ARAB SEES JESUS

Dr. Van Ess, the great Christian missionary to Iraq, tells of a sermon preached in Iraq. It was preached by one of his friends to a group of simple Arabs. The subject was—"What Jesus is Like." As he preached and described the Man from Nazareth, one of the Arabs brightened and exclaimed, "Oh, I have met him!"

The missionary frowned and explained to them that Jesus lived 1900 years ago. It would be impossible for anyone to meet him now.

"Oh no," the native insisted, "I have met him!" And upon further discussion, it turned out that a Swedish doctor who lived and healed and worked among a tribe some distance away, so fitted the missionary's description of Jesus as to rouse that quiver of recognition in the Arab.

Let me assure you that Christ does live in his followers. How is he recognized? By the same characteristics being seen in us that were seen in him—the same attitudes, the same emotions, the same service, the same love.

Now what was he like? We are told that he was sympathetic, full of pity, and closely touched by the needs of those about him. We sing, "More about Jesus." I suggest that we need to sing, "More like Jesus," For the very word Christian means Christlike.

Dr. Rambo told of saying good-by to an old Indian woman on the steps of his dispensary in mid-India, after having successfully operated on her eyes for cataracts. As she started away she bowed low and said, "Good by, God."

The doctor hastily explained that he was not God. He was only a poor weak servant of God. But she would not have it and as she went down the road she turned every few steps and waved—gratefully shouting "Good-by God, good-by God."

The Bible tells us that God was in Christ. That means that God is in us when Christ lives there. And a genuine Christian can shout with Paul, the best apostle, "Christ liveth in me!"

So Jesus still moves in our world today. He moves and speaks and works and is seen and felt every time one of us acts and lives in a Christ-like way. But the genuine essence of this Christ-likeness comes from within. It is very wearisome to try to be like Christ, whether from a moral or ethical outward compulsion. The stimulus must come from within. And it can only come from within when Christ himself lives inside.

I believe in a personal knowledge and experience of receiving Christ. Just how it happens or when it happens is not always easily defined or explained. But the essential thing is that Christ must be invited and when he is invited he always comes in.

The greatest miracle on this earth is for Christ to live again in the lives of his followers. This is what is known as a "Saint"—one in whom Christ is felt and seen to live again

Lamar Makes Good; Now Wears Dolphins

(Editor's Note: The follow- letter was received by Mr. E. C. Williams (Maplesville Hwy.) of Clanton and forwarded to us for publication. It is from Mr. Williams' son's Commanding Oficer comending him and we think, is a signal honor of merit and achievement.)

Dated: May 17, 1957

"Dear Mr. Williams,

As your son Lamar's commanding oficer, it pleases me to inform you that I have designated him "Qualified in Submarines". For this I have presented him with his first Dolphin pin, the insignia of the submarine force. (The enclosed photograph was taken at the ceremony held on board for the occasion).

As Lamar has no doubt told you, those "Dolphins" are not easily obtained. It takes many hours of long hard work to learn the equipm[illegible] systems and the many other [illegible]plexities that make up a submarine. Your son has devoted these necessary hours to his qualification and I am proud, as I am sure you are, of his accomplishment. You may be assured that he is doing his job in the Navy and doing it well.

Unfortunately, I do not often meet the parents of the fine men who serve under me. Therefore, may I say that the door is always open to you should you desire to correspond with me concerning your son or have the opportunity to visit the ship

Again may I say that I am highly pleased with the job that your son is doing.

Very sincerely,
-s- C. S. BOWCOCK, Jr
Lieut. Cmdr., U. S. Navy
Commanding Officer"

Report from Washington

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Recently I introduced a measure which, if enacted into law, will officially name the Tuscaloosa Lock and Dam in honor of the late William Bacon Oliver, for many years representative of Alabama's Sixth Congressional District.

It was called to my attention by the Tuscalosa Chamber of Commerce earlier this year that, although the lock and dam on the Warrior River at Tuscaloosa was unofficially named for Congressman Oliver in 1940 by the citizens of Tuscalosa County, this multi-million dolar structure is still legally designated as the Tuscaloosa Lock and Dam. In order to change all official records, the passage of the measure I have introduced is necessary.

Served 22 Years—

"Buck" Oliver, as he was affectionately known to his many friends, was born in Eutaw, Alabama in 1867. He received his education at schools in his home town, at the Verner College Preparatory School in Tuscaloosa, and at the University of Alabama.

After a special course in the law school of the University of Virginia, he became an attorney at the age of 22. For ten years, begining in 1898, he served with distinction as solicitor for the Sixth Judicial District of Alabama. He resigned this position to become dean of the law school at the University of Alabama.

In 1914 William B. Oliver was elected to Congress and the following year began the first of eleven consecutive terms as Representative of the Sixth Alabama District. During his twenty-two years as a member of Congress. He served first as a member of the Naval Affairs Committee and later as a member of the important committee on Appropriations.

Although Representative Oliver did not seek re-election in 1936, he continued to serve his government in an appointive capacity. He worked as Special Assistant to the Attorney General in Washington from July 22, 1939 until May 1, 1944, when he retired from political and public afairs. His death ocurred on May 27, 1948.

Approprirte Memorial—

Mr. Oliver, who was generally recognized as an outstanding member of Congress, played a major role in securing in 1936 the first appropriation of $1,000,000 for the construction of the lock and dam at Tuscaloosa. It is most appropriate, therefore, that this structure should officially bear his name.

Legislation Ahead—

Last Friday the House of Representatives began consideration of the 34 billion dollar defense appropriation bill, with a final vote scheduled for this week. Early next week, debate will begin on the so called civil rights measure recommended by the President. Southerners are prepared to point out in detail the dangers of this legislation, and there is every indication consideration of the measure will continue through next week.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Alabama State Highway Department will hold public hearing on 11th day of June, 1957 at 10 o'clock a.m. at the City Hall in Clanton Alabama to consider the economic effects of the location of the Federal-aid highway project or projects listed below, which may bypass or go through any city, town or village, either incorporated or unincorporated, within Chilton County. Said project(s) is|are, known as I-202-2(2) and is located between a point 1.2 miles Northeast of Clanton to a point 4 miles East of Jemison.

Said public hearing is for the purpose of fulfilling the requirements of Section 116(c), Public Law No. 627, 84th Congress of the United States.

By order of the Alabama State Highway Department, H. L. Nelson, director.

Men's, Women's Bouts At Armory Wrestling Matches

WRESTLING COMMISSION CALLS FOR RE-MATCH

An exciting card of wrestling will be held at the Clanton Armory on Saturday, June 1st beginning at 8:00 p.m.

One match will call for Tor Yamato, the rough and rowdy Japanese, to tangle with the popular Alabama All-American, who gave Yamato a real working over before losing the third fall at the match held here last month.

Yamato is the present Southern Junior Heavyweight champion.

Reports are that there is bad feeling between these two boys and it was necessary for promter Gus Gulas to appeal to the Alabama boxing and Wrestling Commission who called a re-match.

A grudge fight will certainly liven up the proceedings come Saturday night at the local Armory.

The other one hour, three fall event will be between Kathy Branch and a newcomer to this area, Kim Tinker. She is not, however, a newcomer to the sport and it promises to be a good bout.

Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and an overflow crowd is expected by the promoters. Prices will remain the same as in the past: Adults $1.00 and children between 4 and 11 only 50c.

loves to cut loose and cover the miles!

If you're looking for a real "escape artist," a car that loves to step out and get away from it all—well, it just happens that Chevy was born with that urge.

If there ever was a car that loved to cut loose and cover the miles, it's this one. Yet it's so easy to handle that it even makes city traffic seem a bit lighter and parking places a bit bigger.

Chevy's pretty easygoing out on the highway too. Not pokey. Far from it. You find, for example, there isn't a hill around that can make it breathe hard—not with Chevrolet's high-performance V8 on the pulling end. You've got up to 245* horsepower here for the biggest helping of driving pleasure found in the low-price field!

Chevy's new Positraction rear axle (optional at extra cost) adds still more pleasure. It delivers greater power to the wheel that grips, not the wheel that slips. You have surer control and better traction on any road surface.

Stop by your Chevrolet dealer's before another good driving day goes by.

Telephone Talk

By
OLIVER W. NORTON
Your Telephone Manager

WHAT ARE THEY UP TO? I know you've seen 'em around town—those neat, businesslike telephone trucks. Wonder what they do? Well, our folks who install and repair home and business phones use the smaller ones. The big trucks serve our linemen and cable crews, who not only install new lines but constantly check existing ones to be sure they're in good condition. You see, preventing trouble is a big part of our job—testing wires, cables and equipment and replacing if needed to avoid breakdown. It all adds up to telephone service you can depend on, every hour of the day, every day of the year.

FRIEND OF MINE SAYS breakfast in bed is his idea of really living it up. Let's face it—that's a luxury few of us can ever indulge. But having a bedside phone—even without the breakfast—is good living that's both practical and inexpensive. My friend was a bit surprised when I reminded him an extra phone for the bedroom costs about four cents a day. Saves running 'round the house at night or when you want to relax. Looks pretty too, in one of those smart decorator colors. And say, the lady of the house would welcome a handy wall telephone for her kitchen. Why not call our Business Office for more information?

DID YOU KNOW . . .

North America has 16% of the world's land area, 7% of its people—but over 60% of its telephones.

Your telephone can be connected to over 60 million others in the U. S. and about 40 million in 110 foreign countries or areas.

Dodge trucks lead the low-priced 3!

Special cameras like this new high-speed Hulcher "70", designed to take rapid-sequence photos of guided-missile launchings, were used to record tests. Electrically operated, the Hulcher "70" shoots 20 pictures a second.

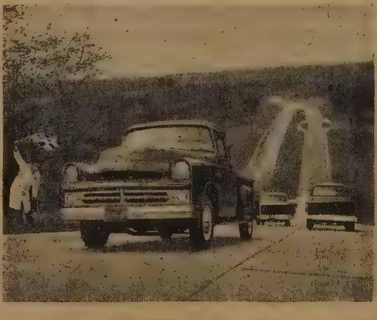
THEY'RE OFF! Here's the start of a grueling hill-climb test. All three low-priced trucks were lined up at the bottom of a test grade equal to the steepest hill in San Francisco. At flag drop, test drivers floor gas pedals . . . the Dodge Power Giant leaps out in front.

Actual road tests . . . like the one photographed at the right . . . prove beyond question that Dodge Power Giants outclass all competition. This rugged hill climb is just one of a whole string of tests comparing all three low-priced trucks.

See certified test results of the entire series —actual unretouched photographs—at your own local Dodge dealer's. These tests, plus 15 minutes behind the wheel, will demonstrate to you that today's Dodge Power Giants lead the low-priced three in every measure by which you judge a truck.

You get the most V-8 power of the low-priced three . . . up to 232 horsepower. This gives you snappier performance to save valuable trip time . . . extra power to take steep climbs with less engine strain. And Dodge gives you extra payload capacity, too. For instance, the test pick-up shown hauls as much as 27% more than the other two low-priced makes.

Check today's low Dodge prices. You'll find eleven Power Giant models, in the low-tonnage field alone, that are actually the lowest priced of the low-priced three. Why not see for yourself? Your dealer will gladly bring a Dodge right to your door.



DODGE THE WINNER BY FIVE LENGTHS—and still gaining! The Dodge Power Giant outdistanced both truck "C" and truck "F" from the start. This is just one of a complete series of actual road tests that prove Dodge the outstanding leader of the low-priced three.

In Everyday Living

IF THEIR WINTER LAYOFF has left your garden tools looking distressingly unfit, hurry to the hardware store. But before you make replacements, here's one gardener's suggestion: First, buy and try some steel wool (to remove rust): a mill file (to sharpen cutting edges): and a little lubricating oil (to treat [illegible] surfaces). After your inexpensive triple tone-up treatment, you'll probably find that most of your tools will look as good and work as well as new.

"EXACTLY HOW?" people sometimes ask us, when we make a statement to the effect that "the check way is the safe way to handle the transfer of funds." Well . . . If you carry cash and lose it, your funds are gone; if you carry a checkbook and lose it, your funds are intact. If currency is lost, that's that; if a check that you've drawn is lost, you can ask the bank to stop payment on it. If you mail cash to someone you wish to pay, someone else may steal it; if you mail your check, made out to your correspondent, no one can exchange it for cash until it bears the payee's endorsement . . . Mark you, these are just some of the safety features of a checking account. Open yours, with us!

The Life Of A Chilton County Blackberry

By BILLY CHISM
News Cub Reporter

(Ed's. Note: According to reports, he Chilton County Fruit And Truck Growers' Ass'n., located at Thorsby has done a magnificent job this year in assisting some 250 berry farmers with their crops. The following is our Cub Reporter's views on the working of the packing shed.)

While visiting Chilton County Fruit and Truck Growers Association market I had an oportunity to see blackberries and pickle cucumbers being assorted for market.

Blackberries were being delivered to market in Thorsby by Chilton County [illegible] crates. Federal-State Inspector, W. J. Miller was examining and grading the berries for quality. Berries were stacked on wooden pallets and picked up by self-propelled fork-lifts which could easily move 32 crates at a time.

Berries were weighed and moved to the rear of the market shed. In the newly added market shed berries were dumped from crates to belt conveyors, re-graded, washed and placed in 25 lb. metal cans.

Mr. J. H. Kincaid, manager, stated that the washed and canned berries will be quick frozen in Birmingham and held in frozen storage for later sale in Louisiana, Illinois and Tennessee and other states.

According to Mrs. Cleckler, Association Clerk they have, since May 17 handled berries for 220 growers. Berries have been shipped to Pennsylvania, Illinois, Georgia, Louisiana, Florida and Tennessee. Mrs. Cleckler also stated that on June 3rd the market shipped 6500 crates or 265,000 lbs. of berries.

Little League Teams Prove Well-Matched In Second Game

Friday evening, May 31st, marked the second double-header for the Little Leaguers.

Both games were close and [illegible]ing, as evidenced by the scores, Braves 5 - Kiwanis 4; Lions 7 - Jaycees 5

In the first game, Braves pitcher, Lannis Jones, checked the Kiwanians with one run until the fifth inning. With Tommie Miller knocking in two runs, the Kiwanians put on a rally, but fell one run short of tying. Shortstop Moatts turned in a couple of fine fielding plays for the losers. The hits were pretty well scattered for the Braves with Buddy Ellison getting a three-bagger, the longest hit of the game Johnson had two runs batted in and catcher Ray did a fine job behind the plate.

Lions pitcher Wyatt, tripled and stole home in the first inning o the second game, then proceeded to pitch his team to a 7 - 5 victory, giving up only one earned run and striking out 14. The Lions went into the fifth inning trailing by two runs, but a couple of walks, a couple of hits and loose fielding by the Jaycees saw four runs come across and, that proved to be the game. For the losers, "Little Mite" Earl Wray walked and scored three times. First baseman Propst doubled in a run, walked and scored. Except for the first and fifth inning, Jaycees pitcher Cox had no trouble with the hitters.

The youngsters are setling down now and really playing ball. The scores for this game are indicative of the fine work the coaches are doing. Enjoy the games and suport your favorite team. Come on out to the Little League games.

Fruit & Berry Growers Attribute Success Of Co-Op To Cooperation Of Members

Special To News

Chilton County Fruit and Truck Growers' Association, Thorsby, reported this week a total berry movement of near one million pounds since the first berries were delivered to the Association shed Friday, May 17th.

A total of two hundred and twenty growers have delivered berries to the Association for processing and|or sale.

Association manager, James H. Kincaid, reported that berries in field crates, or washed, canned, and frozen condition have been delivered to the following sales outlets:

Jam and Jelly Manufacturer, Atlanta, Ga.; Jam and Jelly Manufacturer, Birmingham; Volume Juice Processor, North-east Pa.; Berry Freezing Establishments, Humboldt, Tenn. and Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; Jam and Jelly Mfg., New Orleans; Jam and Jelly Mfg., Orlando, Florida.

In addition to the above, sales of berries have been made to Mid-West Pie Bakers and are being put in frozen storage in Birmingham for them.

Growers delivering berries to the cooperative association, Thorsby, are receiving an advance on their berry crop based on 8c per pound. This is not the total income that local growers will realize from the 1957 crop.

Sales are definitely made for the entire 1957 volume of berries, based on a platform delivered price of 11c per pound. After shed operation expenses can be determined, growers will receive an additional payment on the 1957 crop.

Total monies through the week of May 31st paid to growers on 8c advance amounted to $46,104.90.

Chilton County did not "just happen" to be the peach and berry center of the world and it is to men like the following that so much is owed along those lines:

Association president, E. H. Bowles; directors Charlie Childress, R. C. Davis, Perry Bean, Clarence B. Oaks, R. F. Holley and A. D. Headley; and manager James H. Kincaid. These men are to be commended for successfully moving the 1957 crop at a satisfactory price.

Early season quotations on blackberries indicated a serious sag would be in store this season. Effective and painstaking contacts were made and new account[s] were [illegible] and a satisfactory price was [illegible]ed

As a result of these additional contacts and new buyers obtained, the indications are that the berry business in Chilton County is going to continue to expand. The Farmers Marketing and Exchange Association could be the organization to back this expansion and from its work this year, it looks probable that it will

TAKING things as they come and being able to live with them is another form of success.

A GREAT many more people talk economy than practice it.

IT'S odd but the same thing that makes a man fight, loosens his tongue considerably.

A SELF-MADE man is never finished until a woman takes over and polishes off the rough edges.

THERE'S nothing wrong with a man building himself up—provided he doesn't run another down.

A Chance To Renew Your Patriotism----

JUNE 14, next Friday, is Flag Day and people all over the United States will pause for a "moment" perhaps to remember just what the day means to them.

If you are one of those who will stop for a "moment", are you also one who realizes the blessings that the day represents?

It's called "Flag Day" for a purpose you know. And defined, it means simply, a renewed patriotic feeling and a chance for you to take stock of yourself to see that you aren't falling short of your duty to your Country and your neighbor.

The United States flag is a symbol, or we should say, "The Symbol" of freedom, good will, progress, and not in the least, it is a symbol of our individual rights and liberties and our personal heritage handed down to us by our forefathers.

The Flag has been fought under, over, upon, against, for and with. It has been used for good purposes and bad; it has held proud positions and lowly ones; it has been on the winning team and more than occasionally on the losing one; it has held many a dead solder, sailor, marine and defender of our Country in their final resting place; and yet

"Old Glory" has come unscathed and unmarred through it all. It is still your flag and mine. It is ours to do with as we see fit. It has such a grand and glorious [illegible] however, and a record of achievement that is unsurpassed anywhere, ever, that we can feel nothing but an humble, swelling pride whenever we see it flown.

It's a part of us.

This year, renew your faith in your Country and your allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America by proudly displaying it in its proper place. The Flag, our Flag, is the symbol of the proud heritage of our America; uphold its ". . . liberty and justice for all" by displaying it, not only on June 14th, but often.

What Price Publicity?----

WONDER how many of you agree with the recent trend initiated by the various colleges to publicize their institutions of higher learning with "cheese cake"?

Regularly their appears this picture of a beautiful young lady in scant clothing informing us that said party excelled in this, that or the other, which has no bearing on the subject matter what-so-ever.

Publicity for our colleges is necessary of course and we are sure the newspapers have always cooperated in this effort, but what we're getting at is, what has higher learning got to do with bathing suits, shorts, play suits, and other feeble attempts to disguise the fact that it is all just an excuse to display beautiful legs and a large etc.

We didn't say we were against it—we just asked what it had to do with education?

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

As a taxpayer (of sorts) we are firmly convinced that the biggest thing in this life is Uncle Sam's capacity and the smallest thing, our ability to satisfy his appetite.

One thing that seems never to cross the minds of our government officials is the fact that we, as a nation (and they as leaders) can do without some things. "We have to have more money" is their monotonous lament. We wonder if they ever considered the tried and true method of just plain doing without. They tell us we can do it, but practicing isn't in their line.

Used to (not so very long ago) it was nothing more than a pessimistic viewpoint when "I can't make ends meet" was proclaimed. It seems that it is no longer a conversation piece reserved for the pessimistic. It is getting o the crucial point where the "little" man keeping the "big men" up is too great a load. It's already improbable that they can survive the pace; we certainly hope they don't make it impossible. It's the same old story, "Gimme!" Seems to us they aught to get it back on the "individual and his rights" basis.

Local cattleman crossed Texas Longhorn's with Alabama white faced Herefords and the result was not exactly what he had anticipated: where you gonna find anybody that wants long-faced Hereford's?

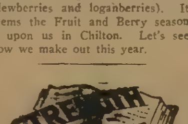
Note to brother Howard: How effective is that motor scooter when it comes to reducing? Ah,hah, we thought so; better get a bike. Who said you was fat, anyway?

Don't gripe about the high cost of livin', man! Who ask you to eat, anyway?

One thing you can say for the person with anti-social tendencies: he isn't prone to gossip.

They just don't make kids stupid anymore! Or either they make some purty dumb parents. What you gonna do? Used to you could threaten the young'un with a few harsh words, well emphasized and scare the pants off him. Nowadays, we ask our youngster "do you want to go in the back rom and get a spanking?" And his eyes brighten up and he says "uh,huh." Well, after repeating the question several times to make sure he understands we decide the bluff didn't work and we're sorta stuck in the middle. We know what you're thinking "try carrying out the bluff some time." Well dern, our hand's sore now from carrying it out. Just doesn't seem to mind a spanking enough to remember the lesson. Patience? Well now, we figgur after about ten or twelve times of different kinds of reminding that aught to be about enough practicing patience. They don't seem to profit much from our mistakes. (or do they?) See what we mean, we don't know what it's all about.

Hear this week that the peach packers in Chilton are getting into full swing this week for the new season. This was also supposed to be the big week for blackberries (dewberr l,eisoganebr 5mem, nala (dewberries and loganberries). It seems the Fruit and Berry season is upon us in Chilton. Let's see how we make out this year.



Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.—(II Corinthians 5, 17.)

Through our Savior and Redeemer, Lord Jesus Christ, in real repentance we can receive God's forgiveness and tender mercy. In that moment, in His strength, we become in truth a "new man" completely — leaving behind the shame and sins of the past.

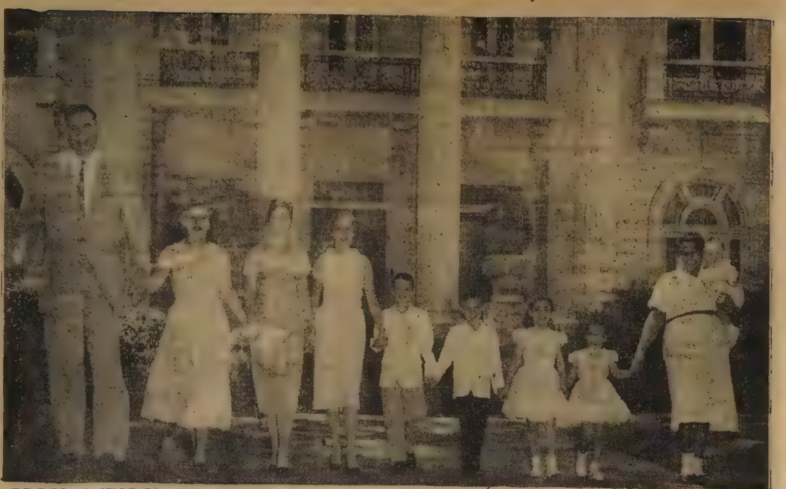
"Meaning Of Father's Day"



PROCLAIMING JUNE 16 as Father's Day in Alabama, Gov. James E. Folsom, father of seven children had this to say: "This year's Father's Day has "Integrity Starts In The Home" as its theme and on this day we shall thank and honor the fathers of our land who have done so much to build this great Democracy over the years through their teachings and sturdy devotion to liberty, and love of freedom."

"We continue to look to the father in the home as the strong, guiding influence of our young, and the moulder of tomorrow's citizens and our country's future of peace and brotherhood throughout the world."

"All the citizens of this State observe Father's Day in worship, according to each individual's religious belief, and by displaying the American flag, and other wise commemorating the Father in the home, so that every day in the year may have the blessings that flow from good fatherhood, good citizenship, and a strong family life."

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Continuing its economy drive, the House of Representatives last week cut the President's defense fund request by approximately seven per cent. An attempt by the Republican leadership to increase the total amount of the defense appropriation bill by $313 million failed, and the measure was finally adopted by a vote of 394 to 1.

Funds approved by the House of Representatives for the nation's defense in fiscal year 1958 total $33.5 billion, an amount approximately $2.6 billion less than the President's original request. These funds are allocated as follows: $7.2 billion for the Department of the Army; $9.8 billion for the Navy; $15.8 billion for the Air Force; $16 million for the office of the Secretary of Defense, and $682 million for inter-service activities.

The President has called on the Senate to restore at least half of the cuts endorsed by the House. It is doubtful, however, that a major restoration of defense funds will be made since members of the Senate have followed closely the recommendations of the House on appropriation measures during the present session of Congress.

Cuts to Date—

Including the defense bill, the House to date has voted on ten major appropriation measures. From these it has trimmed a total of more than four billion dollars. Additional reductions in the budget requests are expected when the bills carrying funds for foreign aid, military construction, and public works are considered.

Civil Rights Debate—

Debate began in the House of Representatives on Wednesday of this week on the President's so-called "civil-rights" bill. As I have pointed out in earlier columns, every effort has been made since January by proponents of this legislation to have it considered both in the House and the Senate at the earliest possible date. Southern members of Congress have worked together closely in an attempt to postpone it. The odds against us have been tremendous, but through our joint efforts floor consideration of the bill has been delayed for more than five months.

Although all of us from the South realize that we do not have the votes necesary to defeat the civil rights bill if and when a vote is finally taken, it is generally recognized that each day's delay in the House of Representatives reduces the possibility of Senate passage. Therefore, debate on the measure in the House will probably continue well into next week as Southern members expect to spend a considerable amount of time emphasizing its dangers.

ABUNDANT LIFE
BY ORAL ROBERTS

WE MUST "PUT IN" TO "GET OUT"

There is a law of life. Jesus knew it and lived by it. In so doing, he drank to the full from the cup of abundance of life.

This law is the same that exists in all of nature—the law of death to live. The acorn dies in the ground, but in so doing, it is reborn a huge oak. The grain of corn dies and lives again in the "full ear;" the raindrop gives itself to the ocean and is drawn up to live again in the cloud.

Jesus gave his all. He gave his time, his tears, his prayers, his love, his comfort, his future But in so doing, he lives a million times again through his followers, as well as through his resurrection.

In the abundant life of Jesus Christ, there is first the giving of the self to God. As long as we cling to our "selves" we can never know the ecstasy of being "born again." But when we give our all unreservedly to him then he in turn gives himself to us and we become healthy and whole. Psychologists speak of the integrated personality of the healthy person. But no one can be fully integrated until the spiritual necessity is met—the wedding of the soul of man with God. This makes man complete. Without God there remains a vacuum that can never be filled. And that is what Jesus came to do, to heal us. The word salvation means healing for mind, soul, and body It literally means "good health" — to make us whole.

The Sea of Galilee is a parable in itself. It is beautiful, clear, and healthful. Some 60 miles, as the crow flies, south of Galilee is the Dead Sea. Its waters are repugnant and nasty. Nothing lives by it or in it. But the amazing thing is that the source of the water for the Dead Sea and the Sea of Galilee is the same. It is the River Jordan. But the secret is that the Sea of Galilee does not keep its water Just as soon as it receives, it gives out into other little streamlets and tributaries. The Dead Sea keeps all of its water and is therefore dead.

In your life, there is healthfulness, and wholeness if you learn the secret of giving You were created not to be a collector but a dispenser of blessings.

Recently I was introduced to a very powerful, rich man. He gave me the secret of his success. He said "I am 76 years old, and I am worth millions of dollars but there is one thing I have learned and learned well." I asked, "Sir, what have you learned?" He answered, "I have learned a law that almighty God put here You must put something in, if you want to get something out." This is God's law of success and happiness. And here is God's door to Abundant Life. Give him yourself; and he will give it back to you, blest and multiplied. This is a wonderful secret!

County Health Department Gives Proper Method On Constructing Home Sewage

(Ed's. Note: Mr. Charlie Gay of the local Health Department ask us to publish the following information. He feels that it may clear up many questions some have as to the whys and wherefore's of proper sewerage disposal in homes and on farms inacessible to City Sewerage lines. If you're thinking about doing something along those lines, it will pay you to read this article first.)

In the last few years there has been an ever-increasing demand for modern plumbing, and the conveniences which go with it, in rural homes or areas where there is no municipal sewerage system. Science and education have greatly increased this demand by pointing out the great dangers to health incident to the careless disposal of sewage. No group of diseases is so readily controllable as the ones carried in this manner, which include typhoid fever, hookworm, dysentary and probably polio.

Improper disposal of sewage is frequently the greatest menace to the health of a family or community.

A septic tank and disposal field properly constructed is the most satisfactory and sanitary method of sewage disposal where a community sewage system is not available.

The type septic tank recommended and approved by the Health Department is rectangular in shape, monolithic in construction, water tight, and of at least 600 gallon capacity. A disposal field of an even number of lines totaling at least 150 feet for a family of five or less disposes of water from the tank.

Cesspools, tanks made of well tiling or concrete blocks, and circular tanks are strongly disaproved.

Here's How—

Bulletins illustrating step by step, the proper way to construct a septic tank are available at the Health Department.

It is extremely desirable to have a home sewerage system approved by the Health Department, not only to be assured that it is properly constructed and will function properly, but also to comply with G. I. and F.H.A. regulations. Most lending agencies require a sewerage system approved by the Health Department before a loan can be secured.

If you plan to build a septic tank contact your County Health Department, beforehand, and the Sanitation Oficier will come to your home or place of business, explain the plans, lay out the tank and lines and otherwise assist you materially.

JUNE: THE MONTH FOR BRIDES AND BOUQUETS

HOW TO DRESS THE TABLE FOR THAT ALL-IMPORTANT OCCASION

The summer party season speeds into a gay whirl of teas, receptions, open houses, and the like for newly married couples and out-of-town visitors this month.

Hostesses should take advantage of the season and use flowers for decorations. Flowers can make an attractive, cool-looking table and set off to best advantage its load of ice cold punch, cokies or individual cakes, sandwiches, and sugared, minted or salted nuts.

Candles may be used to help set off and soften the table decorations.

But these candles, according to accepted etiquette rules, should never be lit until late afternoon and then only, if the sun does not shine directly in the room.

Many times the color scheme can be carried out by using net over tinted sheets or solid colored material for a table cover.

On a hot summer afternoon, especially in a large group of guests, the success of the party will hinge on serving plenty of something cold to drink—and that means ice and lots of it. Punch is always good and particularly so when it's made from fruit juices—fresh, canned or frozen—with a carbonated beverage added.

To help cool the punch, chilling the juices thoroughly before they are used is advised. For a large gathering where the punch may stand several hours, the wise hostess will freeze some of the juices to go into the punch. These frozen juices can then be floated into the punch later.

THE PROSTATE GLAND

Postatitis, or inflamation of the rostate gland is one of the most painful conditions affecting man. Yet, because of its location in the body and association with the genitourinary tract, discussion of the prostate gland seems to be avoided in society. This is foolish because he prostate gland is an important organ in the normal functioning of the male's body.

The prostate is a small gland located at the outlet of the bladder in the male. The urethra is the tube which conducts the urine from the bladder to the outside. The prostate completely surrounds the urethra at its beginning where it leaves the bladder. This relationship accounts for most of the trouble when the prostate is aflicted, because it interferes with the act of voiding

It has been estimated that about one out of every three adult males have some degree of infection of the prostate.

This may occur at any age, but it is most frequent during middle life and may be considered either as acute or chronic prostatitis.

In acute prostatitis, one will find a patient with chills and fever. There will be burning on urination along with urinary frequency and urgency. There may be swelling, sometimes to such an extent that the passage of urine is completely obstructed. Usually the condition is accompanied with great pain and tenderness.

Chronic prostatitis is quite common, especially during middle age and after. It may be that the patient first had an acute infection which has settled into a chronic phase. This is not the usual course, however. Instead the patient will develop a low grade chronic prostatitis. The inflammation may exist for years undetected. First noticeable symptom is a slight increase in frequency of urination at night.

Benign prostatic hypertrophy is another condition affecting the prosate which may be due to a growth on the gland or by the gland itself becoming enlarged. The tumor may or may not be malignant.

Clanton Stars Shine In First Of Season; Slam Autaugaville 13-8

By Braxton B. Bates
News Sports Reporter

Blasting away with 3 singles, a double and triple, the Clanton Stars poured 5 big runs across the plate in an 8th inning uprising to gain a 13 - 8 victory over Autaugaville in the first game of the season at City Park here.

In the big Sunday game (June 2) the visitors led 8 to 6 as the Stars came to bat in the last of the 7th. Ellison and Bannister walked and both runners scored on a Larry Minor single.

With one out in the 8th, J. P. Easterling walked and Edwards singled. James Paul then scored on B. Easterling's single.

Ellison was literally robbed of an extra base hit by T. Harris in left field.

Dennis singled B. Easterling home with the 3rd run. Dennis rode home on a 3 base hit by Bannister who was promptly driven home by Minor's two base hit.

Bobby Wyatt pitched all the way for the Stars in gaining the decision. The visitors were led at bat by Wallace who slammed out 4 singles.

For the Stars it was their catcher, Jack Dennis who delivered with a double and 2 singles.

Bannister, Edwards and Minor had 2 hits each. The Stars defensive play was led by Johnny (the cat) Smith. His work at second base was really spectacular.

The winged-trio of outfielders, composed of B. Easterling, Larry Minor and J. P. Easterling turned in some fine defensive work to aid the cause for the Stars.

The Clanton Stars will announce future games as soon as possible.

New Uniforms—

The Clanton Stars have showed such promise during the past two seasons that the merchants have taken notice and purchased, or are purchasing new uniforms for the team, manager Lamar Edwards said this week. "Wonder Grass"—

New Method of Planting Coastal Bermuda Enables Chilton Farmers to Expand Acre.

Coastal Bermuda—sometimes called the wonder grass—can now be established during the summer with green clippings. Thus Chilton County farmers will be able to expand their Coastal Bermuda acreage and speed up their planned pasture programs.

The new method is described as both labor-saving and time-saving and will benefit even the "little" farmer. It is estimated that about 15,000 additional acres were put into Coastal this spring, making a toal of around 75,000 acres for the state Under the new method, even the acreage established this spring can be used for further plantings this summer.

The secret for success in practicing this new method is good soil preparation along with adequate moisture. Stands may be established from now until the midle of August—and these plants will not have as much weed competition as the spring stands did.

The New Method—

The new method works like this: Break, disk, and harrow the ground and then allow the rain to settle the soil; mow the established Coastal when plants are 12 to 18 inches high rake the clippings and load on the truck by hand; take to new area and scatter cutings by hand, disking them in with a disk harrow and firming with a cultipacker. One acre of Coastal Bermuda will furnish enough clippings to plant about eight acres.

Supt. W. W. Cotney of the Upper Coastal Plains Experimental Substation at Winfield, Alabama, who successfully used this method last summer recommends preparing the land in advance as a great booster to the program. "Plant in moist soil immediately after mowing—done when the dew is heavy or the weather cloudy and cool, using long stems, and packing the soil.

For the pro and con of this program see your County Agent. In Chilton County, M. R. "Red" Glasscock.

First Program, June 10th—

Recent High School Grads Urged To "Listen In" On TV

"FROM HIGH SCHOOL TO COLLEGE" IS THEME

"The Two R's" will be presented again this summer over the State's Educational Television Network. In cooperation with the Association of College English Teacher of Alabama, Dr. James R. Woodall of the API English Department will provide viewers with an introduction to college English for the purpose of helping young people make the transition from High School to College.

It will be of special interest to those graduates looking in that Dr. Woodall will invite them to submit samples of their writing for analysis and criticism.

It is noted here that every piece of writing submitted will be returned to the author with a careful analysis of its merits and defects and with an appraisal of how that piece of writing compares with what is expected in college.

This program is presented in the hopes of helping high school students bridge the gap between high school and college more easily and more effectively.

The first program may be heard at 6:30 p.m., Monday, June 10. Other programs will be Wednesday and Friday. The programs will be presented over TV Channels 2, 7, and 10.

CLANTON LITTLE-LEAGUE LINEUP FOR 1957 BOASTS SOME REAL "PRO'S"

FIRST GAMES OF SEASON NOT CLOSE ENOUGH FOR MUCH PERSPECTIVE

From all indications Clanton has its very best Little-League teams this year and it seems the public senses this fact because they are already showing great interest.

Last week's double-header, which was the first game of the new season was a good crowd-getter. According to reports, there were 250 or 300 people in the stands cheering the Leaguers on.

In this first of the season warm-up session the Methodist Braves defeated the Lions team 10 - 1 and the Jaycees licked the Kiwanians in a three-hit shut-out with Douglas Coe pitching.

CLANTON JEWELRY COMPANY

See me before you buy any JEWELRY any where on any deal at any price I WILL NOT BE UNDER-SOLD!

Get in the fine-car swim at the low Ford price!

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.

But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!

And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!

Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff!

Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most expensive automobiles go this far to bring you super-smooth performance.

Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!

Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford.* Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

Get in on the fun and savings now in the new kind of FORD

Hearty Maine Sardines

In these days of soaring food prices, it is a comfort for the homemaker to know that there is still a reasonably priced, high protein food available in almost every food store in the country.

Maine Sardines, in their handy flat cans, are low in cost and yet extremely high in the body-building proteins and minerals we all need for buoyant health.

Maine Sardines are packed under more than sixty different brand names. Some are packed in oil while others are in a golden mustard sauce or a tangy tomato one. Keep several different varieties on hand. The cans are easy to store and may be opened by any home can opener.

While most of us think of sardines as a delicious sandwich for the lunchbox or as a snack with a cool drink, the meaty sardines from Maine can be used hot, as a main dish, or cold, as a stick-to-the-ribs adjunct to a salad

—By Ben

Made a bad mistake the other week when we told you about Eddie and Ruth Waters' boys. It wasn't Eddie that got excited about the boys and bought bubble gum instead of bread at the store—it was Ruth.

Burton Mullins told us last week that he was going to be a candidate for Probate Judge in the Spring Primaries next May. Burt is a local son and has scores of friends throughout the County who will be glad to hear that he will make the race. Understand B. L. Adams will be a candidate also, in fact, looks like the race may be crowded.

A little boy was crying because his shoes hurt his feet. He ran to his mother who told him that he had the shoes on the wrong feet. "But mother," the boy replied thru his tears, "these are the only feet that I have."

And then there is the one told to us by the local hardware dealer about the lady who came into the store and asked to buy some ignition blinds.

The News Bag says that it once was that a fool and his money was soon parted, but now it happens to everybody.

Grady, Mary and Millicent Heflin are leaving this week-end for a trip through Canada and a stay in New York. They will also visit Henry Heflin who is stationed at Pittsburg, Pa. We think Grady will have about enough when he gets through Canada because he is coming on back to Clanton and leave the ladies in New York to see the sights alone.

Speaking of trips; L. E. Diefenderfer and the wife have just returned from a visit with their daughter and Dief says he guesses it's alright up there, but we have something here in the South that just can't be found anywhere in the world. He defines it as peace, contentment, hospit[illegible]king things a little slower and showing interest in our fellowman."

Just received a note from Morris Moatts inviting his friends to Athens, Alabama, for the First Annual Amateur Boat Regatta which will be held 15 miles West of Athens at Lee Hi Fishing Camp. One hundred dollars is being offered in prize money for the event and many boat racers from North and Central Aabama are expected. Morris says he will be tickled to greet his old friends from Chilton County and will be expecting you. Morris is Publicity Chairman for the event.

A pastor has been telling the story of the two ministers who went to Heaven and were detained at the Pearly Gates 'for a checkup," he explained. While the two ministers waited, a third man walked up and was admitted immediately. The churchmen wanted to know why. "That's a tax collector," said St. Peter. "He's scared more hell out of people than both of you together."

Royal Arch Masons To Meet Saturday

THE tongue of some people is their sword—and they never let it "rust".

THERE is nothing wrong in placing your faith in Providence, but don't expect Providence to do all the hustling.

SOME people tire themselves out kicking about things. This leaves them unable to accomplish anything worthwhile in life.

A good diplomat has to learn to overlook the unreasonableness in peoples' reasonings.

IT pays to remember that even though opportunity doesn't knock it can always be found.

God Bless Dad----

SOME folks don't recognize Memorial Day because it holds no personal interest to them; some don't let on that they don't really know about the Easter Bunny; and some few (we hope) of us don't even observe and share in the joys of the Christmas Day and what it signifies. But, we doubt if there's anyone who ever had a kind and loving father, who fails to remember, in some way, the old gentleman on his day.

Father's Day is June 16 and we use the term "old gentleman" because it sort of personifies the picture we all have of our father. It suggests kindness and loving care.

If Dad isn't an old gentleman yet, you won't likely have many really fond memories of him, but you'll love him for what he is to you today, right now. As the years progress, as they inevitably will, you gain more and more of the the goodness of life through the sweet memories of a loving father who was good to you and brought you up in the ways of honesty, decency and with a responsible outlook on life.

Older folks look back on Dad as the fellow who used to work hard all day and came home tired out. He'd probably sit down by the fire, maybe smoke a pipe or read the newspaper, talk about the hard times and maybe recall the "good old days" and some times he had.

The up-and-coming generation look on Dad as something of a shrine; a model to go by. Admiration for the things he does and respect for the things he represents and believes in. Allegiance for what he teaches them. He's the guiding hand of his children and at present, as fate would have it, is the guiding influence of the world.

Then there are the very young whose fathers are also young in comparison with the above-mentioned, and they don't know how to appreciate Daddy yet. Their only concern is that he come home every night, that he play with them occasionally and that he's always got what they ask for and is handy when the need for him arises. Otherwise they don't think too much about it.

Whichever category you find yourself in, you have now, or have had at one time a Dad like that. You either cherish his memories, love him for what he is, or idolize him as a child does.

No matter what, Dad has a great and lasting influence on our lives.

And now we come to our Dad: Well, we'll contradict everything we've said hertofore and say that there just isn't a Dad anywhere to compare with ours. Everybody else is most unfortunate not to have our Dad. You're thinking the same thing? Well, it's only fair to say, that we're all right. . .They're all alike and yet, the loving hand, the strong arm, the level head and the soft heart of our own Dad, make him something sorta special. You might say, we're sorta proud of "the old gentleman".

THE MAD PACE----

Watching the automobiles go by last Sunday morning early while standing on the man street we marveled at the mad pace we are going to nowhere.

Car after car, loaded with father, mother, children and maybe, friends, passed us by going towards the Gulf and for sure, on vacation. A scant ten, twenty years ago not one or two families in a hundred went on annual vacations. And to go back a bit farther, when we were growing up they hadn't discovered that everybody needed a yearly vacation.

Now at least one vacation a year is mandatory and in most cases there are several. No telling when vacations will start when the kids get out of school and end when it is time for them to start back again.

But the thing that impresses us most is the big effort and expense that is gone to, to enjoy a vacation Drive hard day and night, sleep fast and get up and drive some more. See all you can see and drive hard back to where you started and rest up so you will be able to go to work. That seems to be the prescription for a vacation these days.

The Safety Patrol's slogan "Slow Down And Live" could be adopted by the vacationer with a slight variation: "Slow Down And Enjoy Living."

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

Last week, being the first iss[illegible] ing our new style, was one of the best Chilton County Newses, as far as good Comunity coverage, that you've seen in quite a speil.

Now there's a reason. As a matter of fact, there are several reasons. One is that the publishers of your Chilton County News are striving in every way possible to bring you a better 'Community Newspaper' with good news about local happenings. Another very good reason is the splendid coperation we received and are receiving from our comunity correspondents and readers around Chilton County and throughout Central Alabama.

Look on any page of last week CCN and we'll personally [illegible] that you, whoever you are, will [illegible] something that interests you. [illegible] is the kind of newspaper you want from us. It's the kind we want to present. We need your continued coperation and you will get our continued support in all worthwhile doings in and around Chilton County. The Chilton County N[illegible] "dedicated to serving the citizens of Chilton County and Central Alabama" and we do our best to live up to our commitment. Your continued good wishes and support, in every way, will insure you of a splendid Community Newspaper; one of which you can be duly proud

Your "Community Newspaper" is important to your community and that means you.

After some 15 years of dabbling in the printer's ink at the Chilton County News (with a brief interruption from Uncle Sam) Vernon Payne is leaving for a job with the Montgomery Advertiser. We've worked close with Payne for many of those years and feel qualified to say that he is qualified to fill any position entrusted to him, and well. He now fills the role of a devoted father of three and does a pretty fair job of it. An accomplishment in it's own rights. The first mentioned (in this column) progress of your CCN is due, in many ways, to the eforts of Payne. He has put in thousands upon thousands of hard-working hours helping make "the old News" tick. One of his fondest dreams is to become an artist; another, a politician. Another is a desire to own his own weekly newspaper. Payne has many dreams and no doubt many of them will materialize over the years. Our loss, in many way is the big daily's gain, and we can say that if Payne applies himself and puts his heart into it, as we know he's capable of, he will show up a lot of would-be printers and newspapermen down Montgomery way. He's a talker at times, but he's also a thinker, and thinkers are what makes the world go-round. Many things we would have said to him, we didn't get said; but anyway, as sincerely as we know how, we wish him well, and Godspeed in all his future undertakings.

You've seen the advertisements that say "here's five reasons (or 10 or 15) why you should own a. . ." Well, we got to thinking and those reasons if literally truthful would run something like this: (1) We need the money; (2) You have the money; (3) We need to sell it; (4) WE won't regret it; (5) You were gonna spend it anyway, and if you don't Uncle Sam will get it. (Misc.) We got to eat. Now we ask you, are these logical reasons? Then why the heck are so many olks taken by the same old thing every day and get in over their proverbial heads. Just love being "took" don't you!

You know, you might compare the efforts of parent trying to harness the amassed energy of a child, to a bucket constantly being filled with a running stream of water and trying to keep it from spilling with a thimble. It's mightier than the atom. Don't fight 'em parent, join 'em. Yeh, that's our trouble too; where DO they get all that energy?

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

When I consider Thy heavens...the moon and the stars which Thou hast ordained; What is man, that Thou art mindful of him?—(Psalm 8; 3,4).

How almost unbelievable—but how wonderful—it is that Almighty God, Creator of all the vast universe should none-the-less, in infinite loving-kindness, have heed of even the least of us mortals!

IT'S MY OPINION—

If You Can't Add to ;Don't Take from

By BOB TUCKER

We have talked with some folks of late who have insinuated, in one way or another, that they aren't trying to give their full support to the Community Center Drive because they don't think, or at least they feel there is a possibility of it turning into a hang-out, a place of bad reputation because of the lack of proper 24-hour supervision.

It is our opinion that these folks, whoever they be are certainly able to look ahead. Their trouble, however, is that when they see ahead they don't see anything but bitter disappointment and confusion. These folks sometimes are pessimists and sometimes just like to shoot of, their mouth in direct disagreement with the majority. They seem to feel that the majority is always wrong. We sympathize with the opinion that many things that happened in our history were due to one against the majority and they happened for the better, but this is the exception rather than the rule.

Most of the time the majority is right. As large a majority as we have pulling for the Community Center, we don't see how anyone could be pulling the other way, except out of pure bull-headedness.

They have their eyes open for details that others may overlook, which makes them useful, but their eyes seem to be glued on these things and they fail to see the overall goodness of the thing.

Everything has a good and a bad. It is within a human beings faculties to weigh the two and come up with an answer. Try not to form your "answer" before you've properly used the scales. You'll make yourself look pretty silly, whether anyone tells you so or not.

Any suggestion that would benefit the project will be appreciated by all concerned; but a behind-the-scenes "sneak" report on what might happen and the pitfalls that could occur are unwarranted and unwanted. Mongers have no place in our society to do good. If you are a monger, of any description, try to keep out of the way.

To keep the record straight, there are those who are offering sane, constructive criticisms which will prove to be invaluable to us if we get started on our Community Center, but we plead with you not to nip the project in the bud. Wait! You know, you can drown a young tree with water, the very thing that sustains it. Please don't kill the young, perhaps feeble efforts of our citizens to build for themselves something for their children. They are sincere in their endeavors and we credit them with enough intelligence to be able to cope with most any situation. There are certainly enough level-heads among them.

We will stand by those endeavoring for a Community Center through thick and thin. Their intentions are 100 percent for the community. We think that they, as always, will look out for the community's best interests.

If you don't feel the urge to help us get the Community Center, please, keep your mouth shut. We need constructive criticism. It will boost our morale and make us sharp, but gossip we don't need. Consider it, will you?

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Consideration of the President's so-called "civil-rights" bill began in the House of Representatives last Wednesday. Debate on this legislation is still underway and a final vote is not anticipated before the end of the week.

Jury Trial Issue—

Although all of the hazardous provisions of the bill have been pointed out by its opponents, a considerable amount of time has been spent in emphasizing the jury trial issue. Under the terms of this measure, persons who deprive or are "about" to deprive an individual of his civil rights can be tried and punished by a federal judge without benefit of trial by jury. State courts and state legal officers will be completely bypassed. All suits will be filed by the Attorney General in the name of the federal government, and he will not even be required to obtain the consent of the aggrieved party before initiating such action. Since we believe this is an extremely dangerous procedure, one of the amendments that will be offered to the bill will require jury trials in cases of criminal contempt.

Heads Committee—

Tremendous pressure is being exerted by different groups and organizations against the trial by jury amendment. Realizing all arguments in favor of trial by jury should be forcefully presented to as many members of the House of Representatives as possible, the proponents of the amendment last week appointed a committee of three to organize and carry out such an undertaking.

I was named as chairman of th committee and Rep. John Bell Wi liams of Mississippi and Rep. Rob ert Ashmore of South Carolina a serving with me. Every membe of the House of Representativ has been or will be personally con tacted by supporters of the jur trial amendment, and the views o all 435 members are being carefull recorded by our committee.

Uphill Battle—

Although we realize we are wag ing an uphill battle, we are certa we are converting to our side a sub stantial number of the members had planned at the beginning of debate to vote against a jury tri amendment. Whether we can hol all of those converts against th pressures that are being exerted i uncertain. We are confident, ho ever, that the vote in favor of t jury trial amendment will be grea ly increased as a result of the ha work that has been done by thos who favor it.

Surplus Disposal—

Prior to taking up the civil right bill last week, the House conside ed the extension of Public Law which provides for the dispos surplus agricultural commodi Although a majority of the membe of the House were reported as fa voring the measure, the final v was postponed last Tuesday w a point of order was upheld a the bill was referred to the R Committee. Two days later legislation was reported to House by the Rules Committee a favorable recommendation. T proposal will probably be voted shortly after consideration of civil rights bill has been complete

YOUR CHILD GROWS UP

All parents, at one time or another, have probably felt that the rearing of the child through adolescence is one of the most difficult and trying times. Yet this emergence from childhood into maturity is one of the most interesting of all human developments.

Actually the first signs of adolescence are changes in the attitude and behavior of the child. What was formerly a placid and happy child is now a resentful human being, showing frequently an open hostility to everyone once cherished and loved. The pattern of adolescent changes is not fixed. The child reverts back and forth from the open demand of independence to the juvenile need of submission, dependence and craving for affection.

Parents are the key people, for it is they who must acquire a deep understanding of the child from infancy on to take him through his adolescent stage. A parent cannot allow all of the care to be turned over to organized groups; nor can he allow the child to rule himself, his home and his parents. The adolescent must be taught responsibility. The tendency to let the adolescent take over is to be condemned if the child is to grow to a mature adult.

Too much laxity in controlling the child's new demand for freedom, too little guidance and understanding, and too little natural insistence for respect can create a barrier never to be overcome between the parent and child.

On the other hand a clear understanding of the emotional change and a well-managed program of handling the problems posed by the adolescent can result in a happy family relationship. This can be aided through the cooperation of the schools, religious groups and other progressive community organizations. Thus inspired, the child will emerge from the period of adolescence into a well-adjusted adult, emotionally fit and ready for life's grown-up outlook

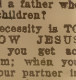
BY ORAL ROBERTS



62-Year-Old Man Finds "The Best Way of Life"

Andrew and his friend were following Jesus from the River Jordan where John was baptizing converts. Jesus turned and asked them this question. What seek ye?

I ask you the same question: "What are you seeking? What are you looking for in life?" Naturally, you will answer, "I want to be happy."

The next question that would follow is this: "What will it take to make you happy?" And there our ways begin to divide. Some will say that to be popular is important, to others, a success in athletics, someone else will wish riches and another will seek fame. But again—granted that all of these things were yours, would you be truly happy? I think not!

All these "things" can contribute to your happiness, and whatever is right and honorable is certainly in order for you. I believe that God is pleased whenever you achieve anything worthwhile in your life. But there is something that is prerequisite, something that is the real basis of happiness and everything else built upon it.

Jesus said, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things that he possesseth, for life is more than meat, and body more than raiment. But if you seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; all these things shall be added unto you."

May I tell you my outlook upon God and the relationship that he wishes for us in connection with the "things" that might be suggested that bring happiness?

I believe that God is glad for us to have the "things" that will bring satisfaction. Why not? Can you think of any legitimate reason why health, strength, food, shelter, finance, joy, and achievement of any honorable goal would offend a father who really loves his children?

But the first necessity is TO REALLY KNOW JESUS CHRIST. When you get acquainted with him; when you accept him as your partner in life; you have entered the real realm of happiness. You have opened the door and stepped into Abundant Life.

Read what Mr. G. P. of Coolidge, Mexico, has to say about this.

"I had an incurable heart condition and the second attack had almost taken my life. My doctor told me that I was living on borrowed time and asked me if I was prepared to go. I also suffered from stomach ulcers.

"We attended your campaign in Long Beach, California. The second night of the meeting I knelt at my seat and repeated the sinner's prayer. A feeling that is indescribable came over me. I found healing for both soul and body! I am 62 years old. After all these years I have found the best way of life."

Friends, life turns right-side up when you meet Jesus Christ. Try it. It works!

$43 More Per Acre From Your Peanuts

CONTROL OF LEAFSPOT BOOSTS INCOME

Chilton County peanut growers can improve their yields simply by controling leafspot on plants and thereby make more money.

North Carolina research studies show recently what a difference leafspot control can make.

These studies revealed that on leafspot controlled peanuts, the average yield increased 402 pounds per acre over the untreated plants. Treatment allowed the grower to harvest $43 more from each acre.

It is related that the increase in income is 12 times the cost of the sulfur-coper dust used for control, based on the average 1949-51 prices.

It is recommended to begin control measures when spots appear on old leaves at the base of the plant. For the first application dust 18 to 20 pounds of sulfur-copper per acre, then use 25 to 30 pounds per acre for two more applications at two-week intervals.

Telephone Talk

IRVIN COMMANDER
Your Telephone Manager

CAN YOU IMAGINE a speed of 70 billion times a second? Well, I can't. But our Bell scientists can, and what's more they're working on a gadget that will carry electrical impulses vibrating at such a fantastic rate. They call it a "wave guide." It's a pair of finely-made hollow copper tubes that will handle as many as 400,000 telephone conversations at a time. That's a lot of talk, isn't it. And for folks around town the day is coming when, if they want two or three telephone lines out to the house instead of only one, we'll be able to add the lines without the wires! Telephone research goes on day and night to make your service ever faster, ever better—and to bring you as much as you want.

Stars Clip Bradford; Weak Pitching Loses To Autaugaville

By B. B. Bates
Sports Reporter

Superlative pitching by ace righthander Bobby Wyatt enabled the Stars to plaster a coat of whitewash on their visitors from Bradford Sunday afternoon at City Park.

While Wyatt was goose-egging the Bradford nine, the booming bat of Pete McKee was putting distance between the two clubs.

The Stars got their scoring underway early in the first inning J. P. Easterling walked and Fulford sacrificed. McKee then met a fast, waist high pitch and sent it sailing far over the right center field fence for his first homer of the season. Ellison and Seales singled in this frame, but no more scoring was done.

The Stars scored three times in the third to take a commanding 5 to 0 lead.

McKee line-drived a double into deep center field, Ellison made it on an error and B. Easterling walked. Bannister unlaced a single into right field that scored two runners. B. Easterling later scored on Powell's grounder to short.

The Stars ended their scoring in the 4th. J. P. Easterling tripled to right field and raced home on Fulford's fly to Center Field.

With the Stars leading 6 to 0, Young Graham came on to pitch for Bradford and pitch he did.

The Stars failed to raise even a base hit after the 4th stanza.

A fine defensive play by the Stars catcher Jimmy Powell prevented a first inning tally by the visitors with one out and Love on third base. Moore flied to deep left and Love came racing home. Powell dug the bullet throw from E. Easterling out of the dirt and tagged the onrushing Love for the 3rd out.

It was one of the Stars great defensive plays of the year.

The defensive play of Harry Ellison canot be overlooked. The hot corner artist had 7 assists, starting an 8th inning double play that halted a Bradford scoring threat.

Another Bradford threat fell short in the 9th. McCombs walked and advanced to second on a passed ball with no outs Wyatt needed a strike out. He got two, Chandler and Graham, and the forced Lee to [illegible] out to second base. Final score Clanton: 6 runs, 8 hits; Bradford, 0 runs, 4 hits.

Little Leaguers Play Double-Header To Big Crowd; Pitchers Go Wild

Special To The News

Clanton Little League played their double-header Thursday so that they could go to Birmingham Friday. The coaches gave the boys a treat, taking them to Rickwood Field to see the All-Stars play.

The Jaycees bats were booming as they trounced the Kiwanians 19 to 2 in the first game. Jaycees pitcher Propst, was in fine form allowing only three hits. His team mates got 13 runs in the first inning, Coe knocking in 5 of them with 2 homers. Cox had a grand slam home run, and all the Jaycees figured in the scoring. The Kiwanians didn't have their hitting shoes on as only Barker, Miller and Glasscock got safeties. Barker knocked in the 2 runs. Umpires were: Easterling, Culpepper and Wright.

In the nightcap, the Lions won over the Braves 16 to 9. Both catchers, Ray and Foshee, got a good workout as the pitchers had trouble finding the plate.

Lions pitcher, Wyatt gave up just 3 hits, struck out 11, but wildness, past balls and errors kept him in constant trouble. For the winners, Wyatt had a home, 2 doubles and 5 runs batted in. Brock had 3 hits, Smith and Fulmer 2 and Thrash 3 walks. The Braves three hits went to Ray, Jones, and Miller. Johnson and Ellison drew 3 passes. Ray had the dubious distinction of reaching first base twice by being hit. Umpires for this game were: Ray, Easterling and Fullen.

... Chevrolet with Turboglide!

Chevy's come up with the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic drive—Turboglide. It's the first and only triple-turbine transmission!

Turboglide is something really new and different in automatic drives. In the first place, there's only one forward-speed position on the control panel. There's no "Low" needed.

Turboglide handles everything with the oil-smooth action of triple turbines. You travel from a standstill to top cruising speeds with never a lurch or lag to mar your motion.

When you see a steep downhill stretch ahead, you set the selector at "GR" (Grade Retarder) and Turboglide helps slow you down.

Try Chevy's new, nothing-like-it automatic drive. It's optional at extra cost—and worth it.

Milady's Ironing: A Pleasure, Instead Of A Chore

Ironing stands high on the list of things that take the joys out of a housewife's life. So, the little woman can be easily persuaded to buy and use whatever promises to lighten this tedious chore.

Concerning ironing with steam irons, it is brought to your attention that you should be careful what you put into the water chamber of these irons. Steam irons require special treatment.

It is recommended that distilled or demineralized water be used in the iron even though some manufacturers claim their irons will not be harmed by any kind of water. Don't use water from the faucet unless it is naturally very soft. Hard water or water run through a home water-softening system will leave deposits in the steam iron when it evaporates.

Water should be emptied out of the iron after every use, otherwise deposits in the iron will increase. They, in turn, will eventually impair the efficiency of the appliance or possible ruin it.

Cleaners for steam irons, used when parts appear clogged are not satisfactory. They tend to produce a surface film inside the iron, which sooner or later will interfere with the iron's operation in changing water into steam.

So you see, milady; follow these "do's and dont's" carefully and make your ironing chore carefree instead of tedious.

To Insure Benefit Rights—

Disabled Persons Should Act Speedily

CONTACT SOC. SECURITY OFFICE IMMEDIATELY

It was stated this week, by J. W. Overstreet, Jr., local District Manager, that delay in contacting the Social Security District Office may lose you benefit rights if you have been disabled.

Disabled workers may qualify for monthly benefits if they are 50 to 65 years old, are unable to work because of severe disability, and have worked in employment or self-employment covered by social security.

The length of time a person must have worked to qualify for disability benefits is at least 5 out of the 10 years before the disability began and one and one-half years out of the three years before that date.

Persons who believe they may meet these requirements are urged to contact their social security representative who is at the Court House in Clanton every Wednesday at 10:00 a.m.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Bob Windham down at City Grill is doing things to his dining room. Seems there wasn't enough room in the main dining room he now has so he has added a bigger one across the back that will hold plenty. Anyway he hopes it will seat 180 because he already has a dinner party for that number when he gets it finished. It will be several weeks but when it's finished he wants you to drop by and inspect it. Incidentally, if you stay for dinner it won't make him sore.

Burke Allison, one of our mail carriers, found an interesting note in one of the mail boxes on his route the other day. It read in a childish print: "I mailed a letter the other month and it didn't do any good. I want my three cents back".

Army troops being trained for a secret mission were sent over an extremely tough obstacle course which included across a raging river, runing up a vertical cliff, scrambling through barbed-wire entanglements in full equipment.

As they reached the end, a colonel barked to an Ozark Mountain boy in the company, "How do you like it soldier?"

"Shucks, Suh, it ain't nuthin," drawled the boy. "Where I come from, we have to go through country like this to get to the barn."

Congratulations to Mrs. Marshall Ware on her new set of twins. And, oh yeah! Guess we better congratulate Marshall too, or sympathize one. Let's see now; does that make [illegible], five or six boys for Marshall and Mrs. Whichever it is, we're glad for them and when we saw Marshall at the hospital the other day, he looked kinda proud himself. Congratulations again, to both you fine people.

Got a kick out of the story Marge Sewell was telling us the other nite about a waitress, a customer and a pocketbook. It seems that the customer, after finishing her dinner called the waitress to her table for something or other. The waitress picked up some dishes from the table and started for the kitchen. That was when the customer [illegible] in a startled voice, "she's got my pocketbook". Well, it startled the waitress, too, because she didn't know that when picking up the tray she had caught the handle of the lady's purse and it went dangling [illegible] to the kitchen with the [illegible]. She was quite a red-faced waitress when she looked down and saw the pocketbook, but it was returned to the customer and no harm [illegible] except to the embarrassment [illegible] the waitress.

J. A. Lawrence, who left Clanton some 15 years ago and moved to Mobile [illegible] returned with his family to the old stand in South Clanton. Lawrence is remodeling and getting ready to open a small grocery there on July 1st. Looks good to see him around home again.

Approximately 1050 Milk Producing Cows In Chilton County Today

IMPROVED BREEDING AND MANAGEMENT ACCOUNTS FOR GROWTH

Special To News

In observing June as "Dairy Month" in Chilton County and Alabama it is brought to your attention that here in Chilton County dairymen are making rapid gains in the development of better herds and better quality milk; plus more of it. These dairy producers have in recent months, added many sound practices to their already efficient [illegible].

In Chilton, there are 13 Grade "A" dairies and approximately 90 processing milk farms with a total of 1050 milk producing animals

A group of Chilton County dairymen have organized and put into operation a dairy herd testing service in the form of Chilton County [illegible] have adopted a uniform system of keeping accurate records on each individual cow in their herds. A county supervisor visits the herds on test each month making an accurate and permanent record of the pounds of milk produced by each individual cow in the test herd. There is also a record made of butterfat production for each cow and the total amount of feed consumed. Through this type of record dairy operators can accurately determine the amount of profit or loss that is being made by individual cows and through this record can accurately determine cows to cull from their herds.

Artificial Insemination—

In addition to adding the record keeping system, dairymen have effectively used artificial insemination in breeding their dairy cattle to high-producing proven bulls. By keeping accurate production records of herds, breeding cows to proven bulls, and following better feeding programs as indicated by D.H.I.A. records, dairymen are now in a position to manage dairy herds on a sound basis and have a definite foundation for much more per-cow improvement than ever before.

County Grade "A" Dairies—

The following are Chilton's present Grade "A" dairymen. With new, improved methods the dairy industry in this County will continue to grow with these forerunners in the lead:

Richard Muncher and A. R. Taylor, Laurie Ann Dairy, Clanton, Rt 3; Harry Higginbotham of Higginbotham's Dairy, M[illegible]; E. P. Edwards, Edwards' Dairy, Clanton, Rt. 2; E. W. Hand, Lakeside Dairy, Mt. Creek; O. H. Lawrence, [illegible] W. A. Williams, [illegible] Clanton, Rt. 4: [illegible], Yellowleaf Dairy [illegible] Rt. 1; O. M. H[illegible], Jemison; [illegible] Cumming's Dairy, Maplesville; J. M. Boles, Pat's Dairy, Thorsby, Rt. 1; Grady Minor, Minor's Dairy, Clanton, Rt. 4; Bobby J. Mims, Mims' Dairy, Clanton, [illegible] Lloyd Mims, Lloyd Mi[illegible], Mt. Creek, Rt 1.

The 13 Grade "A" dairies and the approximately 90 farm operators milking independently and commercially milk approximately 1050 cows. The Grade "A" milkers number some 600 while the independent dairymen average about 5 cows per farm.

The record keeping facilities of the National Dairy Cow Improvement program through a simplified phase of D.H.I.A. and artificial breeding facilities of local technician are available to family cow owners as well as the commercial dairymen mentioned.

June is Dairy Month and Chilton County owes a great deal to its Dairy Industry and the growth and development it has attained over the past few years.

Young Boys Involved In 'Ring'

News Special

Chief of Police C. E. Tucker and Sheriff Hugh Champion said this week that two men had been arrested in the burglary ring that had been under surveillance for several weeks. Both men, Billy Ellison and Wayne Culp are out on bond.

Twelve teen-age boys were taken into the Juvenile Court and Judge J. B. Atkinson talked to them and sent them home to their parents.

Chief Tucker reported that the boys were taking gasoline from cars, trucks and tractors and selling it to the men for from 30c to 60c per gallon.

The third man in the case has reportedly left the state.

Sheriff Hugh Champion arrested Wayne Culp and charged him with grand larceny in the theft of two motors from Will's Camp on the Coosa Siver. Champion said he was taking Culp, [illegible] bond to Bessemer [illegible] in finding and identifying [illegible] property.

MANY a good thought is wasted because too many words are wasted in expressing it.

SEVERAL million people in this country live by writing—and most of them by writing home for money we suppose.

ALWAYS remember: the mistakes you made yesterday are responsible for your worries today.

SOME people find it hard to live up to the salary they lead their neighbor to think they are getting.

THESE high-powered automobiles become high-powered weapons when handled by careless people.

THE millenium will have arrived when people spend their time improving themselves, rather than condemning the conduct of others.

Speed Control -- Your Protection----

SPEED control is for our protection. If all drivers would realize the truth of this statement, the traffic picture would change considerably.

Too many people seem to think that traffic laws are dreamed up by grouch policemen and highway patrolmen to make life miserable for automobile drivers. Actually, speed control regulations protect us against irresponsible actions of careless drivers. They also protect us against the consequence of our own negligence when we are prone to transgress occasionally. There is a good reason for every regulation.

Last year 40,000 people died in traffic accidents in this country. Nine-hundred seventy-five died in Alabama. When a thing like this happens it is time for us to find a soluton.

Seventy percent of the accidents in our state were caused by 5 major factors:

1. Driving too fast for prevailing conditions.
2. Driving on the wrong side of the road.
3. Failing to yield right-of-way.
4. Drinking drivers.
5. Following too close to the car ahead.

Traffic accidents are caused by careless acts of the driver and traffic violations. Speed regulations represent the combined thinking of traffic engineers and enforcement agencies. Since they are for our protection, we can show by our actions that we respect the speed laws and the officers who enforce them.

Sometimes, A Pretty-Hard Jolt. . .----

We call your attention to the story on page one [illegible] week and then challenge you to find just cause or [illegible] why Clanton should not have the Community Center that is being negotiated at present. Truly this is a shining example of the need and a rather gloomy example set for our youngsters.

Youngsters apprehended for crimes, as you've heard time and again are not responsible. Yes, you and I know it. What is being done?

Well, let us tell you what is being done. And it's being done in the hope that the sort of thing set forth in the above-mentioned article will be sharply reduced. Citizens of Clanton are rallying and trying to, in some way, build a Community Center. Are you helping?

Now, we don't say, that the person who isn't taking an active part in this drive is in any way directly responsible for the teen-age crime wave. However, won't you be one of those who benefit from the Center one way or another. For example; though you haven't any direct hand in the Little League ball clubs, you are doubtless getting some advantage from the good it's accomplishing whether directly or indirectly.

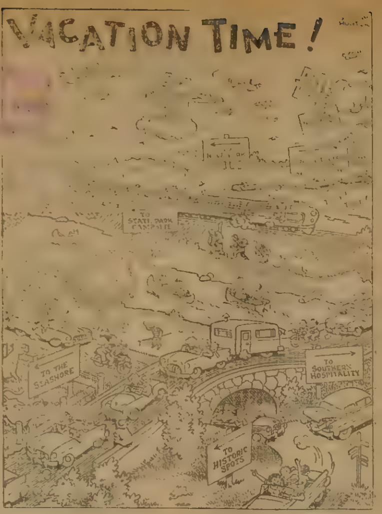
Do you say, "well, if the Little League can't keep the boys out of trouble, then how will a Community Center do it?" My friend, you are fooling yourself. Multiply some one or two hundred boys by the number that have been caught in misdemeanors and you will have some idea of what we'd be up against without organizatons such as the Little League and Babe Ruth League. You have no idea!

Take a look at the situation and yourself: Do you take an active part in ANY community project? Then, do you have children or neices or nephews or cousins. You see what we mean? We're all connected one way or another and without combined efforts we will have a high rate of juvenile delinquency.

It is your blame and mine. Not the youngsters.



We're on the Move!----

It is in June, "when, if ever, come perfect days," as Longfellow noted, that most of us get into the joyous swing of Vacation Time. . .

. . . and most of us in this blessed America are able and willing to have a happy holiday—a lot of us with pay!

About three-fourths of all American families today have an automobile (14% have 2 or more!) Our roads and highways will be streaming with car-loads of us—bound for the woods, the lakes, the mountains, the seashore, or "just going some place."

East, West, North and South, we will be on the move. And if everything in our land is not altogether perfect, these "perfect days," we can forget for a precious interlude—and come home refreshed and relaxed, to try to make things around us better!

Report from Washington

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House of Representatives finished debate last Friday on the so-called "civil rights" bill, but held the final vote over until Monday of this week. Before adjourning on Friday the important trial by jury amendment was defeated by only 32 votes.

Pressure Exerted—

Earlier last week more than two hundred members of the House of Representatives had indicated they would support the jury trial amendment. Nearly eighty Republicans were among that number.

When it looked as though this important proposal might be adopted, the chief advocates of the civil rights bill began a determined drive to defeat it. Few of the Democrats changed their views. Members from the South and from most of the border states strongly favored the amendment. The so-called liberal wing of he Democratic Party, with only a few exceptions, [illegible] the aisle, [illegible] story was different. Pressure both from the Republican Congressional leadership and the White House was brought to bear. While some Republican members refused to be swayed, a substantial group who had [illegible] support the jury trial amendment failed to do so. As a result, the amendment was defeated by a vote of 199-167.

Jury Vote Significa[illegible]

Although [illegible] d to pass, [illegible] is why we [illegible]

[illegible] members of Congress outside the [illegible]uth should indicate to the entire nation that the so-called "civil rights" bill is not as harml[illegible] proponents would have the people believe. Second, the results of the House vote on this proposal should be helpful to Senate advocates of Jury Trial if and when the civil rights bill is considered in that body.

River Project:—

The House Appropriations Committee has reported a $414.8 million public works appropriations bill which includes funds for two river development projects on the Warrior-Tombigbee.

A total of $1,700,000 is contained in the bill for the Jackson Lock and Dam which is being constructed near Coffeeville. For the Warrior Lock and Dam, located between Hale and Greene Counties in the Sixth District, the Committee approved $2,000,000. While this amount is $192,000 less than the sum recommended in the President's budget, the Corps of Engineers has indicated that $2 million will be sufficient to complete this important installation early next year.

The Committee failed to include funds in the bill to be used for planning and designing the Miller's Ferry multiple purpose lock and dam that will be located on the Alabama River near Camden. Although funds were not recommended in the President's budget for the Miller's Ferry project, I appeared before the House Appropriati'ns Comm. several weeks ago with a number of my Alabama colleagues and requested that the sum of $150,000 be included in the appropriation bill for [illegible] are indications that [illegible] Committee may [illegible]

While we're on the subject; those folks who say they're afraid of mismanagement of the new Community Center probably said the same thing about the park and by golly there's material proof that what they say is not so so. We have the best management possible in our City Park and we can do the same for our Community Center.

According to our reports, that new sorctail play they have down at the softball games is a dilly. How about that McKinney. It seems that Johnny is the only one who's been able to master the technique of the play. WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

C. W. Harder

[illegible] Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman (D., Ala.) has released a study on a current monopoly situation destined to play large part in pending business legislation.

The report is entitled "The Right to Buy and Its Denial to Small Business." The study was made under committee direction by Dr. Vernon Mund of the University of Washington.

After a l[illegible] and thorough study, Dr. Mund found "dominant sellers openly boast that they can decline to sell to some persons because they do not like their ties, or the color of their hair, or for no reason at all."

Old court decisions have so far established the right for the seller to choose his customers, but it is now believed this is an outmoded doctrine.

For now the situation is such that in many lines the production is concentrated in the hands of a very few, thus small business is often without freedom of choice in selecting suppliers.

* * *

Many incidents of throttling small business have turned up. In some lines, the manufacturer can virtually control the retailer and/or wholesaler, by curtailing his supplies, or shutting them off wholly for no reason other than some vague policy matter.

And probably the field where the greatest abuses have been discovered is where a manufacturer sets up his own retail or wholesale outlets in competition with his long established independent outlets.

Then, if he finds his own operations cannot compete against the independent handlers of his products, he shuts off their supplies. This has happened to some extent in the tire industry, for one example.

The Senate Small Business Committee report finds the situation especially bad in the steel, aluminum and copper industries where an independent fabricator of these metals is cut off from supplies to benefit a part, or wholly owned subsidiary.

Undoubtedly, this practice accounts, at least in part, for the steady decline in the share of defense contracts secured by small business.

With a great deal of fire, Sen. George Smathers has registered a protest on this situation to Defense Secretary Charles Wilson.

Sen. Smathers says he is shocked that for the July-December 1956 period the small business share of defense contracts dropped to 16.4% as compared to 19.6% in fiscal 1956, 21.5% in fiscal 1955 and 25.3% in 1954.

* * *

This is a situation over which the National Federation of Independent Business has long been protesting. It now appears reports released by Sen. Sparkman and Sen. Smathers have a strong relation to each other.

* * *

Obviously, in defense contracts calling for the use of metals, independent business needs a free supply of these materials. But if the suppliers of metals are also through subsidiary operations engaged in fabricating metals, and are competing for government contracts, it is quite simple to see how a great deal of hanky-panky can enter picture. There are explosive elements here which could be very embarrassing to Defense Department.

IT'S MY OPINION

No P. C. In Public Concern

By BOB TUCKER

It is our opinion that there are not, and should not be any privileged characters when it comes to public interests of any shape or form. It is indicative that some do not share our opinion on this subject for they themselves are the P. C's of whom we speak.

A would-be privileged character in any public concern is the personification of ignorance to our way of thinking. Cutting off your nose is O.K., it's your nose and your face; but how about the other fellow? It is very likely in a public concern, that when P.C. cuts, he gets more than his own nose, in that other people suffer right along with him.

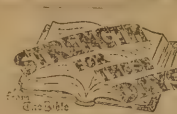
For example: when the City of Clanton installed the parking facilities for off the street parking it was publicly announced that the parking would be free just as long as no one violated the parking code, namely, to park properly.

In [illegible] pattern the privileged characters have started abusing the new [illegible]ge. They are not parking properly. Every way from Sunday in fact.

You and I know, that to gain any satisfaction or privilege from a thing, we must respect the code or laws by which the thing functions. When we start abusing them, we are abusing ouselves.

We recognize the fact that you are an established fact in the community "Mr." John Doe, but so are thousands of us others, whether you realize it or not. Though you fancy yourself as pretty important, it is possible that you are alone with your thoughts. A person never gets too important to remember his humble duty to his fellow man. In fact, the more important you seem to get, the greater is your commitment.

Don't park on the other [illegible] foot. Respect the rights of us all and enjoy the fruits of your endeavors along with the crow[illegible] much more self[illegible] others think highly [illegible] we ourselves. [illegible] is one with equal [illegible] tread [illegible]



For He is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us.— (Ephesians 2, 14.)

The Holy Spirit surrounds us with love and goodness, with mercy and compassion. We shut ourselves out by sinfulness, willfullness, selfishness. But through devout belief in Jesus Christ as our Saviour and Redeemer, the wall between us and our Father in Heaven is broken down.

REV. AND MRS. DEAN BACK FROM WASHINGTON

Residents and church members were very happy to welcome the Rev. and Mrs. Dean back last Sunday after an extended visit in Seattle, Washington for the past few weeks with their daughter and family. Rev. Dean is doing a great work here and we are fortunate indeed to have him in our midst.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR A CARETAKER

Mrs. Ollie Shoults Foshee is to be comended for the good work she is doing for the church and community. She puts a tremendous amount of time and work into her efforts as teacher of Sunday School and B.T.U. Then she is busy cleaning the church, keeping flowers in the church, using her car to take people to church, WMS meetings and club meetings. She visits the sick and shut-ins and administers to their needs. She is much more than a Sunday Christian, she is the "Good Samaritan" of our church and community.

Their many friends and relatives send congratulations to the proud parents. Mr. and Mrs. Latham have two other children, both girls.

SHOULTS - RHODES

A marriage of much interest last week was that of Mr. Oscar Shoults and Mrs. Alice Bearden Rhodes of Selma. They were both born and reared in this community and attended school here. We wish for them many years of happiness.

KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Mr. Buck Baker, 24, brother of Mrs. Joe Shoults, was instantly killed in a car wreck near Birmingham last week. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Shoults and the family.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mr. Sam Shoults. Last Friday he went to Selma to see his doctor for treatments. He and Mrs. Shoults spent the week-end in Selma with their son and family, T-Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Shoults. Mr. Shoults is improving, but will return to Selma this week for further treatment. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

MEMO
To Parents

A recent study by qualified educators indicated that students who use a typewriter can get up to 38% higher grades. The improvement varied, of course, with the students and with the subjects, but in every instance where students have used a typewriter on assigned work in school, there has been a substantial betterment of their overall grades.

We feel sure that all parents in this area are interested in the betterment of their child's education and their grades.
With this in mind we are offering a FREE typing course to the public.

80 FARM FAMILIES IN CHILTON ARE IMPROVING HOME

FHA HAS GIVEN BIG BOOST FINANCIALLY

In Chilton County, about 80 farm families are now buying or improving their own farms with Farmer's Home Administration farm ownership loans, reports the agency's County supervisor, Isaac C. Byrd.

The first farm ownership loan in the County was made in 1938, he said, and since that time approximately 160 local farm families have used this type of loan.

Mr. Byrd added that farms bought 10 years ago averaged 75 acres.

The average size of farms bought or improved with loans obtained in 1955 and 1957 is approximately 150 acres.

Farm ownership loans may be made repayable over periods up to 40 years, but the average family in Chilton County has repaid its loan in 12 years.

If, for some reason it is impossible for you to dispose of this cotton acreage within the 20 day period you should immediately contact your ASC office to explain your intentions.

In such cases, the County Committee may allow an additional period of no more than 10 days for disposal of the excess [illegible] rechecking any acreage disposed of must be paid by the producer.

Mr. Owen emphasizes that if a [illegible] remains overplanted after being notified, the producers on the [illegible] will not be eligible to obtain Government Price Support on cotton produced on the farm.

Cotton growers who believe that their cotton acreage measurements was incorrect may obtain a remeasurement by depositing with the ASC County office an amount equal to the cost of the remeasurement.

[illegible] request [illegible] after the date of the notice of planted acreage. The deposit will be refunded if it is found that the acreage planted to cotton is not in excess of the allotment. If the farm is still overplanted after the remeasurement only 7 days will be allowed to dispose of the excess acreage.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today the Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase at the close of business July [illegible] 1957, all 1956-crop loan cotton (upland and extra long staple) which is unredeemed at that time. Thru May 3, 1957, a total of 4,816,842 bales of 1956-crop cotton are reported as having been pledged for loans. As of the same date 814,854 bales had been redeemed, leaving loans outstanding on 4,001,988 bales.

Until the close of business on July 31, 1957, producers may either sell their 'equity' in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. The market price of the various qualities of cotton has remained fairly steady in recent months and at present prices farmers should be able to dispose of some qualities of cotton at prices that will give them some net profits above the loan and charges against the cotton.

Loans on 1956-crop cotton were available to producers through April [illegible]. The average loan rates were 29.34 cents per pound, basis Middling ⅞-inch, for upland cotton, and 56.62 cents per pound for extra long staple cotton. The 1955 loan cotton was carried in a past-due status for five months after July 31, 1956, the maturity date of the loan. Notice that the 1955 loan cotton will be purchased at maturity of the loans is being given at this time so that producers will have sufficient time in which to redeem their loan cotton before maturty date.

Clanton Sub-Division To Get Telephone Service Soon

The Southern Bell Telephone Company [illegible] families in the northeastern section of the Clanton exchange area and the new sub-division near the Chilton County Hospital.

Irvin Commander, manager for the firm, said the rural project extends along and adjacent to the Lay Dam [illegible] expected to be completed [illegible] part of June.

A cable will be extended from the central office on Main Street northward on 7th Street to 1st Avenue. This cable will be placed underground and another cable overhead from the corner of 3rd Avenue No. on 1st Street to the Airport Road.

This work will provide service in addition to the above 16 families to the new sub-division near the hospital. The estimated completion date of placing these cables is around September 1st, according to Commander.

These projects are part of Southern Bell's over-all rural expansion program which calls for the expenditure of $4,100,000 during 1957 to further extend rural service in Alabama.

Confusion Costs 'Stars'--

Randolph Rocks Stars; Rack Up 9th Game In Undefeated Season

EXTRA INNING AFTER RHUBARB GIVES VISITORS EDGE

Special to News
By B. B. Bates

The Clanton Stars [illegible] still wondering "wha' hoppen" [illegible] game at City Park Saturday [illegible] noon when the boys from Randolph walloped them 10 to 7.

After 10 torrid innings of baseball, Randolph walked off the field the victors to keep their winning streak intact with 9 wins and no losses this season.

The Stars scored a trio of second [illegible] by [illegible] the 3rd.

With Richard Easterling on the mound and pitching very effectively, the Stars appeared headed for victory. The Stars defense failed to function in the 4th and Randolph scored 2 unearned runs. The visitors added still another in the 5th to cut the Stars lead to one run.

It was the top of the 6th with the Stars leading 4 to 3 when the Stars lost their stellar shortstop, Royce Seales. A badly cut eye resulting from a collision with Randolph's Rifle forced him from the lineup.

Randolph got the tying run across in the 7th. Rifle's [illegible] Bolding. Duke crossed the plate with the go-ahead run on Green's 8th inning single.

The Stars fell 3 behind when McKee went to the mound to replace the tiring Easterling.

Too many bases on balls forced in 2 runs and the dramatic bottom of the 9th came up.

Edwards walked, Fulford doubled. McKee's 3rd base hit drove in 2 runs. Ellison popped out. B. Easterling walked. Culpepper, Seales replacement also walked and the tension mounted!

What happened at this time was pure confusion. Bannister hit to deep short and McKee scored the tying run. Culpepper was forced at second and B. Easterling came across with what appeared to be the winning run. Randolph's Green threw to catcher Duke who then tagged Easterling and appealed to the plate umpire that Easterling had failed to touch home plate. The umpire called Easterling out.

A rhubarb followed. An extra inning was played. Relief pitcher Ellison gave up 3 runs and Randolph walked from the field a 10 to 7 victor over the Stars.

The Clanton team now has a record of 2 wins and 2 losses. The Stars 3 leading hitters are McKee .545; Seales .375; and Bannister .355. Bannister leads in R.B.I's with 6.

HERE'S THE CHANCE TO OWN YOUR OWN FARM

THAT DREAM CAN BECOME REALITY

It is reported this week by the County Supervisor of the FHA that eligible farmers may borrow from that organization to build or repair farm houses and other essential farm buildings.

A housing loan will be secured by a mortgage on the borrower's farm.

Interest on the loans will be 4 percent per year on the unpaid principal. Repayments will be scheduled over periods up to 33 years.

The agency expects applicants to obtain the building plans and specifications for the improvements to be financed with loans. To help the borrower obtain construction that meets generally accepted standards [illegible], the Farmer's Home Administration will review the plans and inspect the construction as it [illegible].

The local Farmers Home Administration County committee will determine whether or not an applicant is eligible for a housing loan. To be eligible, an applicant must be the owner of a farm, be unable to obtain suitable credit for dwellings and other buildings from other lenders, and have enough income from the farm or from the farm and other sources to meet family living and farm operating expenses and repay his debts.

Further information on the loans may be obtained at the County office of the FHA located at Clanton in the Higgins Building.

16-MILE HAUL — 4300 FEET UP? — When Sheriff Cal Boies of Maricopa County, Arizona, sends his 4-wheel-drive GMC to his radio transmitting station on a mountain peak, one round trip deals out more punishment than a year's ordinary use.

IT CROSSES 3 MOUNTAIN CHAINS, wades through shifting sand, picks its way over boulder-strewn passes—goes where no sane horse would set foot. The deal includes climbing up a 65% grade. But—"It hasn't even breathed hard yet," says the Sheriff.

How tough could you make it for this GMC 4-WHEEL DRIVE?

You probably never would push a GMC truck this far.

But it's great to know that GMC's can do incredible jobs, beyond all normal requirements for their class—and still run longer, cheaper and with fewer repairs than other trucks.

Got some tough assignments for this GMC 4-wheel drive? It's just about the handiest truck ever built—goes anywhere, makes its own roads, has full traction in muck or deep snow, has clearance on high-crowned roads.

With a few accessories, it pulls stumps, drills postholes or wells, stretches fence, pumps water, hoists anything. It takes a king-size cargo and—in 2-wheel drive—gives you full road speeds.

The GMC 4-wheel drive is really two trucks in one—and it costs surprisingly little. Just ask your GMC dealer!

GREEN FORESTS ARE EVERYONE'S BUSINESS!

"KEEP ALABAMA GREEN", NOT JUST A SLOGAN

By Harold Nelson
For the News

"KEEP ALABAMA GREEN" is a slogan we have heard time after time, but did we ever heed to it or even stop to think what it means? At the rate woods are being burned and destroyed by man today, in a few years the green forest of America that is used for over 4,500 different things will be gone. Not only the material things, but the beauty that puts a smile on your face in the spring.

Did you ever stop to think how the water level is controlled? The answer is the forest. If we keep destroying the forest, the water level [illegible] decreasing and in turn [illegible] will get dryer and dryer. We know this will mean less crops and pastures and less forest products.

[illegible] join in and help "KEEP ALABAMA GREEN" to [illegible] the forest and the beauty of our State and country. You can be especially helpful during the dry summer months. Don't be careless, please!

How Much Milk Produced in Chilton--

Chilton Dairy Industry, Though Small, Among State's Best

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH IN ALABAMA

Special To The News

During the past year Chilton County dairymen have secured approximately one hundred twenty-five better bred females to be used as herd replacements and herd improvement animals. Leading dairymen, through various sources, have secured better bred females to replace low producers in their herds from Alabama purebred breeders and corn belt dairy breeders.

Four different trailer loads of approximately eighty animals of the Holstein Friesian breed have been secured and distributed among Chliton County dairymen.

These animals are [illegible] results of improved breeding practices being [illegible] by [illegible] Illinois, Indiana, [illegible] Wisconsin breeders.

Some of the above-mentioned Holstein-Friesians were placed in herds of Chilton County dairymen who are keeping accurate production records on their herd through Chilton County Dairy Herd Improvement Association program, and first lactation records show a number of these animals to be superior producers. One dairyman secured ten Holstein heifers in the fall of 1956.

His tabulated official production records on three of the ten Holstein heifers show that they have produced above 10,000 lbs. of milk per cow during their heifer lactation period.

Considering the fact that the average Alabama milk cow produces under 5,000 pounds of milk annually, this is proof enough that constructive additions are being made thru corn belt farmer dairy animal purchases.

Following the very desirable results of animals secured in the Fall of 1956, six Chilton County Grade "A" dairymen have received an additional forty-two Holstein heifers that were bred to freshen in July, August and September, 1957, to further improve their herds and add to their winter milk production volume.

In addition to the above-mentioned Holstein cattle, Chilton County dairymen have also added purebred Jersey cattle from several [illegible] Alabama breeders.

Women Champions Win Right To "Sound Off" About Men

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

WOMEN DRIVERS STRUCK A SOLID BLOW in their own de-[illegible] ble young feminine drivers walked off with a [illegible] of the winnings in the annual Mobilgas Economy Run.

T[illegible] housewives, came within five one-hundredths of a ton [illegible] giving the 14 male drivers a lesson in accelerator tactics. They won first place, as well as some second and third places, with an over-all ton mileage of 52.0111. The men's average was 52.0609 ton miles.

Miss Smith

In actual miles per gallon, the men shaded the women by about two large drops of gasoline with 20.6461 miles per gallon against the distaff record of 20.2382.

After the final results were tabulated, the champion women drivers of the country finally had a chance to retaliate and gripe about "the man driver" for a change. With glee, they made out this list of complaints about him.

1. He frequently leans on the horn to clear the street of all cars except his.

2. He races his motor to waste gas and strain the engine [illegible] to summon h[illegible] out of the [illegible].

3. He stores pipe cleaners, empty matchbooks, fish hooks and gasoline receipts in the glove compartment.

4. He punches the dials on the radio as if it were a typewriter.

5. He rocks white wall tires against the curb when parking — especially if it's been a bad day.

6. He uses strong language to criticize other drivers for trivial offenses he commits every day.

7. He makes a marvelous impression passing another car at 70 miles per hour, and then rests on his laurels at 50 mph or less.

8. He tells a woman driver that she doesn't know a valve from a piston — but neither does he.

Most of all, he doesn't think women are good drivers. Or, rather, he didn't before the revolutionary results of this year's Mobilgas Economy Run!

Wonder where Louie Smith got those beautiful plaid bermuda shorts he is going to wear on his vacation. Sure would like to see that picture.

That's a sporty looking front Avoline LeCroy has, isn't it? We mean on that new Beauty Shoppe of hers. Avoline has been in the beauty business here for the past 19 years and has moved the Lowery Beauty Shop downstairs on 7th Street where the Martin Watch Shop used to be. And too, she has changed the name: it will be known as the Avoline Leeroy Beauty Shoppe henceforth and don't you [illegible] Her sister, Elnora [illegible]ston will be associated with [illegible] the new stand. Watch next [illegible] News for further anouncement [illegible] the grand opening. Gonna be a lot of free prizes and stuff.

"Look mother", yelled little Willie. "there's a big black bear out in the yard." "Now, Willie," corrected mamma, "you know perfectly well, there is no black bear out in the yard. Go straight to your room and ask God to forgive you for telling a lie." Willie was back downstairs in no time. "I asked God to forgive me and He said it was alright. God said the first time He saw Tom Brown's dog He thought it was a bear, too."

Grady Heflin has returned from Canada. Something he said was sorta' unbelievable. He arrived in Pittsburg just 17 minutes after he left the airport at Birmingham. You think that is travelling don't you. Well it wasn't quite that fast. It really took two hours and 17 minutes, but you see, the times change and they use daylight saving time. So-o-o, say he left Birmingham at 9:00 o'clock, well with time changes he arrived there at 9:17.

Wilson Maddox, is opening the Dari-Delite this week. It is located just a skip, hop and a jump beyond the Bus Station across from Ellis Tourist Court. Don't be misled by the name because you will also be able to get hotdog delight there too.

Welcome to James N. Sudduth, his wife and his children to Chilton County. We sincerely hope their stay here is a long and a happy one.

Saw a lady going up the highway last Friday in an automobile with a cigarette in one hand and putting lipstick on with the other hand. She was using the rear view mirror for the purpose. We don't know what she was using to drive with.

FELLOWSHIP SUPPER FOR MINISTERS

A FAMILY NIGHT FOR PASTORS PLANNED

By M. Lockhart, Ass'nl. Missionary

There will be an associational wide Fellowship Supper for the Baptist Pastors and their wives at the Dixie Cafe in Clanton next Monday afternoon, July 1st, at 5:30 o'clock. All pastors and their wives are urged to be present.

This will be the beginning of our regular monthly meeting of his nature.

The primary purpose of the meeting is fellowship—getting acquainted with new pastors in the Association and a good time in general.

There will be no sermons or long speeches.

No particular meal has been ordered for the above occasion, you will have the privilege of selecting your own. We will probably be meeting in different places as the months progress and some church might even decide to plan for the pastors and their wives.

Do not get the idea that this meeting will be one that the average person cannot enjoy. It is especially designed to do away with the big "I's" and little "U's" and there will be no place of comfort at the meeting for such.

We will be disappointed if you and your wife don't come.

Judges for the show were Mr. Eddie Waters, high school principal; Mr. Russell Sutley of the Post Office Department and Watson Yeager, D.O. teacher at Chilton County High.

The judges finally chose the Chilton County Dance Band as 1st place winners with the Liberty Hill Quartet a close second.

In the pantomine talent the Bama Boys won out over Ray Howell in a close decision.

James Jones, pastor of the Northside Baptist Church and Chaplain of Civitan Club did a unique and outstanding job as Master of Ceremonies, adding much to the overall success of the show.

The Club has already voted to donate 50% of its income from this show to the Clanton Community Center Fund and in general are doing a marvelous work toward the ultimate goal of having the Center here.

Judge Wallace is only 37 years of age and has already served six years in the Alabama Legislature and five more years in his present job of Circuit Judge. The other gentleman on this program certainly needs no introduction to the people of this area. "Bull" will simply be coming back to some old "stomping grounds". But, for any that should happen not to know him, he is well-posted and trained in the subject he speaks on. He served 16 years on the Birmingham City Commission and the people of that City have shown their faith in him by re-electing him recently.

A special invitation is extended to all that have the slightest interest in this subject. [illegible]

Receive Service Awards

Local ASC Employees Recognized For Aid To Chilton Farmers

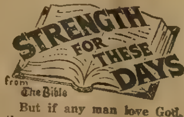
J. Lee Yates was recognized for the 23 years of outstanding service to the U. S. Department of Agriculture and to the farmers of Chilton County. He was commended for the manner in which he has presented the agricultural programs to the farmers in the County, which has led to a better understanding of the programs and resulted in greater participation than could have otherwise been obtained.

He is thoroughly familiar with the farming operations on most of the farms in the County and nearly all of the farmers depend on him to help them select the conservation practices which best fit their individual needs

Recognition was made of his service throughout this period in connection with special phases of the programs which were administered by the local office. Mr Yates has instilled in the farmers of Chilton County a feeling of confidence and trust for himself and the government for his diplomatic approach and the manner in which he has served the farmers and he was presented a 20-year Service Medal and a Certificate of Service by Mr. Mashburn in behalf of the incentive Awards Committee for this service

At the same time a ten-year Service Medal and Certificate of Service were presented to J. Smolon Thornton, Senior Field Officer for Chilton County ASC Office. Mr Thornton was commended for his interest in the welfare of the organization as well as his thorough knowledge of the farms in Chilton County. Particular emphasis was made concerning his ability to effectively administer the performance of the various phases of the program in the field, at the same time commanding the respect and good will of the farmers.

The incentive Awards Committee gave Mrs. Dolly B. Mitchell, Administrative Clerk, a special award in recognition of her performance of a job assigned her beyond her regular assignment. The work consisted of personally visiting County ASC offices in this section of the state for the purpose of setting up a new filing system. The State Committee recognized many suggestions made by her at that time, incorporating many of them into the program, and attributes a great amount of the success of the formation and installation of the filing system to Mrs. Mitchell.



But if any man love God, the same is known of him.— (I Corinthians 8,3.)

The man who loves God— and lives that way—doesn't need to go about professing it. His goodness shows in his face, in his every word and deed, for he reflects the love of God upon his fellowmen, by expressing true brotherhood.

A Charge To Keep. . ."----

WE HOPE the reference in the story last week about the juveniles who were involved in the recent case before Judge J. B. Atkinson didn't mislead anyone.

When we spoke of the boys being taken before Judge Atkinson, who gave them a talk and released them to their parents, we didn't by any means wish to infer that that was all there was to it.

The boys, according to Judge Atkinson are wards of the State and will be treated as such. They cannot [illegible] n the streets at night without a note from their [illegible], nor can they enjoy the normal freedom that [illegible] a boys'.

The parents of these boys have "A Charge To Keep. . ." and their actions will be answerable to the court.

[illegible] Helen Vance, who is with the State Department of Pensions and Security has worked close with the local officers who broke the "ring", and she, officer Tucker, Sheriff Champion and their assistants are all in line for commendation for their work towards helping the boys and the parents in straightening things out and making good citizens of them all.

OUR BEAUTIFUL COOSA----

WE HAVE SPENT some time lately along the vast shores of the Coosa River and still wonder why anyone would care to look elsewhere for a restful vacation if restful vacation is what they are seeking.

As you know, and we know, the scenery is beautiful along the river in Chilton County and absolutely nowhere will you find a more serene, peaceful, beautiful spot to commune with nature.

Now, the point we are building up to is this; you know all this because it is your home and as such has come to be accepted or taken for granted, but are you telling the world about our beautiful vacationland. That is what is needed—to tell more people about it so it can be enjoyed by all.

Dick Scott, who is with the Alabama Power Company does a good job of telling the world about the advantages of spending leisure hours on Chilton's pine studded lakes and rivers, but we need more publicity on the subject.

We hope to see the day a wide paved highway runs from dam to dam along the river with summer cottages dotting the landscape.

Now that would open up some of the prettiest scenery you could imagine and be worth more to our county than any investment we could make. Keep this in mind if we don't blow our own horn, said horn shall not be blowed. Start tooting!

THE FABULOUS 4TH. . .

Don't Make It FATAL

AS MILLIONS of fun-seeking motorists head for the lakes, mountains or beaches over the Fourth of July holiday, safety experts are hopeful that extra care and caution will keep the highway accident toll at an all time low.

To help achieve this goal, Jeanne Smith, Dodge safety consultant, has prepared this list of 10 driving tips:

1. Control your temper when behind the wheel. Highways are crowded and travel is slow; don't "blow up" and take unnecessary chances.
2. Start early, expect frequent delays and leave for home early, preferably during daylight.
2. Start early, expect frequent delays and leave for home early, preferably during daylight.
3. Watch out for careless drivers who are over-anxious to reach their destination.
4. Slow down, to allow passing cars extra room to get back into the right lane ahead of you.
5. Always give the other driver more than his share of the road.
6. Get into the proper lane well in advance of turning—and always signal your intention to turn or stop.
7. Pull your car entirely off the road when stopping for sightseeing or a roadside picnic.
8. Check traffic in all directions, especially to the rear, before pulling out of a parking spot onto the highway.
9. Reduce speed at sundown and drive within the range of your headlights.
10. Concentrate on your driving—it's a full time job.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

It must be gettin' hot: folks aren't even bothering with the effort to complain about it.

Judge Dave Tingle dropped by the other morning and was proudly displaying to us a book he himself has compiled on road progress in Chilton County. We might say here, that he has every right to be proud of it, for two reasons: there is great improvement on the roads of our County and his outline of the progress is very effective. It is an outline of true accomplishment, with a lot of endeavor and hard work thrown in and one of which every citizen of Chilton County can be proud.

The book in mention is really an album and it pictures practically every road improvement in the County in the past few years. It also includes a fine aerial view of the new airport runway. If you should get an opportunity to look at it, it's worth the effort.

Looks a whole lot to us like they are putting an entire new front on the building directly behind Jones Furniture Company here. Don't know what's going on yet. Here tell it's gonna be a ladies' barber shop. Remains to be seen. Anyway, it should improve the looks of that side of the street considerably, the entire block as a matter of fact.

And speaking of furniture. We had a talk with a fella the other day who claims he's going back into the furniture business here in Clanton. He's been away for several months, but he just couldn't shake loose his old ties. We are glad to hear that. We welcome him back, and you're going to be hearing more from him.

Had a fella down the street tell another that he couldn't remember tomorrow what he did today. The discussion had something to do with right and wrong, we believe, and it's a rare man indeed who doesn't remember what he did wrong the day before. We might go so far as to say, that there is no such animal. Painful though it sometimes is, the Lord made us all with a conscience. He may not remember what he did "right" the day before, but we'll guarantee he won't be able to forget the "wrong" he committed, if any.

Cooked out on the river Saturday (or should we say "burned. . ") Anyway, while slaving over a hot Bar-B-Q grill there, Gurthie Easterling came riding by and yelled "hey, you can't do that!" We don't know whether or not he meant we "can't" or we "shan't", but we're still waiting to find out. Heck yes, we did it, and boy was it good.

Judging from our own medicine chest, we have come to the opinion that the pills people take are nothing compared to the ones they buy. Over a period of a year or two we'll buy a coupla' hundred dollars worth of this and that and we take about one fourth of it. The heck of it is, they always tell you not to take old medicine. By George's beard, they shouldn't charge so dang much for the new. Old's all we can afford.

He who speaks well of another will never get sick of it; but he who speaks ill has never really lived.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

THERE IS HEALING FOR THE INCURABLE

"There is no such thing as an incurable disease—and no one need die in pain . . . There is no such thing as an 'easy' or 'difficult' case of healing in Christ's name."

These are the words of an eminent physician, Dr. Christopher Woodward, who is combining spiritual healing with his practice of medicine and producing spectacular results.

My own work as a minister of the gospel, and as one who prays for the healing of the sick has brought me to the very same conclusion. No disease is hopeless—none is incurable.

Mrs D. H., from Denver, Colorado, related this story a few days ago before our television cameras. She was holding in her hand at that time, two X-rays made of her 11-year-old son who had been pronounced incurable with a strange bone disease.

"My son began having aches and pains in his back and hips about two years ago.

"A few days later he could not get out of bed. On July 2, the physician made an X-ray.

"My doctor looked at the X-ray. He showed us where the bone in the socket of the hip had begun to deteriorate. Then sadly shaking his head he said, 'I'm very sorry to tell you before he is in his late teens he will be a hopeless cripple. The bone is wasting away, there is no cure for this disease.'

"What shock and emotion tore through me! Then—I saw much pity mirrored in the physician for my child. Suddenly I felt a strange power rise up in me, and I said within myself, 'No! No, my son. You will never be a cripple! I won't let you. As long as there is a living God you will never be a cripple.'

"Strange as it may seem, immediately all my fear and distress left me. I felt tremendously strong.

"Daily I asked God to help. During those days, faith rose higher and higher in my heart.

"One day I felt that I should have my son X-rayed again although, only four months had passed since the first X-ray. The doctor said, 'It is a little too soon to be able to tell much, but I will check for you.'

"First he tested him by stretching his legs and giving him various exercises. Each time he asked if it hurt. The boy answered, 'No'. The doctor muttered, 'There is something strange here. Let's see what the X-ray says.'

"As soon as the X-ray film was dried, it was flashed upon a large screen. 'Why,' the doctor exclaimed, 'the cavity has disappeared. New bone has grown in its place!'

"'Yes,' I answered, 'something has happened,' and I pointed toward the screen. 'Doctor, the Lord has healed my child.'

"That was two years ago. My son is going to school and has not had one moment's trouble since that time. I am very thankful."

I saw this boy a few days ago. He is perfectly healthy and walks normally. I remind you again—there is nothing incurable with the Lord.

"No Concern for South"--

'Frankenstein Monster' Sparkman Says of Civil Rights Bill

Blames Nixon, Senate Republicans

WASHINGTON—Senator John Sparkman (D., Ala.) said this week that the action of Vice President Nixon and its almost unanimous support by Republican Senators "demonstrated again the simple truth that the Republican Party has no concern for the welfare of the South."

Sparkman was referring to Senate action which placed the civil rights bill before the Senate without referring it to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Vice President Nixon and the Republican are determined to make every effort to get the Negro vote," Sparkman charged. "With the Vice President and the Minority Leader, Senator Knowland, already in the race for the Presidency in 1960 and both determined to ride to the White House on the basis of civil rights legislation, the South may expect some even more troubled times than the Republican-induced racial troubels that exist today."

Sparkman recollected that the Republicans have "achieved a solid record of opposing those things beneficial to the South, whether in the field of civil rights or economics."

Said Sparkman, "Southern people, particularly those in the middle and low income groups, must recognize the fact that regardless of whether civil rights legislation is passed or not the Republicans will still continue to get their orders from interests believing in government for the benefit of a few rather than of all the people."

Citing Vice President Nixon's highly questionable ruling in the Senate, Sparkman said that Nixon's action

"clearly indicates that he is determined to clamp a limited dictatorship on the South.

"This Frankenstein Monster in the form of civil rights legislation will come back to terrorize those very people who support it today. If this bill becomes law, it will pave the way for the attorney-general to set up kangaroo courts that will rival the Spanish Inquisition. These courts will hold dictatorial sway not only in the South, but in the bailiwicks of those misguided do gooders who would tie the albatross of so-called civil rights around Southern necks," Sparkman warned.

Sparkman called on both races in the South to work out their problems harmoniously and without outside interference.

He pointed to the "great progress made in racial relations in the South prior to the Supreme Court's [illegible] integration decision and the [illegible] pressure of President Eisenhower's integration [illegible] the past few years.

"On the other hand racial relations in the North have grown steadily worse, as the Southern Negro, trying to make a home in such [illegible] 'meccas' as Chicago, Detroit and New York, finds that what his Northern 'friends' say and what they do in the matter of racial relations are two different things," Sparkman said.

MOTOR MAIDS

Cringe in Crash, Scientists Say

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

SCIENTISTS in Los Angeles have come up with what they term "the motorists best defense" in the event of a rear-end collision.

Miss Smith

Cringing before and during such a collision, they claim, can very often minimize what otherwise could be serious injuries.

Studying the "whiplash" effects of rear-end collisions upon passengers and driver, UCLA scientists Derwyn Severy and J. H. Mathewson, along with Dr. Charles Bechtol of Yale's Medical College, found that this type of collision at low speed can be vastly more dangerous than those at moderate speed.

These researchers told me that accidents occurring at 10 miles per hour can exert a sudden force of as much as 150 pounds upon the neck and head of occupants in the front seat.

After staging a series of actual tests, the scientists offered this advice:

In all stops, especially abrupt ones, be alert for screeching tires behind you. Glance at the rear view mirror, if you have time, but do not turn around. Cringe if a rear-end collision seems immediate.

This cringing action, which includes hunching the shoulders, helps to reduce "whip" effects on the head, steadies the neck and sometimes prevents serious injuries usually associated with this type of accident.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Assistant Attorney General Victor Hansen, head of Justice Dept. anti trust division, has embarked on what could, with deep enough investigation, turn out to be case of major importance.

* * *

In both Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Las Vegas, Nevada, bakers have been indicted for conspiring to fix prices on bread, other baked goods. In both cases, the local branches of the nation's two largest neo-monopoly bakery operations headquartered in New York City are named, along with local bakers.

C. W. Harder

Several months ago Senate Small Business Committee issued comprehensive report on how monopoly control is being wrapped around the "staff of life."

* * *

Most everyone seems to have feeling bread prices in many areas are fixed. Presumably Federal Trade Commission, supposed to know about such matters and stop them, has some inkling of situation. Yet FTC seems to confine activities to quibbling over advertising claims of regional independents while big national chain bakers say what they please.

So, Justice Dept. could perform outstanding service to nation. As already stated in both cities the two big national combine bakers are involved as well as the regional operations. Without attempting to prejudge the case, assume the government wins both, and assume further that in each instance the fine is set at $10,000. For the big national concerns, this would be a small penalty, but $10,000 could hurt the local bakers.

* * *

Therefore, it would be interesting to learn if compulsion were employed to arrive at the alleged conspiracies. If so, it is doubtful the local bakers could exercise compulsion on the two giants. Instead, if compulsion was used it would appear logical it was exercised by the big outfits.

* * *

In addition, it would be interesting to determine what part, if any, the teamster's union played in the matter. There appears substantial evidence teamsters have used their power to iron out disagreements between competitors on pricing policies.

* * *

It is a matter of record that labor makes agreements with big firms in a given field, which are forced onto all competitors.

* * *

All in all, it could be said that Justice Dept. is presented with some interesting potentials in these far western cities.

* * *

In fact, there probably has not been since the war a case so fraught with possibilities.

* * *

Independent business is going to watch these cases very carefully. For one thing, they will be watched to see if Justice Dept. wins if it will permit a fairly common practice by which the two big national combines sign consent agreements not to engage in any more price fixing in Las Vegas and Tulsa, with nothing said about what they will do in the rest of the nation.

* * *

It is then possible for them to start a ruinous price war to drive out local competition, financing the war by cozy price fixing arrangements in other parts of the nation. If the government can prove its allegations in these two cities, it would be healthy for the national economy as a whole if Justice Dept. proceeded on the basis that a dog caught sucking eggs in one hen house is probably doing the same in other hen houses, too.

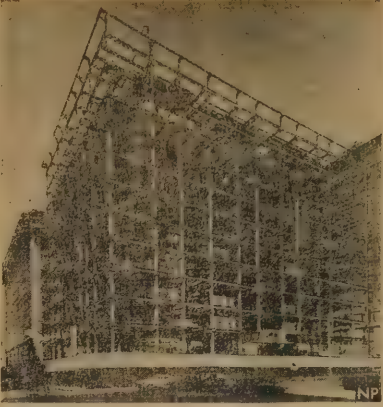
Going Up or Going Down?



STROLLERS on New York's fashionable Park Avenue have been puzzled lately by this unique steelwork skeleton of a building and wonder, is it going up or going down? The answer: it's going down to provide room for Union Carbide's new 52-story skyscraper, which will be the new home office of the corporation. Ordinarily, demolition men remove brickwork from the top floors and then follow closely behind with the removal of steel. In this case, demolition experts decided it would be more efficient to tear down the thousand tons of steel after removing all the brickwork.

Water And Shade—

Heat And Hog Losses Do Not Necessarily Go Hand In Hand

YOU CAN BEAT THE HEAT AND CONSERVE PRECIOUS POUNDAGE

Each year the hot summer sun peeled profits right off the backs melts thousands of dollars in ex- of Chilton County and Alabama hog growers' source of income.

Stop this hot weather waste by keeping your hogs comfortable.

Two suggestions: keep pigs cool — water and shade — and plenty of it.

Experiments have proved that hogs do best when the temperature [illegible] between 60 and [illegible]. In [illegible] of feed to ga[illegible] degrees, 450 pounds of feed is required and if the temperature is over that, the battle is not so much to feed them, but to keep them from losing weight. Many pigs just stop eating during the heat of the day.

A fine-mist spray using as little as three gallons of water per hour will keep about 10 pigs comfortable and gaining even on the hottest days.

A small price to pay for added profits through added pounds when marketing time rolls around.

This sprinkling is particularly recommended to pigs on concrete floors since the spray will cool the concrete as well as the pigs. Other growers can use a portable sprinkler to get this fine mist spray to hogs in fields. By moving the [illegible] each day the farmer will [illegible]dholes.

It is noted that some farmers achieve equally good results from [illegible] a garden hose over fence posts and letting it drip where the hogs can get wet.

When the hogs get wet, they will go to a shady spot to sleep and cool off. If no trees are available then the next best thing for the grower to do is furnish a shed, open on all sides, to supply the needed shade.

If delays make you NERVOUS try our prompt, efficient REPAIR SERVICE Your watch is our business!

HOT WEATHER TIPS

Hot weather is here and with it humidity. The combination does not make for comfort: but, since you can do nothing about the weather, there are a few things that can be done to help you weather the discomfort.

What happens in hot weather? Actually your body temperature does not rise, provided you are free from disease or infection. Normally your body temperature has been standardized at about 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit; there may be slight variations, either above or below, which still may within normal range. When changing weather conditions cause the temperature to rise or fall, a litle center in the brain, acting like a thermostat, turns loose the mechanisms that help the body maintain its normal temperature.

Heat is produced in the body by the burning of various foodstuffs. This process is called metabolism. The tissues use more oxygen during digestion, exercise and during exposure to cold than when the human body is resting under conditions of warmth.

In the automatic adjustment of the human body to outside changes of temperature, the evaporation of sweat from the body surface aids in reducing body heat. In cold weather blood flow diminishes through the skin, sweating is slight and protective clothing is required for comfort. Actually the sensation of heat or cold is not due to a change in the temperature of the body but to a change in the temperature of the skin.

If you perspire freely, you are more [illegible] do not, since heat is taken from the body as the perspiration evaporates. When the humidity is high, increasing the moisture in the air [illegible] less evaporation of perspiration, and consequently less heat leaves the body.

One way in aiding the evaporation is to wear light, loose and porous clothing. Since heat is also produced by foodstuifs, another hot weather hint is to cut down on the amount of food eaten, but not to the point where an impr[illegible] take produces fatigue.

Sleep is usually a problem in hot weather, but try to rest anyway. Cleanliness is always a necessity, but particular attention should be given to it in hot weather. And watch your disposition. Remember that an outburst of temper can cause your body temperature to rise.

It says here: "Stop complaining about the h[illegible] weather; remember [illegible]'s here at last, after months of your complaining about the cold."

Happenings At Ebenezer

Ebenezer Baptist Church had a wonderful Vacation Bible School this past week, with 51 children enrolled and an average attendance of 48.

The commencement exercises were held Friday morning at the church with all the handwork on display and at the noon hour a picnic lunch was served to all who were present. Bro. J. L. Adams was principal, and the ladies who worked with him were Mrs. J. L. Adams, Mrs. Agnes Burnett, Mrs. Dolly Gean Burnett, Mrs. Beggy Eddy, Mrs. Lottie Klinner, Mrs. Frances Gregg and Mrs. Annie Burnett. Much good was accomplished!

On Father's Day after a fine message, 15 fathers went and pledged with our pastor that they wanted to be better fathers in the future.

The State Day of Prayer in honor of Miss Kathleen Mallory will be observed on Tuesday instead of Thursday. Every lady is invited

Note to County Peach Packers----

Age-Minimums On Hiring Youngsters

Peach packing houses in this area are told this week of [illegible] which set various "[illegible] age minimums" for young workers.

"[illegible] it's a good idea [illegible] to review child labor laws. They can often legally hire ambitious youngsters but should be sure that no law is violated in doing so," said Hassel J. Hunter, investigation supervisor of the U. S. Labor Department's Birmingham wage-hour [illegible]

[illegible] that federal laws "don't shut the door completely in case of some boys and girls only 14 years of age", he said that three age minimums [illegible] in the peach-packing shed [illegible] grading and packaging [illegible] from several orchards.

He said young workers could be placed into these groups:

14-15 years: May be employed to level, grade, or pack fruit; may put in liners, place lids, label baskets, or keep up stock of baskets, liners, etc. (Do not employ on or about automatic stapling machines, fork-lift trucks, motor vehicles, or as loaders on trucks or railroad cars. They may not work over 40 hours in the week or at night between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.)

16-17 years: May perform all jobs and work any hours except in those occupations which have been declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor. (These include driving and helping on motor vehicles, operating hydraulic high-lift equipment, elevators, and operating power-driven woodworking equipment).

18 years: All jobs and any hours; no exceptions.

"The same rules apply alike to boys and girls", Hunter said, "with one of the most important points in the case of either being the age certificate which the [illegible] should keep on file during the minor's employment."

Age certificates, sometimes called "[illegible] permits", can be secured by the boy or girl from local school officials. They are "proof of age" [illegible] correct placement of the boy or girl in a legal occupation [illegible] to the packing-house operator.

It is noted that minimum-wage and overtime-pay rates, if applicable to other workers, are also applicable to children. No special exemptions in the wage-hour law allow payment of lesser rates because of age. Packers [illegible] special problems about employment of young people [illegible] required under federal law should get in touch with him at 1401 20th Street, South, Birmingham, Ala.

Don't Dust Too Early-

Boll Weevil On The Way; Plan Your Strategy Mr. Farmer

NATURE'S CHOSEN SIDES AGAIN THIS YEAR; PLAN CAREFULLY

As the 1957 battle against Mr. Boll Weevil opens on the South and Central Alabama front, cotton farmers in Chilton County and throughout Alabama are urged not to jump the gun on recommended dusting and spraying schedules. But once poisoning starts, farmers should follow a rigid timetable, dosing the cotton well.

Caution is urged against dusting too early because the Boll Weevil has the ability to develop a resistance to the usual insecticides. As yet such resistance has not been noted this year.

In 1956 BHC, DDT, toxaphene, and other recommended insecticides were as effective as ever.

Dusting should be started when about 25 percent of the squares are punctured.

A mild winter, spring rains, and heavy fertilization have made this a good year for Bro. Boll Weevil. Whether mother Nature intended it or not, she's on his side.

R[illegible] last year's story [illegible] infestations is being [illegible]ed in South Alabama, while indications are that more boll weevil [illegible] in North Alabama than last year. It would seem that not only [illegible] in these two sections have [illegible] to [illegible] concern, but so does the Chilton County and Central Alabama farmer who is caught in the middle.

Dosing the cotton acreage well with poison once the dusting begins is advised. No grower can save money by cutting down on the amount of poison used and may, in the long run, lose all of [illegible] profits.

If resistant weevils develop in the state, County agents have recommended control measures using malathion, methyl parathion, and guthion. All are more expensive than the usual insecticides and, with exception of malathion, are more dangerous to use.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith.—(Galatians 5, 22.)

Telephone Talk

By

IRVIN COMMANDER

THEY FLY THROUGH THE AIR — Most folks don't realize that many Long Distance calls fly through the air with the greatest of ease—not on wires, but over high frequency radio waves. Microwave radio relay, we call it. I know you've seen those tall towers in the countryside or on a hill, with the horn-like contraptions on top. Well, radio relay bounces your voice across the country with the speed of light from tower to tower, spaced about 30 miles apart. It supplements land wires and carries hundreds of telephone conversations at the same time. Radio relay is still another way we're working together to bring people closer together.

HOW TO MAKE LIVING EASIER — A lady told me something the other day that makes sense. She said, "Folks arrange their furniture and appliances so they'll be most convenient—why not their telephones, too?" (She has two extra phones.) Now, she's got the right idea about easy living. Phones where you need them most, like the kitchen, bedroom or den. Phones in smart colors that add just the right touch. Phones you reach for, not run for. You know, extra phones cost only about four cents a day each, plus a one-time charge for color and installation. Why not order an extra phone or two now—for easier living?

DOES YOUR CLUB want lively, interesting material for future meetings? We can provide a speaker and suitable exhibit material for talks before clubs and other community groups. We also have a complete library of films, on many interesting subjects, available for showing. Any of this material will be furnished without charge. Just call us if you'd like more information.

4-H'ers Like to Freeze Foods

Among the newer 4-H projects which have gained steadily in popularity in the state is the national 4-H Frozen Foods program. Modern freezing equipment, a better understanding of the nutritive value of frozen foods, and rising cost of fresh foods have all been contributing factors.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, 4-H Club members last year froze an estimated seven million pounds of meat, vegetables, fruits and baked goods. Their valuable contribution to the family larder has undoubtedly saved much time and money in preparing meals.

As in all national 4-H awards programs, superior efforts of those who complete the projects are handsomely rewarded. In the frozen foods project, the Whirlpool-Seeger Corporation of St. Joseph, Michigan, will again provide county, state and national awards for 4-H'ers whose records are judged best by the Cooperative Extension Service.

In each county as many as four medals may go to a blue award group. The state winner becomes a delegate to the 1957 national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and will then be eligible for national honors. This top award is a $400 college scholarship, and will be presented to six national champions during the Congress.

Local 4-H leaders and Extension Agents are now working with members who are eager to learn the fine points of selecting, freezing and storing a wide variety of foodstuff. The peak of activity will center around the time when gardens and orchards are ready for harvesting.

Inquiries regarding enrollment in the 4-H Frozen Foods program should be directed to the local 4-H Club leader or the County Extension Agent.

Clanton Stars Erase Chalkville; Will Take On Billingsley

"CHALKVILLE: A GOOD TEAM THAT WENT ALL TO PIECES"

Special To News

By B. B. Bates, Sports Reporter

For seven and one half innings the Clanton Stars and their visitors from Chalkville put on a fine exhibition of baseball that kept all the fans in doubt and guessing as to the ultimate winner.

The Sunday afernoon game at Clanton City Park was finally decided in the Stars half of the 8th inning. Chalkville had played steady ball all afternoon and then the deluge of basehits and runs unfolded and sent them reeling.

The Clanton faithful that witnessed this game went home happy and ready to return to City Park to see the Stars in action another day.

In this fatal inning for the visitors McKee started by grounding out second to first and then the Chalkville nine got all shook up and when the shaking was over the [illegible] sent 12 baserunners safe across the platter for a 17 to 5 victory. A double by Ellison ignited the spark and the Stars [illegible] 7 [illegible] with 4 [illegible] the 12 [illegible].

The Stars had taken an early 2 run lead in the second on hits by Scales, Bannister, Wyatt and Edwards. This lead was shortlived, as pitcher Wyatt faltered enough to give Chalkville 2 third inning runs and 3 more in the 4th. Wyatt survived the ordeal and blanked the visitors all the way.

The Stars made their comeback with a trio of 6th inning runs that deadlocked the count until the big 8th.

Fine defensive play by shortstop Royce Scales held the visitors in check during the first two innings of play. In the latter innings it was big-league defensive work of B. Easterling in centerfield and keystoner Jerry Fulford. Harry Ellison and catcher Powell were steady performers throughout.

Leading the Stars hitting parade was Wyatt 4 hits. B. Easterling, Ellison and Bannister 3 each. Bannister batted in 5 runs and leads the team in that department with 11. For the season, Pete McKee has a batting average of .470 followed by Bannister with .437.

TWO SCHEDULED FOR THIS WEEK—

The Stars will be playing at Billingsley Saturday. The game at Citay Park Sunday will be Clanton vs. Mars Hill at 3:00 p.m.

How To Stay Alive All Your Life

The man who started millions of Americans thinking positively —beloved, world-famous minister Norman Vincent Peale—has now carried his techniques for living to a new level, to help Americans act and live positively.

Author Norman Vincent Peale

In the newly-published "Stay Alive All Your Life," his first completely new book in nearly five years, Dr. Peale uses his well-known technique of demonstrating, through actual case histories of everyday problems, the methods by which the reader can begin to live more fully each day's life.

The basic ingredient of Dr. Peale's philosophy is faith—faith in God and faith in oneself. Describing a pilot who flies "blind" by trusting to his instruments, Dr. Peale shows how the reader can similarly put his trust in God and in the deep instincts of his own nature. "Read the Bible, pray, and fill your life with love and goodness," he writes. "Have faith in the accuracy and dependability of your spiritual instruments."

Dr. Peale, whose books have been read by an estimated 20,000,000 people, demonstrates simply and lucidly how man can use this "magnificent power of belief" to move beyond the barriers of pain and fear — and failure — to true peace of mind and a life of renewed energy and good health. By believing, one can, in fact, "live forever."

"Stay Alive All Your Life" first poses a group of essential questions related to basic human problems, such as mental depressions, feelings of doubt, moodiness, quickness [illegible]. Dr. Peale then [illegible] each problem and [illegible] the special chapter in the [illegible] the problem is fully [illegible].

The [illegible] to Dr. Peale's record-breaking book "The Power of Positive Thinking" does not of course promise all the answers. However, it does provide a simple and easily understood method by means of which the reader can ultimately find the answer for himself. Action is necessary to make philosophy work for the enrichment of man's life—and action based on faith will make man truly happy, and truly alive.

Created in 1865 and named in honor of Gen. Robert E. Lee, famous Confederate leader, Lee County is the home of Alabama's land-grant college, Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn. Historic Opelika is the county seat of this thriving east Alabama county, which has furnished many of the State's leaders in politics, education, agriculture and science. Today, a diversified agricultural program combines with many varied industries to give the county a strong and prosperous economic position in the State.

In Lee County and throughout Alabama, the U. S. Brewers Foundation works constantly to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interests of the people, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing "self-regulation" program.
